Jesus Teaches On:
The Word of Christmas, Believe

“I AM with you. Do not doubt. I AM with you. Breathe deeply, and sit quietly. I AM with you.

“It is most often true, that, in the times, when you feel alone, in the times when it seems as if darkness has encircled, ensnared, and enfolded you, you come to feel the presence of God with you; and that presence, fills you with comfort, and warmth, and truth.

“Miracles happen every day. And when you believe, that miracles happen every day, and that miracles can happen to you, you begin to see the miracles, and come to the realization, that they were always with you, you just did not see them; therefore you could not acknowledge them, because you were doubting, it could happen to you.

“Do not let your faith, be overshadowed, or diminished, by another's doubt. Rise-up. Look around you, and see. See the light. Be the light. See the miracle. Be the miracle. Be kind, understanding, and compassionate. Reject the energies which will trap you in darkness, and believe. If there is one word to describe the miracle of Christmas, it is the word... “believe.”

“Therefore, that is the word I leave you with today. Believe!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Every Birth Is Cause For Celebration

“I AM with you. Awaken, and know I AM with you. With eager anticipation, I come to you, looking, searching. We are one. It is through this sacred connection that we can speak, and come to know each other, on a level that is holy, on the heart level, on the soul level, on the spirit level. You can know many people on a casual level; but as you come to know, what is written upon their heart, you move to a level of friendship, and love, and understanding. It is at these times, when you come to realize, that you can sit silently; yet, still communicate, with those you know. This is cause for celebration!

“Today, most of you are preparing to celebrate My birth upon Earth. Birth is a cause for celebration! It seems to get grander, in scope, when the celebration is for someone of note: it could be a member of royalty, a statesman, a teacher; it could be someone known well in the field of the arts, or science; it could be someone who did a lot in their community, on a local level; or someone who has done a lot on the global level; but understand that every birth is a cause for celebration! Life is sacred!

“There are many among you, who, by reading books, or watching movies, or taking courses, or going to seminars, have found the lives of other people can often be extraordinary. And as you read, or watch, or listen, you are moved: by what another has said, or done; by how they have lived their lives, in a certain way, to touch so many people, to impact a community, or the entire world.

“I AM here today to tell you, each one of you is upon Earth to impact a moment, or an hour, or a day, or a year, or more. It is easy to see miraculous occurrences in the lives of others. You are often astounded at a story another is relating, not doubting it, simply being amazed by it. Each, and every one, of you is destined to experience a mystical moment, a miracle. It is not ‘just for others.’ There are miracles waiting for you; but miracles often go unnoticed, brushed aside; it is because you do not believe a miracle will happen to you, even in the celebrating of a miracle happening to another. It is time to alter that mindset, and begin looking for the signs, which will bring you to the doorstep of the miracle, that has been waiting, just for you!

“First you must ‘believe.’ Second, you must ‘watch for the signs.’ They will come to you in dreams. They will come to you in messages brought to you by others. They will come to you in a whisper. The signs will come to you in a song, or in the sweet silence; but they will come! Those who are vigilant will see the signs, and follow The Way. Some will experience miracles every day, because every day is meant to have its own miracles. The excitement, and anticipation, of these every day miracles, is meant to carry the joy, and exhilaration, that is felt when you are anticipating... Christmas!

“I believe you get it now! Every day is to be a celebration of birth! And every birth is a cause of celebration: the birth of every minute, every hour, every day, every season, every child!

“Let no birth go unnoticed; for the one being born is bringing a gift to Earth! It is the responsibility of those observing the birth to support the message-bringer, to love the child! Celebrate birth! Celebrate the miracles all around you! As you notice them, they will multiply! As they multiply, they will magnify, your earthly experience, and you will know The Presence of God, with you!

“Happy Birthday to those of Earth!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Be In The World, But Not Of The World, As, You Continue Creation

“I AM with you. I know who you are. I see you. I know your heart. I know your intention. It is important for you to understand, as you make your way through every day upon Earth, that I do know, who you are, and what you are doing. It is not easy... to be in the world; yet, not be of the world. It is possible to live every minute of the day connected to God, in such a way, that you can celebrate... being in the world, but not of the world. When you come to know this, every day you bless the world, and make it better!

“Many of you, hearing these words, or reading these words, are preparing to celebrate My birth upon the Earth. As you go into the days, remember, that there was a lot of living, between My birth, and the time I stepped onto the public stage, to begin My ministry, upon Earth: I lived; I laughed; I felt pain; I knew rejection; I often did hold My tongue; I showed respect to the elderly; I honored My mother and father; I guided My sisters and brothers; I carried food, My mother had prepared, to those who were sick, or to families who had lost loved ones; I played; I read; I studied at the hand of My father, and learned skills important to the welfare of My family, and community. What I AM saying to you is, I did exactly what you are doing. The one difference might be, that while I did engage in the things of the world, making My way through each day, I stayed connected with our Eternal Parent, with God. Therefore, I knew comfort, and courage; the comfort, and courage, that you realize, only, when it comes from the strength of God, and the presence of God, with you!

“When you become so distracted with the ways of the world, that you forget to connect in prayer with God, the world becomes a most difficult place. There are challenges everywhere you turn your face. You are met with walls, and barriers, you cannot climb, or push down, or walk through, or around. But when you are guided, by the hand of God, the barriers fall, and you make your way as if, there were no obstacles at all; because you are carrying-out the work of God; and it is the power of God, which moves you.

“At the present time, all of the festivities and preparations, taking place right now, can be a distraction; filling your heart, with expectations and often frustration, that you cannot accomplish, all there is to do. When this happens, all you need to do is to be still, and ask for guidance, and the hand of God will calm the waters, and the chaos will subside, the confusion will pass, and you will be at peace, at last. You will truly be in the world, but not of the world.

“Rise-up! And walk into the day, asking for guidance, all along The Way. When you hear The Whisper, and it says, ‘Stop,’ stop! When you hear The Whisper, and it says, ‘Go here, or there,’ let that be, what you do, in the moment, in the instant.

“If you will spend one day being guided by God, you will not return to the chaos, and confusion of distraction, you will rise-up, and take action, as directed by the hand of God!

“You were given the gift of life, eternal life. You were given the gift to spend a portion of your eternal life, upon Earth. And if you find yourself, right now, upon Earth, then you have a mission. You are to continue the creation story. You are to continue the creation of God. Know this, so that you might be better prepared to continue what God began.

“Rise-up. It is your time. Take My hand, and follow Me, I will show you The Way!”

Jesus Teaches On:
God Is Calling, Answer The Call

“I AM with you. It is possible for Me to be with you, so that you might ‘know,’ you are never alone! It is possible to feel alone: in a sea of people, moving down busy city streets; in shopping areas; in playgrounds; in churches; in banks; and institutions of learning. It is possible to feel alone, surrounded, by people. And it is possible: to feel the presence of God; to know the angels are with you; to know that I AM in you; to feel the wisdom of The Holy Spirit, when you are alone.

“It is possible!

“Grasp what I AM saying to you. And when you find yourself alone: speak to God; walk with Me; allow your being to be filled with the wisdom of The Holy Spirit; encourage, the angelic beings, surrounding you, to minister unto you.

“This is a gift, a way of living, for those who believe; for those who believe hold gifts that cannot be taken from them. They are rich in heritage, they are wealthy in ‘knowing,’ who they are, and from whence they came. Their treasures are many, and include the knowledge, that they are, on Earth, to complete a mission, before returning Home!

“Today I want to touch briefly on ‘the mission.’ Once you arrive on Earth, it is often easy to be distracted, by material things, and projects, work and play, to the point that you forget, the reason you are upon Earth; to complete a mission. While you are upon Earth, there are periods, there are times: of waiting; of preparation; of learning, so that when the call goes out, and you are touched, and The Whisper from within says, ‘Rise-up, it is your time,’ you do not stumble through your time in action, you move with confidence and strength, the confidence and strength which was born in your time of preparation.

“When it was My time to come to Earth, there were a number of individuals, very unique individuals, who had already been in the time of preparation; and when they were touched, and when they were called, to rise-up, there was no equivocation, there came a resounding, “Yes.” There were no ‘maybes.’ There were no words such as, ‘...well, I will try.’ There was, ‘Yes.’ It had to be so. If the young woman, Mary, had said she had to think about it, or, ‘...wait, it is not convenient,’ it would not have been the same. She said, ‘Yes.’ Joseph had to say, ‘Yes.’ And he had to say so, many times: to accept Mary; to rise-up, and take Me to safety; to do a number of things that were led by dreams, visions in dreams, angel messages, directing action!

“The stories of The Wise Men, as you know them, are beautiful, and hold great meaning; but, they had to say, ‘Yes.’ They had to make the journey, when it was time to make the journey. They had to answer the call. They had to rise-up, and move. They saw the sign. They received direction in their dreams. When angels whispered, ‘...go home another way,’ they did not think about it, they did it. It was their mission, and in so doing they were saving My life. If the shepherds had not left the fields when they did, they would not have seen the miracle, and recognized what was happening.

“I do not think it is necessary for Me to recount another story, about how it all unfolded, and I came to walk upon Earth, because you get the picture. When you are called to do something, it is important to do it, and do it at the time you are directed, because timing is everything. And in so doing, your faith will grow. It will grow in leaps, and bounds. Answer the call. Go where you are asked go, and do what you are asked to do, and say what you are asked to say. In this way, you become the instrument, in the hands of God, and the song is beautiful.

“Timing... is essential... so that the miracle can be known. Let us say, there is a young man, who finds himself in dire need of food to feed the children. He has no job; in fact, it does not even appear he will be able to find a job. He has been left with three children. The night is dark, one child is sick, and he falls to his knees, and prays for help. On the other side of town, there is a couple, sleeping, awakened by a dream vision. And in the vision, they are told to fill bags with food, and take them to a specific location. They rise-up, and do so. And as the light of a new day is breaking gently on this small town, there comes a knock on a door, and a man rises from his knees, and opens the door. In the light of the day, he can see the man and woman, and they are holding bags of groceries. This is an answer to his prayer, a prayer that would have been answered in some way, but because two people were willing to rise-up, and go, step into action at that time, the miracle held more significance. It held the glory of God, in the light of the sun! All participants in that miracle were blessed.

“I encourage you to answer the call immediately! Do not hesitate. You are not upon the Earth to build a bank account, to live in the biggest house, to wear the finest clothing, and drive the biggest cars. You are upon Earth... to clean-up The Garden, the secret, sacred Garden of God, and restore it, as it was meant to be. You are upon Earth to be the hands, and the eyes, and the feet, the lips, the ears, and the heart of God, to touch each one who comes to you, with peace. And for those of you who are blessed, to hear The Whisper, and recognize the call, I say, ‘Thank you! Thank you for your vigilance. Thank you for your faith. Thank you! For you will bring the glory of God to Earth, and there will be many who see God, and know their worth, as they are touched by you, and those like you.

“Let your storehouse be your words, and deeds, your days, and nights, your thoughts, and prayers.

“Do, all things, for the glory of God, and you will know abundance, you will know life.

“The time is now. Listen. God is calling, and this time, it could be you.”

Jesus Teaches On:
Embrace The Miracle That Is Yours

“I AM with you. No matter what your situation, I AM with you; a call, or a touch away, I AM with you. This ability to transcend one dimension calling into another, is always with you. Do not let the ways of the world beat you down; for a call Home will lift-you-up, and turn you around, and you will see the sun, rising in the sky, and you will remember The Whisper... I AM with you!

“There are growing numbers of you, who find wisdom, by setting yourself aside to be quiet, and still, so you might hear The Whisper, and know the will, of God!

“The numbers are growing, amongst you, who are willing to hear The Whisper, and embrace the message; carried on the breath of The Holy Spirit of God. The numbers are growing, because it is time!

“It is time, for all of the children of God to be taught by God, for the same lesson plan, which works for one, does not always work for another; the direction given to two does not follow through, in such a way, to guide four others. And this is why it has always been the desire of The Creator God to whisper to each child, from within, and watch them grow, knowing the wisdom of God, embracing the message, rising-up to go, to go wherever God's message is leading them: into the wet, damp places of a swamp; into the arid, dry places of a desert; into cities, teeming with people; into isolated villages. There are those who are asked to carry the message: into an office place, into a classroom, into a retail store, into the garden, or into the home. If you have awakened to the point, of setting yourself aside and listening, that whisper, which comes to you, is a message, calling, filling you with truth, leading you Home!

“There are signs all around you. There are people willing to share their experience: of reaching into another dimension, to get an answer; of knocking on the spiritual door, and having it thrown open, so they can see. There are miracles of healing. There are miracles of joy, amidst chaos, and confusion. There are miracles, because there are people willing to say, ‘Yes.’ An angel appears in a dream, or in a waking vision, bringing a message, and the answer spoken is, ‘Yes.’ There are signs in the Heavens, and signs on the Earth, and for those who are awakened, their answer is, ‘Yes.’ There are directions which come in The Whisper of God, and for those who have sat in quiet, long enough to build their inner- courage, and strength, they rise-up, and say, ‘Yes, I will go, where I am led; I will do as you do bid; I will not fear, I will go, because Your word doth make it so.’

“Do not just watch the miracles happen within others, because you too are meant to experience the miracles! They are the vitamins, and the tonic, for your journey upon Earth. They are the things which give you the energy to dance and sing, as you go about your mission, as you accomplish everything.

“I ask you, this week, to find a place to be still, and quiet. Listen for The Whisper, and embrace the miracle that is yours!”

Jesus Teaches On:

The Stone, Is As The Words You Say

“I AM with you. One of the reasons, that communication between the dimensions is possible, not only possible, but encouraged, is that, for those of you walking upon Earth, there will be The Whisper, to show you The Way, when it appears as if, you might be walking, or going, astray. This is why it is a good time, to remind you, to stop, and pray, stay connected; for in this Way, there is less chance, that you will go astray!

“From age... to age... to age... the message, and the messengers, change, elevating the thoughts, and the ways of those, living upon Earth, or at least that is the intention; but it can be very difficult to let go of the old ways, to embrace the new. The only way you can really, completely embrace the new, once you have walked the old way, is to ‘set the intention,’ to know what you are doing, while you are upon Earth, and complete the creation, which began with God, to the limit that is yours, to the time you have been given. I can assure you, it is a great honor, no matter the limit, no matter the time, you have been given.

“The old time was harsh and hard. You refer to the old time often in a Book, which is the Old Testament. Punishment was handed-out quickly and harshly, to keep the people in line. It was truly, an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth and sometimes more, for all knew, if you broke the law, you were subject to punishment, and much more, often you were subject to death, in a public way.

“Most of you hearing these words, or reading these words, have heard the story, recounted, about a woman, dragged before the priests, caught, in breaking the law, of adultery, and all knew the punishment for committing adultery. It was public stoning, until death. There was no escape, it was the law. And then another age came, and I was sent to change the old into the new, not denying the old, but bringing the new. The new had to do with love, and forgiveness.

“It is relatively easy if you set your intention to do so, to follow every rule, as you receive it, especially knowing that there will be punishment. If you are told, “Never go out this door, go out the other door,” that is easy to do. You set your intention to use the appropriate door, and so you can follow the law, by observing what is happening around you, and choosing to do it.

“However, when I came, it placed it, or the responsibility, upon each individual, using each situation, as a lesson: to love, to forgive, to be kind, to turn the other cheek. These are not so easy to do, and they require the intention, to move into a space, that lifts you into the spiritual realm, for to love in the face of hatred, draws you nearer to God.

“And so to continue My main message, the woman was standing before her accusers, and I did come upon them; and I said, so all could hear, ‘let those amongst you who is without sin, cast the first stone.’ I said it twice; but all the time I was writing in the sand, dust rising, and falling, as My finger made the counting of the sins of each of the accusers, standing there: the wrong doing, the wrong thinking, the wrong acting. It did not take long before they each disappeared, going their way, not knowing what to say. I touched the woman with love, and light, and peace, and forgiveness, and the face that had held terror, just minutes ago, held thanksgiving.

“I AM recounting this story because I want you to know that very few of you will ever come to a situation where you will be standing, ready to stone someone physically, a rock in your hand, and willing to do it until they are no longer breathing. However, in the coming week, I want you to think, as ‘thoughts of ill-will come to your mind of another,’ words, mean-spirited words, begin to fall from your lips, and you are tempted to engage in gossip about another, these words are stones!

“Thoughts, and words, and actions, have the ability, to kill the spirit of another, to drive them into the energies: of fear, of worry, of rejection, of isolation. Words have been known to drive others to take their own lives, rather than spend their days upon Earth, walking in shame. Words have been known to lead others to take the life of those speaking about them. Harsh, cruel, mean-spirited words are rocks, and stones, of destruction; and, once they are released from you, once they are created within you, they are capable of doing great harm.

“This week I AM encouraging you to do something that will require great determination, and intention, for you will find as the days to by, you are tempted to have thoughts of others, which are not kind, which are hurtful, you will be tempted to speak of others, or join in gossip about others. I tell you, turn from the darkness, and walk away.

“I brought the age of love, and forgiveness, and understanding, and compassion. I encourage you to practice, so that you might begin to walk in a way that exhibits love and forgiveness, understanding and compassion. Put down the stones, which will do great harm, and open your arms to embrace the teachings of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
You Are Spirit, First

“I AM with you. How good it is to greet, a friend; even though it might have been only hours, or a day, you touch, you embrace, you give each other a kiss of friendship, an outward sign, of your love. And so I touch you, I embrace you, I kiss you; for we are truly one, you are My brother, you are My sister.

“I made the journey to Earth, so all might see and know, what is happening and how: you are meant to live upon Earth; to experience Earth; to change the energies of Earth; to bring the love of God upon the Earth; and to understand, as you are returning Home, you must leave the body behind, so that you might rise-up, in the body you have been given for eternity! And it is a glorious sight to see, the ascension, of each spirit, as it is broken free from the weary body. It is, as seeing a caterpillar, opening, losing that body, the body that crawled upon the Earth, so that the butterfly might unfold, and fly, with majestic beauty.

“Ascension is of great beauty. The body, that was crawling upon the Earth, releases the eternal body, which flies, forever!

“Today, although we have touched on this so many times, I feel it is required of Me to recount it once more, so that you see the importance.

“You are spirit, first! Many of you are saying this more, and more; but so many of you, most of you, have not taken it into yourself, in such a way, that you truly know your light body, your spirit body, your eternal body. You are clinging to your Earth body, doing everything to preserve it, everything to clean it, everything to dress it, and feed it, while you are turning your head from the manna from Heaven, choosing the things of Earth, first, giving little or no time, to that which is eternal. It is time for you to decide.

“Let your decision be that you are going to pay attention to the body which is yours for eternity. Do not let it whither, within a body that is sure to fail. Begin strengthening your spiritual body, now! Take the word of God, and eat of it!

“There is so much happening in the world around you right now, that it is very easy for you to eat at the banquet of hatred, and anger, and loathing, of suspicion, of doubt, of fear; but I say unto you, reject that. It is as if you would be eating a bowl of worms, maggots, stale food. This constant diet, of negative energy, will sicken your body. Today, let it be your intention to turn to the table of God, and refuse to hate, refuse anger, refuse fear and doubt. Sit at the table, and eat of the words of love. Love one another. Eat of the words of forgiveness. Turn the other cheek. Give when you are asked. Begin to know that you are eternal. Feed the body, of God, and your human body will follow, until the day it is time for you to come Home, and it will fall from you, and you will fly as the butterfly; and, you will see, as you have not seen, in a long time.

“Today, spend some time in prayer, seeking the wisdom to know, you are spirit, first!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Time Is Now, All Will Be Taught By God

“I AM with you. It is a miracle, a living miracle, in which we: communicate, speak together, walk together, know each other. The day will come when all of this is clear, and the clarity will not diminish the miracle, the miracle will be enhanced, by the clarity.

“Today I encourage you to reject the temptation to be more concerned about what others are doing, than you are about what you are doing. This is one of the greatest distractions; because, as long as you are dabbling in the lives of this one, or that one, you are not focusing: on your own thoughts, on your own words, on your own deeds. You become attached to what others are doing. I would like for you to consider what Earth might be like, if every single person upon Earth, was focused on: what they were thinking, and saying, and doing; how they could be more connected with God, feeling the light, knowing The Presence. Moving through each day, in that special Way, Earth would be at peace.

“Remember, the prophecy, that all will be taught by God, because that time is here. If you feel you must teach something, let the teaching, that comes forth from you, be the living word. If you must give witness or testify to something, let it be your deeds. Let others see, how you live; because in this Way, in your connection with God, others will know God, through you; and this type of teaching requires no words, it springs forth from a heart filled with the love of God.

“Stay focused on what you are doing, for God will call, and knock; and for those who are seeking, God will open a door. Therefore, if God does come, and God does also answer the call, you can be assured that when it is time, God will teach; and that which God teaches will be embraced, because the time is right. Therefore, tend to your own life, tend to your own thoughts and words and deeds; for as you are taught by God, you become aware that there is a great body of living water, flowing within you. It moves, and feeds you. With this ‘living water,’ you will not be thirsty, you will not go hungry, because this is the manna, of Heaven.

“And the living waters will flow, and as they flow, you will grow in wisdom, as you embrace the teachings, of God.”

Jesus Teaches On:
Knowing The Power Of Creation, Your Thoughts

“I AM with you. As you in faith, reach-out, I take your hand; as I reach-out, in love, you understand; for it is within the quiet times, when we do touch, the wisdom flows to you, like waters of a river, touching you, holding you, moving you, with the flow. And it is in these times... you come to know... I AM!

“It is very important for you to know who you are and what you are doing; for without knowing who you are, and what you are doing, there is the possibility, that you will slip into confusion and chaos. This is what you often see around you, people moving around in confusion, and chaos, because they do not know who they are, or what they are doing.

“First and foremost you are a child of God! From that point, forward, you continue the creation, of God, by choosing your thoughts; and within your thoughts, you are creating, what you become; and when you speak, your words declare, your creation; and the deeds follow through for all to know, who you are, and what you do!

“Understanding, ‘The Power,’ that you have been given, and realizing, the responsibility to create, that is yours, brings The Knowing! You cannot know, and have thoughts of anger, or frustration, or judgment, or doubt.

“When you ‘know,’ what you think, is created instantly,’ it is then you become vigilant, and reject the temptations, to wander away, you take your stand, and there you stay, in the light of God!

“‘The Power of Thought,’ is the fuel of creation! Let today be the day you begin, with intention, to understand, and therefore come to ‘know,’ that creation continues, through your thoughts!

“Decide right now, how you want this day to be, and then set about, creating it so. Use your thoughts, for the purpose they were intended, to create. And as you use your thoughts to create, you begin to ascend to a place, where you create everything you need to complete your mission! You create the atmosphere in which it can happen. You create confidence, and from this confidence, in knowing the power within you, you come to know, and realize, who you are, and why you have this power in the first place.

“You received The Power, to continue creation, from God, your Eternal Parent; therefore, in The Knowing, you come to see who you are, what you are doing, and where you are going!”

Jesus Teaches On:

It Is Spirit Which Gives Life, And We Are One, Eternal Spirit

“I AM with you. Believe that I AM with you, and your life changes immediately! Know that I AM walking with you, and your life thrives immediately! Speak to Me, and hear Me, and you know: where to go, what to say, and what to do, finding confidence, in knowing, I AM, with you!

“It is vitally important for you to remember... and hold onto this, as you move into new days... You come from God! You are a child of God! God is Spirit. Therefore, the children of God are Spirit! This Spirit that is your DNA, your heavenly DNA, guarantees you eternal life! This, and knowing this, surely, brings a sense of peace. All the chaos, and confusion, around you, melts away, when you realize, that, no matter, what is happening, it is a mere blip, on the screen of time; you can almost say, it is rather insignificant. It is more important for you to understand that it is Spirit that gives life. It is Spirit that animates the body you know, that you have come to be familiar with. It is Spirit that animates, and gives life. The body does not give life to Spirit, for soon the time will come, when you outgrow the body you are wearing; and at that time, your Spirit bursts forth, and moves on, along The Way, eternally.

“There will come a time, when all material things fail. So, the wise man, the wise woman, focuses their attention on that which will live eternally, not on that which will fail, surely.

“I guarantee, and promise this. If you will spend the coming days, focusing on the Spirit, that you are, the Spirit, which will live forever, the Spirit that gives life, then your body will follow, because you are giving life, with every spirit-filled thought, word, and deed, that comes from you, that is created by you. It is an exercise which will serve you well. Think spiritually. Speak, using the words of Spirit, and bless the Earth, with deeds created, by the Spirit that gives life!

“You will make your way through turbulent times, if you remember who you are, and from whence you came. Do not just ‘say,’ you are a child of God, ‘know,’ you are a child of God! It is written that I said, you can do all things I do; and I repeat it this day, when you live as Spirit, first, you will begin to see, that you can do all things.

“We are One. Wake-up, and see, we are One!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Practice, "Turn The Other Cheek"

“I AM with you. There is a glory, held within the truth, that I AM with you. It is not a hope, it is not a prayer, to be there, it is reality. I AM with you; and, there are times within your life, that you feel My presence, and take My hand, and know this reality.

“Today, I would like to readdress, a topic, we have covered before; yet, it is so relevant, so important, that it is never too often to discuss it. You have heard it said, and many of you have read it in Scriptures, and I confirm today that I did say, ‘turn the other cheek.’ This was a new direction, coming to you more than two thousand years ago, as those who were living then, were living more under the law of, ‘an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth;’ and, over two thousand years ago, it was time for a change, for an ascension to a new place, where you could actually turn the other cheek, and by practice, ‘know,’ it was better.

“Many read these words, ‘turn the other cheek,’ and understand them to mean, that if someone is bullying you, or hitting on you, or invading your space, or crossing boundaries, that it is time to practice, and literally turn the other cheek; but there are so many layers, of those few words. Yes, it did, and does mean that; but, more appropriately, it means when someone is speaking about you, in a very unkind, sometimes malicious, and mean way, that you turn the other cheek, and refrain from doing the same. It means, if someone is trying to prompt you into an argument, or a heated discussion, or verbal warfare, you turn the other cheek, and refuse to go there.

“When someone chooses to say things about you that are untrue, you turn the other cheek by living, the words, of Our Father, and resisting the temptation to retaliate, to get even, to react. Sometimes, all it takes is to practice this once, and it feels so much better, that, that is all it takes, you have it down, you have learned the ways of God, and you set your intention, and determination, to turn the other cheek in all situations, to live the word, to refuse to react to negative energy. And, as you do it more, life upon Earth changes for you, because you are walking The Way. You are not reacting to what another does, or says, you are acting in the light of God; and, acting in the light of God continues on to living in the light of God; and, living in the light of God brings you courage, and strength, of body, soul, and spirit.

“Sometimes, ‘turn the other cheek,’ takes practice. It does not come with the first attempt. It takes months of practice, sometimes years. But for those who have ever learned to do anything, which required practice, you know, at the end, that all of the practice was worth the effort.

“Practice! Turn the other cheek, and live, the words of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Desire, Effort, Practice, And Trying, Give Birth To Success

“I AM with you. When days seem long, I AM with you! When you cannot find the light, I AM with you! When you cannot hear a song, I AM with you! Acknowledge Me, and we will walk through every day, and the day will seem short, and the light will shine, and we will sing a song.

“Many of you are 'trying.' You are trying: to do the will of God; to complete your piece, of The Divine Plan; to fill the space you are meant to fill; to experience, the present piece of eternity, in such a way, that you know what you are doing. Today I wish to tell you, that with your desire to do this, you are doing it!

“With every bit of effort and practice, every second of time spent ‘trying,’ to accomplish this goal, you are on the road to success. Success springs forth, from: desire, practice, trying. The more you practice, the better you are, at doing something; and it is the same, with your spiritual life! You will know success! It is pleasing to see, when you try!

“So, as you have desire, and put forth the effort, and practice, and try, do not be hard on yourself, if you do not accomplish the goal immediately. Keep trying, and celebrate: successful trying, successful effort, successful practice; until one day, you realize successful accomplishment!

“I speak these words, because I did walk, as you do walk, upon the Earth; and the experience of life upon Earth brings the knowledge, that it is a challenge! There are many distractions, there is much to do, and very few are telling you ‘that knowing, the ways of God,’ are even more important while you are upon Earth, because you are faced daily with ‘the ways of man.’ Choose The Ways of God, and your life will be rewarding, and you will have all that you need to accomplish your mission, and return Home! This, I promise you! In the meantime, celebrate your desire to do so, celebrate every bit of effort, every time you practice, every hour of your trying, because this celebration will bring you joy, in what you are doing. Do not practice in lamentation, practice in joy!”

Jesus Teaches On:

“Know,” Who You Are, Know What You Seek

“I AM with you. I AM available for you. I AM but a veil away. It is truly amazing that this existence was set into place through time, and space, so that you can reach into other dimensions, and speak, and ask, and learn, and know! When you are quiet, and turn to God, your thoughts, and supplications, move, from you, into The Dimension of Perfection, and you know the process of trans-dimensional communication, because that is what prayer is, a call Home, from a child on Earth, and it is always received!

“My words today, might surprise you, in some ways; today I AM reaching-out to a few of you, and you will know, if you are amongst those, I wish to contact today.

“Many of you wear, around your neck or hanging from your ears, on your finger or wrist, or possibly even drawn onto your body, a cross; it has come to be a ‘symbol, of your connection with Me.’ But, do you really know, what it means; or is it something you just put-on each day, as you would your shoes, or your hat, or your sweater? Many of you make your way to a church each week, perhaps you even have a specific place to sit, a certain pew, your regular chair. Each Sunday you rise-up, and you go there, and sit, sometimes lost in a congregation filling the church, sometimes amongst the very few who have gotten out of bed to attend. Still, you do this, every week. Do you know what it means? Do you know why you are there? Many of you speak, of Me. Many of you have favorite scripture, or verses, assigned to what I said. Some of you might have committed to memory almost every word, written Scripture, assigned to Me. But, do you ‘know,’ what they mean?

“I want you to know Me, and the only way this is possible to do is for you to be still, and quiet, and sit with Me! Talk with Me; and I will lead thee, and show thee The Way. Beyond anything written down, beyond any book you have read, beyond any lesson you have learned, I will teach thee The Way!

“I said many things while I walked upon the Earth; but, after two thousand years, or more, very few know them, and live them! The words do not seem to fit into the pattern, drawn, by the ways of the world, created by man.

“I will give you strength, and courage, I will build your confidence, I will be your friend, as I AM your brother, and what you will learn will surprise you! Our times together will be sacred. I want you to know Me. I want you to know, who you are. I want you to know, what you are seeking.

“If it is truth you seek, rise-up, and follow Me!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Rise-up And Create Your Story, As A Child Of God

“I AM with you. In truth, I AM always with you. It is always possible to call Home, and speak with God. It is always possible to reach-out, and take My hand. It is always possible to ride upon The Wind, and embrace the truth, held in the whisper, of The Holy Spirit. All things are possible within the promise carried in The Whisper of God! That I AM with you is mystical, and magical, and promising, and, it is the truth! I AM with you!

“When I came to Earth to bring the New Covenant of Love, and to fulfill that which was written, I walked through dust and dirt and sand, I walked upon the water, and within the water. I lived, as you live, and this was done, so that you might ‘see, and know,’ that, that which I did, so too, you can do! I know what it is to face ‘the things of the world,’ and I know what it is to rise above the things of the world; for these things, I did teach; and, because I did walk and live as you now walk and live, there can be no excuse, reason, or alibi, why certain things cannot be done by you. In truth, if it has come to you, it is yours to do. Do not be afraid, for God has given you all you need, to accomplish the mission, and return Home!

“If the evil of darkness, or shadow, shows-up on your doorstep, it has come to you. Do not lock yourself within your home, cowering in fear, do not succumb to temptations to be afraid, angry, or confused. Call-out to God, asking for wisdom, and understanding, asking for guidance. The power of God will move into you, and bring you wisdom, understanding, and guidance, filling you with light; and the glory of God will shine about you, filling you with the strength, and the courage, to open the door to that which has come to you, so that you might see, and know. The spark of your faith will bring forth the light, and the glory of God, and within the illumination you will see, and know the truth. Rise-up, pick-up the broom, and sweep the darkness and shadow away from your doorstep. Get down upon your knees, and wash the doorstep until it is clean, shining with the glory of God. And, do not be afraid.

“Do not seek the company of those who will commiserate with you, about that which has come to you. Seek the company of those who will cheer you on, encouraging you to reach the goal, and accomplish your mission. No runner ever truly knows why they choose to run a marathon, until they have crossed the finish line; but then, they know, and realize the accomplishment fulfilled a need, an empty space within them that no one else could understand, yet they were driven to do. Their victory was celebrated, not because they listened to the voices along the course, calling to them to come over and rest, but because they listened to the voices of those cheering them onward to victory, supporting their effort, supporting the mission, until it was done.

“The glory of God is within you! Do not be afraid. Acknowledge that, which comes to you, and do so in prayer, acceptance, and determination, to create a lifetime which will tell the story of a child of God, completing their mission, and returning Home. You have the power to create your life, to create a story, filled with glory. Every time you create light, you counter darkness and shadow with the light you have created; and, within the illumination there flows upon Earth the glory of God, through you, and what you do, what you create. The glory of God is within your story, a story of a child of God. Rise-up, and see that which is yours to do, and embrace it, as the runner does the marathon. Close your eyes, and listen to the voices cheering you onward. Turn from those who tempt you: to rest, when you should be running; to be afraid, when there should be no fear, within you. Your true strength, and courage, comes from the power of God, within you! Your time upon Earth is brief; yet, it is meant to be a time of victory, of glory. Every day you create another page in the story, of your lifetime, upon Earth. Today, let it be your intention to create light, wherever there is darkness and shadow, and fill that which comes to you, with the glory of God, flowing from within you! Today, child of God, rise-up, and tell your story!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Forgive All Things, Love Your Enemies, Three Keys, To Find Your Way

“I AM with you. I AM with you: so that you might understand, beyond the teachings of the world, created by man; so that you might begin to operate, and master your daily activities, using energies which will illuminate, rather than desecrate. I AM with you so that you might call upon Me: when you are tempted to judgment; when you find it difficult to forgive; when you are lost in a maze of shadows, and there seems to be no way out; in those times, you will see the light, you will feel My hand, and we will find The Way, together!

“Most of you hearing these words, or reading these words, are familiar with the teaching, to ‘forgive all things.’ Many of you say it, but most of you find it very difficult to forgive all things; yet, your peace, your comfort, your wellbeing is held within your ability to do so! Forgive, all things!

“Most of you have also heard the teaching, ‘love your enemy.’ I say unto you this morning, the only way, you can love your enemy, is to be willing to let God’s love flow through you: to the one you believe to be causing you pain or discomfort; to the one speaking about you to others in a negative way; to the one who is willing to curse you, spit upon you, or do you bodily harm. If you respond, or react, to such things, you are only magnifying the energy of darkness and shadow. But, if you will have the faith to open to God’s love for the one, who seems to be your enemy, then God’s love will pour upon them, and with each time, with each baptism of love, the shadow and darkness will be diminished.

“This is important to remember! These words were not said idly, or without purpose. These teachings were given unto you: so that your life might be better; so that you would know forgiveness, by forgiving; so that you would know God’s love, because God’s love would be passing through you, every time you focused it on one who was causing your harm, or discomfort. This, My brothers, and sisters, is how it works. You must be willing to live the words, rather than to merely speak them. And, there is a way to reach that place, where you will find you can live the words with ease. It is by using the three keys, which are a promise, from God, to the children on Earth. If you sit quietly, and begin the journey down the corridors, and hallways, of your inner-being, you will reach the chamber door. ‘Knock, and the door shall be opened unto you! Seek, and ye shall find! Ask, and it shall be given unto you!’

“When you use these three keys, in quiet prayer, and communion with God, you will know all things. You will understand the importance of forgiveness. You will finally comprehend the power of God’s love. This requires you to be still, to take the journey within, to accept the answers given unto you, and apply them to your everyday life. It is much easier to forgive, when you understand the importance of forgiveness, and know why you are doing it. It is much easier to love, when you understand the importance of love, and know why you are doing it. Forgive with purpose. Love with purpose. When you are tempted to doubt, frustration, or anger, take the three keys, sit quietly, and begin the journey down the corridors, and hallways, of your inner-being; for God is waiting there, for you!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Do Not Turn Your Back On Your Eternal Treasure

“I AM with you. Be not afraid. I AM with you. I will be your internal compass. I will lead you through darkness, through storms, through upheavals, of all types, because I see, when you cannot see; therefore, I will be your eyes. Hear Me, when I say I AM with you, for: I AM with you, as you walk; I AM with you, as you sit; I AM with you, as you run, and dance, and play; I AM with you, to wipe every tear, or worry, away. Come in faith, and believe, I AM with you!

“This time, this very brief, and fleeting time, you are spending upon Earth, will pass; but you are not on Earth, today, by accident. It is not a coincidence. It is not by chance. It is a piece of The Divine Plan of God that you are on Earth today.

“You carry, within you, that, which of the greatest value! You carry within you a treasure, for all time. You carry within you, a wealth which cannot be measured, at all, especially by the standards of the world, created by man; because, often, the measuring stick used in the world created by man, does not measure-up to: the wealth of God, the abundance of God, the eternal treasure of God; it does not count that of true value!

“Do not turn your back on your eternal treasure, to go in search of that which will fail you. Do not turn your back on true wealth, to seek money or fame, position, title, houses, cars, things which will rust, or fall apart, or slip through your fingers like sand in an hour glass, like the sands of time. The more you follow the path, leading to material wealth, the further you are from your true wealth! Heaven is with you, it is within you; God is with you; I AM in you, and you are in Me; yet, when you focus on things in the world created by man, you are moving away from The Divine Plan. And, these things you seek, these things you desire, are pulling you further and further, away from the truth. You are leaving that which is yours by the hand of God to go in search of something that is fleeting!

“Do not place your faith, and trust, and hope in that which will fall apart, which is meant just for a time; for, it is not real, it is an illusion. Be mindful of where you are going, turn around, and come Home! Walk into this day, knowing, really knowing, Heaven is near, Heaven is with you!

“Do not pass by the creations of God, running toward the creations of man. Celebrate, and praise the trees, feel the breeze, know The Wind. Look at the mountains, in their majesty; hear their song, and know their story. Look at the seas, and the oceans, and their depth, the life that is within them. Feel the rain on your face, and the sun warming you. Know Earth in the ways of God, and you will know extreme wealth, abundance from Heaven, and this will lead you to where you are to go, to what you are to do, and even to what you are to say.

“Your mission is ‘of value,’ or you would not be on Earth today. Understand this. Report-in, and let your stage of readiness be known, so that you can receive guidance, and go-out, walking over the Earth, completing your mission, then coming Home!

“I AM with you. I AM your eternal compass. Let us go forth today. Let us follow... The Way... Home!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Light Your Candle, And Live The Word

“I AM with you. I AM with you to show you The Way, Home! I AM with you, so that you feel My presence, and know, you are not alone! I AM with you to encourage you to be the light in the darkness; for, if you will not light your candle, who will? Is there not one amongst you, who will quietly stand-up: to be the light, to show The Way, to turn your head from the ways of the world, and embrace The Way?

“There are many of you who have studied scriptures, holy writings, for a long time, and diligently, and you can quote a phrase, sometimes an entire chapter, from memory. You can speak the words, as they are written; many of you can do this; but the goal should be to live the words! You have read, ‘...turn the other cheek.’ Can you live it? If you can live it, your life will be better; in fact, all of Earth will be better. It will be better, because one person began the journey to total understanding, to mastering the energies of destruction. You will know how to counter anger, and hatred, and ‘The Knowing,’ will come from within. It will come from refusing to use the ways of darkness. It will come from the desire to be the light, God’s light, in what can appear to be a very dark, and cold world.

“Many of you know, can quote, and point-to, specific passages, in holy scriptures, where you are told to love your enemy. You can read it, you can say it, now it is time to live it. The only thing that does counter anger, and hatred is the love of God. The love of God will win-out, over shadow, and darkness. The love of God will lead, and show The Way, to how life is meant to be, upon Earth!

“I AM going to ask any of you, who are willing to try this, for only one day, to: master yourself, in such a way, that no matter what happens, you are blessing, rather than cursing; turn the other cheek, rather than engaging in battle; actively call upon the love of God to pour over your enemy!

“When you do this, for only one day, and it is done in a one hundred percent fashion, come the end of the day, you will be shocked, and amazed at how you feel. You will be revitalized! You will be refueled! You will be nourished, because you have been fed by the manna of Heaven! You will not thirst, because you will have let down your bucket into the well of God, and brought it up to drink! You will feel, lighter! There will be no sickness within you, because it has been driven-out by the light! You will ‘know,’ and once you know, and feel the power of the light of love, there will be no desire to go back! The power of the light of love will be the source of your determination to love your enemy with the love of God, flowing through you. The love of God will give you the courage to turn the other cheek, and every time you turn the other cheek, there, in the light surrounding you, you will see the face of God, and know I AM with you! This I promise you.”

Jesus Teaches On:
Protect That Of Greater Value

“I AM with you. I AM with you as you walk through valleys, and deserts, over the mountaintops, and across the plains. I AM with you, when you know isolation, and desolation. I AM with you as you fulfil your mission upon Earth. Do not be distracted by the temptations leading you to doubt; for, if you linger in the hallways of doubt, you will fall into that pattern, and the miracles happening, all around you, will be qualified this way, or that way, as accidents, or coincidences, or any other title they might be assigned, diminishing greatly the miracle which did happen, which did occur, which could have changed the course of your life, but for the dismissal, but for the doubt.

“Pay attention to what you are doing each day; but pay attention in a spiritual way! Most of you hearing these words, or reading these words, seeing another step into a mud-puddle, would not walk-in after them; but rather, you would make a point of going around the puddle, so as not to ruin your socks, or your shoes, or splash mud everywhere. You would ‘choose,’ to avoid the puddle of mud, keeping your shoes and socks, clean, and dry. If you assign such value to shoes, and socks, I would ask that you begin to place at least as much value on your soul, and spirit, being quick to avoid the puddles of mud, that others seem destined to find, and tromp through. This will keep you dry, keep you clean, spiritually! And I ask you to, please, begin to see life this Way!

“If you see clouds forming around you, in front of you, or behind you, which look heavy, and dark, and you hear a rumble in the distance, you usually avoid going-out in the storm that is coming. You gather what needs to be brought into your home, close the doors, and wait-out the storm, so that you will be safe, so that you will be dry, and warm, protecting that which is important to you. If you value, and protect, the material possessions which you choose to bring into the house to keep dry, and warm, so much, why not place this same value on your soul, and spirit? If you see the clouds of chaos forming, and you hear the thunder rolling, distributing confusion, and anger, and frustration, all around you, gather that which you value, and take it into your being, be still, sitting in the chamber within you, and let the storm of chaos, and confusion pass!

“Do not exchange angry words in retaliation for angry words. Do not exchange hatred in retaliation for hatred. Do not get caught-up in the chaos, and confusion of others. Do not place more value on material possessions than you do on your eternal possessions. Take some time to evaluate. Take some time to look at what you consider to be of great worth, and then, realize, anything that is material will fade away, anything that is spiritual is yours eternally! Protect that which you consider to be the greater value!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Remember, You Are On A Mission, For God

“I AM with you. I AM knocking. Will you open the door to the possibility that you can feel My presence with you, that there is a change in the air, when you know, and believe, that there is more than what you are experiencing, right now, in a dimension that has often left you feeling isolated, desolate, and alone? No matter how hard it is for you to realize, this is the truth, you can reach into The Dimension of Perfection, with your words, and your prayers, and your meditations, and reflections, and those of us residing here, will answer, and draw near to you; and, when you are quiet, and still, you will feel the sudden thrill, of “knowing,” it is not only possible, it is true!

“While those who live upon Earth often pride themselves on their intellectual prowess, on what they can do, and what they know, all of this intellectual knowing, and information, changes, sometimes, from day to day, but most assuredly from one decade to another; and, the things you once felt you could rely-on, or count-on, change, with a new discovery; and, you find you based so much on something that, in reality, was not true at all. This can be difficult to accept, or to embrace; and, as is often the way of the world, even when what you thought was the truth seems to be crumbling, you hold-on to it, anyway; because, it is all you know; you cannot tear yourself away, from that temple, of what you thought was the truth, so there you stay.

“Every Master sent to Earth has delivered a message, and the message has remained the same, with slight alterations; so that those meant to receive the message, could understand it. Still, if you cut through the language barriers, and the different cultures, and the ways of the world, you will soon see that the message sent was ‘of love, the power of love, the strength of love, and the confidence of love!’ The message was meant to be a reminder, from The Dimension of Perfection, most often referred to as Heaven, a place, where all is, as it should be; and there is peace, because there are not ‘many truths,’ there is ‘one truth, of light, and love!’ There is calm, and peace, and serenity. There is no need to run after this or that, because it is all there; it is a place of completion; it is accomplished; and, this place is your Home, your Eternal Home!

“Sometimes when you miss Home, The Dimension of Perfection, where you have all you need, you experience a sense of lack, and you try to satisfy that feeling of lack by accumulating this, or that, or the other; but somehow, these things you are gathering do not seem sacred and holy, or fulfilling at all. It is as if you are amassing a stack of things, which you know will soon rust, or fall apart, or be taken from you. If you are sitting at a beach, and begin building a sand castle, no matter how grand that sand castle might be, it is destined to be pulled down by the waves, by the waters, of the sea. It cannot stand forever, because it is not meant to be forever. The waters will move in, and gather-it-up, and take the sand, back to where it came from, into the ocean.

“When a child is born upon the Earth, most of the time the family is very excited, and the child grows-up, and is taught the ways of the family, sent to school, and then, out, into the world. The family encourages the child to do well, and come home and tell all about the adventure. Then, one day, even as the child has worked very, very hard, and done all of the things taught, this child runs into walls of denial and refusal, things do not work-out as planned; and, even though the child worked diligently, everything is taken away. What would happen if the story were changed, and the child arrived into the family, and was taught: to love, to be kind, to find strength in knowing God, to remember that they were, truly, a child of God, on Earth for a brief time, to perform a mission? What if the teaching, the instruction, was totally different, acknowledging the sacredness of this spirit, come to Earth? What if the child was told, 'Follow that which is within you; you have a blueprint, within you, that was written by the hand of God, and you have come to Earth to accomplish that goal, trusting, and knowing, when you maintain your connection with God, all you need to complete your mission will come to you, as that is The Divine Plan! You are not doing something for your own glory, you are truly on a mission for God. God will move you through all times, and we, as your family, will cheer you on as you go. We love you, and we support you in your mission for God.'? If this was the teaching in every household, all over Earth, you would have families cheering-on the children, from birth, supporting them, and urging them, prompting them to move-on into their missions, and the world would be different place, the Earth would be changed.

"It is never too late for a child of God to alter course, to remember who you are, and what life on Earth is all about; because, I can assure you, it is no accident that you are here: If you are upon Earth right now; if you are breathing oxygen right now; if you can feel the sun, and the rain; if you enjoy sleep, and waking again; you are on a mission for God. Each mission is unique, as you are uniquely a piece of The One. Stop, check your course. Use the compass, within your spirit. What is your mission? Stay connected with God! Do not lose sight of the purpose of your coming, because soon, you will be going Home; for, as the days are sweet, they are surely numbered; and as the days are laborious, they are surely numbered. Change your perspective! Do not seek to amass a stack of things which are destined to fall apart, which have, in reality, no value at all. Begin to take this journey, within your being, finding the place of connection, where you sit with God, and God whispers, 'Today, go here,' 'Rise-up, and go there.' Whatever you are meant to do, you are equipped to do. Wherever you are meant to go, you are prepared to go. Do not hold-on to the things that are temporary. Reach-out, and embrace eternity, with all of its gifts!

"You are not created to rust, decay, or fall apart! You are spirit first, temporarily wearing a robe of Earth. Soon, you will: take-off the robe of Earth, and resume your place in The Dimension of Perfection; continue your eternal journey; remember who you are, and proceed through all time. You are a child of God, and you will live, forever! Mark your days upon Earth, so that it is obvious that you know who you are, from whence you came, and where you are ultimately going!"

Jesus Teaches On:
Finding Answers In The Well Of God

“I AM with you. I AM with you, when you feel alone; I AM with you when you feel injury; I AM with you when you know fear; I AM with you when you are shrouded in doubt; and, if you will sit, and be quiet, together, we will resolve the loneliness, the injuries, the fear, and the doubt; we will resolve all things, so you will know, and in ‘the knowing,’ you will remember, that you carry all of the answers, within you! Come, and sit with Me, and in the quiet you will see, that your needs will be heard, and answered.

“You carry, within you, The Well of God! Each, and every one of you carries this source of life, and truth, within you! Some of you might have forgotten the path to the well. Some of you might think that the answers you seek, will be found on the walls, and in the hallways of institutions of learning. You might think that the answers will be found in courtrooms, and classrooms, and laboratories. Possibly, you think the answers might be found in the words, and the teachings, of others, around you. I AM not saying that these places, or people, cannot provide information; I AM guiding you to a place of deeper understanding, and spiritual fulfillment!

“I believe some of you have boarded-up The Well of God, within you, many have turned from it, and are wandering in the world created by man, seeking answers to things, you do not understand, seeking to find order, amidst chaos, and confusion.

“Today, I implore you return to The Well of God within you! Rip-off the boards of denial, frustration, hurt and pain, which brought you to cover-up the well. Cast them from you; for, if you will lower your pail of need, into The Well of God, that which you bring-up will be the answer! If you make your way to The Well of God within you, feeling as if you need forgiveness for transgressions, and trespasses, once your pail is lowered, and brought-up, it will be overflowing. with forgiveness! When you lower your pail, and draw-it-up, you will not find judgment and condemnation; you will find the answer to your prayers, and the pail will be filled with compassion, and understanding. When you drink of these things, that come from The Well of God, this is what fills you. It is what flushes-out anger and hatred, it is what flushes-out arrogance, and what flushes-out greed. These things from The Well of God are all you need: hope, trust, forgiveness, generosity, kindness; all of the things that lift-up your spirit, so it might soar, are found in The Well of God!

“Do not fall to the temptation to think that, if you lower your pail, and bring-up forgiveness to drink, that forgiveness is the only thing available in The Well of God, for this is not so. Whatever you need is what will come to you; therefore, do not say to one another, that your well holds the only answer. For some, their pail might bring forth understanding, for that is what ‘they need.’ For others, their pail might draw-up a blueprint of how to move through the day, the paths they are to take, which will assist them, for that is what they need. For others, it will be directions on how to pray, a way to bless, rather than to curse, for that is what they need. Do not judge what another draws-up from The Well of God, as good, or bad, or useless; for, God provides what the children need, and every child's needs are different.

“This in itself is a miracle, that before you drew one breath upon Earth, all that you would ever need, during your lifetime, during your journey, was already within you the well complete! This day, I encourage you to make your way to The Well of God, within you, to lower your pail into the waters, with a prayer, and then draw-it-up, and drink; for all of your answers are there, waiting, in The Well of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Creating A Perfect Day

“I AM with you. As we say goodbye to that which was the night, and prepare to welcome the creation of a new day, I AM with you, in every way. Yesterday has been created. It is done. Now, you stand upon the threshold of something yet to be done. You are about to create something you have never experienced before. Very few take the time to realize the opportunity that is theirs, with the rising of every sun.

“When you embark upon a new day, you are moving into uncharted territory. Every experience of that day is new, and it comes to you to master the energy of every minute, every hour of the day. Sometimes, this can seem as if it is a challenge, just to make it through, until the night; but, if you begin to see, what appears to be a challenge, as an opportunity, then you will begin to think as if you are playing a game, trying to move your game pieces from one place to the other, trying to accomplish the goal of the game. Well, the goal of the game of this day, is to create as much good energies, as it is possible for you to do.

“It is possible for you to encounter negative energy, and transmute this negative energy into neutral energy, which moves over the Earth, stimulating, creating an atmosphere that seems charged in a mystical way. When the environment around you, when the atmosphere around you, is created with positive energy, things seem to grow better; it is because of the energy, the stimulation of this positive energy. You seem to feel better; it is because of the energy, the stimulation of the positive energy. When you understand the importance of creating a stimulating atmosphere for yourself, for your wellbeing, for your health, then it will become more important than running, or jogging, or walking, or eating the right foods. It will become more important than attending this class, or that class, or stretching. It will become the most important thing you do, because no matter how far your run, how many times a week you jog, or exercise, if your body is living in an atmosphere that is filled with negative energy, you will not achieve your goal; you will be tired, and sick, and stressed.

“So, My message to you is this. Pay attention to the energy, in which you live! Clean the atmosphere where you live. Make sure your environment is one of positive energy, and growth. Refuse to permit negative energy to enter. Do not give negative energy a home. This all sounds very simple, it is a starting place, and a place where you can see, in short order, the effect that negative energy has, or that positive energy has, because you will feel it immediately.

“I send you forth, this day, to create the day. I send you forth to create a day filled with positive energy. I send you forth to cast from you all negative energy, send it away, so you are free to create a perfect day.”

Jesus Teaches On:
Joy Comes From Inner-Peace

“I AM with you. When you know I AM with you, peace settles within you, and when you always know I AM with you, peace resides within you; for, I AM peace, I AM love, I AM forgiveness for all things; therefore, it is impossible for Me to be with you without bringing the environment of peace to you!

“Peace and joy! These are words that bring comfort. Peace and joy are sought by many. Peace and joy are delivered by many; but, the states of peace and joy are created within your being. Do not confuse joy with what might be termed being in a “party mode,” or excitement. Joy comes from an inner-peace, and from within the inner-peace comes the ability to enjoy creation, and all around you, in a way that you did not ‘know,’ before. Inner-peace is where you give birth to joy!

“So often, I have mentioned that buying a new car, or living in a new house, or perhaps finding a job which gives you a good bit of income, does not necessarily provide joy. These things satisfy a yearning, for a while; but, they cannot deliver the gift of joy to you.

“To be at peace, within, requires you: to be understanding, to be compassionate, to be forgiving, and to practice these things with yourself, first. A disturbance, in an energy field, can be upsetting, can be frustrating; therefore, settle, within your being, the energies which animate your body, rather than bring it into a state of disease

“Joy and peace! You will find that a day you remember as a very joyful day, was a day that was a peaceful day, a day when you were at peace, with all things.

“It is easy to feel peace, when you look into the face of a small child; it is easy to be at peace, when you look into the eyes of one you love; but it requires practice to be at peace in the midst of turmoil. The only way you can accomplish this, and actually experience joy in the midst of turmoil, is to stay connected with our Creator, with our Father, our Mother, our Giver of Life, our Bringer of Life, with The Source of All Life, with God. There will be distractions all around you, every day, and these distractions invite you, better put, they tempt you, into ‘reacting,’ to them, into playing with them. But the very second you lose your attachment to God, and focus on the distraction, the temptation to reaction, you lose your footing, you lose your balance, and you find yourself living in the energy of the distractor, or the distraction. It does not feel the same, as when you stood in the light of God; it is murky, and dark; it is shadowy.

“There are often those who come into your life as the distraction, as the temptation, and it might surprise you to know that you will feel an immense sense of joy, when you realize that you have gained the spiritual maturity to stay connected with God, rather than reacting to the distraction. This level of mastery takes time to achieve; it takes practice; and it is exactly why the instruction to ‘love all,’ was made clearer, by saying that ‘it is easy to love those who are loveable, who are kind; but, it is not so easy to love those who are being mean, and coarse.’ Yet, the ones who are living in the energy, residing with the spirits of meanness, or coarseness, or sickness, are in need of love, and exactly where you need to focus the love of God!

“Peace and joy are so near to you. The only thing required to live in these states is to pay attention, be vigilant, and then reject reaction to the distractions; choose, instead, to focus the light of God, directly upon the distractions. Most often, you do not have to say a word, just focus the light, and the power of God; in fact, sometimes it is even more distressing to say a word; so, be still, be quiet, and focus.

“Begin this week by practicing maintaining your connection with God, refusing reaction to distraction from the light of God. This is how you come to know peace, in the midst of turmoil; it is how you come to understand, how you can love those who hate you, those who admonish you, those who are cruel to you.

“I AM not telling you this is easy to learn, or to do! I Am telling you the rewards, for practicing what I AM asking you to do, are abundant, and rich, and result in a life filled with peace, and joy! The excitement of new clothes, and new cars, and new places soon wears-thin, and then wears-off; but the absolute joy of living in the state of inner-peace is with you! It cannot be taken from you; but, it must be created by you.

“That which you experience is created by you! Living upon Earth is made easier, when you remain in the light of God! Shine the light of God, and be still, and you will find that the storms subside, that the winds are quiet, and you are at peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Change Is Inevitable, Creation Continues

“I AM with you. Feel My presence, riding on The Wind. Know My presence: in the song of a bird; in the fragrance of a flower; in the laughter of a child; in the gentle drops of a sweet, tender rain. Know My presence in the majesty of a storm, in the tranquil waters of a sea. Know My presence. Know Me!

“Today, I wish to speak to you about ‘change,’ because change is inevitable. You do not live in a stagnant creation. You live in a creation that continues: it is vibrant; it is filled with life; and, you are to enjoy every second of this life that is yours! Creation is continuing through you! And as you grow, and as you experience creation, change is inevitable!

“There is change for the better; but sometimes there is the temptation: to change into shadow and darkness; to be afraid of this, or that; to hold onto where you are, refusing to move with the flow of eternity, with the flow of creation. Within ‘this choice,’ you become stagnant, and often, the spirit will wither, and grow weak.

“Ah, but then, there is the change for good, and light. It requires growth, and as you grow, you breathe deeply, filling your lungs with the air of Earth, just as your willingness to grow spiritually fills your spirit with the freshness of new creation, the breath of life, eternal life!

“This latter choice, would be the choice of all, who had the freedom to make the choice. Free of darkness and shadow: you would choose to breathe deeply, and fill your body with air, invigorating your body; you would choose to breathe deeply of The Spirit, and fill your eternal body, your light body, with the glory of God! And I encourage all of you, My sisters and brothers, to go in this direction. Choose growth, spiritual growth, because this is the intention of creation! You are not meant to stay in one place. You are meant to grow!

“Sometimes, change can take place instantly; something occurs, appearing to come out-of-nowhere, resulting in a trauma, a traumatic event that changes everything; but often, held within this traumatic event, is a miracle. The fragments of the event swirl together, and the individual experiencing, whatever happened within that flash, within that moment, is changed forever, through the event, through the miracle.

“Sometimes, instant change is brought about by an epiphany. You might be walking down a garden path, when, seemingly out of the blue, you are filled with answers, answers to questions you didn't even know to ask, answers to questions, which could not have been formed by you. Yet, the answers fill you, and they are complete, and coincide with the flow of creation, and you are changed, instantly, by this knowing, by this epiphany!

“Instantaneous change, however, is not the norm. Most spiritual change springs forth from: a desire; an intention; a drive; somewhere within you, you know there is something else, and you begin the process of gradual change. This type of change does not occur in an instant; but, it is so rewarding! As you begin the journey, as you begin to evolve into a more spiritual being, the dust, and the dirt of the world, begins to fall away. It is as if you are washing a window, which has not been cleaned for decades. It requires work; but then, the light begins to shine through, and what is revealed, within you, is beautiful, and powerful, and real. In fact, the result, even at the start, is so intriguing, and so compelling, that you cannot stop this adventure you began. It is as if it is impossible to return to the woman, or the man, you were before you set your intention to walk The Way. This change, evolves more and more every day, and soon, you realize the difference, the glory in walking upon Earth: connected with God, knowing Earth, knowing God, knowing who you are, knowing value, knowing worth!

“Change is inevitable, because creation is moving. Today, set your intention to ride upon The Wind; be willing to let go, so that you might grow, spiritually; for, as you begin to open, and grow, you will begin to understand life upon Earth, and how it was meant to be!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Exchange Illusion, For Truth; Believe, Have Faith, And Know

“I AM with you. No matter where you find yourself this day, I AM with you! If you are standing on a mountain top, I AM with you. If you are standing by the sea, or ocean, I AM with you. If you are standing at the river's edge, or on a desert's mound of sand, I AM with you. If you are standing in a meadow, or on a city street, I AM with you. If you are giving birth, or being born, or waiting, ready to return Home, I AM with you. I AM always with you. All of Heaven is with you, and all you have to do, to make the connection complete, is to set your intention to do so. It is as if you are answering a phone, or turning-on a computer, or a television, or turning the keys to start the ignition of your vehicle. All of these things, which I just mentioned, are waiting for you to take action: pick-up a phone; turn-on a computer; turn-on a television; go-out and start your car, so that you might move to another destination. And, there are many more things, which require action, from you, to make the connection, to achieve the desired result.

“So many of you today, truly believe that you ‘control,’ your everyday life, your life in the world created by man. You hold-down a job, which provides the means to pay for a house, and a car, and clothing, and food; and, you believe by doing these things, you are controlling your situation, assuring security. And, this is where you place your trust, and believe, all is well, when you do what you must do to maintain this worldly creation. It seems to work for a while, until you lose your job, or lose your health to disease, illness, sickness of some type; or, until there comes the invasion of a natural, or financial disaster, which robs you, of all that you thought you controlled. You lose your home, and your savings, and you are left all alone, turning in despair, trying to find, to grasp, what was once there. In these times you see, and begin to know, you really never had control. It was the illusion of control that kept you going, held your faith, and trust, in knowing that all things would remain as they were, as long as you proceeded down the path that you created in the world of man. But this is an illusion! You do not control your everyday life in the world of man, you are following along, you are making do with what you have, what you have created.

“Most of you do not believe that you are the master of your spiritual realm, that you are the master of something more than the physical, more than the world created by man. The illusion is you think you control those things of the world. The miracle is that you have the freewill choice to create your reality, when you move into, and operate from, the spiritual world! My brothers, and sisters, it is vital for you to ‘remember,’ that you are spirit first, assuming the body of Earth, only for a while!

“I pause so you can absorb this, because it is exactly opposite of what many of you believe, and hold to be true. Most of you believe that God is controlling this, or that, or the other, and that you must float in, and out, of the spiritual realm, with your significant contribution being: attending church; doing good deeds; reading of the masters who came before you, or who are living with you; doing the best you can, while you are living in the world created by man. But, this is not true! Your creative powers are just not in use right now. You have not made the connection. You have not answered the phone, or turned on the television, or the computer. You have not inserted the key, and started the ignition of your vehicle. In other words, you are not making the connection with the heavenly kingdom that is all around you, with you, within you! You are not making that effort, because you do not believe it is so! However, deep within your being, at your true core, you 'know, it is so.'

"Many of you have found yourself in a position of dire emergency; and, in that position, you have called-out, 'Help me, save me,' or whatever your utterance might have been, and miracles of miracles: your vehicle stopped, just before it plunges over the embankment; a loved one sits-up, in a hospital bed, free of the coma, free of the fever; you find a surprise reward has come in the mail, just in time, to make the payment that was necessary to make; you turned around, and there was the job you always wanted, knocking at the door, inviting you to assume the role; or, the sun did shine, on a day that held darkness, until you mentioned The Name, Divine; and the storms cleared, and the world, and all things, were fine. Almost each and every one of you can remember a time, when you called-out, and the result was miraculous!

"The message today is this. You do not have to wait, until a dire emergency, to make that connection. You already know, that miracles will come in answer to a prayer called-out from your heart; so, why not use the information, from the start! You are creating every minute of your day. Make the connection with God, with Home, so that you might live, in a non-emergency situation, receiving the gifts, knowing the answers, being filled with courage, and strength, and confidence! This is all possible. It is so easy, once you make the decision to be guided by God, in all things, in all ways!

"The 'illusion,' is that you control the world in which you live, by amassing stacks of money, and clothing, and houses, and cars. The 'truth,' is you create a lifetime, an existence, an experience of miracles by maintaining your connection with God, and using this opportunity, this freewill choice, to live every day! You are co-creating with God. Spend your time, creating thoughts that are of light, and follow through with words, and deeds, and this will be your reality. In this world of perfection, that you are creating, by maintaining your connection with Home, all things will come to you, especially those things you need to accomplish your mission! It is intended to be that way, that is The Divine Plan! The struggle, and the hard work, that is created in the world of man, will fall away from you. The outward sign will be that it appears easy, it appears as if it is just flowing to you; and, in reality, that is exactly, what it is doing, because you have made the connection, you have plugged into The Source of ultimate power, and it is flowing through you!

"Acknowledge your creative power! Set your intention to create a world, that, until this point, you did not believe existed, because you had not yet created it. So, create the perfect, living experience, within your thoughts, and this is what will flow from you, this will be what is created by you. This is how you will know what you are to do, connect with Home Base, connect, and master your destiny, fuel your thoughts with the power of God, and you will succeed. Believe, have faith, and you will know, all you need to know, to make it so!"

Jesus Teaches On:
Your Destiny, As A Citizen, Of Heaven

“I AM with you. Do not let others distract you; for within your being, you feel the truth, and you know it is possible for Me to be with you, to encourage you, to support you, to lead you into a way of new life, new living, new understanding; for, in this new way, in this new life, all that you have read before begins to open, anew, and you see things you never knew before. I AM with you. I point them out. I show you The Way. You hold The Book, and ask a question, and the breath of The Holy Spirit doth blow over you, the page turns, and your glance falls to the page revealed, and the words spring forth from the prophets of old, and you realize that those words, spoken thousands of years ago, are yours to behold, to know, to bring to life, once more.

“It is recorded, and I did say, that you can do everything I AM doing; and, I did not stop there; for, I also said that you would do even greater things. I did not say, ‘Carry Me on a throne, and bow down to me.’ I sat in the sand, and in the dirt, to wash the feet, and care for those who loved Me; and, when I did rise-up, those who did love Me, walked with Me, as My brother, as My sister, not My slave, or underling, but with Me.

“Those who were with Me did know, and hear, what I said. Today, begin to understand how difficult it would be to change your belief from retaliation to compassion, and love for your enemy. Think what it would mean, rather than securing your own future financially, to be asked to give it all away, and wander, from town to town, taking nothing with you, of worldly value.

“I did not come to show you something that is impossible for you to do; so, do not be tricked into thinking that it is ‘impossible,’ to do, all that I did... say, unto you... and show unto you; for, My presence, in a body of Earth, is living proof, of your value, of your worth! You can do everything I did, I do, and I will do! I AM, with you!

“Set your goal to create mountains of love! Fill your coffers with compassion, and understanding. Hand-out cups, and dishes, overflowing with kindness. Let the love of God flow through you into every day you live. This love, this value, this worth, these gifts come from within you, and they have nothing to do with the values of the world. They have to do with the eternal Kingdom of God. You are on Earth for a brief time. Do the best you can do to clean-up The Garden, to sweep the floor, to open the door, and let the light, flow, through you, onto the Earth. No matter where you find yourself today: it is possible to love; it is possible to be kind; it is possible to open your thoughts to understanding, so that the gift you give to others might be compassion; and, it is possible to listen. The world needs more listeners! Very few will hold their tongue, and listen; but once this is done, you have not told another what you think, you have listened to what another feels, and you now know their heart.

“There is so much more to share with you; so, I invite each of you, hearing these words, or reading these words, to be still, and quiet, and walk with Me today; for, no matter what you ask, the answer shall be revealed to you. Rise-up, we will clean The Garden, and sweep the floors, together; it is your destiny, as a citizen of Heaven, as a child of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Create Kindness, And Know Peace

“I AM with you. Feel My presence drawing near to you. I come to you as a flower, breathe deeply, taking-in My fragrance. I come to you with My power, breathe deeply, for by sharing this, you have My strength, and courage, as well. These things I give you. I Come to you every hour, every minute, every day, every second. It is possible. We are separated by only a veil, a thin veil. Follow the fragrance, and use your strength, and courage, and you will move with Me. This is all possible; yet, it requires desire, and intention. You too can be in the world, but not of the world. You can experience Earth, but in a different way. You can experience Earth, seeing the glory all around you. I come to you, so that you might share, because this sharing is your heritage. You are no accident. You are eternal. Where you are, how you are, is no accident. It is a mission of eternal importance. How you move over the Earth, how you operate in the world created by man is an exhibition of who you are, and the way you operate, the way you move, shows what you ‘know.’

“So many of you, hearing these words, or reading these words, at your heart level, want to do something to help others, to make the world better, to breathe deeply, and to know, with love, your Earth experience. Accomplishing this goal, can be as simple as exhibiting the gift of kindness! It is not necessary to read all of the books, to memorize all of the important quotations. It is not necessary to make your way to a church, or a temple, or a synagogue, every Sunday, or Saturday, or Wednesday. It is not necessary to take courses, and classes. All that is necessary is to understand the importance of kindness. Kindness springs forth, from the energy of love, and love is the creation energy!

“Sometimes you find it very difficult to love; but, you can always reach-out with kindness; and, in-so-doing, ultimately, taste love! You cannot make a mistake with kindness. Even when your kindness seems to be rejected, you have created the gift; therefore, it lives. The one who creates, knows the creation; therefore, it is important to create what you seek; so today, we talk about the creation of kindness, within each of you!

“If you desire the gift of kindness, then create it, and give it away, and you will know it!

“Let this week be filled with acts of kindness. Let your thoughts create the seeds of kindness. Let your words take these thought seeds, and broadcast, and spread them, over the garden, of Earth; and let your actions show The Way to the garden you have created, every day! Invite others into your garden of kindness; and, in-so-doing, you say, ‘I love you.’ This, you can do! It is within the capability of each of you to be kind! It rises above patience, it rises above tolerance, of being courteous, and polite, for the art of kindness springs forth from love!

“Create kindness, and you will know peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Creating Your World, Showing The Way

“I AM with you. These words are not empty, meant only to bring you solace, and comfort for today. They are truth, for every day, past, present, and future. I AM with you! Heaven is with you, and the Dimension of Perfection is all around you! You are in Heaven, right now; yet, the illusion is holding you in place, screening from your view, masking from your face, the reality of eternity, as it is. The only thing you need to do to experience My presence, and to live in the eternal realm of perfection now, today, is to break out of the box, of conforming to that which you have been taught by the world created by man; so that you might walk within All That Is created by God.

“At the present time, you are creating that which you experience. You are able to create: sadness, greed, lust, hurt, betrayal, anger, hatred. You are able to create: joy, charity, love, respect, kindness, compassion, peace. As you walk through each day, you are the creator of the day you experience; and, this applies to interactions with others as well. What others might say, or do, should have no effect on what you create. Knowing this truth, and practicing this truth, requires determination; and the determination you set forth will produce the world in which you live, just as others are creating the world in which they live.

“When you are tempted to ‘react,’ to what another is creating, as their world, be mindful, be vigilant! Sometimes the temptation to enter a world created by another is enticing; but, make sure, before you enter, that it is a place in which you would like to dwell. You will encounter individuals whose presence is warm, inviting, and loving; and, to walk into their world, for a while, is restful, calming, and peaceful. The experience of that which they created is fulfilling, warm, and rewarding. You will also encounter individuals whose presence is cold, off-putting, and harsh. Resist the temptation to wander into their creation, ‘by reacting,’ to that which is best left alone; for, it will entrap you, and their creation, their experience, will be one shared by you.

“Be the bringer of light, and love, and peace! Bless all you encounter, no matter whether they carry love, or anger; plenty, or lack; charity, or greed. Always remember, you are creating your world, and what you create will be that which you experience; therefore, create in light, and the world will be illuminated, within the light you create; and, that, which you see, will be different, because that which you create will be the creation of illumination. Illumination allows you to see; and seeing within illumination opens The Way to revelation of truth. Within the revelation of illumination are found the source of compassion, and understanding, because you see with clarity; and, when you see with clarity, within the creation of compassion, and understanding, you are, at last, the beholder, and the holder, of peace; and, within peace, there is born the gift, of wisdom. You cannot buy any of these gifts in the world created by man, they are created by you, from within.

“You are the creator of the world in which you live, and the creation of your world is all done, from within! Set your intention to be the bringer of light, and love, and peace! Once you have set your heart toward this goal, you are on your way blessing, healing, extending kindness, and showing The Way, bringing peace to every day! This can all happen, when you know, really know, that you are the creator of the world, in which you live. Create light, and live, in The Light!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Creating And Using Inner Peace

“I AM with you. I AM with you on this day to speak of peace.

“Most of you, hearing these words or reading these words, are celebrating a day set aside to honor fathers, so My message has two chapters. One chapter will speak to you of ‘peace,’ and the other chapter will speak to you of ‘the perfect father.’ They go together.

“On the subject of peace, there are so many of you, actively seeking peace. You are praying; you are taking classes, and courses; you are practicing meditation, contemplation, yoga, and other many other modalities seeking peace; but, it is obvious, even while you are in these positions, or in a room, sitting quietly, and prayerfully, the turmoil within your being is still a storm! You cannot push certain thoughts out, no matter how hard you try to do so. This is because you cannot find peace, by: reading about it, talking about it, or exercising your way to it. Peace comes from within! You must be ‘at peace.’ When you are at peace: you are content, you are in comfort; you are confident, and this confidence brings you courage, and strength; and I am not referring to the type of courage, and strength which is showy, proud, and boastful; but the quiet, still courage, and strength, which is deeper, and more profound.

“To be at peace: you must spend time with God; you must know the importance of forgiveness; and you must exercise compassion, and understanding. These things, and only these things, will bring you true peace. Once you have found peace, you can do all things, because you have established a relationship with God, and this relationship, and the power of God, are the fuel of peace! They are, as oil, to the lamp! They are your light! There is no darkness, or shadow, only the light of peace, within you! And it is well worth the effort; because once peace is established within you, it is your gift to Earth, and all those around you! Shoulders drop, hearts and arms are open, and anxiety disappears when you walk into the room; because, you are bringing peace!

“On the subject of fathers, there is a parable in The Scriptures, which addresses the prodigal son. It has always been My desire to address the father of the prodigal son more than the prodigal son, because the father was a man who was truly at peace from within, and since he was at peace, he permitted all those around him to experience that which they needed to experience, to use their freewill, to do, as they were led to do; and, all these activities did not disturb his peace, because his peace was within. He could handle all situations, and matters, because the peace within carried strength and courage, understanding and compassion. It all came, and went, and he met each person, each incident, in peace.

“As you think about fathers this day: no matter whether yours is with you, or has returned Home; no matter whether yours is with you, or roaming, and you do not know where to find him; maybe you know your father, and maybe you do not know your father; maybe you are a father; but there is one thing that is sure, the role of a father requires peace! It is very difficult to preach and teach and direct your children, if you are not at peace within; for they will come-up with things you could never imagine, and present them to you, and it is then, you choose! There is often disappointment, and frustration, even anger about certain things; and these are the times when you need to find you are 'at peace, within,' before, you can define to them, what is happening, and let them know, how you can assist.

“Recalling the father in the prodigal son, the father let the son go, and not only did he let the son go, he gave him his fortune before he left. Did the father know what the son would do with the fortune? Of course he did. He knew it would all be gone in a short matter of time; yet, he gave him what the son thought was his, then patiently waited. The son returned, but it is clear, from the parable, that he did not return to a tirade, to anger, or to have to listen to what he should have done, and why he should have done it. Do any of you recall what the father in the parable did, upon the return of the son? He prepared a feast, a banquet, a party to celebrate the return; for he knew the lessons the son had learned during his experience could not be taught any other way than by living them; and, while this father of the prodigal son is a perfect earthly example for all fathers, this father is also the example of Our Father, God!

“Once you leave Heaven, The Dimension of Perfection, you are out, and on your own, to experience life upon Earth. God is ever ready to hear you, and help you, and guide you. Many do not take advantage of this privilege; yet, God is there, patiently waiting until you return Home. Once you return Home, the great feast, the banquet, the party will take place, for you have had your experience, and had to face all that Earth, and the world created by man, had to offer you.

“These are the two things I wished to speak to you about today, establishing peace within, and fashioning yourself more after the father in the parable of the prodigal son. While I chose to speak to you of these things on Father's Day, the message is not limited to fathers. Anyone, anyone hearing these words or reading these words, will greatly improve your life upon Earth, if you will try, and work toward, establishing peace within, and then, using that inner-peace to be more like a father, Our Father!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Reject Worry, Concern, And Anxiety

“I AM with you. It is important for you to believe that I AM with you. I AM no longer encumbered with a body of Earth; yet, I AM with you, in My spirit body; and I can assure you that nothing can happen to drive Me away from you. I will lead you through every situation, and upheaval, through every sea of chaos, and every cloud of confusion, if you will believe that I AM with you, and then follow Me, when I say, ‘Come,’ I will show you The Way! This, My brothers and sisters, is My promise to you!

“I have addressed the issue of reacting to certain situations, reacting to what others say, or do, many times; and just last Sunday we talked about using the energy of anger as a tool, in reaction, and how there is a better way to do it, how there is God’s Way to do it.

“Today, I want to talk about another reaction that can consume your body, and spirit, and bring on disease of every kind. It too, just like anger, is a learned behavior; and, learned behaviors, or patterns, can be broken, and a new way of doing things can be put into place. Today, I want to address ‘worry, anxiety, and concern about another person, or an issue,’ which drives you to distraction.

“Some of you might be in this situation right now. Some of you might recall a situation where you used worry, and concern, and anxiety as a reaction to what another said, or did. My question to you is this, looking back on every period of worry, concern, and anxiety, consider this... what good did worry do? What did concern, and anxiety accomplish that was ‘good,’ and ‘of light?’ In truth, you would have to say, ‘Nothing! I worried myself sick, for a long time, and it did not change anything.’”

“Worry, concern, and anxiety will never change anything, for the better; and in truth, will result in physical illness and/or disease!

(Long Pause... ..)

“Yes, there was an appropriate pause there, long, so you could absorb the impact of what was said. Sometimes there is worry on the part of a student when, because they did not study for the test, they did poorly on the test, and they worry about the grade, and the outcome. However, worry would have been unnecessary had there been proper preparation. Once the test is taken, it is done; so what is termed worry can usually more accurately be described as ‘fear,’ of what is going to happen next.

“Worry about what another person is doing is one of the most unproductive energies you can choose to use. This truly will make you sick, especially in the stomach area. The digestive system will not work as it is intended to work, when there is a stressful situation, regarding what another person is saying, or doing. When this is the source of worry, you must look at it honestly, because, if you can look at it honestly, you will see that you want, or expect, another to do what 'you think is best;' and, when they do not conform to what you want them to do, you begin to worry, you become anxious, and concerned; because you want to keep them, from what you perceive, as a bad outcome. 'This will come to no good,' is what you are thinking. Sometimes, especially if this is a reaction between parent, and child, it almost seems a noble thing to do, to worry about your child. Today, I AM saying, this is not true. You are creating a situation that is not necessary, by denying your adult child their 'freewill choice.' Think on this...!

"Worry, concern, and anxiety can also be used in times of doubt, chaos, and confusion. What is happening regarding financial issues, no matter whether they be personal, or community matters, or in the world in general, finances, and the worry about money, can make you sick, and in reality, your 'worry,' about it, only makes it worse!

"It is the trickery of negative forces, to attach nobility to worry: to be so worried about your finances that you are frozen in place, and cannot enjoy the day; to be so worried about what someone else is doing, that you are frozen, and cannot enjoy the day. To be worried, concerned, and anxious, robs you of the joy Our Farther, Our Creator, hopes for all of His Children experience on Earth; you cannot sing a joyful song when you are worried.

"Worry, concern, and anxiety is learned behavior. It will take great patience, practice, and determination, to 'unlearn,' allowing another's actions, or words, or deeds to distract you from your relationship with God. Poking around in another person's business, usually comes to no good. Being concerned about money, and finances, robs you of the glory of God with you, robs you of the beauty of the day you have been given.

"So, I offer you an alternative 'choice.' When you are tempted to worry, concern, or anxiety, speak to God. I did! Say to God, 'This is a situation totally out of my control.' Bless the person, bless the situation, and let it go! Enjoy the present piece of eternity you are on Earth to experience!

"There are many things that you can do, 'of great light,' that can take the place of worry, concern, and anxiety. Throw open the windows! Throw open the doors! Sing a happy song! Listen to the birds, and then sing along! Take a ride in the countryside, and look at the beauty all around you! God's creation is amazing, and it is all good! Start living, and dedicating all you do, for the glory of God!

"Set aside worry, concern, and anxiety, and you will be healthier, and happier, of body, soul, and spirit! Reject these energies, because they are energies which can be replaced with the glorious power of God! Change your pattern, and you will change your life, completely! Do so, and live in joy, for the glory of God is all around you!"

Jesus Teaches On:
Do Not Get Angry With Another

“I AM with you. There are so many things I wish to share with you, for knowing these things, makes life on Earth much easier. There is always an appropriate time, and an appropriate place, for learning; and, happily, today, is one of those times, and this is an appropriate place; therefore, I will speak to you about the energy of ‘anger.’

“When I walked upon the Earth, it was during the time when most accepted the command, ‘Do not kill.’ Most tried to live their lives, following this command, ‘Do not kill.’ However, as I walked and talked with those around Me, those close to Me, I would speak to them, about anger, saying, ‘You have been told, ‘Do not kill.’ I bring you a new command, do not get angry with another.’

“The response, written on the faces of those who looked intently upon Me, as I spoke these words, was total disbelief! They were dumbfounded; they were almost unable to bare what I was saying; so, I said it repeatedly, so it would begin to sink-in, so they would know that this new command was important. Today, I take you one step further along The Way, with an understanding of anger. I wish to speak of this energy, this behavior, this force, in a specific way. I wish to talk about anger being used as a ‘re-action,’ to what another says, or does, because this is how I believe you will see it more clearly than any other way.

“Anger can come out very quickly, when someone says, or does, something which displeases you, or hurts your feelings. Anger is a reaction, and many times, those who use anger as a reaction, will often say, ‘(S)He made me do it. It happened before I knew it, (s)he just made me so angry, I could not help it, I had no other choice.’ This explanation holds the key. This explanation leads the way to understanding, that it was truly a re-action; and a choice was made; but, within the reaction was held the learned pattern of behavior, something that had been repeated, and repeated, and repeated, until it became second nature. React, simply means that you are acting, again, and again, and again, in the same way, achieving the same result.

“For those of you who have ever played sports, this is even easier to understand, because learned behavior can be difficult to give-up, but well worth the effort. If it has been learned: it can be unlearned; it can be set aside for something better, something more promising, something more fulfilling. I do not have time today to go through every sport to use as an example; but, there is one that is rather easy to see, and that is learning how to play the game of golf. With a metal rod, a club, you swing down, and hit the ball, and your power, your force, carries the ball up, and launches it away. Now, without even knowing how to do this properly, using, what is termed ‘brute strength,’ a force within your body, you can come to hit that little ball, and drive it a long way; yet, if the manner in which you do it is not correct, after a while, using this stroke over, and over again, you can do harm, or cause injury to your body. Then, someone sees what you are doing, and suggests, ‘Let me show you a better way,’ and you see, with practice in the better way, you have more control over where the ball is going, how far the ball is going, and you seem to be able to drive the ball further, with less effort. This is because you have learned how to hit the ball properly.

“This is what I wish for you to do today, especially if you are struggling with reactions, by using anger. Set that reaction aside, and begin to act, using the love of God, when certain things are said, or done, to you, or in your presence. Back-up, take a deep breath, and take inventory, take stock. What are you trying to accomplish? No matter what you are trying to accomplish, by using the energy of anger, you can accomplish it with greater ease, and less effort, if you employ the energy of love, coming from God. There is no longer a confrontation, because you refuse to enter the game in that way. You choose to play the game, using something new, and different, something requiring less effort, something calming, and bringing peace to the situation. The result, if you are willing to try this, is staggering, and utterly amazing. When you refuse to use the old pattern, the old behavior, and work with a Master, showing you The Way, your days are filled with peace. You are no longer trying to drive the ball with an inappropriate, and less productive, swing. You are using the new lessons, you are following The Way, and the new way is a better way.

“This lesson today is clearly understood by those of you who have taken part in any athletic activity, because surely you did not instantly know how to play the game. There was a teacher, no matter whether it was those around you, playing the game so well, that you followed what they did; or it was a coach, or instructor, who showed you a better way to accomplish the goal. Once this better way was learned, you mastered the game. It is the same with setting aside old reactions to situations, and learning a better way to accomplish the goal. God’s love will always bring you peace, and if you will use the love of God, as the action you choose, in any situation, you will be the bringer of peace. It is that simple.

“You know the command, ‘Do not kill.’ Now, I ask you to take it a step further. Do not get angry with another. Set anger aside; for, it does not serve you well. In doing so, you will be the bringer of peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Be Mindful Of Your Thoughts, And Love One Another

“I AM with you. I AM with you, because it is possible for Me to be so; as, we are connected, and we are one! I speak to you today with excitement, and joy, ‘believing,’ in this communication, between the dimensions, ‘knowing,’ it brings truth to the heart of those willing to embrace the words and know they are coming for good!

“Be mindful of your ‘thoughts,’ for when you are ‘thinking,’ you are ‘in the process of creating,’ and what you are thinking, becomes, what you have created! That which is created... lives! It lives, within you, and it moves from you, out, into the world. Every thought ever created by human beings is floating around the world today.

“If you were to imagine, seeing a woman, sitting in a chair, pondering, and thinking, about what she perceives as important events occurring in her life, your imagination would allow you to see little thought bubbles, popping-up out of her head, and floating-off into the air. Sometimes, the bubbles meet, press together, and coalesce, forming a small unit, moving about. Other bubbles seem to move about all on their own. Many say they ‘know,’ that thoughts become things, and that these thought forms are real, because they are created by powerful beings, by the children of God. So, what are the children of God creating?

“Most of the time, you can walk into a room, which is silent, yet, holding people, and not be aware, of what the individuals are thinking, at least for a while. From those who are entertaining thoughts of darkness, you feel it, if not immediately, then soon; but, the real disclosures come, when conversation begins, and words spring-forth, illuminating the thought forms, created, in silence. Knowing this is very powerful; because, from this day forth, you will pay attention, when you are around other human beings. You will begin to notice that you feel, and know, what they are thinking, that you know, what they are creating from their words, and actions. Soon, it will become obvious, that thoughts, once believed to be hidden, are in full view, illuminated, for all to see. That which you are thinking is always exposed at one time, or another; so, be mindful of your thoughts!

“Thousands of years ago, when I walked upon the Earth. I said, ‘I bring you a new command. Love one another.’ So few words, yet when used, and used with determination, and practice, these few words have the ability to change the course of the world, and all of the human beings in the world. Love one another! Every question you ask can be answered with love. ‘What can I do in this situation?’ you ask God, and God whispers, ‘Be love.’ ‘What can I say in this situation?’ you ask God, and God whispers, ‘Speak only of love.’

(Long Pause... ..)

“I gave you a few moments to think about it, there was silence, and you might have used that silence to let those words, ‘love one another,’ sink deeper, into your being. When the new command, 'love one another,' is known, truly known, by even one individual, the outcome is remarkable; because every encounter, involving that one individual, brings a change which is quite astonishing. When your intent is to be loving, considerate, kind, and understanding, you can encounter someone who is angry, yet love will wrap the anger, and hold it, until it is dissolved within the love of God! When you are determined to be loving, in all situations, you can encounter someone who is caught-up in darkness and shadow, weeping, wreathing in anguish, consumed in worry about their state, and this state is resolved, because of the love of God, enfolding the lost child. Soon, darkness, and shadow, is vanquished, as the love of God brings forth the light!

“Love is the light of God! All you need to do is to let your light shine. You do not have to convince. You do not have to cajole. You do not have to teach, or preach, or direct; for these things can actually diminish, and distract from the light of God, shining so brightly; yet, this requires great faith; it requires that you maintain your connection with God, and stay in the light, so that others can see the light. Then, in trusting the power of the light, The Holy Spirit of God moves in, and moves down every passageway, looking, knowing the right place(s) to touch; and when The Way is made clear, the whisper comes to the one, who, once, could not hear! “This type of ‘miracle,’ does not happen everywhere. It happens in places that are well prepared, where the energy is accepting, where a sanctuary is nurtured, where The Garden of God is growing, and tended. Have faith, this day, that God knows everything that is happening within the creation. Have faith, that The Holy Spirit has been sent to bring wisdom, and wisdom does come to those who are ready to embrace the truth. Do not lose your focus. Do not lose your balance. Stay in the light of God! Be mindful of your thoughts. Love one another!”

Jesus Teaches On:
In Remembrance, Of Your Journey Upon Earth

“I AM with you. I approach. We are near. You hear My voice, or feel My presence; and then, comes confirmation, affirmation, we are one.

“You recognize My voice, My tone is familiar; therefore, you rise-up to hear Me, even from your sleep. I AM calling to you today, because it is time for you: to awaken, fully; to be aware, and to notice what is happening around you; to pay attention; for, you are on a great journey.

“It is important for you to look around, and see, so that you might bring Home with you the things you have seen, which have become a part of you, which you will carry for eternity, in remembrance of your journey upon Earth!

“There is no question, that, if you are hearing these words, or reading these words, you are upon Earth! Of that, there is no doubt. And, as you are upon Earth, there is also no question, that you were born upon Earth, and that you are on the journey, right now, every step you take, leading you Home! As you made your arrival upon Earth, there will come a time when you make your departure. It might seem as if a lifetime upon Earth is a long time; in reality, it is but a snap of your fingers, a blink of your eye, and it is done; therefore, I call to any who recognize My voice, and say, ‘Rise-up, and awaken! Sleep no longer, in the dust of Earth; but, awaken, fully, to the experience of your journey!’

“The intention is for you: to be born upon Earth; to experience Earth, in a unique way, a way designed, and planned, for you to experience Earth; and then, to come Home; to move from one experience to another without effort, in the flow of The Divine Plan; but, the ways of man, and the ways of the world, have made a larger, and more powerful impact upon the lives of those upon Earth than anticipated, and this larger, and more powerful impact has adjusted the way you think about living, and experiencing, and returning Home. However, even in the midst of the ‘distractions of the world,’ there is an undeniable, compelling Voice, quietly calling to you. ‘Come over here. You are getting off-track. Come this way. We are waiting for you to make the choice. Come this way.’

“While your time upon Earth is meant to be created by selections you make on your own, utilizing your freewill choice, angels are with you, beings of great light surround you. Sometimes, in the quiet, you can hear them, or feel them, knowing, sensing they are with you. They line the pathway, they sing your song, and you find sweet repose in their arms.

“I say these things to you, because, just as you began your journey upon the Earth, there comes a time when your journey is to end; and, at the end, you make the transition from Earth back to Heaven, from a place that can be challenging and heavy, to The Dimension of Perfection, where all is light, and you seem to float, unencumbered by the weight of a body of Earth.

“Many of you are walking around, right now, wandering here or there without purpose, or so you think. You do have a purpose. There is meaning to your life. Look at the signs all around you, and you will see; and once you see, you will begin to know which way to go, and you will become more, and more, efficient in reading the signs, which are meant to take you from one place to another. When you pay attention, and begin to realize, that your time upon Earth is meant for you to have an earthly experience to carry with you through eternity, you begin to consciously make choices which will be pleasing, and filled with light; memories of Earth, traveling with you, as you make your way through eternity! When you know this, your choices are different, because you recognize the eternal impact of every choice you make. Live each day as if you know, as if you feel, as if you sense the importance of every second, every minute, every hour! While you are upon Earth, you are constantly packing your bag for your final exit, as you move through every day. You cannot put clothes, or jewelry, or money in your bag. What you will be packing, for the exit, for the transition, for the passing, will be the things of eternal value: love, compassion, understanding; the remembrance of the scents, and the aroma of the flowers; the songs of the birds, and the flight of the butterfly. These things, that you draw into you, that send a chill up and down your body, these are the things you are packing to take Home, as a remembrance of your earthly journey!

“It seems, the teachings of the world have placed much importance on the human body, and the human experience, so much so that everything is done to curtail the transition, the passing, to hold you in place upon Earth, one, or two more years; yet, in reality, you are only postponing eternity, when you do this. Why not open your arms and embrace, not only your earthly experience, but also the exit point where you re-enter The Land of Light and Peace, where you return Home! If you will begin to alter how you see your earthly experience, knowing that it is transitory, and temporary, in nature, then you will see the transition in a different way, in a different light. There will be no dread, there will be celebration, instead! It will be as if you are walking from one park to another, looking both ways, before you cross the street, continuing on your journey.

“Pay attention to those walking around with you, or riding around with you, or sailing with you, because at some point of your earthly experience, you will step upon a vehicle of transportation. It might seem as if you are going onto a train, boarding a plane, or crossing over a gangplank onto a ship; but, as you do so, you will notice there are many people with you, all headed for the same destination: some looking at peace; some looking frantic, and fearful; some filled with chaos, and confusion. They are all going to the same destination; but, those who are at peace will be carrying a suitcase that appears to be very light. These are the individuals who have been packing them right, from the beginning. Their bags are filled with loving thoughts, and words, and deeds, to take Home, to remember Earth. They are not dragging baggage, filled with worthless clothing, jewels, and money. They are carrying wealth, eternal wealth, and they are taking it Home with them. Even as you board the vehicle, there are still people who look confused, and frustrated. They are not quite sure why they are there; but their names have been called, and they are on the list, for the passing.

“I speak to you today, in this way, because you can begin right now, packing your bag, setting aside those things that will weigh you down, gathering-up love, and kindness, and understanding, and forgiveness; all, as light as air; but all precious treasures, that you can bring Home! You do not have to check them anywhere. They are your earthly experience, abundance, the wealth of eternity. So, I encourage you to spend the rest of the time you have on this journey upon Earth, looking around, listening for the sounds, breathing deeply of the aromas, and the fragrances of Earth, because you will remember! The experience will remain with you; and while it is fleeting, your earthly experience is eternal, an eternal memory you will keep with you forever! Make it worthy of forever. Make it worthy... of... forever!"

Jesus Teaches On:
Recognizing The Voice, Brings Confidence In The Message

“I AM with you. I send My blessing before Me, and you feel grace, and without even seeing My face, you know Me. We speak, you listen, and in the listening, you are guided, and made whole. All are touched; but, few recognize the touch, few know the face; but for those who do, and believe, there comes a ‘robe of confidence,’ to wear, as you go through the day, knowing, you will be blessed, every step along The Way!

“When you recognize a voice, there is a feeling associated with the hearing of the voice, there is ‘a knowing,’ a recognition. It is a friend. It is a workmate. It is family. You hear the voice, and without seeing the face, you know the source. And it is the same, with your relationship with God. First, the relationship must be developed, encouraged, nurtured, and grown, before you can recognize The Whisper, The Touch of Grace, without even seeing The Face.

“I offer this as an example. Your telephone rings, and you answer. ‘Hello,’ you say, and a voice begins speaking. ‘Hurry. Go to the store. Buy what you need, and return home. There is a storm brewing.’ Click. The message is done. There was no name given. You do not recognize the tone, or the vibration of the voice. You do not understand the message. You do not know whether to go, or not. Hearing these words on the telephone has not brought you one bit of confidence. It has brought you chaos, and confusion. ‘Who was that? What did they mean?’

“This is what can happen, when you do not ‘know,’ the source, the voice, when you do not recognize the whisper. So, the first step in communication, and understanding: the signs; and the direction; and guidance, coming from God, is to build ‘a relationship with God, first;’ so that you recognize The Voice. It feels right, it settles within you with comfort, because you have spent hours, hearing, and listening to this Voice, this whisper. Therefore, when the call comes to rise-up, and go-out, you are eager, and confident in what you are doing. There is neither chaos, nor confusion. You have developed a relationship, and you are sure that the direction is coming from God!

“The lack of a relationship with God causes confusion when you attempt, or try to listen, for guidance, direction, or look for the signs. If you have not developed the relationship, there could be confusion. If the telephone call, used as an example, had come at a time when you recognized it was God speaking, you would rise-up, and go-out, gather provisions, and return to your home, shutter the windows, and close the door, preparing to ride-out the storm. However, if you do not know, or recognize the source of the guidance, you are reluctant to go- out; hesitant to follow the direction.

“I AM bringing this message so that you will spend time this week establishing a relationship on which you can count, for: guidance, and comfort, and wisdom, so that when you hear, you ‘know,’ from whence The Whisper doth come!

“Sometimes, the guidance will be to go forth; and, when you know it comes from God, do not hesitate, go forth. Sometimes, the guidance will be to stay where you are for now; and, when you know this guidance is coming from God, do not hesitate to stay where you are, and do so, with confidence.”

Jesus Teaches On:

Celebrate the Portal, the Doorway, Through Which You Pass

“I AM with you. Every time you open your heart, and welcome Me The Presence is strong! It is as if you can reach-out, and take My hand, and we can walk the Earth together, all day long. It is a miracle; yet, for those who believe: it is an everyday occurrence; it is life; it is experiencing Earth, “knowing, Heaven is with you!”

“Many of you hearing these words, or reading these words, are living in a place which is celebrating ‘a special day,’ today! This is the day on which ‘Mothers,’ motherhood, and the experience of that life on Earth as a mother is celebrated; it is called Mother’s Day!

“The very act of setting aside a day, for a specific purpose, in and of itself, exhibits, that this purpose is special, unique, and worthy of celebration! However, often on days set aside for celebration, there can be some resentment, often anger, and frustration, or tears, or sorrow. The reason for this is that most individuals carry around a measuring stick within their mind; and they use this measuring stick for many purposes, for many reasons. So, on Mother’s Day, there are many of you, who: are measuring the job your mother did; or you are measuring the sorrow you feel, since your mother departed; or you are measuring your feelings of abandonment, because your mothers were not there.

“There are many ‘feelings,’ latent energies within your being, which are stirred-up on a day such as today; and, ideally, they are all good and wonderful; but if they are not, no matter where your mother ranks on your ‘stick of measurement,’ there is one thing that you are to celebrate set all other things aside, and celebrate your earthly mother as the portal, the doorway, through which you gained entrance onto the Earth! If, for no other reason other than the crossing through this portal, this doorway, this is a day worthy of celebration! You knocked, the door was opened, and you were born of flesh and blood, to experience Earth!

“The blessing of this passage onto the Earth, presents a great opportunity, and a responsibility, to make Earth ‘better,’ for your presence, for your life, for your love, for your example, for the footprints you will leave, for those coming after you to follow.

“You knocked, and the door was opened, and you passed through your mother; and, this alone is significant! It does not matter: whether your mother is the most wonderful mother in the world; it does not matter whether your mother lacks the ability to love, the way you ‘want,’ to be loved; it does not matter whether your mother has returned Home to Heaven, or that she ran away to another city, or to a countryside. None of these things matter; so, throw away the measuring stick, and celebrate the truth! And the truth is that your earthly mother is the doorway, the portal, through which you passed to gain entrance onto the Earth! Therefore, let this day be a celebration of the doorway, the portal, the threshold, your mother!

“You are upon Earth, now! What will you do with this gift of life? Give your thanksgiving to God, for your eternal life; and pay respect to the doorway which granted you entrance onto the Earth!

“There is work to do. Be a shining example, for those who follow you. Leave your footprints upon the sands of time. Celebrate this day, celebrate life upon Earth, and be respectful of the doorway through which you passed!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Listen And You Will Know The Heart Of Another

“I AM with you! When you are open, and believe, you feel Me, you know Me, and there is no need for us to speak, our hearts speak, and we are One, in ‘knowing,’ the heart of each other!

“No words are required, or can convey as much: as reaching-out your hand to take another’s; as holding that hand, and feeling the warmth of the body; as feeling the pulse, the rhythm of the blood, moving through the veins of another. There is no need to speak, during such an exchange of touch. No word can adequately describe the feeling which floods your being when you look into the eyes of one you love, and know those eyes are loving you; words seem awkward, and clumsy, in this mystical, sacred exchange!

“Speaking, verbalizing your opinion, debating, taking part in conversations: these things are taught. The world encourages you to be good at conversation, to say what you mean, to take a stand, to let everyone know how you feel, and to be honest about it. These things are taught by the world; yet, they are vastly overrated. There is no lack of conversationalists, or debaters, or individuals willing to take the stage, and speak for hours on what ‘they think,’ is important. These things are highly overrated! The world has trained so many, so well, in this form of communication that, during the course of a conversation, rather than listening, each side, or each piece of the conversation, is ‘preparing what they are going to say next,’ to make sure they make their point, or set things straight.

“There used to be, ages ago, those who listened. Each village would have one or two people who were the listeners. The listeners are the holders of wisdom, the keepers of secrets, the forgivers of transgressions. They are the depository of the thoughts, and the feelings of each heart. It is important for you to understand this message, because not only will practicing ‘the art of listening,’ assist you, in your daily lives, it will be a cornerstone of peace, for all those around you!

“There is a price to pay to be a good listener, and this price you pay is setting aside your ego, and giving-up the opportunity to say what you believe is important! It requires determination, and intention, to ‘hold your tongue, and listen.’ When you begin to listen, and you have relieved yourself of any responsibility to respond verbally, you begin to walk a path with the speaker, you begin to know how they feel, you begin to understand why they are saying the things they are saying, because your full intention is to listen.

“The wise understand the importance of listening. They hold wisdom, because they listen. I mentioned that ages ago each village had, in their midst, individuals who would be the listeners for the tribe, or the clan, or the community. These sacred people, these holy people, were actually called The Holy Listener. In some simple form the listener was The Confessor, the one everyone in the tribe, or the clan, or the community, knew, and knew well. It was in a safe haven, a sanctuary, a sacred space where one could go, and speak, and let your words flow into

The Holy Listener. The Holy Listener did not give advice, nor try to make changes in your views, nor go-out, and speak about what you had revealed. The Holy Listener just listened!

“The following example has been observed by you, by those around you, by Me. Anyone who has walked upon the Earth has seen the following happen. Let us say, you enter a room, and walk-up to the circle of those gathered, and begin to take part in a conversation; only, this time, you have made it your intention to be ‘the listener.’ After an hour or so, the talk begins to slow, and the distractions move-in, and the assembled group begins to disperse. Let us say, for the ease of the story-telling, that your name is Joseph. As the group breaks-up, having said many things, with you in their midst as a listener, you hear these words, as they go their way. One says to another, ‘I think the only person who understood what I was saying was Joseph.’ You hear another say, ‘Joseph had a good grasp on what was being discussed.’ They are leaving the circle of conversation thinking you ‘wise;’ yet, you did not say a word. You listened, and gave them the opportunity to speak, when all others were stepping into the conversations, or interrupting mid-sentence. It is obvious; yet, it is the most extraordinary thing, which always happens, is that the one who has done the listening seems to be held in high esteem by the speakers. The one who has done the listening appears to be the one who is wise!

“If you have not witnessed this type of exchange, pay attention, because you will begin to notice it! Perhaps you have taken part in this circle of conversation. Perhaps you have even been the listener, from time to time. I can assure you, if you will put forth the effort, to set the things you wish to say aside, and put on the robe of The Holy Listener, you will begin to understand. You will see, and you will know, the heart of another. What will surprise you, is, after you have successfully accomplished your goal, and you have been able to take part in a conversation, as the listener, you will find that, what you had to say was not as important as what you now know, by listening!

“Listening is a cornerstone of peace! Once you are comfortable with listening, you begin to grow spiritually, and see yourself as more connected with those around you, because what others are saying to you is revealing their heart to you!

“So, listen! Listen with your heart, and you will then know the heart of another!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Live Your Life, Upon Earth, Remembering: Who You Are

“I AM with you! You sense My approach, know My coming, and realize My presence, for we are one. So many profess to understand The One; yet, so few are willing to communicate as one. I knock on the door, and those who remember The One, open the door, and smile.

“Today, you have opened the door. We touch. Our energy mingles, and we remember, together. I call on you today, to go back in time, so that you might recall, the gentle days, the quiet ways, the stillness of movement without sound; for, this is important for you to remember. The world around you is growing louder, and louder. The ways of the world seem to be becoming harsher, hard, difficult to bear; but I promise you this, if you will stay connected with The Dimension of Perfection, Heaven, with The Spirit of God that is with you, then all harshness around you will fall from you! It will not penetrate the peace of God, within you. This ‘knowing,’ is your shield, permitting you to walk into the world, to be ‘in the world, but not of the world.’ It gives you the ability to have an Earth experience; yet, remain connected to Home Base, The Place from which you came.

“Kindness, compassion, and understanding will assist you, in moving over the Earth; for, kindness, compassion, and understanding will deflect the spirits of meanness, and harshness. The love of God will go with you, and it will be as a shield against hatred, and anger; for this love is within you; and hatred and anger cannot, and will not, penetrate the love of God! Therefore, carry these gifts with you, remembering: who you are, and what you are to do. Negative energy is meant to distract you from your mission, to turn your head this way, and that way; so that you lose focus, and balance, and harmony slips from you.

“Refuse distraction! Sing along with the birds, and hum with The Wind, dance amongst the stars, follow the sun, and waltz in the arms of God! You cannot be distracted, when you are doing these things, these mystical, magical things!

“I call upon each of you who are interested in living this Way today, because there will soon come a time, when those seeking healing, when those seeking to be made whole, will know that their path must lead them to the quiet, gentle souls, who have refused to take part in the cacophony of anger, and hatred, and meannes. There will be a sign, an outward sign, unto all of the children of Earth; and the sign will be the outstretched hands, and the outstretched arms, welcoming all who will come into the love of God... flowing... from you! It will appear as miraculous; yet, it will be you, living your life upon Earth, remembering who you are!”

Jesus Teaches On:

The Forgiving Heart Beats For The Love Of God

“I AM with you! Come, rise-up; let us walk-out into the world, and see, and know, and be, as we are meant to be; because Earth did not start-out being the world, as you know it. The ‘things of the world,’ are created by man. Look beyond those things, and see the trees, created by God; see the rocks, and the flowers, created by God; see the things that flow from Mother Earth, as these are sacred, and precious! These, as each of you, are created by God; for God doth touch the heart, and the soul, and the spirit of Mother Earth; and, Mother Earth responds, giving all she can, letting Earth come alive with blossoms, and bits of sand, and tumbling waters, and it is grand to see that which she doth create, from the gift given, by the hand of God!

“When you see the beauty, and the connection, of Father God, and Mother Earth, you see perfection! You see Earth, responding with love, giving, and giving, and giving. No matter what is done, she still gives, from the rising of the sun, to the moon that doth come. This, My brothers, and sisters, is how it is meant to be, between you, each of you, all of us, and The Creator; for God is love!

“God loves you! God loves all of creation, watching it flower, and grow, and blossom. God loves these things; and, when you are acting, from the love of God, you are flowing in this eternal ring of creation, and it is beautiful to experience, and beautiful to see!

“I wish to speak to you today, about ‘practicing forgiveness,’ for, it is the ability, which will take you far, along The Way! The ability to forgive all things is an outward sign, of nobility! It is an outward sign that you know who you are, and what you are doing. God forgives all things; therefore, who would place themselves above God, and hold a grudge, or be unforgiving? If God forgives, then the children of God know how to forgive!

“When I speak of ‘forgiveness,’ I do not mean to say, ‘Oh, that is okay. I forgive you,’ and let it go. No! Forgiveness must be ‘complete.’ If you cannot forgive someone, for a trespass against you, then you need to go within, and find the reason you are holding this grudge. I promise you this, if you take the journey within, what you will find, at the end, is ego, and self-importance; and, if you are more concerned about your connection with God, then you are able to forgive, without retaining anger, or frustration, in any way. This, My brothers, and sisters, is so important; if there are things you have not been able to forgive, then practice, practice forgiving, and begin today, because... it will free you... in so many ways!

“The truth of the matter is, being a forgiving person is far more important to you, than you can conceive, at the present time. But, I ask you, what if it was possible for you to walk over the Earth, without a care, without a worry, loving God all day, smiling, happy, offering love to all who came your way? Would that not be a very nice experience? You can have that experience! In fact, you can live it, by practicing forgiveness. When you get right down to it, it is what God is asking of you, and that, in and of itself, should be enough to just do it!

“Forgiveness, it is a gift. It is a gift you give to God, showing that you know who you are, you realize you are a child of God, you realize, and know, your heritage, and you accept your responsibility; and the responsibility of the children of God is to live the forgiveness of God!

“The forgiving heart is happy! The forgiving heart is healthy! The forgiving heart is whole! The forgiving heart beats, for the love of God! The forgiving heart remembers, God! Let the forgiving heart be where you start, today!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Power of Positive Affirmations

“I AM with you! I see you! I ‘know,’ the radiance, that is you. The heart that you often hide from the world, I know. The piece of God that is at the core of your being is not hidden from My view. I see, and recognize, you, the real you, the authentic you, the eternal you; and, we embrace, and we are One!

“You are a powerful being; yet, the world is quick, and very successful, at deceiving you; the world is very successful in having you believe that you are less than, who, you really are; therefore, in this belief, your power is diminished; you do not feel it, and after a while, you no longer know it! Today, I remind you, you have the power to create your reality! In fact, even when you do not remember what you are doing, you are creating your reality.

“The power of your thoughts, and words, and deeds, is astonishing! With every affirmation you make, you are building what you are experiencing. If you are accustomed to using positive affirmations, you rise-up, and begin, acknowledging, ‘It is a new day! Look the sun is shining my way. Let me begin by pausing to pray, knowing, that the strength I obtain from this prayer, will be with me through this day!’ You go on, and on, and your day unfolds, filled with positive affirmations. It does not matter whether it is raining, the rain is blessed, or whether it is blustery, or stormy, the power of the Earth is blessed; it does not matter whether you encounter generous people, or stingy people, loving and kind people, or unpleasant and selfish people; through positive affirmation you change, and alter, the course, and continue to create a day that is outstanding, in every way; because, what you see, you bless, you bless the need, or bless the bounty! You see it, and know it; therefore, the light God shines upon you, and shows you The Way!

“All of Heaven sees this light. All angels sing, of this light, of positive affirmations; because, as one begins, they grow. What you see, and what you bless is that which you know!

“Today, is the time to assist those who are struggling with their affirmations, with those who do not realize that, that which is created in their thoughts, and magnified in their words, and deeds, is that which they are experiencing!

“It is possible to construct such a powerful dam, that it deflects the power of God flowing to you, and around you, and prevents you from feeling the love of God, because of the negative affirmations, which are created in your thoughts, and brought forth in your words. This is the trickery of the world in action. It is like telling a child that they are bad, or stupid, or ugly, or clumsy, so many times, that they believe it. They believe these negative affirmations; therefore, that is where they live. The only way to tear down the wall of negative affirmations is with positive affirmations! It does not matter whether it is the affirmation of another, or the affirmation which comes from within your being. Once it is affirmed, it is, it exists. It is time to tear down the dams that have been created by negative affirmations. The only way to do it, is stick by stick, and stone by stone.

“This type of work can sometimes feel as if you are doing it alone; and, it can also feel, as you begin to work, that nothing is happening. The ‘temptation,’ is to throw-up your hands, and proclaim, ‘This is my destiny.’ And that is not true. You just have to have faith to follow through, changing the affirmations, within your being, to positive affirmations; and to be willing to stay with it, until you have removed enough sticks, and removed enough stones, to make a difference in the wall. Even when there is a but a trickle of God’s light, making its way through, the difference is felt, deep within you!

“Sometimes the wall is so thick that the only affirmation one can make is, ‘I live.’ How do you say it? Say it as a positive affirmation. ‘I live!’ With every stick you remove, ‘I live!’ With every stone pulled from the wall, ‘I live!’ Soon the waters doth begin to flow. ‘I live, and I am no longer thirsty. I live, and feel the waters, flowing over me.’ Soon, the ‘I lives’ begin to change. ‘I see the light, and I feel the light. I see the day, and I feel the day. I hear the birds, and I hear their song.’ Every positive affirmation will lead you along, and you will soon find you are walking in the sun, or walking in the rain, singing a positive song once again. The confidence, the strength, and the courage will grow, and be great, because you will have demolished the wall of negativity. It will not matter whether the wall was constructed by you, or by others, as it will make no difference when the wall falls down; for you will feel The Presence of God, all around!

“It is important for you to know, that you are the creator of that which you grow, that which you do, that which you think, that which you say. So, let us, and let us begin today, making positive affirmations all that you say, all that you think. Push everything else away from you. It does not matter whether you are walking out in the countryside, or strolling in the sand at the beach, find the glory in each day you experience. Each minute, each hour, is yours to create. Tear down the dams, and live fully today. Let this be the day, you decide positive affirmations are what will reside... in your thoughts... in your words... and in your deeds!

“Be at peace this day, and go into action. If your doors are open wide, and you feel the love, and the light of God, celebrate! Be a positive affirmation to everyone you meet. Be willing to sing the song of celebration, all day long! If you are just beginning to understand the power of what you are thinking, saying, and doing, then, do not shirk your responsibility to break-down the wall of negativity, and embrace the opportunity you have been given! Let this day be a day of positive affirmation in every way! And let it begin with the pronouncement, ‘I live!’”

Jesus Teaches On:

Awaken, Rise-up, And See Heaven Is With You

“I AM with you! Do not let doubt rob you of this comfort, this knowing, that I AM truly with you, a whisper away, a veil away; yet, there will come a day, when The Wind doth blow, and truth rides upon it, and the veils rise-up, and fly within The Wind, and Earth and Heaven are One, again, no veil, no dimension, just the realization of The Perfect Dimension, Heaven!

“Heaven is near to you today, right now! It is nearer to you than the countries on the other side of the world. It is next to you. It is with you, and within you. Believe this, for if you have the faith to believe this, your present piece of eternity is altered, your perspective is changed, your eyes flash, wide open, and all things are different, because the scales have been removed from your eyes, and you see reflections of Heaven all around you, just as walking through a hall of mirrors, magnifying, creating more than the original, bringing to you the truth. Seeing through The Veil is possible to do; but you must awaken, and then do more! You must awaken, and then rise-up, for those who have risen, “know,” and see, far more than those who have awakened, and refused to move, content in knowing; yet, refusing the growing, of living The Word!

“When you are silent, and quiet, and walk into the forest, or the meadow, it feels as if you are breathing the air of Heaven. You are alone; yet you feel the blessings, and grace, of angelic beings with you!

“Today, rise-up, all of you, who are awakened! Do not be content in the state of waking, without doing, without being in motion, interacting with creation all around you. Move into the world. Listen to the symphony of Earth. Watch the production play-out before you. Walk onto the stage, and assume the role you are meant to play, for a brief time, and breathe deeply of the air, the aroma, the fragrance of Earth.

“Take this day to feel your presence, living, within the creation of God! Look, and see the reflections of Heaven all around you! Look into the stream, or the river, or the waters, the seas or the oceans. What do you see? Look beyond the obvious, and reach-out to embrace the sublime; you will find it in: every dewdrop, every raindrop, every ray of sun, every smiling face, laughing eyes, and loving heart you encounter.

“Heaven is with you! Embrace it, and live it! Rise-up, and follow Me into this new day, and let us see, what we shall see; for it is all, for the glory, of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:

I Have Risen, And You Shall Live, Forever

“I AM with you! The new day comes, it rests before you. It will begin for you, as you awaken, and move into it, and through it; and, as you do this, I AM with you. I awaken with you, and I move into this day, with you. As you have risen-up, I have risen-up. Come.

“There is a sense of confidence, courage, and strength in knowing, who you are, and in accepting your mission and what you are to do; yet, this sense of confidence, courage, and strength can fade when your focus shifts to the distractions, all around you. One of the easiest ways to be distracted from your mission is to establish a personal agenda by setting goals, based on where you think you should be, and what you think you should be doing. I understand this, as I walked upon the Earth, just as you are now. It might give you a sense of accomplishment to make plans, and list your progress, and achievements; however, it is easy to let your personal agenda disrupt your spiritual growth. It is easy to allow your head to be turned by praise, and accolades, by promotions, and increases in salary, by moving from a small house to a large house, by acquiring two, or three, or four vehicles; but, this type of pursuit can often lead you off-course, and pretty soon, you turn around, and find you have lost your way. You no longer feel the presence of God, as you begin the day. You grow tired, and weary, and the praise and accolades, so comforting before, begin to fade, no longer fulfilling, nor rewarding.

“I say these things to you today, because every person who is walking upon the Earth has a mission; but almost every person walking upon the Earth has been distracted from their mission; the ways of the world have led them astray, they have lost their way. So, I encourage you to make it a practice to begin every single day in a period of prayer, connecting with God, so you know God is there with you, feeling the presence of God. I can assure you, no matter what your mission might be, or how your mission might look to you, it will be easier to accomplish, when you begin your day in prayer, by calling Home. As you walk through the day, you will feel the power that began to flow gently, yet strongly, from your Creator into, and through you, in morning prayer, and it will carry you through the day. As the day comes, the day ends, pause once again, stop to pray; but, this time, let your prayer be a prayer of thanksgiving, for all that came your way throughout the day.

“It is easy to be distracted from your mission while you are upon the Earth; but beginning and ending your day in prayer will assure that you touch base with Home, and that you feel the presence of God with you! The connection you establish will stay with you through-out the day, and the presence of God will be with you, in every way: guiding you, leading you, teaching you, reminding you of who you are, and what it is you are to do to complete your mission, and return Home.

“It is time to wake-up, and to understand why you are upon the Earth. It is time to rise-up, and accept the mission, and at the same time, accept: the help, the guidance, and the love from our heavenly Parent, from God. Wake-up, rise-up, and walk into this day, knowing I have risen, and you will live forever. It is truth. It is the promise. It is life, eternal life!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Seek First The Kingdom Of God

“I AM with you! While it seems, many times, that I AM reaching-out to you from another place, that seems dreamlike, and so perfect, that you cannot imagine it, I AM near to you, and with you, and can assure you, that where you are now, in the third dimension, upon the Earth, is... in reality... what is dreamlike! But soon, Earth and Heaven will come together, and the veil will become thinner, and thinner, and we will move back and forth, seeing The Garden, for what it truly is, an inspiration of The Creator, to be known, and enjoyed, by all, free of worry, and concern, a heavenly place... Earth!

“Do not become enslaved to the ways of the world; for the ways of the world: can be tempting; can distract you from the ways of God, from your spiritual life; and, soon, you find, within this distraction, that your goals, those things you set to accomplish while you are upon the Earth, become more fixed upon material things, it become more important to amass material wealth, than spiritual wealth.

“Today, I encourage you to be still, to be quiet within, to return Home, for a while, to sit with your heavenly Parent, and review the guidance, which will be so important to the rest of your life upon Earth; for, as you sit in silence, turned from the world, for a while, you will hear clearly the whisper of God! God will remind you who you are, and God will speak to you of the goals you have set to accomplish your mission; and, in this sacred, sweet place, with God, you will remember, and recall, who you are, and what you are to do! Held within the sacred energy of this inspiration, all cares and worries will flow from you, because you come to know, and comprehend, that as God speaks to you, and asks you to do something, uniquely designed for you, it has to be possible; because God would not ask you to do something, that could not be done, by you!

“As you rise-up, to walk back into the world, you find you are renewed, and rejuvenated, you have strength, and courage! In fact, there is excitement! In this meeting, with your Creator... you have found your eternal purpose, at this time, in this place... Earth! As you walk back into the world, you also comprehend that, as you ‘seek first The Kingdom of God,’ The Kingdom of God will lead you, and provide that which you need to accomplish your goal; and, you will do so with confidence, boldly going where you would not go before, being fulfilled in the light of God! This, My brothers and sisters, is the piece of glory you are to taste; for, most of the time, the world teaches you in a way that is backward. ‘Seek first The Kingdom of God,’ and then you will be filled with wisdom; and, knowing what it is you are to do, you will step-out into the world, filled with delight, carrying the power of God, with you; and that which you are meant to do, shall be fulfilled, through you, by the power of God, within you!

“Those who know who they are, and what they are to do, know freedom! You are meant to be free! You are a child of God! Eternity is waiting to see, what you will do with the glory of God, flowing through you Seek first The Kingdom of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:

The Time Has Come When All Shall Be Taught By God

“I AM with you! When you are awake, you celebrate, knowing that I AM with you! It is a miracle, that you can hear Me. And this miracle was set in place, so that you would never be alone, as you journey upon Earth; for no matter how far you travel from Home, you can: hear the whisper, know the direction, and be confident, and comforted, by the hand of God, your Eternal Parent; for, as a good parent teaches their child, our Eternal Parent teaches each child, individually, according to their gifts, and abilities to hear, and know The Way.

“When you find you are in need of a surgeon, you do not go to the School of Surgery and ask a student to perform the procedure for you. You ask, you seek, you look, hoping to find the surgeon who is the most accomplished in this field, who has perfected the art, and is well known for all they have been able to accomplish; and, once you have made this contact, you feel assured that you are in good hands. You do not seek-out a teacher who is still a student: learning, stumbling, passing, failing. No, when you seek a teacher, you seek the one who has perfected that which they are teaching, one who has mastered that which they are teaching.

“And it was the same when the original creation plan was set in place, it was determined that the perfect way to teach God’s children of Earth, would be, for them to be taught by God, their Eternal Parent; and, in this Way, they would be taught by The One, Who was perfect, Who had created, Who had brought all things into being! In the world today, this fact, is often overlooked; as the children of God are encouraged, and prompted to read book-upon-book-upon-book, studying what other human beings have written down and, you do find knowledge, as it was dispensed to another; but, to be guided perfectly, by the hand of The One, Who created you, you must be still, and quiet; for, God will speak in a whisper, to show you The Way, to give you the tools, to hand you the keys.

“God teaches each child what they are to know, where they are to go, how they are to speak. This assures that all things will flow within the Divine Plan. Do not mistake that what God speaks to you is what you are to teach, or enforce, or insist others learn; for, God has created a plan wherein each child, woman, and man, will know what they are to do; and, when each one picks-up their role, and completes it, as guided, the result is the perfection of God, because the teaching did spring forth from the perfection of God.

“Do not be dismayed that the teaching you receive is not embraced willingly, and eagerly, by those around you; because, you are being prepared for something uniquely your own, your inimitable mission. Do not be disheartened when others receive messages which do not seem right to you, because they are being asked to do something that might not be suitable for you, as it is uniquely their own, their inimitable mission.

“A village filled with none but carpenters, soon lacks for food, and a village filled with cooks, soon lacks for houses; and, you can carry this on, and on, and on; but a well-balanced community, with each individual, performing the task that they are specifically guided and talented to do, is beautiful to see; everything is available in just the right proportion, and all things work in harmony.

“The lesson today is for each of you to be willing to be taught by The Perfect Teacher, The One Who knows your heart, and your soul, and your spirit, The One Who created you, The One Who loves you. Today, seek to be still, and quiet. Ask, and you will know, and begin to take the steps. Your dance might be different, the rhythm might be different, the words you sing might be different; but your dance, your rhythm, and your song will be perfect, just as you are meant to be. ‘Be ye perfect,’ as your Creator in Heaven is perfect. You attain perfection, by taking the hand of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Use God's Gift of Freewill To Create Love, And Light, And Peace

“I AM with you! I reach-out to you, from the peace of Heaven. It is an amazing thing, this peace of Heaven, it moves into you, and you are filled with love! It moves into you in such a way, that you have confidence, and strength, and courage, to such a measure, that you are ever willing to permit others to experience the way in which they are guided, to experience life, as they are meant to experience life, to live without correction, or restriction, or confinement from you. This is the lesson, shown to us, by our Eternal Parent, our Creator, God. The Power of God is undeniable, the Light of God is undeniable; yet, within all of this power, and all of this light, there is the Peace of God that holds contentment, comfort, and confidence, which allows ‘freewill,’ amongst all creation! You do not know the full purpose, and extent, of freewill, at this time; but, when you return Home, you will understand, you will see, and you will know.

“My brothers and sisters, while it is true, you cannot know the full extent of ‘God’s Gift of Freewill,’ while you are living upon Earth, you can experience a small piece of it, by living in the peace of the love, and the light, of God. And here is how you will experience freewill, and what it can do while you are upon the Earth, for it is actually intended that this gift of freewill will be the guiding power which leads to years, and years of peace upon Earth. It is a key to The Way. It will take great practice, and you might be surprised at the restraint it will require, sometimes feeling as if you literally have to hold your tongue, to keep it from wagging; but, once you initiate, the intention to spend a day listening without judgment, hearing with understanding, compassion will rise within you, and you will begin to see, as God sees!

“At the present time, the norm upon the Earth, is to separate yourselves into categories, into clubs, into parties, into groups, and countries, and nations, sometimes into neighborhoods, families, and associates. Wherever you can find those who think as you think, speak as you speak, and live as you live, there is the temptation to join them, and either ridicule, mock, or complain about the others. Sometimes the difference created within these associations is great enough to cause dissention, and sometimes war. The heated debates never resolve anything, if you have lived long enough, you know this. War never really resolves the issue; it is still in there, possibly hidden; but it is not resolved by war; and, if you have lived long enough, you see this, you know this. There can be uneasy peace, a peace wherein one feels as if someone steps out of line, the war begins again, the family feud begins again, the hands, which once reached across the table in accord, are now fists raised in discord.

“To practice, within yourself, exercising the gift of freewill will take concentration; but it is well worth the effort. Do not argue, even in your thoughts. Raise your thoughts to the place of connection with our Father, our Eternal Parent. Hold that connection, that friendship, that relationship above all things, and in doing so you will find that: God is really not willing to fight with the other neighborhood; God is really not willing to wage war with the other country; God is really not willing to take your side in an argument with someone you once considered a friend.

“Be guided by the will of God, and the will of God is that all of the children upon Earth have freewill! They can decide what they want to do, what they want to say, and how they want to think.

“Now, while this might appear as if this would cause everyone to be in isolation, each from the other, it is, in reality, the exact opposite. If you can hold your thoughts with God, that is what you are giving birth to, you are creating, with every thought! And where do these creations go? Do you think they remain in your head? They are powerful energy! They are powerful energy which comes from Heaven to you, and through you, they are magnified! These thoughts are magnified, and thoughts go-out from you. You can feel when someone is thinking they do not like you; but, you can also feel when someone is thinking ‘of love.’ And this is what God is going to be doing, and how God will bless the Earth, and all of the inhabitants of the Earth. So, we must find those willing to set their self, the ‘s-e-l-f’ aside, and concentrate on God, and the will of God; and, the will of God is not to argue, or fight, or wage war.

“I can assure you, in fact, verily, I do promise you, if you can create within your thoughts, thoughts of love, and light, and peace, these thoughts you send forth from you, like birthing a child, and watching it grow, will go-out into the world, and find other thoughts of a similar nature, and these thoughts will come together, and they will rise-up, and they will be the light, which will illuminate shadow and darkness!

“You will not convince someone that you are right, and they are wrong, as you argue, and fight; but, if you send these noble thoughts of love, and light, out, into the world, then they exist. You cannot knock them down. You cannot blow them up. They are there. And, the more you think it, and the more you create, the more that is there.

“This is your exercise for the coming week. How much peace can you deliver through your thought, through your connection with God? The will of God is love, and light, and peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Ignite The Flame, Of Noble Thoughts, Words, And Deeds

“I AM with you! I AM with you, and you believe it! You believe it; because, within you, you have the wisdom to know it is so. For those of you who believe that I can reach-out, and touch you, speak to you, and you will hear Me, and speak to Me, and I will hear thee, you are communicating between dimensions, understanding, at the core of your being, that this is possible, for you would not do it in vain, you ‘know,’ it is possible. You are a willing participant in trans-dimensional communication. You speak, I hear you. I speak, you hear Me. It is a miracle, set in place before anyone can even recall the time. It is ‘perfection, in communication.’

“You are well into a new year. It is a year of change, of completion, of finishing one project, and preparing to move into another. It is a year when communication is important; and the type of communication is important.

“Now, you can choose to raise your voice, and be loud, insisting that you be heard over the crowd; but, this is not communication. This is domination. This is force. Making people hear what ‘you think,’ is important, does not ensure that they will embrace, or listen, to what you think is important. I am about to tell you how you can ensure this will be a most glorious year, by communicating with God, first, before all other things!

“Set-aside the teachings of the world, just for one minute, and envision this. See yourself, sitting quietly: in a meadow; or by a brook; in your favorite room. Wherever you find peace, balance, and harmony, see yourself there. Now, see a light, coming into you, and flowing from you, and see yourself appear to be talking, taking part in a conversation which prompts a smile to appear upon your face, drawing closer, you will see tears, rolling down your face. These are not tears of sadness, as you can see, clearly, there is joy upon your face. You are talking to God!

“And, after you have communicated with God, and God has communicated with you, you rise-up, and walk into the world, where you are surrounded by people. It is possible, in this vision, to see your thoughts, as they are forming within your brain. Look at them. They are beautiful thoughts, thoughts of helping others. Look at your thoughts, your noble thoughts, free of judgment, ready to serve others.

“Look at the vision, do not lose it, keep going. As you are walking in the crowd, what do you see? Your light has not diminished, by being in this sea, of humanity. It is reaching-out, leaving sparkles, and sparks, on each one you pass! And, when given the chance at last, you stop, and put your hand on the shoulder of an elderly man, and speak to this man. And once you move on, he too wears the light, and the smile, and the tear of joy!

“This is not a vision of something that is impossible. This is a vision of something each of you can do. The only thing that keeps individuals from acting in this Way, is their desire: to do what they want to do; to have what they want to have; to say what they want to say. It is ego, it is separation, and isolation from everyone else. It is thinking you are better; or perhaps, even thinking you are worse. Isolation smothers. It keeps you, from others.

“As you finish the rest of this year, let it be your goal, to communicate with God, first! Ask for help, and guidance, so that your thoughts will be noble, and your words will bring to life this nobility created within you, and your deeds will announce to the world, this is how you think, therefore, this is what you do; for, as surely as the sun rises, and sets, anyone around you can tell exactly what you are thinking, because it is shown in the words you speak, and the things you do.

“This is a year, upon Earth, that will bring great change, completing one cycle, and starting another. It will be easy to be distracted, and caught-up in frustration, and anger; but, there will be some, amongst you, who will sit with God, receive the wisdom, and fan the flames of noble thoughts, and words, and deeds, until they are afire, with noble desire! You will see them walking down the street, driving past you in a car, sitting quietly on a park bench. You will know them, because they are ‘glowing,’ because they are smiling, with a little tear, showing complete joy, and contentment!

“It is time to deliver that which you seek. If you seek peace, deliver peace. If you seek love, deliver love. If you seek tranquility, deliver tranquility. If you seek wisdom, be the voice of wisdom. If you seek compassion, be the touch, and the hand, of compassion. If you seek understanding, listen, and be the ears of understanding.

“This morning, the hand of God hath touched the flame, igniting, within you, the desire to do the same, to rise-up, and walk-out into the world in the name, of God. Noble thoughts, noble words, noble deeds, these things you are to deliver to the world, to those in need!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Remember Who You Are, And Say It, "Hello, I Am From Heaven"

"I AM with you! I speak your name, or I move the air about you, and you feel My presence. I come to you, and wish to speak with you, so that I might encourage you to complete your mission, and come Home!

"There is something that would serve each of you well, while you are on your mission upon Earth; and that is to 'Remember, and know, who you are, as surely as you know your own name!'

"Most of you can bring yourself to say it; but few of you can bring yourselves to believe it, in full! Make this statement, right now, say it aloud, 'I am from Heaven.' Repeat it once again, 'I am from Heaven.' When you say it, you feel a vibration within you, a stirring within you. It is different from saying that you are from New York, or Los Angeles, or Des Moines. 'I am from Heaven.' Say it again. Doesn't that feel good? It is Truth, moving throughout your body, and actually, moving from your body, as you say the words, out, into the world, into the things of Earth. Every time you say it, it moves more solidly into the things around you, and your presence changes, because you are putting on the robes of Home.

"I know the world of man would change, if each time you greeted each other, instead of saying, 'Hello, I am Joan, from Maryland,' you would say, 'Hello, I am John, from Heaven, a fellow traveler upon this Earth!' Greeting each other in such a way would establish purpose, and recognition of your birth, and your mission; but, no one greets each other that way. You tend to greet each other with your birth name, sometimes your occupation, sometimes, if your family is prominent, and well-known, you announce who is your uncle, aunt, or father. You say all manner of things, but no one ever says, 'I am from Heaven, a fellow traveler, upon the Earth,' because, if you did this, you would have to acknowledge that you are on a mission; and then, once you acknowledge that you are on a mission, you would have to take stock, take inventory, look at what you are doing. Are you even attending to your mission, or has it fallen by the wayside? One thing leads to another, accepting who you are is embracing what you are to do before you come Home.

"This is powerful information, and yet, while what you are to do is important, you are not left to do it alone. There has been set in place a method of communication that is without fail. The methods of communication, you have upon Earth, between individuals, or parties, or companies can fail. Lines can go down. Computers can go off-line. Language barriers can prohibit complete understanding of what the other is saying. Storms, and fires, and floods can interfere with communication. But, there is no failure in the communication system between those in Heaven, and those upon Earth. It is a whisper away! It is always with you! It is miraculous, that you can stop what you are doing, contact The Creator of All Things, and ask for guidance; and, once received, continue on your Way! This is amazing, and wonderful! It is perfect; and, it was put in place so that you would not be alone in your mission!

“Spend some time today, saying aloud, ‘I am from Heaven,’ and you will begin to feel a tingle, moving up and down your body, because you are announcing it, and you are accepting it, and as you accept it, you begin to embrace it, and when you embrace it, you pick-up the mission that was dropped days, or years ago, and begin to understand your purpose, better, because there is purpose in all life!

“Hello, I AM Jesus. I AM from Heaven. I AM a fellow traveler upon the Earth, and I AM with you.”

Jesus Teaches On:
Love Is The Gift, Which Will Never End

“I AM with you! I AM with you, especially today, with love, for God creates all things with love, and that love pours forth, from The Creator, to all who will embrace, and know, the love of God; for there is no measure to God’s love, it just flows, with intention and purpose, to all who will drink from the cup of God’s love! So, on this day, I pronounce, and announce, that God’s love is for all! Come, and taste of it, come and drink of it, and let it flow into, and through, you, continuing on its way into every piece, and fiber, of creation, magnified, as it passes through you, and your heart; God’s creation, magnified by the children; present, always!

“It is appropriate today to speak ‘of love,’ in a very simple way. You feel the energy of love, even when it exists in a form that you cannot see. You cannot pick-up love, and put it on a table. You cannot hang it in a closet. You cannot wear it, or drive it, or eat it. It is an invisible, an unseen, ‘power,’ that is present. And, often times, that powerful gift of love, coming from God, is magnified by the children of God, letting it flow, and passing it on, in such a way, that they, too, are giving the gift of love, every single day!

“You can hear love. You can hear the intention, and the purpose of love, through the words, another says to you, or in the words you say to another. ‘I love you!’ Three simple words, forming a very powerful statement, a commitment, a gift! And love is spoken in other ways as well, or shown, or exhibited in many ways; for you give the gift of love, more than one hundred times a day: a touch, a whisper, a look. Every time you pass this gift to another, you are magnifying the greatest gift of all, because within the energy of love, it is possible for the human being to rise-up, and do the most noble deeds, because of this energy, love!

“Every day a man and/or a woman might rise-up, and go-out into the world to work, so that their family can be fed, and clothed, and have a place to live. Look at this as the gift of love it is; it is an unselfish act performed by one, for others. Look at those who go to places of work where they are intent on saving others, those professions which require you to run-in and save those who are struggling to get out, no matter whether it is from fire, or drowning waters, or perilous storms, or times of war, there are those who have said, ‘I will do this,’ and they put their lives on the line to save others. With intention, and purpose, this gift of love is given, and you see the noble acts of courage, and bravery, and the power of love, flowing from God, continues, magnified in the hearts of these people!

“You see the gift of love in so many ways, performed so many nights, so many days; countless acts of love, displayed. It is easy to let these gifts slip into what is considered a normal day’s routine; yet, they are anything but routine. I would suggest to you today, to see the gifts of love, on parade. Every time someone looks at you with love, or touches you with love, or takes your hand, or gives you a kiss, or does something for you to make it easier for you to exist in the world, see it as the gift it is. Do not become jaded. Do not turn your head, without noticing. See the power of the gift of love in action, every single day, in even the smallest way, someone:

holding a door open for you; bending down to pick-up something you have dropped; sending you a card; or, picking-up the phone to call you. Every time you give, or receive, some small gift of love, see a Valentine heart, floating in the air; every time see it there; and, by the end of the day, you will be surprised that you are walking in a sea of hearts: some, you have given; some, you have received; some you see, floating from others you do not even know, but the gift they desired to give goes on and on, riding the energy, the vibration, moving with The Wind; Love is the gift, that will never end!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Way, To Walk With God, And Know True Peace

“I AM with you! When you believe, and feel My presence, recognize My vibration, and know the energy I carry, you wait for the message, knowing, it will lead you to the light, and direct you along The Way; for, when you walk along The Way, ‘peace,’ is your reward.

“I will come quickly to the point... there is one amongst you hearing these words... who set the example for the day, by rising-up, recognizing, immediately, the temptations creeping-in, from the shadows, and cast them from him, going directly to God, seeking guidance, from God, being taught, personally, by God; and, God responded; for God is ever present; and the temptations were cast away, falling back into the shadows, no longer threatening the day; and the light was present, and it was good. This, My brothers and sisters, is how every day should begin, for it holds the promise of a good day.

“As you awaken, before your day begins, you can be sure that temptations will try to slip-in, and distract you from where you intend to go. You will fall, within their midst; and they will carry you aside, unless you open your heart, push-away your pride, and call upon God, your heavenly Parent, quickly, and fervently, ‘God, I know you are with Me. Let me feel your presence. I connect to You. My decision is to walk with You this day.’ And once this is said, you are on your way to a bright and happy day!

“There is something miraculous about knowing, fully, that you are connected with God, and accepting and embracing the presence of God with you, as you walk into the day! It brings you a sense of peace, and no matter what others say, or do, it does not distract you, from the presence of God.

“Use this example today. When you are, walking, or sitting, or driving-around, or just playing, with a very dear friend, or family member, one whom you love, and trust, and admire, you do not stop speaking with them, or touching them, or being with them, because of all of the distractions going on around you. There can be noises in the street, there can be conversations between people walking by, there can be changes in the day, from cloudy, to bright, or rainy. All manner of distractions can occur; but, when you are with this one you love, and admire, and respect, your focus is with them, and your conversation, and your love, and your touch are all with them; and, all things happening, in the world around you, pale in comparison to the connection you feel, with that one you love, and are with. Use this example to hold your connection with God this day! Do not be distracted, and in this sweet communion, in this sacred union, you will walk, and God will show you The Way, and the day will be filled with peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Changing A Dysfunctional Relationship To A Functional Relationship

“I AM with you! I seek to speak with you, so that you might know The Way, and in speaking with you, hopefully, provide the encouragement and support necessary, for you to set all things aside, but your connection with God, so that you are willing to walk The Way!

“Today, it is important that we speak about relationships. And I will do so concisely, and precisely. In order to change a dysfunctional relationship, into a functional relationship, you must be willing to change! No board meeting, no rule, or no giant objective written upon a board, so all can see, will guarantee positive change. The only way positive change is brought about, is from within yourself.

“There are very few willing to stand-up, and live the change, that flows from their lips, embodied within words strung together so beautifully that it seems to encourage others to want to sing the same song; however, once the singing is done, and the song is complete, what is left is to live the song, live the change!

“There are many relationships, and these relationships often carry issues, and baggage, history; but, what we are going to address, very simply, today, is what is termed ‘a dysfunctional relationship.’ I AM not going to give you the clues, or the keys, on how to make this a glorious, wonderful, loving relationship. I AM going to tell you how you can make the change to alter a dysfunctional relationship, creating a functioning relationship.

“The first thing you must do, if this appeals to you, is to set all baggage, all history, pride, ego, and a desire to be right, aside. You will not make a dysfunctional relationship functional, by walking through the meadows and pastures of the past. The only way to make it functional is to acknowledge the relationship at the present time, and then, set your course to be functioning in the positive, in that relationship.

“No matter what is said to you, or done to you, you can always respond, ‘Okay.’ There are many such neutral responses to something that is said, or done to you, which seems, or feels, inappropriate. Practice, and learn how to use neutral responses, rather than to react to the negative energy; for, if you react to it, you are hooked into it, and you magnify it, by ‘re-acting,’ to it. The only way to move into a functioning relationship is to acknowledge what was said; when you did not say it, it did not come from you, and the only way you can make it yours is to accept it by ‘re-acting,’ to it. Therefore, listen to what is said, and say, ‘Okay, I hear you,’ and stop it there! You are the piece of the puzzle, the key, that will change the dysfunctional relationship to a functioning relationship, by mastering your actions.

“Always let your words be positive, no matter is said to you! Always let your thoughts be positive, no matter is what is said, or done, to you! Now, this is not what the world teaches you to do; in fact, the world would hope that you would prepare yourself for a confrontation, or an argument, wherein you would come-out the winner, with all of your points made. But, I ask you this, what good is that? When you find yourself in the darkest pits, in the midst of despair, and you call-out for help, and you see, or feel, your angel there, what does your angel do, or say? What does your guardian angel say to you, at that time? Your guardian angel never reminds you of all you did wrong. Your guardian angel reaches-out to you, and says, 'Come, I will show you The Way. Walk in it.' And this is precisely how you change a dysfunctional relationship into a functional relationship. You need to be functioning in balance, and in light!

"If another person is out of sorts, 'Okay.' If you offer assistance, and another person seems surly, or unwilling to cooperate, 'Okay.' Do what you think you need to do anyway! Sweep the floor, wash the dishes, drive the car, mow the grass, whatever you are guided to do, do it; but, there is one caveat very important to performing these things, do them 'for the glory of God!' Do not do them for someone else to tell you how grateful, or thankful, they are; always maintain your connection with God, and do everything you do, for the glory of God!

"Very few of you will be willing to step-up to the plate, accept the relationship, and the responsibility to 'be the change,' you are desiring. I can assure you, it will change; but, the change needs to come from within you. All you need to do, to prove this point, this statement, is to make an exercise, a practice of it. Most of you, hearing these words, or reading these words, will encounter, if you have not already done so, a relationship that is just not functioning as it should. Make sure you are the functioning piece, and then I promise you, when you are gentle, kind, compassionate, and understanding, setting all ego, and self-righteous feelings aside, the dysfunctional relationship will change, because you are living the change you wish it to be! It is that simple.

"It is time to recognize the power, that is yours! You can change all things; but, the change must come from within you! Do not try to teach another how to function. Let it be your desire to live, think, speak, and act, in such a way, that any around you stand-up, and say, 'That is The Way, I will live today!'"

Jesus Teaches On:

The Way, Acceptance And Dedication For The Glory Of God

“I AM with you! I bring you words of encouragement, and support, today. I reach-out to you. I draw nearer to you, moving down the corridors of time, listening to the echoes of all that has been, is, and will be, for we find ourselves, you and Me, standing in the present piece of eternity, and it is a wonderful place to be. When you reach-out your hand to follow Me, one of the things you learn, one of the things you see, are the blessings that surround you: abundant, rich, and full; but, the most vibrant blessing of all is, that you are; and if you are, you will always be; for if you are, you are eternally alive, living, in the present piece, of eternity!

“Today I wish to bring you some information which will guide you into how to live your life on a day-to-day basis, some practical information. Most of you realize that it is rather easy to be at peace, when you are in prayer, when you take an hour, or a day, or a week, to draw nearer to God, to feel the presence of God, to live in the light of God. It feels wonderful, and in those times, you feel like you are a child of God, living upon Earth; but knowing, it is just a visit. So, you are living on Earth now, and although you practice staying connected with God, sometimes daily events can distract you. I wish to help you today, to find a way, to move through your day in peace, and stay connected with God!

“There will come to each of you, probably often during your lifetime, the necessity of performing tedious tasks. They show-up here and there, for some of you, they might be constant, daily, weekly, monthly; but, each of you has your own tedious tasks, with which to deal, to handle, to complete. They might be mental, or physical, but it makes no difference, they are usually something you would rather not do. You would rather put them aside, and wait until later; but, eventually, later is the present minute, and you must address whatever tedious task is yours to perform. So, let us get about ‘knowing how to do this, at a spiritual level,’ because it will take practice, before it becomes part of your daily exercise; but once you have mastered this, your days will be more pleasant, because even the most tedious of tasks will be handled, and done, completed, for the glory of God!

“When your intention is to do something for the glory of God, that changes the perspective, you look at it differently. In a very large way, it is similar to something as small as what you are preparing for a meal on Wednesday, compared to what you would prepare for a banquet, or feast of great celebration. You go about them in different ways. The daily meal might be put together rather quickly, with very little thought, the other is done with intention, and purpose, and care, so that all is right, and there is a feeling of celebration in the air, when it is complete. You feel different when it is complete. It is an accomplishment, not just one more task done, and behind you. So, I encourage you to look at every tedious task as your opportunity to prepare the great feast, the great banquet, a celebration.

“The first thing you must do, to approach your task in this manner, is to accept it, and be content with it. As you rise-up today, does it fall to you to plow ten or twenty acres, preparing a garden?

Accept it. It is yours. Acceptance is first, and then, look at it differently. How are you going to go about this task? Why not try, going about the task, with the intention of doing it for the glory of God? Changes the whole perspective, does it not? So, you have accepted your task, and your intention is to do it for the glory of God, and you begin. Using plowing the fields, as an example, you plow your rows straighter, or curve them artfully, you do it with care, and by the end of the day, it is done; but, you have 'a sense of accomplishment,' that is higher, than if you had done it, to get it behind you, and cross it off your list. Now, it is something to look upon, as the plowing of the fields dedicated for the glory of God. It is true, the ten or twenty acres plowed is an example; but you can do this with everything which comes to you, no matter how tedious the task might be. It does not matter if the task is mental, or physical, it is changing your perspective, and this is done so quickly, when you accept it, and dedicate it to the glory of God.

"I know this sounds simple; but, I can assure you, if you take-up your task today, or tomorrow, or the day after tomorrow, by accepting it, and looking at it as an opportunity to prepare the grand feast, or banquet; and then, take the next step of dedicating what you are doing for the glory of God, you will go about it in a different manner. In fact, half-way through, or maybe even sooner, you will realize that everything you are doing has become a prayer, a communication with God. You will find that you are speaking with God, as you work, and this is an added blessing. And this is how your days will go, if you practice this exercise.

"I can assure you, that it will work; but I also assure you, that it will take practice, for this to become part of you, part of the way you do things, the way you handle everything which comes to you; acceptance, and dedication. Think of it as the feast, or the banquet. In fact, rather than preparing a midday meal, thrown together quickly, in order to eat and fuel your body, why not begin to see everything that comes to you as the opportunity for great celebration! End the weekday meals, and let every day, be a day of feasting, and banquets.

"Let every day be a day of acceptance, and dedication! Let your life be filled, with the glory of God, and the glory of God will shine about thee; and Earth will be different, because of thee, and the Way you took the tedious task, and made it what it should be, something you are doing, for the glory of God!"

Jesus Teaches On:

Create A Healthy Body, And Environment, Living As A Child Of God

“I AM with you! When you feel My presence with you, you feel the energy of love, you feel the energy of understanding, and compassion; for, I do understand you. I hold compassion for you, as you make your way through trials and tribulations; yet, I do not want to waste time commiserating with you. When I come to you, I come to encourage you, to look at what you are doing through the eyes of eternal reality, and push all negative energy aside, so you can spring through every challenge, and ride upon The Wind, to completion, until it is done. I tell you this is possible, no matter what you must endure, it is possible to endure it, with the energy of light, rejecting outright, the energies of shadow, and darkness.

“I do not believe that you can tell Me how much the population of Earth spends on medicines and vitamins, supplements and syrups, on all types of ailment remedies; but I assure you, the cost is astronomical! The most interesting thing is that a lot of the preventive medicines are not even absorbed by the body; they are purchased, ingested, and expelled from the body, doing little good, if any at all. There are gym memberships, and clothing and attire bought, for the sole purpose of exercising the body, to keep it in good shape; but the only thing you really need to do to stay healthy is to stay in the light of God!

“Now, I will tell you something, give you an example. Have you ever had this experience? You know someone, you see them from time to time, sometimes maybe every day, you know what they look like, you know how they move, you know what their voice sounds like. And then, all of a sudden, one day, they walk into the room, and they look different, they look younger, their voice has a lilt to it, their step is lighter, their smile is brighter. You wonder, perhaps you even say, ‘What have you done? You look so beautiful/handsome today.’ And the pause indicates that they are deciding whether they should share that they are ‘in love,’ with someone, and that someone is in love with them!

“You see it right before you, exactly what the power of love can do to the human body! You look better, you stand taller, because of the love you are feeling, and giving. The exchange of love is providing good health, radiant health, and changing aspects of the personality, even from a tendency to gloom, or sullenness, to joy, and generosity, gratitude, thanksgiving. You see this, you know it, you hear it, you read it, you watch it in movies; but, have you ever sat down, and really pondered, that this is the ‘medicinal’ answer to good health? It is that simple... Love!

“You also see examples, all around you, of the absence of love, and light, compassion, and understanding. All you have to do is to visit a home for the aging, or go visit the home of an aging individual. If they are alone, and have very little contact with love, then they tend to be bent-over, slow, eyes growing vacant, and dim. This is what the absence of love resembles.

“You have the power to create a healthy atmosphere and environment for yourself, and everyone around you, in fact, everything around you, including what you consider to be inanimate objects.

I feel heads turn, and doubt questions springing-up within you, especially with the mention of 'inanimate objects.' But, I ask you, have you ever walked into a home, where you feel the energy of love in a room, when no one is in the room? And, on the other side of the coin, have you ever walked into a room where you felt anger, when no one else was in the room? You were feeling the energy deposited in the walls, and the ceilings, and floors, and furniture, by those who lived there. And, it either gives health and vitality to that room, or it makes it feel as if it is a crypt, a place for the dead.

“You ‘know,’ these things, you ‘experience them,’ and they are definite signs for you. Which are you choosing, the signs say, do you want to live in this room, or that room? Create the environment in which you wish to live! Those who hold onto anger, or who hold onto resentment, who hold grudges, who cannot release what has happened in the past with forgiveness, create a sick atmosphere, within themselves, for others, and in the homes, and buildings, in which they dwell, or work. And the same is true for outside, and all around, the trees, and the grasses, and the flowers. You can look at a garden, and tell there is love there. You can look at a garden, and feel other energies, as well.

“All of the people upon Earth are creating atmospheres, and environments, by what they think, and say, and do! And what they think, and say, and do, is either poisoning them, and you; or, bringing health, and vitality to them, and you! It cannot be any other way. This is the energy of creation, and what happens with thoughts, and words, and deeds!

“I encourage each of you to begin to work with this information. Make it your intention, no matter what is going on around you, to take care of your spirit, and your soul, and your body, by creating, by ingesting, love, peace, serenity, joy. Dance freely, sing, if the spirit touches you to do so, because dancing, and singing, and being joyful, is honoring God. Being out of sorts, and grumpy, sullen, angry, or resentful is an abuse of the power you have been given to create.

“Lest I stray too far from that which I originally intended to tell you today, I call Myself back to my original point to say, if you will begin loving, being in love, love God, love yourself, love those around you, with a brilliant energy, you will look younger, you will feel younger, your body will be vital, and healthy! That is the only pill you need to take, it is the pill of love! Create the environment in which you wish to live, and if it is an environment of love, you will be healthy, and you will be happy, and you will be content, with what you have, for the love will be inside of you. This week make sure to take your daily pills: of love, of generosity, of compassion, of understanding, of forgiveness, of tolerance, and everything else will fall into place, and the joy you feel will show on your face, and your body will begin to heal, and you will feel better than you have in a very long time, because you are living upon Earth as God intends you to live, as a child of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Wake-up And Know That God Is With You Today

“I AM with you! I AM always with you. It is impossible for Me to be in you, and you to be in Me, it is impossible to have this close connection, united as one, without the ability to hear each other, and feel each other's presence. My words, and your words, move through the veil. My intentions, and your intentions, move through the veil. My thoughts, and your thoughts, My words, and your words, My deeds, and your deeds, are together. We feel, we know, we hear, we are one, in a way that is puzzling to you, at this time; yet, in your faith, you believe it, and this believing draws you nearer and nearer, to the comprehension, and understanding, of this beautiful mystery of The One. .

“Today, I want to tell you a story. I AM going to use two men, let us say two brothers. They look the same. They speak the same language. They grew-up in the same town, and they have the same values, and morale code. I AM telling you the story of two good men. One of the men, let us call him Jacob, sets his jaw firmly, as soon as he awakens, and heads-out into the world, to make his way, to make a living, to take care of his family; and along the way, when he finds need, he tries his best to fill the needs of those around him. Jacob is a good man. The other brother, let us call him Matthew, wakes early, he does not set his jaw firmly, counting all of the things he needs to do during the day to make everything right; the first thing he does is to fall to his knees, press the palms of his hands together, and call-out, ‘God, tell me what I need to know. This day is yours. I wish to know, before I go.’ And in the sacred silence, comes the whisper, ‘Matthew, do this today....’ And Matthew sets out, walking into the world, going about his business, making a living to take care of his family, with a song on his heart, because he has been told
The Way!

“The difference between these two brothers is very slight, for both of them are good men; and, the same story could be told about two sisters, or a brother and a sister, a husband and wife, or any partners in life. The only difference between the two in the story is that ‘one is determined to do it on their own,’ while ‘the other, acknowledges the presence of God, and the power of the presence of God, and rises-up to go into the world, as the hands, and the feet, the ears, the eyes, the tongue of God.’ There is clear direction for the one who calls on God; and, when you are moving through your lifetime upon Earth in this way, even though you find yourself in a most precarious situation, you do not feel lost. You stop, and say, ‘Okay, which way do I go, now?’

“Without clear direction, there is a feeling of isolation. When you are lost, doubt and fear begin to cripple your movement; you do not know which way to go, even though your intention was to do good at the start, you can still find you are lost.

“The first thing to do every day, is to connect with Home Base. Call Home, and say, ‘Good morning, I am here. What am I to do today?’ That sounds very simple; but I can assure you, when you begin your day that way, there is confidence, your stride is sure, you speak the words God intends for you to speak, and your thoughts are solely on the connection you must maintain with God. This is how I lived, when I was upon Earth!

“If you are worried about what is going to happen, or who is doing this, or that, you wake-up forgetting to call Home. You set your course, you rise-up, and march-out into the world, with determination to do good, to get it done; but, there is something missing, and it is that sacred sweetness, that touch, that connection with God, to begin your day.

“Do not let the world overwhelm you, rob you of sleep, constrict your thoughts and your dreams, so that they are tied-up, and focused on one situation, for that one situation is but a blip in time, that is eternal, unending, forever!

“And so, I give you a suggestion, for your week. ‘Make a note, put it by your bed, tape it to your mirror, tie it to the steering wheel of your car, whatever you must do, to remind yourself, to begin your day, calling Home.’ And, I can assure you, if you begin your day, in this Way, everything that comes to you during the day, will also have an answer, a solution, a resolution, within easy access! When you encounter the day with God, you begin to see the day through the eyes of God, and you see the miracles all around. I have given you the story of two brothers, both good men, one working hard to do good, the other, walking with God, and doing good, with ease!

“You are first children of Spirit! Think of yourself in this way. Do not label yourself a man, or woman. Do not limit yourself as old, or young, weak or strong. Pick-up that which is yours, by your inheritance, and recognize yourself first, as a child of God”

Jesus Teaches On:
God Is Speaking To You Today, Listen, And You Will Know The Way

“I AM with you! I speak, and you hear Me! You speak, and I hear you! There is no secret to this communication; it is what we can do. I speak, and when you listen, you hear Me. This is how we communicate. We are in ‘communion,’ in this prayerful state, crossing the lines of dimensions, holding each other with our words, and our thoughts; and, as a result of this communion, your confidence grows, and you know which way to go, because you hear Me!

“Most of you, hearing these words, or reading these words, have put together, in some fashion, an ‘emergency kit,’ a box with specific items in it, which you might need, in the event of an emergency. Your kit might hold a flashlight, some matches, candles, band aids, antibiotic creams of some sort, you might have batteries, and other items. You have checked-off your list, and you made sure everything was in this box, this kit, and that it is easy to locate. You know where it is.

“Some of you have watches that are small computers. They will give you the time, they will tell you the weather conditions, they will give you directions to restaurants, and movie theaters, and churches. Still others, might have small hand-held computers, or some device, which gives you helpful information. You ask, and you receive the answer. You put in a destination address, and you receive the directions on how to get there. Still others of you, might have purchased vehicles, which speak to you, and tell you when your fuel, or your tire pressure, is low, and give you directions on where to go, and how to get to your chosen destination. You surround yourself with items, with devices which give you pertinent information to assist you through your day, to help you find your way. But what do you do, when your devices fail, when you are on your way to an important meeting, and the GPS in your car fails? Many of you find you are lost, unable to locate the right street, perhaps on the other side of town, miles from your destination.

“There is a desire to know the way, to have the information. There is a desire to know where you are, and not to be lost. You do all of the necessary things to help you make your way through the world created by man; but, what are you doing for your ‘spiritual,’ emergency kit? You do have one, you know! Your spirit holds all of the valuable tools! When you were created by God, you were programmed so that you might hear God, at all times! God is ever-present, ever with you, speaking to you, so you might know The Way. Yet, most of you do not know how to listen, do not know how to use your spiritual emergency kit, your spiritual device, your DPS (Trans-Dimensional Positioning System); consequently, and sadly, most of you do not know what God is saying to you.

“If you will spend today in a quiet way, setting your intention to feel the presence of God with you, you will begin to hear the voice of God within you! This is the most valuable gift you have been given, the ability to hear God, the ability to ask a question about where you are to go, and what you are to say; yet, this gift is rarely used today. You place much value on the devices in your vehicle. They will guide you to a destination, if you turn them on, and if you listen to the guidance; and, it is the same, with your spiritual life! God will lead you, if you ask, and then listen; but, you cannot hear, the soft whisper of God's voice calling to you: when you are living in chaos, and confusion; when you have stacked walls of debris around you; when you are building monuments of envy, or greed, or hatred, or anxiety, or worry, or concern. You are stacking these things all around you, and soon, it is difficult for God to be heard, by you.

“This is an excellent time for you to give some thought to your communication with God. You are beginning a new year. God is ready to speak, and show you The Way. Will you take the time to lend your ear to this precious communication? If you are listening to the voice of God, all else is going to be right, when you put this communication with God first!

“By maintaining My communication with our Father, our Eternal Parent, I always knew The Way. I could go through every day, knowing exactly what I was meant to say, and you can do this too. There is nothing more important you have to do, than to listen for the voice of God, which will lead you, into all truth, into all good, into the light, where you will see, and as you see in this light, all events, and situations, and people around you, will be illuminated in the light, and you will know all you are meant to know!

“The world of man has created thousands of devices to show you the way from one side of town to the other; and you feel they are very important, and you purchase them, and you take care of them, so you are not lost, in the world created by man.

“God, The Creator of All Things, has instilled within you the ability to communicate with Heaven! How much value do you place on this ability, this gift? Do you take care of it? You cannot purchase it; for it is a gift, from Heaven, given to you, outright, and when you use it, it will get you from one dimension to another, it will open the lines of communication between you on Earth, and our Eternal Parent in Heaven, and when you open these lines, when you use this gift, you will never be lost again! The gift is yours! Spend some time today, learning how to use the gift; it is beyond earthly value; it is priceless; it is sacred; it is your birthright; it is your heritage; as a child of God!

“Be still, and call Home, today!”
