Jesus' Sunday Sermons 2017

The Command

"This is my command: Love each other." ... Jesus ... John 15:17

The Promise

*"If anyone loves me, he will obey my teaching.
My Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him." ... Jesus ... John 14:23*

Holding these words in our hearts, we opened the door to the everyday Presence of Jesus, walking with us ... teaching us ... The Way.

And, onto the mountain,
there came the words
...as promised...

Jesus Teaches On:
Know What You Are Creating

“I AM with you. I move amongst you. I walk beside you. Some, see Me. Some feel My presence. Some hear My whisper. Some embrace My direction and guidance; and, some, know not, of My presence amongst you. Still, I AM with you!

“You have made the journey through the year! You are about to experience the last day of the year. What an opportunity you have! I AM here to encourage you to embrace this opportunity, with enthusiasm and intention!

“If you glance-back, through the last twelve months, ever so briefly, perhaps there are one or two times during the year, when you remember feeling joy, being happy; and with this remembrance, might possibly come, the feeling: that you were thoroughly in the light; that you had created an environment, and an atmosphere, wherein you mastered the light, and all about you, by creating the light within you; and, this light, from within you, did shine, all around you, enfolding others, in the beauty of the light! It is also possible, to quickly travel back, to recall possibly one or two times when you felt you were in a dark pit, no way out, trapped; and if you can remember, then possibly you can recall, as well, that it is in these times you found darkness and shadow, and there seemed to be an absence of light. My brothers, and sisters, as you remember this, know this, you were the creator, of that darkness, and shadow. This is a valuable lesson. You experienced the entire year, and how you created each day was the outcome. The taste of your creation, sometimes sweet, and sometimes bitter; but, you made it through the year; and in just a few hours, you will be standing at the doorway of a new year. Let it be that you do so, with wisdom. Let it be that you do so, embracing the power that is within you. Let it be that you do so, without blame or judgment of others. Let it be you do so, embracing the power that you are.

“While you are upon Earth it is easy to follow the path of others, to listen to the voices: encouraging you to blame another; encouraging you to look the other way, to not let fault fall in your lap, but on another; discouraging you from accepting responsibility, for what you were creating. Ah! There is the key to the new year. Embrace the responsibility, because in that embrace is held the understanding of the responsibility. Once you understand you are responsible, for that which you create, then your creation begins to evolve in a different way.

“All the world, and all eternity, will know you, by your creation. Your creation lives with you, and goes before you, and remains after you. It is how... you will be known ... by your creation!

“So, how do you wish to be known? Create it! This is the perfect day: to alter a course; to change your perspective; to cast from you, all things which have kept you down, and in place, and refuse to be bound, by the ways of the world, or the ways of darkness, and shadow.

“Rise-up, My brothers, and sister. When I said, ‘... you can do all that I AM doing, and even greater things,’ I was speaking the great truth; but, the key to unlocking this mystery is, you must set aside darkness, and shadow, and form your energy in such a way, that it is My energy; and, that is very easy. Resist the shadow, and darkness! Once you are free of shadow, and darkness, there is no end to what you can do; but first, you must accept responsibility, because in giving away your responsibility, by blaming others for the situations all around you, you are diminishing your own ability to create. You are handing-over something very important to another, and you are giving them power over you.

“Rise-up, My brothers, and sisters, and see how great everything can be, at all times! You can be the light, creating joy and happiness, when you are sick, when you have a broken leg. You can be the creator of light, and joy, and happiness, even as you are standing, at the door between the dimensions, ready to come Home. There is nothing that can hide your great light, or that which you create, when you realize who you are, and the powerful gifts you have been given; but first you must rid yourself of the cloaks, and the capes, of shadow, and darkness, so that you might be enlightened, so that there might be illumination!

“Before I departed Earth I did leave you with keys, which will be The Way, for you to find, and recognize, the power that you are! First of all,... ‘love one another.’ Do not just say you know love is the most powerful energy of all, that love can resolve all issues. Live it! That is one of the keys, ‘love one another.’ You have heard it said, that it is easy to love those who are being nice to you, and this is true. When I was upon the Earth, I asked those who followed Me to take it another step further. ‘Love one another. Love those who hate you!’

“And then, there is one of the greatest keys, ‘turn the other cheek!’ The world tells you: stand your ground; if someone hits you, hit them back; if someone pushes you, push them back; if someone insults you, insult them back; do not be a doormat; do not allow others to walk all over you. What has this direction done for the world? Nothing good I can assure you. I gave you the key, ‘turn the other cheek.’ When someone is cruel, or mean, or hateful, if someone spits in your face, or slaps you, ‘turn the other cheek.’ If you find that there is any way possible for you to do just these two things, ‘love one another,’ and, ‘turn the other cheek,’ you will have reached the place where miracles will come from you. It is that simple. The only reason it is difficult is because of ego, self-importance. Ego is necessary, if you wish to make your way, through your lifetime, on your own. Ego is a barrier, if you wish to make your way, through your lifetime, connected with God. It is that simple.

“So, I have said three (3) things, which will lead you into a great year. ‘Love one another.’ ‘Turn the other cheek.’ And, ‘cut the ego away,’ so you can walk nearer to God every day!

“The new year is coming, there is no stopping it. Bless the old, and prepare for the new!”

Jesus Teaches On:
A Brand-New Way Of Living

“I AM with you. I AM with you; and for many of you, your faith, your belief, has brought you to a place, where you too, can say, ‘I am with you.’ I AM with you, in the darkest times. I AM with you, in the sunlight. I AM with you as you are tossed on turbulent seas. I AM with you when you are quietly on your knees. I AM with you when there is no one else around, save the angels, looking down: watching over you, guiding you, whispering to you, ‘Come, we will show you The Way, for God has sent us to go before you, walk with you, and follow after you, so that a child of Heaven does not lose The Way.’

“There are many things, that are considered everyday situations, occurrences, which show, that there are things going on, life occurring all around you, which you do not see. No matter how well you clean your house, it is possible for there to be a colony of very small mites, living in dust, hiding under a bed. You do not see this community of life, but it is still there with you. Using a very strong magnifying glass, or a microscope, you can actually see, something living, sometimes right on thee; you cannot see it with your human eye, but it does not mean it is not there with you. Sometimes you will accidentally walk through a swarm of insects, that you did not see, before they were caught in the light of day in such a way, that they were revealed to you, and there are thousands of them; and in broad daylight, you did not see it; yet, just because you did not see it, does not mean it is not there, for you are standing in the midst of it, as they swarm in the air.

“The Kingdom of God is with you! You cannot see it, with your human eyes; but you can feel it with your heart; you can know it, with your soul; and you can live within it, in your spirit. Do not permit preconceived notions, or perceptions, keep you, from believing, in what is; for oftentimes, that which you would deny, possible, is living with you; but you do not see it, or know it, because you will not accept the possibility, that it is with you. This is a journey of faith! You know it within, even when you cannot see it, all around you. You know it, you feel it, you sense it!

“I came upon the Earth exactly, as it was prophesied; so why were there not thousands in a line, waiting? Why did so many, miss, the signs? How is this possible? It was foretold, and it happened; yet very few saw, and knew. I was not hidden from view. But just because most did not believe, it did not mean that I was not there, that I did not have a mission; and I rose-up, and completed My mission. You too have a mission; for not one being is born upon Earth, without purpose; and when you find your purpose, hold to it, and complete your mission. Even when those around you, those who love you and care for you, deny your mission, does not make it your mission any less. Even when those around you say to you it is impossible to do, just because they say it, does not make it so. If it is written on your heart, it is yours to do.

“Very soon, in fact within hours, a large portion of Earth will be celebrating, and remembering My birth. Take some time to ask for guidance: so that you might understand more; so that you might have a bit of comprehension about what it took for Me to be born; for the faith, for the courage, for the strength of those, who surrounded Me with love; for the faith and the courage and the strength it took the men to come in, out of the fields to find Me; for the faith, the courage, the strength it took those who were called from lands afar to follow the star, so that they might see and know. Do not let others tell you not to go, when you have heard The Whisper, and know, it is so!

“Give birth, today, to a brand-new way of living; for those who follow Me, do not walk, with the old rhythm. I gather those around Me, who believe, and I will show The Way, every day, to those who believe! Have faith, be strong, and this faith, and strength, will lead you to a place of peace; and, you will find, there is a song upon your heart, at last; because you know who you are, and what you are doing; and it has nothing to do with the ways of the world, it has everything to do with the ways of God. Rise-up, My brothers and sisters. It is time to celebrate, and sing a song!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Birth Of Love Upon Earth

“I AM with you. I reach-out to you, not from a place far away, but from a place near to you, close to you, separated, by a veil. You are a spiritual being, walking upon the Earth, and when you reach the place, where you can truly embrace, this truth, then that which seemed a mystery, will no longer be a mystery; for you will be enlightened, and illuminated: with wisdom, and truth; and, your experience upon Earth, will not be a journey of drudgery, but a glorious adventure, of a lifetime! Awaken, and see!

“Today, most of you are in the midst, of preparation, for a day which celebrates, My birth, upon the Earth. You are in the midst of Advent, a time set aside, for waiting, for the promise to be fulfilled, a time of watching.

“In this time of year, it is easier, for those of you living upon Earth, at the present time, to embrace the spiritual, and mingle it with the physical, and material world, in such a way, that, for a brief time, you can believe: that angels do walk with man; that angels bring messages; that angels will show The Way; that miraculous things happen every day, especially when there are those willing to hear the message, and follow in faith.

“In this time of year, it is easier to accept, and to believe, because the energy being created, at this time of year, is a good environment, for the belief in things spiritual: to grow, to blossom, to bloom. Children's eyes seem bigger; the adult's heart seems bigger; the stories that are read, and shared, are more spiritual; and, the belief, that one sent from Heaven, to walk upon the Earth, delivering a message of love, is acknowledged, and embraced; and, for a few days, Earth is more at peace, because of this belief!

“It is easy to tell these stories because you have heard them, many times. It is easy to repeat these stories, to your children and friends, because they are the salt and pepper of the days of December, the seasoning to your life, when miracles did abound, and Heaven and Earth were more connected, drawn together, by a birth.

“There will be a temptation to tell these stories, and let the glory ring through the smiles, and the eyes of those you love, but categorize them more as just that, stories, fables, something that happened a long time ago.

“This week, I want you to spend some time, pondering those who were the instruments of this miracle birth; for they were willing to do much, so that I could be born, upon the Earth; and, the sacrifices they were willing to make were not myth, were not fables, were not stories to be told, and then put back on the shelf, until another season rolled around: take them out, dust them off, and read again.

“The individuals that came together to make this possible stood, and listened, and followed the dreams and the visions, and went, and did, as they were led. Elizabeth’s journey required faith, along with her husband Zachariah, for John to be born, and show The Way. Mary required courage to stand-up, and say, ‘Let it be done,’ when the reality was, that her condition, could bring her to a place of punishment, most severe; she would be ostracized. Joseph saw the visions, and had the dreams, and risked being ridiculed to follow as he was led, no matter what the rules of man said. The shepherds left their work, because of the angelic apparition, filling the hillside with beings of light, and the tones, and vibrations of the heavenly realm. They did the unspeakable, they left the flock in the field, at a time when they could have stripped of their position as a shepherd, and thrown into poverty, and hunger; but the apparitions were so compelling, that they did follow. And those men of science, miles, and miles away, saw the signs, and followed, leaving their home, and taking the journey of great distance, because of the signs. These noble beings were not promised great wealth, they were not promised things of Earth; they put all of this aside: to work with the angels, to walk with the angels, to deliver God’s love to Earth.

“This week, think of what they did, in a different way:

“Would you be willing to risk being ostracized, or severely punished?

“Would you be willing to be ridiculed?

“Would you be willing to lose your job, your livelihood?

“Would you be willing to rise-up, and begin a long journey, following a star?

“If you said yes, to any one of these questions, you are: part of that journey, part of that experience, part of the adventure, part of the birth, of love, upon Earth!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Know The Gift Of Humility

“I AM with you. I AM with you, in a whisper. I move close to you and you feel Me. I reach-out to you; and, you ‘know,’ I will lead you, where you need to go; so be not concerned: about what to say, or where to stand, or who to touch, or take their hand. For as you make your way, through the great journey of your lifetime, I will be your comfort, your compass.

“The Gift of Humility is a gift for all! For some, it comes rather easy, this gift of humility, especially when you grow-up in an environment filled with love, and that love, providing, confidence, in who you are!

“Humility can be settled on the one who has very little, or the one who has access to great wealth. Humility is knowing who you are, and being content in the knowing. Humility allows you to celebrate the gifts you have, and to celebrate the gifts of others, without showing any sign of jealousy. Humility permits you to sing a song of joy, acknowledging the gratitude within your heart, for that which you have.

“The one who walks in the ways of humility does not have to announce to the world, or to one, the amount of money they have, the success they believe they are. They do not have to show, or brag, or speak highly of their position, their wealth, in material terms. The one who knows The Way of Humility, lets the way they live, and the way they speak, announce who they are. The one who knows the ways of humility: is quick to sit-down, with one who has fallen; is quick to give a hand to help, anyone, rise-up; is quick with praise, for the accomplishments of others. Humility can be settled on the pauper, or the prince. It is knowing. It is confidence. It is caring. It is compassion. Humility does not make a big splash. It is as the gentle ripple, rolling over the surface of the water, continuing its journey until it reaches the shore, beckoning you to watch, beckoning you, to desire more, of the gentle ripple, touching the shore.

“In this season: of hustle and bustle; of gift buying; and decorating; and parties; take some time to sit with this thought of humility. Do not use your time, or your words, to brag. Reach-out your hand to help others. Let what you do be done in quiet; for the one who bends-down to help others, stands tall.

“Humility is a gift available to all; and it is a gift, when used, brings peace, and joy to the heart. Do not squander your time, struggling to gain wealth, and possessions, which will fall from you. Spend your time doing good for yourself, and others, for your family, friends, and those you do not know. Be the light in the darkness. Be the bringer of joy, and peace. Know, who you are, and walk in the light of God!

“Humility is settled on the pauper, and the prince, a gift, the same, no matter what your name!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Begin Advent Creating Love Within

“I AM with you. Be still. Be quiet. There is much to do, but there is much to do inside of you, perfecting your inner-being, preparing The Way! Speak softly; walk gently; and let your heart be moved, and filled with compassion, for there are so many, longing, this day, for peace, and love and compassion. You have an opportunity, to deliver these things, but first, you must hold that, which you desire, within your being.

“You are embarking upon a day, which is the first day of the season of Advent, a time of remembrance, memorials, and preparation. It is a very sacred time of year, a time when you look back, and recall events, occurring in the world, before, My coming, My birth, to the physical body. This time encourages contemplative periods, during the day, when you pause, from your work and your play, and consider just for a while, what it might have been like, waiting, and preparing, for the coming of The Messiah.

“There are also many who are preparing for a holiday, some as well as a holy day; and, for some, they are preparing for the holiday, instead of a holy day. No matter what the reason, this is still the time of preparation. It is time to begin your preparation.

“There is no better gift that you can give the world, and your community, and your family, than a heart filled with love, unconditional love, for this is truly, the most amazing gift; and it cannot be purchased, at any price. The love that you can offer your family, and your friends, and the world itself: is created within you; grows within you; flows within you; bubbles-up, and moves-out from you; and blesses all around you; the gift from within, blessing friends, and kin, and all who know you; but, this gift of love touches many more, because when you touch one, or two, or four, with your gift of love, it continues through them to others, and it multiplies, and grows. When you touch four, the possibility to touch a hundred, or more, is great. And it all begins, with ‘a desire to create love,’ within your being, and offer it, as a gift!

“Creating love within requires intention and purpose. By creating love within your being, it is then possible to let it flow to all you encounter, without hesitation, because it is overflowing from you. Let your creation be intense, and glorious, and vital; and do not stop creating this energy of love. As it bubbles-over, and flows from you, it will touch those, who need it most. So, held within your desire to create love is the gift of God, God’s love flowing to you, being magnified by you, and together, you and God creating a new energy of love, that has never been felt before, because your component is the ingredient that makes it so much more!

“Let this first day of Advent begin, by creating love, within!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Choose Freedom, With Forgiveness

“I AM with you. As I reach for those, upon Earth, to impart words of wisdom, I AM with you! Sometimes in the quiet, while you sit, and listen, the wisdom of Heaven flows into you; and in those sacred quiet moments, wisdom reveals the truth, and you not only hear it, but your soul recognizes it; and, for a brief moment, you feel you are Home! These ‘miraculous moments,’ will be yours many times over, in fact, as many times as you choose to be still, and quiet, and open.

“You have made the journey, through another year; in fact, you are very close to the end, of what was the new year, months and months ago; and, you have come far. You have been an active participant, in your spiritual growth, and the things that you once thought might be difficult or impossible to do, appear less difficult, and maybe possible. Some, of you, have even taken the step, from impossible to possible, and brought forth the miracle, and it lifted-you-up, and joy was within you, especially after the first taste, of walking upon Earth, in a divine, and heavenly way.

“There is one thing, which requires diligence, desire, and intention, as you come to the conclusion of this year... you still have time... forgiveness! You cannot be free, and experience glee, and happiness, and joy, until your forgiveness is complete. The act of forgiveness, might have to do with forgiving yourself, leaving nothing undone. Forgive yourself for every, step you took, into a shadowy situation; forgive it, immediately. And what will make the forgiveness of yourself easier, is, if you think of everything as a lesson, a golden lesson. You see it, and you know it. And, in the case of forgiveness, you see it, and you truly know it, not just because you are told to forgive; but, you see, and you know, the glory of the lesson, and it is easy to forgive. Use that lesson, as a staircase, and ascend the staircase on every lesson: forgiving, and releasing, and moving on, because you know, because you have lived it, because you have experienced the lesson and it is yours. Forgiveness, ah, it is sweet!

“Forgiveness, of others, is just as vital. When you have dreams about someone, or an incident; or, someone, and an incident, pops into your thought; that is a sign! It is a sign, a flag, waving to you, saying, ‘Come, this way, you have something to do.’ And while at first, the human tendency would be to turn, and say, ‘No, I will not do that.’ Somewhere within you, you ‘know,’ that if you choose to forgive you will be free. In fact, it is the only way, you will be free. You can do hundreds of good deeds, you can be kind and considerate, all the while pushing the person or the incident, requiring forgiveness, deeper and deeper into a corner, until it is lodged within you, becoming even more difficult to extract.

“You have days of opportunities before the end of the year. Decide, make the choice to forgive. And while, at first thought, the pill might be bitter, I can assure you, once you ‘choose,’ to take the pill, forgiveness becomes the nectar of Heaven! The taste is sweet, once it is complete; and your freedom is wrapped within the gifts: of happiness, and joy, and peace, within your being.

“Spend some time this week, paying attention to the signs, and the flags waving within you. Make the choice which will lead to your freedom. Forgive!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Beauty Of Simplicity, Love One Another

“I AM with you! When you acknowledge My presence with you, the very air around you feels altered! I whisper; you hear Me; perhaps you even speak to Me, acknowledging My presence with you. Our communion is simple! And held within our simple communion is a sacred union, a time of peace; I know your heart!

“There is a beauty to simplicity! It is extraordinary! When you are willing to remove, all that is unnecessary, you find, that everything around you, looks: lighter, cleaner, uncluttered.

“I would ask you, to consider, moving into an environment of simplicity, step by step, so you appreciate the process. Take from you all things you do not need, and hold on to the useful, the things which make you comfortable, and productive.

“Living simply gives you the time to look around you, and appreciate the beauty of God's creation! When you are living simply, that which you need to do, to maintain, all the possessions and objects and things that you have gathered around you, does not take hours, or days. When you live simply, you can do, in very short order, what used to take you quite a while.

“When I came to Earth over two thousand years ago, to walk as a human being, My message, from God, was simple; and, there is great beauty in its simplicity. Love one another.

“Take some time this week, to begin paring-down, your possessions, such as: clothing, and shoes, and articles in your home. Look around and see, what is used, and what has gone unused for quite a while, and give it away, so that you might free yourself, and live simply.

“Love one another. I pause, because it is so simple. In fact, most will say, ‘Love one another, that is what we are supposed to do. Love one another, that is the new command.’ But the importance of the message seems to be crumbling, and falling away. It is so perfectly simple that it is difficult to believe that is all you have to do.

“If you will try this experiment, for one week, you will be surprised. Love one another. Write it down on a piece of paper, and post it all over, on your desk, on your walls, on your mirrors. Love one another. If you are living with family, two members, four members, ten members, encourage each member of your family to “practice,” loving one another; for one week, this is going to be a project.

“What will happen, at the end of that week, is you will notice there have been very few disagreements, very few tears, and a lot of laughter, and love created within your home. That is the place to start. That is the place where you will see the power, and the beauty of simplicity. Love one another. Just from this experiment, it will occur to you, that this is really all the citizens of the world need to do: to end hunger; to end abuse; to end war; and, to live in peace.

And it does not cost, one cent. No one has to give-up any of their possessions to another. No blood will be shed.

“See the beauty of simplicity, and love one another!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Carry Love Wherever You Go

“I AM with you. I bring you words of comfort. I bring you teachings. I bring you stories, which will lead you into a deeper understanding of compassion. I open the door to a new place, wherein the first thing is to love. You can experience pieces of Heaven with you, when you listen, for the whisper calling to you, and you follow, walking through the door, entering, The Garden of Love!

“It is held within humility, and love, that you find, you are experiencing Heaven, upon Earth. I placed humility before love, only because with this sense of slipping-away-from-ego, and self-service, love fills more places, and spaces, within you. You can feel the love of God, within you, when ego is intact; but, it is diminished. When you are willing to slip, into a sweet place of humility, where you feel, all things about you, as if they are you, then love filters through you, to a greater proportion, unhindered, by the thoughts and the deeds and the words of self-importance.

“The greatest energy, the greatest gift, the greatest command, is love! There is no question about it. Love is powerful; but, the power of love is pure. It is sweet, and tender. It is easy to embrace, and when it washes over, into, and through you, the breath you take holds the heavenly grace of God!

“It was important to bring the message of love to Earth, over two thousand years ago, because it was a way, for each one of you to carry with you, all the time, the most important thing to do! It was no longer necessary to remember hundreds of rules, and regulations, and directions, that could burden the mind, and weigh-down the spirit. All you had to do then, and do now, is to go about your everyday business, distributing, dispensing, and letting flow, the love of God, upon all you see and all you know. The message made it simple, do that which you are meant to do, and incorporate the command to love one another!

“You might not have thought about it as so simple, before; but, it is that simple. The farmer can carry love into the field. The teacher can carry love into the classroom. The assembly-worker can carry love into the factories. The children can carry love onto the playgrounds. No matter what your job or profession or level of skill, might be, it does not deter you, from carrying love, wherever you go. And when it comes right down to it, this is all you need to know. It really does not matter how many books you have read, how many lines you can quote, how many theories you are beginning to understand. What matters is, if you will take the gift of love, wherever you go. It is possible to develop your gift of love, while you are sweeping the floor. This, My brothers and sisters, is how I want you to think about, your daily patterns: work your way through the tasks and the chores, play your way through the recreational days, but always carry with you, and be mindful of, loving, one another! This is what will change the course of your day, no matter whether it is work or whether it is play.

“This week, let it be your intention: to accept the love of God; to nurture the love of God; to experience the love of God; and to let the love of God flow through you, to all you see, and know, to not just the people, but the places you go. Bless the ground, and bless the Earth, bless the trees, the flowers, all of these; but, most importantly, bless your brothers, and your sisters. Your days will be holy, and sacred. You will grow in the love and the ways of God, and you will be a blessing to Earth. Take love, with you, wherever you go!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Practice The Process Of Receiving Information

“I AM with you! I whisper, and you hear Me; and as you hear Me, you recognize My tones, and vibrations; and you turn your attention toward Me; and we speak; and we hear. As we listen, it is clear, the understanding, is made known, between us!

“Communication between human beings can be strained, at times. This happens when there is an exchange of information, something that one person is telling another; and specifically, I would like to address, when one person is telling another, something they do not ‘know,’ something they would not have known, before the exchange of information.

“Let us say, you see someone, walking across a room, coming directly toward you. You greet them, because you know them, and they come, and you speak, and the exchange is pleasant; and then, they give you a bit of information about another person, or they might give you a bit of information that saddens your heart. They might deliver information regarding a loved one, letting you know of sickness, or possibly a grave situation, someone is at the point of death. They might deliver information about an accident. They might deliver information about a couple breaking-up, or perhaps someone’s son, or daughter, going through a very difficult time in their life. They might bring you information about a house fire. They might bring you information about a robbery, or some other criminal action. There are many ways, that an exchange of information can impact you, sometimes slightly, sometimes significantly.

“This week, practice how to receive information in such a way, that: you do not react, immediately, to what you consider ‘bad news,’ by getting angry, or upset; you do not react to delicate news, in such a way, that you cry-out in anguish, that you are frustrated, or that you are hurt, or wounded deeply.

“Do not permit an exchange of information to tempt you to go into negative energy. By practicing The Way, you intend to receive, or exchange information, you allow yourself ‘the opportunity,’ to be an active participant in the process, in a positive way, in a way filled with light, and understanding, and compassion, no matter what information is brought to you. So, this is how you do it.

“Receive the information brought to you, no matter what it is, quietly! Process the information quietly. Pray for the wisdom to piece together the information brought to you in an atmosphere of understanding, and compassion.

“This, simple process, will bring you to a position, filled with wisdom, and you will not have to reflect on ‘how you could have: done it better; responded better; and, certainly behaved better.’ If you receive this information quietly, process quietly, and pray for wisdom to fill you, you will always, ‘know,’ what to do!

“This is a good week to practice how to receive information. Pray for the wisdom to understand in compassion whether it is for yourself, or another, and let it be!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Be The Creator Of Love

“I AM with you! I AM with you in Spirit today, because it is possible; and, it is possible because God, The Creator of All Things, set in place the most perfect, and divine, plan; and, this perfect, and divine, plan makes room, allows change, is not afraid to permit freewill, because this divine plan, is just that, divine in every measure!

“Many people, when preparing to cook, a very special meal, pull-out recipes, and follow the recipe, and combine the tastes, the herbs and the spices, the ingredients, to create... something very special. Some people, wishing to put together, let us say, an automotive piece of equipment, and they pull-out the instruction booklet, and no matter what they are constructing, they follow it, they follow the booklet, they follow the guidelines, so that, that which they are creating, will function properly.

“When you are learning... to do almost anything, there are steps that you take to assure that the outcome is that which is desired, a process, a procedure. But when you ‘know,’ what you are trying to do, to such a degree, that you can combine the ingredients, that you can construct a piece of equipment, without the recipe, and without the booklet, you have an understanding, of what you are doing. When you know, what you are doing, the recipe is within you, the booklet is within you. There comes with knowing, an understanding of how to do something, an obvious confidence, in what you are doing. It is good to know the words, to know the steps and the procedure and the process; but, there comes a time, when you must practice: the words, the procedure, the process, to such a degree, that there comes the obvious, outward sign of confidence, in what you are doing.

“I brought to the Earth the new command, to set atop all other commands, ‘Love one another.’ This message is not complex. It is not difficult to comprehend; but, it requires desire and intention, to love, in the face of what the world is teaching today.

“I will give you an example, of how you can alter the course of your day, the rest of your days, so that you might achieve success, in understanding, and knowing, and living, this new command. Love one another.

“There is a great ‘temptation,’ rampant upon the Earth, especially in the world created by man. And it is the temptation to gossip about other people, to make a quick judgment about what another is saying, or doing; and then, with another person, or a group of other people, try... the one presumed guilty... and sentence them. This trial, in absence, has a fatal result on those who have chosen to judge, to condemn, and to sentence. It changes your world, when you take part in such activity, because you cannot walk away from such activity without feeling a bit of remorse, with what has been done, without absolving yourself, of what has been done, and further judging, saying, ‘Well, it is true.’

“If you do not take part in such activity yourself, you surely have seen it, or have heard it, and realize, that this trial, and condemnation and sentencing, feels shadowy, feels dirty. And the words, ‘Well, it is the truth,’ do not seem to cleanse those who have taken part, in this assassination. And soon you find a way, to push aside the guilt, and take part freely; and you become hardened; and love is diminished. Love is handed-out to very few, mostly to those who love you.

“Refuse to take part in gossip. If you are tempted, the sure rescue is to turn your head, and your thoughts, to God. Let God’s love flow into you, and through you, and understand what the power of God’s love can do for you; and then, bless, the person, who is the subject of the talk. Connecting with God’s love, and letting it flow into you, is a process, which will work. It is difficult to be cruel, and harsh, and unkind, with love flowing in you. In fact, it is a sure sign that there is the absence of love, when you are in the company of those who are cruel, and harsh, and unkind; you see it; you see the result of the absence of love. So, in the absence of love, be the creator of love! Take an active part in what is happening. Be the creator of love! Be the deliverer, of love! Be the light, in shadow and darkness!

“Yes, this will take practice. Yes, this process does not come into fruition overnight. It is not successful with the first trying; but, just in the trying, you are doing it. You are making a change for the better. And who amongst you is not calling-out for change? Who amongst you, right now, would not stand-up and say, ‘I want to see the change of a better world.’? And there simple ways to bring it about; but, while they are simple, they still require desire, and intention.

“Be the change you desire! Love is the answer, you are seeking! There are many things you can say that are constructive, rather the destructive. In fact, do not open your mouth to say anything, about anyone, until you know that, that which you are about to speak is a blessing on another person. And when you do this enough, you will begin to see what positive affirmation, about another, actually does. It creates an environment, an atmosphere, in which true and honest change can take place!

“You are not upon the Earth to tear people down. You are not upon the Earth to kick others when they are down. You are upon the Earth to stoop down, and give your hand to one in need!

“Practice these words this week. You will be amazed at the change within yourself. Be the light, deliver the love, and rescue those stuck in shadow, and darkness. For even in the stormiest of nights, there will be a hand, reaching-out, and that hand will calm the fears, dry the tears; and, that hand can be yours!”

Jesus Teaches On:
See Me In The Human Being Form

“I AM with you! There are so many things I wish to share with you; and it is best to do this sharing, do this communicating, a bit at a time: so that you receive it naturally; so there is no hesitancy; so it is sweet, and easy to grow in your understanding, of the ways of the realm of Spirit, of the ways of God; so that you live, divinely, as you walk upon the Earth, as a human being!

“Most of you, when you think of Me, go first: to glory; to My divinity; to My connection with Our Father, Our Heavenly Parent; to My mission, to the importance of My mission, and My ministry, upon Earth; to My miracles; to the words that are credited to Me, in Scriptures, in different languages, all over the Earth.

“Today, I would like to ask you to think of Me, in another way. Give some time to these thoughts, during the week to come, because I believe, once you do, you will find that you are drawing closer, and closer to Me, with a deeper understanding, of who I AM! And, I use the present tense, ‘I AM,’ because all things are in the present.

“I want you to see Me in the human being form, because if you cannot see Me, in this way, you miss a connection, you miss a dot, along The Way to connect your thoughts, regarding who I AM.

“When you think of Me...

“See Me as a child, playing with My brothers, and sisters, running, jumping, kicking rocks, playing in the dirt, splashing in the water, helping at home, with what you might call chores.

“See Me sitting at the knee of My earthly father, as I AM taught a worldly trade.

“See Me struggling, fitting the pieces together, until the wood does exactly what I wish it to, and I learn the skills of carpentry.

“See Me snag My finger, on a splinter.

“See Me hammer, and miss, and hit My thumb.

“See Me drop a vital piece of this furniture I AM constructing, only having everything to fall apart, when I bend over to pick-it-up.

“See Me eating with My family under a tree in the back yard.

“See Me telling My sister a story.

“See Me taking My mother into My arms, and drawing her close to Me.

“See Me carrying food to an elderly, or sick neighbor.

“See Me laughing with My friends.

“See Me gathering new friends.

“See us walking the countryside, avoiding the glaring eyes, and the hateful words, faces turned toward God.

“See Me reaching-out to help those around Me.

“See Me shiver slightly, when the sun of day is gone, and the chill of night is upon Me.

“See Me praying.

“See Me following, hearing The Whisper, of God, and going where I AM told to go. Follow Me, and see Me all The Way to the cross, and the resurrection, and the long journey Home.

“See Me as a human being, for this is why I did say unto you that you can do all I AM doing.

“See Me saying, ‘These are not My words.’

“See Me saying, ‘This miracle has been performed so that all will know the glory of God.’

“See Me acknowledging, that in My body, I AM the eyes and the ears and the hands and the feet and the tongue of God.

“See Me in this way, know Me in this way, and follow Me in this Way!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Use Your Freewill To Accept Your Mission

“I AM with you! Push aside the doubt, which might be tempting you and plaguing you, and open your arms to embrace the truth, that I AM with you! And while you cannot see Me, you can feel Me, you can know Me. And as you come to know Me, your belief, and your faith, grow to such a proportion that it becomes possible for you to see Me. All things are possible in God!

“My brothers and sisters, some of you might not accept it, or embrace it, some of you might push it from you, rather than to face it; but if you are upon Earth right now, you truly do have a mission. Now, each mission is unique. Each mission looks different. Each mission is designed, for the qualities of the individual who is sent to perform the mission. And today, My message to you is accept your mission, embrace your mission, and do that which you were sent to do!

“You do not have to go far to discover your mission, for within each of you is a burning desire, or possibly a flicker of a desire, to accomplish something; and you should not compare, that which you feel you are to accomplish, with that, which another is sent to accomplish. Focus on that which is calling to you, from within your being; for within your being is where you will find the key, and the answer!

“Once you find your answer, and feel as if you know your mission, it is time to prepare for your mission, to take the necessary steps, to ready yourself, before you begin.

“Once you feel you are ready to begin, and that still, small voice within you says, ‘Go forth,’ then rise-up, and go forth. Go forth, and seek-out individuals who will support you, and encourage you, as you set about your mission. It is important to have support, and encouragement; therefore, gather those around you, who will love you, and whose love will provide the courage you need, to rise-up, and complete the mission.

“As you set forth, planting your foot firmly on the path, setting your focus and your intention, on doing that which you were meant to do, that which you were destined to do, surrounded by individuals who love and support you, it is important to make the connection with Home Base, announcing confidently that you are grateful for the gift of freewill; however, you, of your own freewill, have chosen to follow The Way: to do the work, that God intended you to do; to do that which you were meant to do; acknowledging that you cannot do it, completely and thoroughly, unless God is working through you, loving you, guiding you, supporting you, and encouraging you!

“From that point, let it be known, that your words, are not your words; the words you will speak are the words given to you by The Creator to speak. The great things that you might accomplish, should not be a badge upon your chest, but the glory of God, shining upon Earth, showing what can be done, through faith, and courage, and support, and love.

“So, this is the blueprint I give you today, the guidebook, a few words, to send you on your way, “knowing,” how it can be done.

“This day is set before you. The sun will shine upon you, or the rain will wash the tears from your face. The wind will be a light breeze, or rage through the trees. You do not know how the day will unfold, but you do know it will unfold for you as it is intended to do, because you have chosen The Way!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Garden Of Love, Compassion, And Understanding

“I AM with you. I call to you and say, come, let us sit together, let us walk together, let us share this day, that sets before you: unopened; preparing to unfold; holding promises, yet to be told; a golden opportunity, to live a life, knowing God!

“Sometimes it is easy to forget, once you rise-up and begin your day, and move into chores, or work, or play, that this is a new opportunity to create a day which you would hope to experience, filled with light, and love and laughter, filled with joy. I remind you, before you begin this day, that it is all set before you. It is yours. This cannot be said too many times, because it is easy to forget; but, this day holds great promise, and is definitely an opportunity for you to create great light, and love.

“This is what is important: creating love, and light, and peace, within your being, first; and then, letting it flow from you, blessing all, of Earth. It does not matter: how many books you read; how many places you have visited; how many times you have won arguments, regarding this or that or the other; how many degrees you hold, or the areas of your expertise. What matters is: how many times you were kind; how many times you showed compassion, and held your tongue, long enough, to experience understanding another's plight, or situation; for, doing these things, sets the stage, wherein you are visited by wisdom.

“You can read one hundred books, and not gain wisdom. You can travel, and not gain wisdom. You can be considered an expert in many fields, or in one field, but lack wisdom. Wisdom springs forth from the fertile garden, of love, and compassion, and understanding. Come, let us walk in this garden today!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Create Good, And Know God

“I AM with you. I AM with you in spirit, as you make your way, through another day. This day is a gift to you. Accept it, embrace it. It is yours. It is yours to do, with, that, which you wish to do. What good can you do today?”

“Some of you hearing My words, or reading My words, might wonder, what good can you do today. Some of you might feel, you can do great good. Some of you might decide to give it a half-hearted attempt to create good. And, there are those of you who feel, there is not much to you can do, to create good today. I tell you, the desire to create good will start the wheel rolling, in the right direction. It is not necessary for you to come-up with a list, of that which you can do; but creating good, begins with the intention to do so; and, each one of you has the ability to set the intention to create good.

“God created everything, from nothing. God began the creation of everything, with a thought. All this beauty, held in the thought of God, began to take shape, as the words were spoken; for, in the beginning, there was only the word of God; and, as the word was spoken, it was done. God created the angels. God created the Heavens. God created the Earth. God created The Garden of Earth. Everything you know today, all the good, the trees, the grasses, the vegetables, they are an extension, of the thought, the first thought of God; and the thought of God was, and is, and always will be, good.

“I was given the opportunity to speak to those of Earth, and walk in a human body, for a while, to bring this thought of love, and compassion, and understanding, to the children of Earth. As I walked upon the Earth, I did not speak the words, unless I was moved, by the Spirit of God, to do so; for My mission was: to bring the message of God; to save those wandering in darkness; to be The Light; to show The Way. I was sent: to be The New Way; to speak of love; to speak of charity; to touch the poor; to touch the sick; to touch those who were downtrodden; and, to lift-them-up, with the words of God! My time upon Earth was brief; but one thing I did speak about is love. God is love! God is the embodiment of love. God is Spirit, filled with love. And it is important to treat the creation of God, with love; for, you cannot know God, without knowing love. You can know God, by following the new command to ‘love one another.’ My brothers and sisters, dissensions, and war, has never been the answer. As soon as the last shot is fired, and the bodies are dragged from the fields, and the smoke clears, and the desolation is seen by all, the side labeled ‘the loser,’ begins to build and rebuild, and the thought of revenge, and retaliation is held within them, until the time is right, and there is another war. Love is the only answer, and The Way it happens is for each of you to have love in your heart; because, if you can imagine an entire city, and then a state, and a country, with everyone focused on having a loving heart, then you can have a brief glimpse of the world: practicing love; practicing understanding, and compassion; choosing to listen, rather than seeking to be heard; listening with the heart; but, since very few are willing to listen with the heart, very few understand each other. No one is listening, everyone is talking, too busy to love, too busy to be compassionate, and understanding.

“Today, I ask you to love! Today, begin creating good! Set the intention, with your thoughts. Let this day be good, as God in Heaven desires it to be good. Be at peace this day, in your creation of good, and let love fill you heart! If you can do this, you are a step closer to knowing God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Free Yourself, Forgive, And Be At Peace

“I AM with you; and when I come to you, I bring you words of wisdom. For those of you who will hear Me, and heed the words of wisdom, there is peace. Fill the days you have left upon Earth with peace, and do not squander your time, because it is limited; and as you stand at the doorway, ready to cross over the threshold, and return Home, you want to be free, and ready. Establish peace within your being now; for I AM with you!

“Another day is upon you, another day to create. Do not be reluctant to rise-up and embrace this day; for if you are hearing these words, or reading these words, your days are numbered. When you grasp the importance, of having ‘a finite time, limited time,’ then you begin to realize, that ‘wasting time,’ is something you do not want to do. Rise-up, and embrace this day, with determination to create the perfect day, and your energy, will be renewed, within The Spirit, of God!

“Do not delay, forgiveness. Do not procrastinate, any longer. There are things that must be addressed. Your health and happiness, depend upon a willingness to address the matters, and issues, which require forgiveness. Sometimes, when you look closer, there is the realization, that there is a silent retaliation when you withhold forgiveness, when you deny love. This seemingly passive reaction to a slight, or a hurt, will go unnoticed; but it is there, and it needs attention, as soon as possible, because it weights you down.

“It is easy to understand how ‘procrastination,’ in the physical world: causes issues with health; manifests in stress; brings divide in relationships, and many other things. You can see, that putting-off doing something which needs doing only delays, and makes more difficult, the task, which addressed, early-on, would have been easily handled. This is easy to see, and most of you, if you stop and reflect for a minute, will recall a time when you did procrastinate, doing something, for so long, that it became like a ball and a chain; and rather than address the task, you just continued, to move slower and slower, as the ball, attached to the chain, attached to you, grew heavier and heavier. So, just as procrastination is, definitely, not a healthy activity in the physical world, it is not a healthy activity in the spiritual realm! Address that, which needs addressing! A sure sign that there is ‘work to do,’ is: are you feeling low, are you feeling out-of-sorts, are you irritable, or are you, and have you, reached the point, where there is anger brewing, just beneath the surface? Stop! Let your intention be known that you are ready to journey back within your being, to address these issues, which have become spiritual balls and chains, because you cannot hold-back forgiveness, without experiencing the result.

“Let this week be the week that you address matters in the physical world, and the spiritual realm. You will be surprised, when you have kicked procrastination to the side, addressed the matters, inside, you will feel better. You will feel freer, because you will have cut the ball and chain, and it will no longer weigh you down. It will be as if you just lost a hundred pounds, or two; and, it will have impact on your daily life, and those around you. Focus on addressing these things that have been put-off. Rise to the occasion, and do the work. Life will be easier. Your heart will be lighter, as will your step. Your song will be sweeter, as will be your love. All these things will come to you, when you stop, and address the issues, cut the ball and chain, and release yourself to freedom. In this freedom, you will be at peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Out Of Fear Into Faith

“I AM with you. I AM with you, all the time! However, there is great celebration, when in quiet you sit, and wait, and then know My Presence with you. I come to you: to give you courage, to show support, to cheer you on, and to touch you, in such a way, that you have no doubt, that your life is not limited, to this brief experience of Earth, at the present time. This brief experience of Earth is to be celebrated, enjoyed. Participate! Actively explore all the wonderful pieces, and parts, of Earth, as it is a creation of God. Do your part while you are there, to make it better; and We will be waiting, when you return Home. This lifetime is an adventure, the reason you left Home, in the first place.

“Fear not for if your hand is placed in the hand of God, and you know God, what should you fear? Fear not! Fear will rob you: of the adventure; of the accomplishment; of achieving the goal; of faith beyond measure; of stories, yet to be told; of being an example; of establishing new frontiers; of telling your children, and grandchildren, stories, through tears of laughter, through sense of accomplishment, through showing them The Way, life is meant to be led.

“A child, standing at the edge of a swimming pool, being prompted to jump into the water by friends, knows fear; and, the child can either push fear aside, and jump into the water, or sit down. Once the child jumps into the water, fear is gone; and play and joy, own the remainder of the day. A child, standing at the edge of the ocean, at the beach, knows fear; but once, they take the hand of a parent, or a friend, and edge their way into the waves, they set fear aside, and riding the waves, on an innertube, or a float, owns the rest of the day. Any person afraid of flying, stands, before boarding, and they know fear; but when they set fear aside, and board the plane, and across the country, do ride, to see an aging grandparent, or a friend, they set fear aside, and reunion, and laughter, and tears, own the rest of the day. For one who is afraid of going-out into the dark, they stand at the doorway, in the light of their house, or apartment, and they know fear; but when they set fear aside, and walk-out into the night, they look up, at a sky filled with stars, and seeing the light, in the darkness, owns, the rest of the night.

“It is this way with every fear; for fear is a temptation: to keep you in place; to stop your exploration; to deny you achievement, and accomplishment. Faith, and knowledge, and trust, give you the courage to set fear aside; and to live life upon Earth to the fullest, you must, refuse to be a victim of fear, because it will deny you much; and when you come to the end of your life, you will have a litany, a list of things, you did not do, because you gave into the fear, robbing-you, of one of the greatest adventures ever.

“Let faith, lead you, where fear will not allow you to go. Throw open the door, and walk-out into the night; board that plane, unafraid of flight; run into the waves; and, splash in the pool; let joy be the result. Enjoy your lifetime upon Earth, and do not permit the villain of fear to make you a victim.

“This week, take courage, I will be your strength. Step-out, and live without fear!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Remember You Are A Member Of The Family Of God

“I AM with you. And, no matter what is going on around you, if you will find a way to be still, and, quiet within, you will hear Me, and feel Me, and begin to understand, and know, My message to thee; for often, in times of trial or tribulation, you want to do one thing in retaliation; yet, My voice whispers to you, that is not The Way. My voice encourages you to eat of the harvest of love. I planted it long ago: so, you would find it easily; so, you might eat; and find the courage required to be light, in the face of darkness: without concern of retaliation; without frustration; within the illumination of wisdom, the wisdom of eternity.

“A baby does not contribute to the family bank account. A baby does not go out and gather food, or sweep the floor, or do anything to add to: the lauder, the store room, the pocketbook, or the dwelling. The baby exists; and it is sheer love; and through the love of the family, the baby is fed, nurtured, held, kissed, cleaned, and dressed. And within this environment of unselfish, and unconditional, love, the baby begins to grow; and as a toddler, a small child, the baby still is nourished, through the fruits, and the labors, of others.

“The baby eats, and drinks, and grows. The baby accepts the gifts, and begins to use the gifts, even as a small child: beginning to speak; beginning to respond with hugs, and kisses; beginning to respond with ‘thank you;’ beginning to respond with picking-up small things; putting toys away; being a light of love; being a gift, nurtured. And all the gifts, held within that family, are bestowed upon the child, and the child matures, and grows, and soon is faced with a decision. Do I remain within the garden of love, or do I reject the gifts, I have been given?

“This scenario plays-out in your spiritual family, as well. You exist; and if you are breathing right now, you will exist forever. The temporary body will fall away; but your real body, your spiritual body, is with you to stay forever. Your spiritual body will not change. It is a gift you have been given; but you can embellish your spiritual body, by using the gifts bestowed upon you, by your Eternal Family. And as you use the gifts, you are fed manna from Heaven, and you begin to grow. Soon, you are animating your physical body in such a way, that you are a light unto the world. You are using the gifts bestowed upon you, by your spiritual family: to show The Way; to be the light; to understand the gift of love, and how to pass it on; to be the example of turning your cheek; to reject retaliation, in any way; to be a safe harbor, a quiet port in the storm; to move over the Earth leaving every place better than you found it; to understand, who you really are, and what you want to do with the time that has been given to you, for Earth purposes.

“And like your physical family, as you mature, and grow, you also have the right to reject the gifts bestowed upon you by your spiritual family. You can turn from the gifts of light, and select from another category altogether; but when you are playing with the gifts of shadow, and darkness, you find there is something missing: your heart is not full; your hands are heavy; you are tired, frequently; the food is not sustaining, it is draining. And somehow, you find the way to make your path the road back to the light, and you begin the journey. Almost overnight you feel the change, because you are returning to your family, the place from whence you came. The children of God upon Earth are all fed manna from Heaven; but the children of God upon Earth can refuse to eat, of the manna of Heaven.

“It is time to check, and see, what is fueling thee. You have done nothing to gain the gifts, which are bestowed upon thee, by your spiritual family. There is a bountiful harvest, and you did not have to plant the seed, or pull a weed, or harvest the food from the garden. All you have to do is to accept the gifts, that are given unto you, and grow in the light of God! And as you grow: maturity comes, wisdom comes, and you walk, you have strength, you have courage, you have wisdom, you have light! All of these things are yours; it is your birthright!

“The arms of God open wide, call you forward, and gather you inside this great love, unconditional, flowing forever, just as a river, delivering food, nourishment, and light. Remember, you are a member of The Family of God, outright!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Know The Power Of The Spirit, Within

“I AM with you; and, when you take the time to set yourself aside to be still and quiet, it is easier for you to ‘recognize,’ The Voice, The Whisper, the knocking at your door.

“You know the voice, of your mother and your father, of your sisters and your brothers, of the ones you love. It is difficult to fool you, to pretend to be the voice of your mother, for you know, your mother. It is difficult to fool you, pretending to be the voice of your father, for you know the voice of your father: the inflection; the pauses; the fluidity of the sentence as it falls from his lips; the mannerisms; all of the ways he communicates with you, you know these things.

“Therefore, when you sit with Me, for a bit each day, you begin to know Me, not because I announce who I AM, but because you know, The Voice, you know the tone and the vibration, moves from Me, into you, touches your spirit, and sparks the knowing.

“I AM here with you today in spirit! And I remain with you! And for those who will awaken, and take My hand, the tone of The Whisper will guide you to rise, and we will walk together, over the sands of time, in the present, piece of eternity, as we are one!

“Almost everything important, which is done, by the children of God upon Earth, is done within, your being, first. Falling in love with someone is done within, first. You create peace within, first. You are prayerful, sending messages Home to The Dimension of Perfection, in silent meditation and prayer, reflecting on that which is important to you, from within. I would like for you to sit with that thought, for a while; for, it is often the case, that those of you upon Earth forget that the body you are wearing is transient. It will fall from you, when it is no longer the appropriate attire, when the mission is accomplished, when you, at last, can return Home, free, of the body of Earth.

“The spirit of God, that is at the core of your being, that is your vital piece of spiritual DNA, is the life source, and it is eternal. It is what activates, and animates, the body for a while, the physical body, because, after all, it is only there, temporarily, to serve a purpose, and then you move on. The body, the physical body, is not you. It is a garment. It is necessary gear to operate upon the Earth, and each body is specifically, created, to assist you in accomplishing your goal. It will help you learn the lessons that are necessary for you to learn, and it will help you reach plateaus of knowing, and understanding, which will serve you well eternally.

“Most of you, enjoy looking-up into the sky, and seeing what you refer to as a hot-air balloon. Oh, they are usually very colorful. They are big, and they rise-up into the air, and float, and move with the birds. But before the fire, before the flame, before the air fills the balloon, it lies limp, and lifeless, on the ground, and the basket sits, waiting, for the adventure. It takes the flame, the fire, the desire to climb higher into the sky, and move over the Earth, propelled by The Wind.

“The sailboat, bobbing up and down, on the still waters of an open sea, sits just where it is, with sails up, until out of nowhere, comes a burst of wind, and The Wind catches the sail, and the sailboat takes off. Where once it was lifeless, sitting, going nowhere, its sails are caught in The Wind, taking it anywhere.

“Spend some time this week contemplating, and reflecting, on The Power of The Spirit, within you, that brings you life, The Power of The Spirit, within you, that fills you, so that you might rise-up: like the giant balloon, soaring into the sky; so that you might reach your destination, like the sailboat, with its sails filled with The Wind. Know the limitation of the hot-air balloon, know the limitation of the sailboat itself, and know the limitation of your body as well; and look within; for The Source of The Power is The Wind, beneath your sails, within your body.

“This week spend some time coming to understand, the powerful you, that is ignored most of the time, because, the eternal you is fueled, by The Power of God, The Breath of God, carried on The Wind!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Rest Your Body, And Nourish Your Soul, And Feel Your Spirit Soar

“I AM with you; and while I now, reside fully, in The Dimension of Perfection, it is still possible for Me to move, from dimension to dimension, or to whisper, and have that whisper settle upon you! Communication does not stop. The goal is to assist you in reaching the ultimate, The Dimension of Perfection. I reach-out and call to you and say, it is not impossible to do, the only requirement is that you desire to reach perfection, and make that your goal! With every step, toward perfection, the piece of your lifetime, your eternal lifetime, that you are now experiencing, is greatly enhanced, and you have the ability to rise-above every situation which would knock you down, or bring you down. This I promise you. I call you to come The Way is set before you, set your foot upon it, and come!

“When I walked upon the Earth, over two thousand years ago, I sought to gather those around Me, who would hear the words I did bring to Earth, so that they too might go-out, and spread the word, because it was time, for this new teaching. The word was love! The word is still love, and all things held in that energy: kindness, and compassion; understanding other people; being at peace, in the love of God. When you are at peace, held within the love of God, it is easier to walk through chaos, and confusion: listening, to the sounds of The Dimension of Perfection; listening, to the encouragement, from The Eternal Parent; listening, to the song of Heaven; listening, so that perfection might drown-out imperfection.

“Dealing with ‘the ways of the world,’ has never been particularly easy. It is made easier when you know The Way; however, the day to day tasks, association with people, and a myriad of other ‘things,’ can weigh you down. And when you become tired, your body grows weary, and you stumble, sometimes physically, sometimes spiritually. When weariness sets in, it is easier: to be of foul temper; to be quick to chide; to lose your balance; and feel turmoil, grow, inside. It is important to stop, and take yourself to a secluded place, a deserted place, a quiet place, so that you might recline, and rest, and connect with your Eternal Parent, and hear the gentle words you need to hear, so that when you rise-up, to return to the world, you are ready, you are in balance, physically, and spiritually.

“When I walked upon the Earth, to bring the message of love, I did stop, very often, especially, after working with large numbers of people. I removed Myself from the ways of the world, and went-out: into the gardens, and the woodlands, and the deserts, on the seas, to set Myself aside, to recline, and to pray, and to rest, to connect with Home, until I was ready to rise-up, and assume walking The Way. I encouraged those who followed Me to do the same, and you can find places, in The Book, where I do say so. There was one particular time when I had sent them out to spread the word of love, to heal, to care for, to love those who came to them, and when they came back, I said, ‘Take yourselves to a deserted place, and rest.’

“This is the message I bring to you today, for there are some of you have picked-up the cloak, the ministry of ‘taking care of others.’ There are some of you who go-out into the world every day to go to your places of work, or study, and your ministry might be different, but it is still to be kind, considerate, and loving to those around you; and, it is impossible to do so, if you are tired, or weary.

“Take the time to rest yourself. Stop what you are doing until your body is in balance. Pray for guidance, and when you rise-up: your step will be lighter; your heart will sing; and, you will be ready to go-out, and to bring to those of Earth, the message of love, with a smile on your face.

“So, as I told those who followed Me, thousands of years ago, I say to each of you today, take yourself to a place that is quiet, and still, and tranquil, and rest your body, and nourish your soul, and feel your spirit soar!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Be The Island Of Peace In The Sea Of Turmoil

“I AM with you. I AM in you. We are all one. And while this oneness might evade your comprehension, while you are upon the Earth, there are times when ‘the glimpse,’ is revealed, just a glimpse; yet, the glimpse, provides a seed, and the knowing begins to grow; and, while clarification is not complete, the heart accepts the possibility that it is so. This, My brothers and sisters, is faith! Faith is the culmination of walking with the possibility.

“The beautiful planet Earth, is experiencing a time of turmoil, in many places. Because of the advancement of your technology, and communication via satellites and such, even the places, untouched, by the turmoil, and chaos, see it, and know it; and therefore, experience the energy of it, because you cannot see turmoil, and chaos, and not feel, and know, the energy produced therein. Therefore, due to your technology, it is possible for most human beings upon the Earth to see, and know the energy: of chaos, and confusion; of turmoil, and hatred; of aggression, and retaliation.

“Many of you will desire to change the present situation, to bring back a gentler time, when most upon the Earth were interested in conducting their own daily affairs, completing their tasks, enjoying their families, and recreational time with friends, and neighbors.

“It is interesting, but you will find it true, that the more you listen to this position, or that position, when it comes to turmoil, arguments, discord, you are drawn, deeper and deeper, into the energy, of turmoil, and chaos. It is difficult to avoid; and in this way, the net of turmoil, and chaos, ensnares many, who would otherwise be innocent, and ignorant, of what was going-on, far from them.

“I will tell you today what you can do, each individual upon Earth, to make a difference; and when I speak it, when I relate this Way, of making a difference, you will be tempted to think that it could not possibly be enough; but, I assure you, it will have a profound impact on the energies rumbling, and tumbling, shaking the Earth like mighty thunder all around you.

“Be the island of peace in a sea of turmoil! This sounds lovely; but it is quite challenging to accomplish, because it is ever so tempting to take sides, or to get caught-up in the anger, and aggression, when the most important thing you can do is to be still, and quiet. Send your efforts inward, and calm the spirit, and appease the soul, with peace!

“Earth experiences many emotions and many times, many tribulations. There are times of war. There are times of mistrust. There are paths into war, just as there are pathways to peace; and there are precious times of peace.

“I would like you to take part in an experiment...

“I will say to you, imagine, war! Close your eyes, and see, war. And while you might not hear the sounds, they are deafening. There are cries. There is definite chaos. There is smoke. It is the ultimate, result, of anger. It is the fire of hatred unleashed. It is consuming.

“Now, close your eyes again, and envision peace. Some of you will envision a meadow, sunlight, and birds, possibly even a stream. Some of you will see peace from a mountaintop, looking-out over the Earth, as far as your eye can see, beautiful eagles flying, sun setting. Some of you will envision peace, as an ocean, sailing upon the still waters, the sky touching Earth, in all directions, truly appearing as one. Many of you will envision peace, as a small baby, in the arms of a parent. Each of you will have your vision of peace; but not one of you will envision peace, as chaotic, aggressive, or warlike. In fact, saying the word, brings up the memories, or the thoughts, or the creations in your mind, of peace.

“You felt different with each mental exercise; but, I tell you it is possible for an island of peace to be settled right in the midst of war, and aggression. And if one is willing to stand-up, and hold this position of peace, in the sea of turmoil, others will see, and desire to know, peace. And soon, there will be many points of peace, within the thunder of war; and they will grow; and they will merge, and the light of peace will be as one. The light of peace will put down the shadows of war; and without raising a hand, it is done, because creating peace is a creation from within your being.

“The peace you create, within, cannot be assailed, or assaulted, from without. It is your creation.

“Find the courage, and the strength, to rise-up, and be the island of peace, in the sea of turmoil!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Take It One Step At A Time

“I AM with you. Come with Me. Let us walk in the garden, let us speak to each other, let us hear each other; but, let the speaking, and the hearing, be through our hearts, and souls, and spirits, where there is no wrong word, where there is no missed definition, or comprehension, or even understanding; because when you speak silently with your heart, the listening heart embraces the silent words.

“In the sporting arena, there are teams playing, sometimes it is called baseball, or football, or hockey, or soccer; but, these teams competing have a goal; they want to be champion; but, to make the goal, you must begin the season, one game at a time. And, when you achieve a winning season, you then move-on to the championship; and still, this championship is a series of steps, until at last it is complete, the goal is reached, the title claimed.

“It is also the same, in the world of academics. You do not receive a Ph.D., by taking your first step. It is a series of steps, as you pass through each grade, reaching new plateaus, gaining confidence as you go, until you see the goal within reach; and, because it is accomplished, one step at a time, it has depth and meaning, when you reach-out, and realize, ‘This degree is finally mine.’

“And along the way, whether it is a sporting event, or following the courses of the academic world, you very rarely make it through without making a mistake, without injury, without looking at a failing grade. But those who reach their goal do not stop, do not quit, because of the injury, because of one failing grade. Somewhere there is this determination, which rises-up, and calls you forward; and what you learn from the injury, or the failing grade, propels you to a new plateau.

“My brothers, and sisters, it is the same with your spiritual life! Your spiritual life is your eternal life! If you are breathing air, right now, upon the Earth, you are going to live for eternity. There is no way around it, because you are an eternal spirit child of God. The existence you know now, is but a piece of your eternal life, taking one step at a time, one experience at a time; and, all of it, flowing into, and through, you, accumulating in such a way, that you become an eternal being, with great wisdom, because of that which you know: through experience; through playing the game on the field; through injury; through walking through each classroom, and continuing progress, even when faced with a failing grade. You know these things, not because someone told you, not because someone wrote it down and you read it; but, because you lived it.

“I tell you all of this, so that you might put anxiety aside. Set aside also, the feeling that you must do it all, right now, pack everything neatly, and tightly, into a little bag, because this is not the way it is done. All you have to do is take one step at a time. And you can set the goal. Do not make it lofty. Do not try to climb the entire mountain in one day. Pick a day for kindness, pick a day for charity, pick a day for compassion, pick a day for forgiveness; and, let that one step, be your intention for the day. It will change the course of your life upon Earth, because it will have purpose, and each step will lead to something else, and something else, and something else, until you realize, you did it: you are wearing the ring of a champion; you are carrying a degree of one who 'knows.' My brothers, and sisters, it is not difficult. I encourage you to be simple, and take one step at a time! You have forever!"

Jesus Teaches On:

The Gift Of Freewill, Use It Wisely

“I AM with you. It is a glorious thing, to be able to whisper, ‘I AM with you,’ and see, that you hear and know and feel My presence, with you. It is something, more of a mystery that, unless it is revealed to you before, you will not understand until you walk through the door, and return Home. Then, you will see and remember all things, and you will declare it, ‘wonderful!’ But for now, I come to you in spirit, and pray, that you embrace, and accept, that which I say unto you, because I AM whispering, speaking, reaching: to make The Way a bit easier; to sweep away the difficulties; to go before you, so that you do not stumble, or fall. I will pick-up every rock and pebble ahead of you, and walk along side of you, and you will see, and know, so that you remember the experience of living, for a while, upon the Earth!

“The wisdom of God has no end, it encompasses all things! The wisdom of God rings-out, through all time. In a small speck, resting within the wisdom of God, was the understanding, that the gift of freewill should be assigned to all given birth, to experience life; because, to experience life, even eternal life, would be dull, and sometimes laborious, when existing meant, doing exactly what you were told to do, no matter what.

“Freewill is a gift. It is a gift of respect, and you might want to pause, just a moment, to understand, the gift from God, to you, was given to you, out of respect for you, and all the things you could do... would do... and that would exist through you. But to do it of your own freewill, would make it miraculous, would make it a gift worth giving back to the God of Creation, the creation of all things, including you. When you stop to think about it, there is very little you can do, or give The God Creator of All Things. In fact, the wisdom of God rings-out, with great joy, truly knowing that the only thing the children could bring, would be a gift, created out of the gift of respect, given unto them. Therefore, you have the gift of freewill! Ah, but what do you do with that gift. Whatever you do with that gift, is the gift you give to God. ‘Here, God. This is what I did.’ There is no more perfect gift; but, in knowing this, and realizing this, there is one thing you must remember. Enjoy your gift of freewill, and use it wisely; but, do not deny the others around you, the opportunity to use their freewill. Do not strip them of the opportunity to create a gift for God, that comes directly from them.

“Ponder this thought this week. Understand the importance of the gift, and do not attempt to interfere, and step between the gift given by God to another. Take care of your own gift. Rise-up today with the intention of using your gift of freewill to create a beautiful gift for God. So, what will you do, what will you create? Out of respect for you, God has given this to you. Use it wisely.”

Jesus Teaches On:
You Can Do Everything I Did; Believe, Rise-up And Do

“I AM with you. It is cause for celebration! Your faith is cause for celebration. Your trust is cause for celebration. We can communicate, and we do; and this communication is cause for celebration! There is much to celebrate: you are alive; and you will live for eternity; and eternal life is cause for celebration!

“Many of you are familiar with the Bible, with the words, held within its pages, within The Book. There is a place, where a statement I made is recorded. Some of you might be familiar with it. I AM not quoting exactly, I AM merely giving you something to reflect upon this week. So, I ask you a question. Do you believe that I did say, that you can do everything I AM doing, and even greater things? If you believe this to be true, then there is much for you to do!

“You have the ability, within your being, to do as I did, to do as I do; and, you have the ability, to do even greater things. But you must take ability, another step. You must practice, what you are able to do, until you can do it, and do it, with confidence!

“I did say the words, because the words are true! If you believe, then it is time for you to rise-up, and do. You can do everything I did while I was upon the Earth, and you can do even greater things. Believe, and do!”

Jesus Teaches On:
God's Will And The Eternal Symphony

“I AM with you. Even when I AM near to you, some find it easier to turn away, to face the days, alone; yet, it is not necessary to face anything alone. Reality is simple. The world created by man oftentimes seems complex, and difficult to understand; yet, I reach-out My hand, and say simply, I AM with you!

“If you are hearing My words, or reading My words, today, you are upon Earth, you are on assignment, away from Home Base; and, those of us existing more completely in The Dimension of Perfection, are watching over you, sometimes guiding you, always seeing you, knowing your struggles, and your opportunities, seeing you shine with accomplishment and shimmer with joy, and sometimes, sitting in confusion. Yet, I assure you, as you make your way through the great adventure on Earth, you are not alone! In fact, the entire process has been ‘staged.’ There is a plan; it is often referred to as ‘The Divine Plan,’ and sometimes the words grouped together to describe this are ‘The Will of God.’ Today, I want to give a tender touch to the words, The Will of God; because I find that some of you, upon hearing the words The Will of God, take a bit of offense; because you hear it so often, the image you construct is of mighty figure, demanding, that all of the children do exactly as God says for them do. In total, this is an incorrect perception. The Will of God is The Divine Plan. So, I ask you from now on to think of it in this way.

“There is a composer, and the composer is inspired by something around him, or her, by the people around, by the events around, by the desires, energies, and flow, and feelings, to create a masterpiece of music. And when it is done, there are those gathered to bring this creation to life, and each picks-up an instrument to play their piece. There are cellos and violins and oboes and flutes and pianos and drums, all types of percussion instruments, and trumpets and horns; everyone willing to do their part, to bring the great symphony to life, for all to see, and live, and enjoy. And when everyone is in place, and have practiced, and practiced, and can play their part with grace, and beauty, the conductor steps-out of the shadows, into the light, and is revealed, standing before those who are willing to bring the symphony to life. There is a tap on the podium, and then, it begins. The arms of the director move this way, and that, making sure, that all the pieces flow, as beautifully as they are meant to be, as they are meant to flow. And when it is complete, and the last note resounds through the corridors of all that is there: the buildings, the Earth, the valleys, the oceans, the woods, the mountains, there is silence, awe, and wonder, because they have come together, creating The Symphony of Eternity.

“This is how I want you to see ‘The Will of God,’ from now on, not as God demanding this or that, but bringing to life the great creation, inspired by All That Is; and knowing you are a vital piece of this symphony of eternity, of All That Is. You join company with others who are willing to play their part. Standing alone your part might be unique, and beautiful; but, when you join together, in company, with those who are willing to follow the score, there is so much more. There is the ride up the chord, and the gentle slide down.

“See your life, and all that is unfolding around you, as The Eternal Symphony. See your brothers, and sisters, as members of the company, enlisted to play their part, to bring the symphony to life. The tones, and the vibrations of all of the instruments will flow through The Corridors of All Time, playing, and repeating, and echoing The Symphony, that is yours! No one is left-out! Each one of you has an instrument, a purpose, a place; and, without your notes, in just the right space, The Symphony is not complete!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Go Forth In Kindness

“I AM with you. I AM with you as you begin this new day! I AM with you to share, that which I know, to be true; so that you might use it; and in a better way, improve all that you do. I AM with you, and watch each step. I AM with you, and bless each step. I AM with you to encourage you, as you find the path, as you make your way.

“Many of you are struggling: with forgiveness; with forgiving all things; with the concept of judgment, and coming to understand how you see, and know, but do not judge. Those of you, who are struggling with forgiveness, and judgment, hold worthy goals, and ideas, and desires; however, sometimes, no matter how hard you try, and how much strength you put into the project, it does not seem to work; and when it does work, it seems exhausting, because you put every effort into it; and you begin to wonder, when you will be able to do such things, with ease, and confidence.

“I have a suggestion, which I think will work; and, ultimately, work miraculously, for you. For this coming week, set aside the struggles, with forgiveness and judgment, set your ego aside, and pick-up the banner of kindness. For one week forget everything else except being kind! When you are kind, you remain silent to others' flaws and faults and mistakes. When you are kind, you do not mention the errors of someone else's ways. You are merely kind; you are compassionate, and understanding.

“This practice, in kindness, will lead you toward your goal, regarding forgiveness and judgment. In most cases, what has happened is: you missed a step, you are a little off balance, you are not steady. therefore, it is difficult to walk in the ways of forgiveness, or run over the Earth, without judgment. It is often necessary: to ‘back-up,’ to ‘take a second look,’ to ‘regain your stance,’ to ‘discard old habits,’ and then, move along The Way, restored, and more confident. This week, of working in the fields of kindness, will do exactly that. In fact, after one day, you will become more balanced, you will be steady, and confident, that you can be kind. Even when someone pulls in front of you, when you are driving along the highway, be kind. Let them go, and let it be. When you arrive at your work place, in the morning, and one of your co-workers is in a bad mood, let it go, let it be. Just be kind to all who surround thee, and in this way, you will be kind to yourself. Be kind!

“So, the goal is set, for those who choose, to rise-up, and practice kindness: so that you might restore your balance; so that you might be steady in your gait; so that you might be confident in The Way, you have chosen.

“I AM with you let us go forth this week in kindness!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Way To Attain Peace

“I AM with you. I AM with you, celebrating, with great joy, eternity; and all the aspects of eternity, living forever. What a journey it is, because, when you live eternally, the journey is complete, within you, every day, in every way; and, from one time to another, you move, with confidence, in the light, and the glory, of God, and All That Is. I AM with you!

“When you realize, living in eternity, there comes with it a peace, the presence of peace, because you know.

“I wish to share with you, a lesson; so that you will grow, this week, in an understanding, of how to attain peace.

“Spiritually, peace is attained through forgiveness, and love. Spiritually, peace is attained by refusing to carry the burden of ill-feelings, and grudges of things that occurred in the past. Spiritually, peace is attained, when you are willing to forgive, all things, when a name, or a situation, occurs to you, and you bless, with an eager heart. You will not know peace, spiritually, until you forgive every grain of sand in the wound. You will be healed, through forgiveness; therefore, that is The Way to attain peace, spiritually. Set your ego aside, and forgive!

“The Way to attain peace, in the world created by man, is to take care of business, as it appears, every day. Procrastination is the thief of peace. You cannot be at peace, if there is a task, or a chore, looming over you. The student cannot be at peace, when they know, an important paper is due, and they put it off, and put it off, until the night before; and, the paper, they could have written, well, turns into a hurried piece of something that ‘will do,’ and for months they have been in a place of worry, and concern. Now, this is a good example. When you know something needs tending to, when something needs your attention, do it. This is how you attain peace, in your physical world, by doing what comes to you, daily.

“Do not let procrastination steal your peace. Tend to business. Take care of the daily events, and chores. Once you have mastered this, and it does take diligence, you will be at peace. You will not be worried about what needs to be done, or better said, what could have been done, days before.

“When you are walking in a state of peace, physically and spiritually, you see the world differently! You are not troubled, or worried, or concerned. These two go hand-in-hand: tend to business in the world of man; and, tend to forgiveness, spiritually.

“‘Forgiveness,’ is ‘a child of love.’ Spend this week: freeing yourselves of the burdens; forgiving, and tending to business; seeking peace in all states.

“Peace is worthy of work, and sacrifice.

“Seek peace, and you will, truly, find it!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Love, Your Way Back To The Garden

“I AM with you. This is not merely a greeting, this is a statement of truth; and it can be your reality, if you find you are able to accept that I AM with you, and embrace this truth. It might be difficult to comprehend totally, while you are existing temporarily, in a third dimensional world, seeing only glimpses of other dimensions, occasionally; however, I can assure you, it is true. The more you can accept on faith, the closer you come to understanding The Dimension of Perfection; and, until you return, this is as close as it can be to you, until you have the faith to lift your eyes, and see beyond the veil, the promise of a new day!

“There is great comfort, for most, in having a set of rules, or regulations, set into place: so that you know boundaries, so that you understand that there is only so far you should go with this, or say with that, or think quietly. These types of rules, let you know where you stand, and what you are supposed to do, in a society, which intends to move smoothly, and without interruption; and the society can be a school, or a city, or a church, or a family, or a club; but, these rules, you need to accept, if you are going to live within the community, whatever it might be, without stepping out of line. Well, the beauty, of The Dimension of Perfection, is there is no need for a rule, or a regulation. When everything is operating in love, and light, and peace, individual beings, inhabiting this sacred space, move at a pace, that is almost still; yet there is movement, from place to place. There is no need to jostle each other, or push, or shove. The difference, between the dimensions, and how every individual being exists, is love!

“The Divine Plan was that there would be many who would accept the message of love, and thus actively carry-out the message of love, spreading this healing energy, wherever they went; and, in this way, and in this way only, they would be preparing The Garden to merge with The Heavens. This was one of the first steps back to The Garden; or rather, it was intended to be. For any who will look, and see, the energy of love, moving, there is almost an instant understanding. Order, follows love; but, it is The Order of the heavenly dimension.

“The message of love, just did not take; therefore, the journey back to The Garden, is taking longer. I tell you today, that the intention is for Earth and Heaven to flow together, as it is together! You are in Heaven right now; but, you cannot move forward, enjoying the full citizenship, actively, of Heaven, until you accept, and embrace, the message of love. When you live in love, you have glimpses of this dimension. It is the pathway back. It was My honor to bring the message of love; therefore, with the love of God, flowing, through Me, onto the Earth plane, I AM showing you The Way back, to The Garden.

“My brothers, and sisters, it is that simple! While others around you might not see it, or even understand it, if you will incorporate this message, this first step, into your daily lives, you will begin to comprehend Heaven, to understand your Home, and to make your way through the veil, and into the light. You cannot read your way back, you cannot study your way back, you cannot memorize your way back; but, you can love your way back. That was the message then, and it remains the message today. First, there is love!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Freeing Yourself From Anger, And Retaliation

“I AM with you. I AM with you to encourage you: to work within the spiritual realm; to free yourself; to heal yourself; so that you might be whole, and glow, as you walk over the Earth!

“It might interest you to know, that a healthy body depends, on a healthy spirit! A healthy body, depends, on a clean house! Unless you have attained the position, of being ‘clean,’ of cleansing yourself to such a degree, that no matter what is said, or done, to you, or about others, there is no negative reaction, only the positive gift of blessing.

“Do not smirk, or nod your head, and think that this is not possible. You can achieve ‘perfection,’ in all you do; but this will come only after you have cleaned the inner-corridors, and hallways. This will come, only after you have gone within, searching (for) the seeds of anger, and retaliation.

“When anger erupts, it is a force to be reckoned with. The burn begins, and then it grows, sometimes in rapid succession, until it blows from the top, like a volcano. If you have ever looked into the face of one who is becoming angry, you will see their face change, and contort; you will see it often become red; and you certainly will ‘feel,’ the explosion; for, when you are in close proximity, it is difficult to avoid the ash, the burning sensation, which is flowing down from the eruption.

“It might surprise you to learn, that this type of anger, that comes from the source, and rumbles through the body, before it explodes, can be totally cleansed, stripped, cast-away; because anger, such as this, has a source. For those who are willing to go in search of the source, of the anger, there is reward. For those who are willing to go in search of the source, recognize it, and release it, there is peace. It is worth the effort; and even ‘as you are doing the work,’ you will recognize that these eruptions, are less, and less frequent. It is because the source is dormant. Many stop at this point; but, I encourage you to keep going; because unless it is cast from you, there is always the possibility of an eruption. The eruption is harmful to the body, and harmful to those around you.

“Live, and do no harm! Live in peace; and encourage others to do so. Do not seek to use the tool of retaliation; for, it too has a source, and that source can be found, if you go seeking within. It is not so much a mystery, or a secret, as it is a task, for those who are willing to make the journey, set the ego aside, see the source, know the source, bless the source, and release the source. Even at that point there is great reward. You feel it leaving, and it is as slipping into a bed, after a long day. You are free. It is complete, accomplished, and done.

“You have almost made the mark to half-way through this year, and this is what has prompted this talk about freeing yourself totally, and forever, of the destructive forces of anger, and retaliation. There is 'no righteous anger.' There is no blessed retaliation. From these energies comes disease, exhaustion, shadow, and darkness.

“For any who are willing, I promise, I will go with you, I will make the trip within, with you; and, together, we will find the source, and know exactly what to do; and, in the end, you will be free, happy, and healthier than you have ever been before, because they will be cast from you, you will be free!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Forgive All Things, Heal All Wounds, And Be Free

“I AM with you.

“Some will deny this, outright. Some will ‘doubt this.’ Some will begin to believe, yet still question. Some... will accept!

“Still, I come: to those who do not believe, to those who doubt, to those who question, and to those who accept. It is the same. It is the same, because, the truth remains the same. A cup of water is the same. It will provide the same: for those who think it is impure; to those who question the safety of drinking; to those who trust, and know, the water is good! The perception lies, in the thoughts, in the mind, of the one, holding the cup.

“See a cup before you. See it filled with water. See the water, catching the light of a new day, holding within the sight of the water, the promise to quench your thirst. For the one who ‘knows,’ from whence the water was drawn, the decision to drink from the cup is easy. ‘It came from the well of hope, I shall drink of it.’ ‘It came from the hand of God, and I shall drink, deeply, of it.’ ‘It came from the valley of promised fortune, and I shall drink of it.’ When you know from whence the water came, the taste is sweet, and true, and you are confident, in what you do.

“Doubt, hesitation, concern, anxiety and worry, these, energies are real, and they can be associated, with each of your encounters during a day. Have you ever wondered why this is so?

“Do you doubt, because someone spoke words to you, planting the ‘seeds of doubt,’ perhaps in your childhood? Do hold concern, about the action of others, or your own in response; because, of a story, or a relationship, regarding something that happened years ago, perhaps even in another generation, perhaps even in another country? Have you ever sat to think where these thoughts were created? Have you ever thought, what your life would be like, with doubt, and worry and concern and anxiety stripped from you? I can tell you. It would be like a child, running across a meadow, still damp with the dew, of the evening, without concern, with great joy!

“There is an elixir: that will free you from doubt and worry and concern, from mistrust; that will free you from the teachings, and the dogmas of the past. These things, that were ‘perceived,’ or ‘perpetrated,’ generations ago, live within you. Just as your blood holds DNA, your body, holds the DNA of feelings! It is, as if, you can put into perspective why a little boy, who never knew his great-uncle, speaks the same way, and has the same mannerisms. This type of thing is passed from generation to generation; but so, are the seeds of doubt, and mistrust, and worry and concern and anxiety. So, how do we get to a point where each one can pick-up the cup, and drink from it freely, knowing from whence it came, without doubt? You begin with forgiveness!

“You will find it necessary to forgive the smallest slight, or the grandest fight, or the family stories told, about why ‘we’ do not like ‘them,’ what ‘they’ did to ‘us.’ If you search the corridors of your inner-being, using ‘the candle of truth,’ to illuminate your inner-walls, you will find the source of doubt, and worry, and concern, especially when it comes to your relationships, and how you greet and meet, and interact, with those you encounter during the day.

“When you are willing to forgive, do not let the act of forgiveness stop there. Take more time. Why is forgiveness necessary in the first place? What happened? You will begin to understand that the first forgiveness opens the door; then if you are willing, you step-over the threshold, and look for more; because every time you participate in the practice, and the act, of forgiveness, you are eliminating a seed of doubt, or mistrust, or worry, or concern. When you are willing to sit for hours, in the process of forgiving, you are creating an environment in which these seeds wither; and, you are not the only beneficiary. Your concentration on forgiveness: heals you, heals your family, heals all who are participating; and, I use the present ‘are participating,’ relating to the past, to past generations, where the seeds were picked-up, and planted, deep within the bodies, of those who were in conflict, or denial.

“Take some time this week to ponder the cup of water, the act of forgiveness, the restoration of health, happiness, and joy! Be at peace as you do this, and know, why you are doing it. The act of forgiveness will heal all wounds. Be at peace My brothers, and sisters, and go forth, forgiving all things!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Rise-up The Wind Is Calling To You

“I AM with you. What a glorious day! What a magnificent way, to come together, again! When you are walking in a garden, I can be there by your side. When you are sitting next to a river, I too, can sit there with you. When you are driving a car, or packing a lunch, no matter what you are doing, invite Me to spend that time with you, and you will be amazed, at all you can do, when we are together, talking.

“Today, I wish to give you words of encouragement.

“Many of you are feeling ‘a call,’ noticing a difference, remembering, certain words, you uttered a long time ago. Things are changing. There is a wind blowing over the Earth; it is the breath of The Holy Spirit of God; and, if you feel it, or if you hear it, then rise-up, and follow it; for, it is tapping you on the shoulder, asking you to come.

“Some of you might be given a list of things to do, which seem relatively easy. Some of you might feel the calling to do something a little more challenging. Do not turn from it; for, if you have been called, and you feel The Spirit moving you, then, really, all you need to do is say, ‘Yes, I will do it,’ because the hand of God, will take you through it; and you will be amazed to see, what is accomplished.

“Do not hesitate. Do not doubt. The winds of change are moving, and they are moving you; but what needs to be done, can only be done, by the one sent to do it, and that, My brothers, and that, My sisters is you!

“Be at peace this day, and feel The Wind. Recognize the gentle caress of a breeze on your cheek. Feel a stirring within, and then begin to recognize that ‘Wisdom,’ is growing, within you: that you care, when once you did not; that you are willing to share, when once you were not; that you are so willing to reach-out and help, when before you would have run.

“This ‘Knowing,’ that is coming to you is the calling, it is calling those who are ready to rise-up to do. Rise-up, The Wind is calling to you!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Seeing The Unseen

“I AM with you. Push ‘the curtains of doubt,’ aside; and be willing to open to the possibility, that I AM, near to you! You hear My whisper; and, in the listening, you know The Way; and, when circumstances surround you, tempting to sway your position, you recall the words, you remember. The Way!

“It is very easy, to look and see, material objects. It is easy to look and see a chair, recognize the chair, and know, what it is doing there. It is easy: to see a car, to see a building, to see clothing. It is easy to see, the smile on the face of a friend, or a family member. These things you recognize, because they are pieces, and part of the material world.

“Today, I ask you to: take some time to look around you; open, your heart, to the possibility of seeing the unseen; and you will begin to recognize: love, peace, forgiveness, generosity, compassion, and many other, gifts, which fill the unseen realm! You will recognize them, as you see it. The ‘it,’ can be an exchange between friends, or an encounter of total strangers. You will see it, in the interaction between parents and children, and family members, of all description.

“The gifts of the unseen realm, are powerful! And for those who are interested in enhancing their experience upon Earth, it will become quite clear, that your day is made better, when you use kindness, and generosity; the earthly experience is greatly enhanced, by incorporating compassion, and understanding; and, when you taste the sweetness of love, you do not want to be without it!

“The material world and the spiritual world can work together, in the most amazing way, when: you ‘know,’ what you see; when you find, that which you seek; and, in utter amazement, realize, that they are meant to be together!

“Look around you, today. See the tree; but go beyond! Look for more, and you will see ‘the life of the tree,’ as you have never seen it before. Continue this process, all through the day. The boundaries of the material world will slip away, as the hand of God weaves the gifts of ‘The Spirit,’ through the tapestry of Earth! Listen... for the whisper... and you will recognize the words! Accept the guidance... and you will know, The Way!

Jesus Teaches On:

Believe In The Miracle Of Eternal, Abundant, Life

“I AM with you! Oh, what a beautiful miracle it is, that we can speak together and be together, that you can feel My presence, and I can know yours! It is a miracle worth believing, it is a miracle, worth living! And from this sacred relationship, within this fertile ground, new life springs forth, for we are One!

“It is easy, to believe in the miracle of birth, when you see new life, when you hear, the cry of the infant, when you see, the tears on the face of the parents, and there is joy, so immense, that you feel it. It is the miracle of birth, and you believe it, because you see it.

“There are many ways to see, and one of the most astonishing ways to see is through the eyes of faith, believing in something, that is welling-up within you, carrying something sacred within you, and nurturing, it to the point that it springs forth, and all that you are within, is shared with Earth.

“That which you carry, within you, is a seed. The seed cannot sprout, unless it is in fertile soil; for the soil that is drained of nutrients, parched, from lack of water: will not give birth, will not yield fruit, or vegetables, or flowers. The seed must be held in fertile soil, before it grows, before it can be born, before there is life; but, from fertile soil, the seed: sends the shoots, sends the blades of grass, sends the little leaves, sends life; and, it begins to unfold in the light of the sun, and drinks, from the rain, and continues growing. From the seed in the fertile soil, comes the food: to bring joy to your heart, in the sight of flowers, and trees, and grasses; to bring nurturing meals, in the forms of fruits, and vegetables. And held within the fruits, and the vegetables, and the flowers, and the trees, and the grasses are seeds of abundance, which will continue to nourish. The only requirement is the fertile soil.

“You are a garden! You are a garden, of God. You are one of the seeds of God, and from The Eternal Seed there came life! You are a product of that life. You hold the seed of God, within you. For this seed to spring forth, with shoots, and blades, and flowers, and fruits, and vegetables, you must prepare the garden, so the soil is fertile. Begin today. Begin weeding. Begin casting-out the rocks. Use the fingers of your prayers, and thoughts, and blessings, to tend your garden, and then watch it grow; for, I promise you this, as long as your garden is fertile, with faith, and trust, and hope, life will spring forth, for it cannot be stopped. The fertile garden will produce whatever is needed. When you are hungry, there will be food. When you desire to be lifted-up, there will be flowers, there will be trees, and grasses. From your fertile garden, you will receive, all that you need. Know this, and believe it!

“Believe in the miracle of life, eternal life! Believe in the miracle of abundant life, eternal, abundant life!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Do You Believe

“I AM with you. I AM with you. My words are with you; and, when you believe in Me, seek Me, and speak with Me, you come to know Me; and your faith grows, in knowing Me! I will not lead you astray. I do not talk with you to elevate My place with you. I speak with you, so that you might know the truth, be freed of misconceptions and half-truths, and know the ways of God. I will always be with you to guide you, so that you are filled with faith and trust, so that your journey upon Earth, becomes a sacred journey, upon Earth.

“Do you ‘think,’ there is a God; or, do you ‘know,’ there is a God? I tell you, there is a mighty, benevolent, and loving Creator God! Therefore, put your faith, and trust in knowing, there is a God. Believe!

“Do you ‘think,’ God has given you eternal life; or, do you ‘know.’ God has given you eternal life? I tell you, God has given you eternal life! Therefore, put your faith, and trust in knowing, God has given you eternal life. Believe!

“Do you ‘think,’ you are a child of God; or do you ‘know,’ you are a child of God? I tell you, you are a child of God! Therefore, put your faith, and trust in knowing you are a child of God. Believe!

“Do you ‘think,’ God will hear, and answer your prayers; or do you ‘know,’ God will hear, and answer your prayers? I tell you God does hear, and answer your prayers.! Therefore, put your faith, and trust in knowing, God hears, and answers your prayers. Believe!

“Do you ‘think,’ God speaks to you; or do you ‘know,’ God speaks to you? I tell you, God not only speaks to you, but to all children on Earth every day; and further, God desires communication, and conversation with you, and all the children on Earth! Therefore, put your faith, and trust in knowing, God speaks to each of the children on Earth every day, and desires response, and communication. Believe!

“Do you ‘think,’ God will send you signs, to lead you along The Way; or do you ‘know,’ God will send you signs to lead you along The Way? I tell you, God sends you signs to guide you, and lead you along The Way, every day, many times throughout the day! Therefore, put your faith, and trust in knowing, God sends you signs every day, to guide you, and lead you, along The Way. Believe!

“I tell you: there is a God. God has given you eternal life. You are a child of God. God hears, and answers the prayers of the children on Earth. God speaks to the children on Earth every day, and desires response, and communication. God sends you signs to guide you, and lead you along The Way, every day. Know these eternal truths, and believe these eternal truths; because, in so doing, your journey upon Earth becomes a sacred journey upon Earth, and your sacred journey lives on, as footprints upon the sands of Earth, showing The Way, leaving signs for all to see, for all time. Believe!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Do No Harm, With The Words You Say

“I AM with you. I often speak to you. I often speak with you. I often exchange with you. Sometimes our exchange has to do with encouragement and support, reflecting on what is happening around you, and how you can make it through the day, in a most extraordinary way! Sometimes, I bring you words, meant, more as a correction, for the direction, you are taking; so that you might be prompted, back into balance and harmony. My words to you today, are such words; because the farther you stray, the longer it takes to find your way back to the path. So, I call to you, today, and say, ‘Come; hear; sit with Me, and let us be still, together; so that you might rise-up, and walk, in balance, and light, and harmony!’

“Speaking ill, of others: spreading rumors; gossiping; or talking, in half-truths: is an activity, that is rampant, in the world today. It seems as if, very few, will check, the words, they wish to say. Today I encourage you to put forth the effort, to be vigilant, and thoughtful, about the words you speak. If you are going to mention another person’s name, let it be a blessing. If you are going to speak about another person, do not let your words be intended to harm, the reputation, of that individual.

“If your words will not be good, do not speak. When you are tempted to spread stories, or tell tales, or speak ill, in any way, of another, the first thing you do is create a situation in which those listening to you, know, you, as one who will speak (ill) of another. So, at the very beginning of gossip, you have made a statement about yourself, and your willingness to speak ill of others.

“Actively participating in this activity, actually does harm to the one you are speaking with, because now, you have given them information: they were not seeking, they were not wanting, but perhaps will fill their thoughts, for days, until they can no longer hold it, and they repeat, what you said to another. And so the feathers fly! It does not matter, whether it began as truth or lie, once you release the feathers, of the words of others, about others, you cannot gather the feathers back. They fill the air, and land everywhere, but evade the grasp, to gather them back. And so, the story is told, from one to another, to another; until the day, that the words are spoken to the victim of the story; and it makes its circle.

“You cannot speak about another, without the possibility that the words you say get back to the person you are talking about, possibly that very day. If someone has disturbed you to the point that you are willing to sully their reputation, by spreading gossip to others, then the first step should be, for you to speak to the one, to the person, to the individual. It is so, many times, that these things can be corrected, and straightened-out, without the activity of gossip. It harms you! It harms those who listen to you! It harms the victim of the words you are speaking! It does no good; therefore, why participate?

“Spend some time today, practicing, vigilance, with the words you say. So many of you ask, ‘What can I do? What is my mission? I am ready. I want to be, active. I want to make a difference.’ Well, this is one area, where every single person on Earth. can make a difference. It does not restrict participation to male, or female, or children, men or women. It does not matter: the country, the language, any particular location. This is an activity, that all can take part in.

“The world will be changed, in one hour, if every single person, would refuse to use their power to sully another, to wound another, to assassinate another, by speaking ill, of them, to others.

“So, I give you a charge and send you on your way. Go out into the world and practice this today! See the difference, it will make, as you walk, along The Way!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Rise-Up, And Follow The Whisper Of God

“I AM with you. I reach-out, because you have knocked upon the door, with your attention, and nothing more; and nothing matters, but that we come together! Time, and dimensions, cannot bar The Way. These barriers fall, when you knock, when you call; therefore, within a second I will answer, and you will know Me, I will speak, and you will hear Me; because, I too, wore the flesh of Earth, so that I might know your true worth, and what you are doing, so I know the challenges you face.

“Do not be afraid. Do not worry. When you sit, with God, fears and worry melt away! This is a sign! Stay in the presence of God, stay in the light of God; for, as you are in the presence, and the light of God, you know love!

“The Whisper of God rolls over the mountains, down into the valleys, crosses the meadows, and rides the streams and rivers, knows the oceans and the seas, and will search each, and every one of these, to find the ear, and the heart, of the one, being called!

“When The Whisper of God comes to you, do not tarry, or wait to finish that which you do. Rise-up, and follow The Whisper; for what you are to do, and what you are to be, is written on your heart, by the hand of God. It is there for thee, and the only way, others will see, what the hand of God did write upon thee, is for you to act! Answer The Whisper, and act without fear, or worry, or concern, because that which God doth put in motion, bears the intention of God, and the will of God; and when it is the will of God, it is done! Therefore, when you are given the opportunity, to let the will of God move you, do not permit fear, or worry, or concern, to hamper you, to hold you back, to keep you locked, in place; for while it might seem that your time on Earth is long, I can assure you it is not, and before you realize, the day will come, when you are called Home. There is much to do before that day!

“What can you lose by setting aside your fear, and your worry, and concern, and rising to the call of The Whisper of God? It might be daunting, and challenging to make the move alone; but it is rewarding, to accept the call, and follow it Home, remaining in the presence, and the light of God. Turn your head from the doubters, and lift your eyes up, into the Heavens. Rise-up, and follow. No fear, no worry, no concern, just the presence and the light of God, shining about you, everywhere you turn.

“This is your time. The call is upon you. Rise-up, and follow!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Practice Creation, Achieving Perfection

“I AM with you. I AM with you as the sun breaks through the mist of a new day dawning. I AM with you to whisper words of encouragement, words filled with strength, so that you might rise-up, and walk into the new day set before you. This new day will never come again. It is yours to create, and that which you create will be what you experience. Create from love, and light, and that is how you will experience this new day. The power of creation is within you! Rise-up! You are about to create what you experience today! Therefore, rise-up, and practice, rise-up, and create!

“You can sit in your home, or in a library, and read all that was ever written on the subject of sailing. You can take classes taught by others, teaching you how to sail. You can watch, and observe others sailing. You can study all the terminology, and know the names of each piece of a sailing vessel, from the top of the mast, to the bottom of the keel; but, until you rise-up, walk to the water, board a sailing vessel, and begin to practice what you have learned, you are not sailing. To read how to do something, is not doing it. When you begin practicing what you have read, what you have learned, then, you are doing it!

“For the sake of brevity, I AM not going to list every example of how studying, and practicing, differ; but each of you can substitute your own example, the one best suited for you.

“A baby does not learn to walk, without practicing. A child does not learn to talk, without practicing. The fledgling must practice before flying, before it takes to the air with confidence. The newborn foal must practice standing, before it gallops over the plain. There is an ‘art,’ to doing anything, and the art is perfected, through practice! It takes practice to laugh, and to dance, and to sing, to enjoy the gift of the life to the fullest degree. It takes faith, and trust to practice living life as it is meant to be lived, without fear, as a child of God. Faith, and trust provide the strength, and courage necessary to walk, and to talk, and to fly, and to gallop over the plain. The art of all creation is perfected in the practice!

“The new day is set before you, and held within the new day is a seed, the promise of creation. The new day is yours to create; so: practice creating light, where there is darkness; practice creating love, where there is anger and hatred; practice creating peace, where there is suspicion and animosity. Practice creating a world you always wished, and prayed, would be. Practice, and the art of creation will be perfected within you, flow from you, and be the world you always wanted it to be. Rise-up, and practice, create; and, from your practice will spring forth a creation achieving perfection.”

Jesus Teaches On:

You Are An Instrument Of Creation, Create Peace, Healing And Happiness

“I AM with you. I AM with you as The Wind is with you. You might not see The Wind; but: you feel the presence of The Wind; you hear The Wind; you see what The Wind is doing, all around you; you feel It's might, and It's strength; you feel It's tender caress; and you come to know The Wind, without seeing The Wind. I AM with you, as The Wind is with you!

“Let us sit, together, for a while; or let us walk in the garden together, for a while. I ask you, yes, you, to come, and sit with Me!

“I want to tell you what you need to ‘know,’ and even though I call you, each of you, individually, the message is still a universal message, the same for each of you.

“Do not waste your time, your effort, and your precious, creative energy in anger, or hatred, in despair. Do not waste, your precious energy, in any way. If you could totally understand the creative power that is within you, then you would never choose anger, or hatred, or revenge. These energies are the pills of poison, and they are toxic. You cannot spend your days, holding within you, the desire to retaliate, without it marking you, injuring you. You cannot spend your days, holding within you anger and frustration, without it marking you, without it injuring you. And it is the same, with any, thoughts which are negative by nature; they are toxic.

“So much disease would be totally eliminated, if there were enough of you, who desired to master your creative power, in such a way, that you delivered peace, that the vibrations, coming from you, were calm, and serene. If there are some of you today, who are suffering, with disease, within your body, or mind, you can turn it around, and begin your journey into good health, and happiness, by refusing to create energies that are negative by nature, refusing to create toxic energy.

“You have it within your power to cure yourself, for your body, your earthly body, your physical body, is meant to heal itself; but it cannot heal itself, while it is inundated with toxic energy, created over, and over again, within you.

“The first step to healing is to correct your thoughts. How are you thinking? Because, how you are thinking impacts what you say, and do, every day. This practice will require determination; but, even if you do it for one hour, it will impact you, in a positive way, and end-up being the first step you take along The Way to peace, and serenity, to bringing tranquility to a world filled with chaos.

“Peace is created within each of you! The pathway to good health and happiness is within each of you! Be still, and ponder this, so you ‘know,’ what to do!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Live The Miracle, Be The Miracle of Love

“I AM with you. I AM with you in birth. I AM with you in life. I AM with you in death of the flesh. I AM with you in rising. I AM with you in eternity. I AM with you in spirit. I AM with you delivering courage, and faith, and trust. I AM with you!

“Today, I wish to remind you of something very important! I came to Earth. I lived, I loved, I laughed, I died of the flesh, I rose-up, I returned Home to continue My eternal life. I did these things, as I was destined to do them. You, too, are destined to do them!

“In between: the living, and the laughing, and the dancing, and the crying, I came into the time of My mission, My ministry, and the hand of God moved, and miracles were performed through Me. It was My destiny to do so. It is your destiny to do so! Do not be surprised that I say your destiny is to be the deliverer of miracles.

“You are overlooking miracles. You think miracles are one thing; but, I tell you, miracles happen every day. A miracle is something you cannot explain, but you see the work of God in it. A miracle is an answer to a prayer, you see the hand of God in it. But, I ask you this, if you see a woman, or a man, sitting on a sidewalk, or a bench, sobbing, and then you see another stoop down to touch, or sit down to hold their hand, do you not see a miracle there? And if you watch closer, you will see, that the tears are wiped away, and a smile, no matter how small, appears. And this miracle, you cannot miss!

“When you are the bringer, of love, you are the bringer, of a miracle! When you touch a face, and wipe a tear away, and coax a smile with the words you say, that is a miracle; it is, for the one in need; for their cry has been heard. There are so many everyday miracles, and it is time for you to pay attention to how often you either, call-out, in need, or answer a need. It is easy to say, ‘That is a miracle,’ if someone who could not walk, stands, and walks. But I tell you this, in a sea of angry faces, and flying fists, when you have one who rises-up, and does resist ‘the temptation,’ to anger, and frustration; then, you are witness to a miracle, because when one can love, in the midst of hatred, there too, is the work of God, there too is something that is beyond explanation. Be the miracle of love, in a sea of hatred!

“Every time you feed one who is hungry, you are the bringer of a miracle. Every time you clothe one who is without clothing, you are the bringer of a miracle. Every time you resist to respond, or react, to anger, you are the bringer of the miracle of love. Do not underestimate the power, of the miracle, within you; for it is The Presence of God, within you. Do not underestimate God, within you.

“Rise-up, and be the miracle bringer, the bringer of light, and love, and peace, compassion, and understanding, and generosity, for these are the ways that the world sees God. These are the ways of the miracles of God, within you!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Be Peace In Times Of Turbulence

“I AM with you. Be still. Be still and you will feel My presence with you: a slight breeze, a tender touch, a hand upon your shoulder; for I do know, how it feels, when you wear a human body, and it is time, for you, to walk through turbulence, before you reach the calm water, the safe harbor, which is ‘peace.’

“Silence is sacred. No matter how turbulent or chaotic, the ways of the world might be, you can always find ‘peace,’ if you will be still, and sit with Me, or walk with Me, or speak with Me!

“In times of turbulence, there is an agitation, that seems to move the air around you, and you become nervous and anxious; and you are so riddled with doubt and despair, that there seems no place for peace to settle within you; for, as you begin to calm, something erupts within you, and the pillars of peace tumble! This, I promise you, for I have seen it, and lived it upon Earth, The Kingdom of God is within you! The Holy Spirit was sent, from God, to bring you ‘wisdom,’ when you are in doubt, or fear, or anxiety is not only near, but within you, as well.

“Get thee to a quiet place! Listen to the song of the birds! Behold the symphony of the breeze in the trees! Watch the parade of clouds move across the sky! Feel the rain on your face, and see the sun on your hands, and begin to live again, in The Garden created for man! It is within The Garden that you will awaken and remember who you are; and you will be able: to turn from the temptation to join the chaos, to lift your voice in argument, or dissent; to walk away from the clamoring crowd, and speak with God!

“When you are preparing to do something great: first, you must be still, and quiet; and in the quiet, you will receive the guidance you need; and in the silence, strength and courage, will come to you. And as you rise-up, intent on following the directions you have received, confidence, will be a cloak, around you. An angry mass of people cannot touch, or sway, the peace of God! This peace, that you have forged within your being in your time of silence, is yours; and it will lead you: into the safe harbor; into the land of peace; because that land is yours. You create it, with every step you take, because you are delivering the peace, you did make, in your time with God!

“One of the most important things you will ever do, during your time upon Earth, is to be ‘peace,’ in the times of turbulence. Be peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
How To Avoid The Journey Into Darkness

“I AM with you. I AM with you to bring the comfort, one enjoys, when walking with a dear friend, or a loved one; therefore, as a dear friend, and a loved one, I walk with you, and I talk with you, and we share, back and forth, and you begin to know My presence, and you begin to feel My courage and strength, My support for you, and all you do, as you walk The Way upon Earth.

“Today I wish to share something of great importance. It is something that, needs to be taken, seriously; and I have delivered the message to you, many, many times. Yet today, I address it once again, encouraging you, to pay attention!

“I wish to speak to you about the creative power you have, and what you do, when you think. With every thought, you entertain, you are creating; and the effect, of your creation is felt; it has impact, on the Earth, and all things, and people around you; and it is time for you to recognize this!

“When your thoughts are filled with love: you feel lighter, you laugh, you love, you enjoy what you are doing; and when you are in this state, your body is healthy, as it is meant to be! When you surrender, to the voices and the whispers of darkness, and shadow, you are entertaining destructive forces! These thoughts, created, with darkness and shadow, greatly impact: your health, your wellbeing, all things, and people around you.

“You do not end-up in the middle, of dark thoughts, without noticing where you are going! In fact, you notice immediately! Yet, even knowing, the presence of darkness and shadow is within you, it can be difficult, to avoid the journey into darkness! But it can be done! And the more you practice: the more effective, and efficient, you will become; the healthier you will become; the happier you will become! All around you will see and know, and enjoy, the environment you are creating, for yourself, and all others; for when you are creating with light and love and peace, and using the power of God, within you, you are blessing the Earth! So today, from the first minute, you are being tempted into thoughts of shadow or darkness, be vigilant, stop! ‘Get thee from me,’ you say, ‘I will not entertain you today. In fact, I am going to say a prayer, and a blessing, for this one, or that one,’ or anything, really. Because, as you bless, you release this negative energy. As you pray for someone, you lift-them-up, rather than shoving them down. Even when it is your first attempt, when it is accomplished, and you have chased these thoughts from you, and have blessed, you notice something within your being is different; and you begin to look for the opportunity to do it again, because you feel the power of God, within!

“Do not give-up, your power, of creation, handing-it to shadow, and darkness. Lift-up your thoughts. Lift-up your face, and look-out, into the day. My brothers, and sisters, it is all there, waiting for you, to bless. Go forth this day, and bless, and pray, and show The Way! I AM with you! Let us go forth, together!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Way Of Love, Understanding, And Compassion

“I AM with you. I AM with you, in the night, when the moon, and the stars, rule the heavens above you. I AM with you in the day, when the sun lights all around you. I AM with you in the storm, and the wind, and the calm, and the rain. I AM with you when you shudder. I AM with you as you are brave. I AM with you as you are searching. I AM with you when it is found. I AM with you as you sit. I AM with you, as you rise-up, to show The Way. I AM with each of you, today!

“While it will certainly help to understand My words to you, if you are a parent, My words should also be apparent, to you, if you have been a child; and, each of you, hearing My words, or reading My words, have, most assuredly, been a child, at some point.

“There are ways to teach, and to show; and, when the teaching is good, the student, does grow! You can see it. When the parent teaches, from a place of love, and compassion, the child, grows, in the energies of love and compassion! And, as the love and compassion is passed from the parent to the child, the child becomes confident, gets stronger, and is ready, at some point, to walk-out into the world, alone; because that, which they know, has been grown from a garden of love, and compassion! But if the parent tries to teach the child from a place of fear, and anger, then the child begins to wither. The child is growing, but growing from a place of fear, and anger, and sometimes hatred. And that which you learn in fear, and anger, carries that energy. And as that child must make its way in the world, created by man, the child marks its path, with fear, and anger.

“You can go about your day, whistling or singing a song; or you can go about your day sullen, turned inward, inviting no one to walk along with you. The day is the same. It comes, and it goes. Those, who take part in the day, create their experience of the day. Your perspective is altered by the energy you carry within!

“When you see, children playing in a park, you usually see parents, sitting on a bench, or walking a dog, close enough to watch over the child, distancing themselves a bit to introduce the child to a small piece of independence. And, it is working! The parent is looking-on, and the child is playing with friends. All is well, until the play ends, and a fight begins, and dirt is kicked, and someone is pushed, and the children run to their parent, just as they should. And the parent bends down, and sits on the ground, and draws the child close.

“The words, whispered into the ear of the injured child, have great meaning. Depending on what the parent imparts to the child, the child either rises-up, angry and hurt; or goes back, to play, filled with strength, and courage, and trust. The strength and courage, come from the words whispered from the parent, in a time of need; but the trust is born within the child, when they see, and experience, that the parent is always close enough, to offer compassion, and understanding, and love!

“You are all children on the playground, and sometimes things don't go quite as you wish they would, they don't look, like you thought they should. And so, you sit on the sidelines, for a while, feelings hurt, injured, possibly wounded. And The Eternal Parent always bends down, and sits on the ground with you, draws you close, and whispers to you. And the words, of The Good Parent, are filled with love, and wisdom; so, that you rise-up, carrying strength and courage; and trust, that your Eternal Parent is always close by, distancing just to the point of assuring your independence, close enough, so you can see, and feel, and know The Presence, with you!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Practice Perfection, Greatness Is With You, Now

“I AM with you. A new day is with you. A new opportunity has come to you. In this present moment, you have: the experience of the past; the confidence and strength, of your lessons; and a present opportunity, to create! It is an amazing gift. Too few, make the best of this opportunity, which is given to each of you. So, we repeat it, hoping that, one day, more and more of you, will grasp the great opportunity to create, exactly, what you wish to experience. I come to you today to encourage you, to create!

“There are thousands of prayers, floating in The Wind, rising-up, through the dimensions, prayers, with purpose and intention, asking for direction and guidance, asking for a sign, to be shown The Way. Many are praying that their mission be outlined clearly, so they might serve the purpose, of their life upon Earth. These prayers are good; and these prayers need to continue. However, today, I wish to give you some advice, on what you can do in the meantime, as you wait, and look, and are vigilant, for the signs.

“Your life upon Earth is meant to be lived one minute at a time! Held within every minute is the seed of the next hour; and, sprouting-up from the seed of each hour, is the garden of tomorrow; and it is from every garden, that you can select from the bountiful harvest, raised-up, from the seeds of your intention, of your words, of your thoughts, and of your deeds. Without planting the seed there will be no garden, there will be no harvest, and there will certainly be no bounty. Do not squander your time, looking around and around, for the great adventure, the grand mission. The mission, the adventure, is with you right now! You are drawing the map, with every step!

“There are no small days, there are no insignificant days. So, The Way for your mission to unfold, as it is meant to unfold, is for you to understand and comprehend the significance of: being vigilant with your thoughts; being careful with your words; and being diligent with your deeds of goodness. As you practice, keeping your thoughts in light, the mission is unfolding. Your thoughts are the creation! Your thoughts are a blueprint; your words are outlining the map, drawing-in significant places, and people, and things; and your deeds, mark The Way. Every day you are creating the map of your lifetime upon Earth. Do not be tempted to rush ahead to greatness; for greatness is with you, right now: the seeds of your thought; the sprouts of your word, the garden of your deeds. One thing will lead to another, and as you ‘perfect,’ your thoughts, and words, and deeds, your mission unfolds, and you see, and you know!

“Today, be content with the present moment! Your destiny will be fulfilled, from the planting of the seeds! Therefore, do it carefully. Do not do it carelessly, do it thoughtfully, so that you know what you are doing. And once you know what you are doing, it will be time to turn the page, and move into a new chapter. Let the pages, turn, as they will. Let the chapters be the bounty of the seeds you planted in every page. Greatness is with you, now!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Remember Who You Are, And Create With The Power Of Love

“I AM with you. When you are still, you feel the air around you; it touches your skin, and fills your lungs; it is a source, a supply of energy for your body. When you are still, and quiet, and open to the possibility, the world of spirit can be felt by you. You feel its presence; and it is the source, of energy and life; for the spirit, animates the body, and brings life!

“Be aware of who you are. Be aware of the sacred gift, given to all those travelers of Earth, no matter who they are, or where they are from, or what they say. Just as you guard, as sacred, the gift you have been given of freewill, then so, guard as sacred, the gift all others have been given, freewill. Do not trample, the gift of God, to others. Do not ignore, the gift of God to you; for you are sacred!

“When you are very still, when you sit quietly, when your intention is to move from the material world, into the spiritual world, you ‘feel the change,’ all around you. You can feel it in your lips, you can feel it on the skin, you can feel it at the jawline; but you feel it most, in the tender place, referred to as your heart; because, when you are quiet, and still, and willing, there comes ‘the knowing,’ there comes the feeling, there comes acceptance, understanding. Each time you sit, in such a way, your spirit is fueled; and it gives you the strength and courage, to stand-up, and go out into each day, willing: to be a light; to be forgiving; to be compassionate, and understanding; to stop and speak, when others would hurry by; to reach-out and touch, when others withdraw; to be a word of peace, when others rage, with hatred, and anger. This comes naturally, when you pause each day, and remember, who you are!

“It feels good: to assume your heritage; to acknowledge your lineage; to put on the coat of responsibility; and continue the journey, strengthened, and refreshed in knowing, that you are a being of eternity, and there is no death! There is eternal life. But to enjoy this status, you first, must acknowledge, who you are!

“There is much to do, so much needs to be created; for remember, creation was not just a single act, which ceased, just as quickly as it began. Creation is the continuing plan of The Creator of All Things, and you are the co-creator! You continue the creation of God. Today, let your creation sparkle, with the power of love, and the glory of light, and the gift of peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Walk With Me On Earth, As It Is In Heaven, Today

“I AM with you. I AM with you: to walk with you; to experience your journey upon Earth with you; to share My experience of Earth with you; to take your hand, and say, ‘Here, this way. This is The Way we should walk today.’

“Some of you, know your mission; and you are either preparing for your mission, or you have already put your foot upon the path, and you are actively participating, carrying-out your mission. Some of you, are wondering, or praying, about your mission, trying to remember what it is you are to do. And so the question, circles around, and around, in your thoughts, ‘Why am I here? What am I to do?’

“Your mission will be revealed to you, once you make the connection with God, establish, communication, between Earth and Home Base, announcing, to all of Heaven, that you are ready, and willing; and slowly your mission will be revealed; it will unfold, as you make your way over the Earth. There will be some days when it is very clear; and, there might be other days when it seems lost in the fog, of Earth. And, if you review the days when it seems lost in the fog of Earth, you will see that those are the days, when your communication has slipped, the volume is way down. You ask; but you cannot hear the answer.

“To assure that you know where to go, and what to do every day, connect with God! Do not be distracted, by anything. Stay focused. Be vigilant. For your Earth experience is truly meant to be the adventure of a lifetime. And in this particular case, as I AM speaking with each of you, the lifetime is yours! You are not reading a book or watching a movie about someone else. This is your lifetime. You get to play the role, you want to play! You can be a hero or a villain. You can show compassion, or you can hold-back your love. You can extend forgiveness, or fall into retaliation. You are the author, of the role you are playing.

“I know so many of you, hearing this, maybe not for the first time, but maybe the time in which it finally gets through, you are desiring to play the role of the hero, the compassionate, understanding hero, who reaches-out to those, who would not do the same for you. You cast your role, the way, you envision a hero would act.

“Heaven is with you! Most of you have heard this, also; but are you truly experiencing Heaven with you, as if you truly know it? Are your actions, the actions of one, who is expressing living in Heaven, actively? Are you a participant, in the Heaven experience?

“I would like to suggest, something, something that will change your life upon Earth, forever. I ask that you give Me one day, let us say today. Will you give Me this day? And if you are willing to do this, My response is, ‘Take this day, and live it, in such a way, that you say through your actions, your words, and your thoughts, that you ‘know,’ Heaven is with you!’ Will you live Heaven today? Will you experience Earth, in this unique way? Will you trust, that when you give this day, you will see and know, what life is meant to be upon Earth? It is not a difficult task, which I ask of you; yet it will change your life, completely, because once the day is done, and you have carried through, you will begin to know, Heaven on Earth; and after knowing Heaven on Earth, you would never want it to be any other way. I AM with you. Let us walk, through Heaven together, today!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Your Mission, On The Journey Of Your Lifetime

“I AM with you. It is an interesting salutation, ‘I AM with you.’ It is more a confirmation, I AM with you! And often, a confirmation settles comfortably within you, more so than a salutation. Many people will come in to and go out of your life. Many people will greet you, and say, ‘Goodbye;’ but there will be few, and they will be enough, who confirm: that they are with you, that they support you, that they will stand, when you need them to stand by you. And this will have more to do, with Spirit, rather than the material world; for you will soon come to know. that when, all is well within the spiritual realm within you, everything falls into place, and is, as it is meant to be!

“You are on the journey of this lifetime. This is your lifetime, upon Earth. It is ‘the opportunity,’ to complete your mission, something designed especially for you, and all your talents. Surprisingly, it is something, uniquely, for you; for no one else can do it any better, than you. Are you assigning the journey of your lifetime, the credit it deserves, the importance it deserves?

“Let Me remind you that I began a public ministry, upon Earth, officially, when I sought My cousin John. He recognized Me coming, and knew the significance of what he was about to do. In fact, left to his own decision would have shied away from it. But, I said, ‘No, it is you! You are to baptize Me!’ And I was plunged beneath the waters, and rose-up, with a new determination; for I understood the next steps I would take, were the steps onto the pathway, of My destiny, My journey, My ministry.

“As I did not take My journey lightly, I ask you to readdress your journey. Think about where you are going, and what you are doing, in prayer. Do not chart the course, based on the expectations of the world.

“Before I began, My official ministry, I secluded Myself for forty days, in a desert, surrounding. It was not luxurious. It was not meant to be easy. It was an important piece, of preparation, for what was to come to Me, as I made My way, following My destiny. It was preparation, so that I would not stumble, and fall. It was preparation!

“Once My time of preparation was done, I walked from the desert, ‘knowing,’ what must be done, fully; and, without hesitation, placed My foot upon the path, with new determination. The signs were all around Me. The people came to Me. And one-by-one I gathered those near Me, who would give witness to a portion of My journey. And so, it began.

“During My conversations with those who came to Me, during My lifetime upon Earth, I said, repeatedly: ‘You can do what I AM doing.’ ‘I AM doing this for the glory of God.’ ‘The words I speak to you are not My words.’ ‘Heaven is near.’ ‘Heaven is within you.’ ‘Rise-up, your faith has healed you.' 'Be ye perfect, as Our Father in Heaven is perfect.' 'Forgive all things.'

'Turn the other cheek.' 'Love one another.'

"I AM your brother; I have walked the Earth, and completed My mission, My journey; and now, as you are in the midst of your journey, I do not simply greet you with a salutation, I whisper 'a confirmation,' as you head into this new day, 'I AM with you!'"

Jesus Teaches On:
Wisdom Dwells Within The Piece Of God, In You

“I AM with you. Do not doubt it; embrace it; and as you embrace My presence, accept it; and as you accept My presence, you are blessed, for slowly then, you begin to comprehend, and understand, the mystery of The One!

“You see it in your children, as they begin to grow. You see family traits in the way they act, or the way they speak, or the way they look, and you ‘know,’ it is so, there is a piece of you, within them, wherever they go. So surely, if you see this as an earthly parent, it is easier for you to understand that it is so, with your heavenly Parent, your Eternal Parent; there is a piece of God, within you, no matter where you go.

“As you make your way, through your lifetime upon Earth, you see many things, and you hear many things. You come to know ‘the ways of the world;’ and, when you are out in nature, gardening, or walking in a pasture, or peering-out over the land, from a mountaintop, it is at these times that you also know ‘the world of God.’ It can be a beautiful combination, when you see the world through the eyes of God, because, then, all things change; for it is within the presence of God that you come to understand, and know; and therefore, wisdom dwells within you.

“Those who are wise, those who carry wisdom, do not wield the energies of anger, or hatred, or greed, or jealousy, as weapons of intimidation, or retaliation. Those who know wisdom, do not use the energies of grief, of loss, of frustration, of sadness and sorrow, as tools, or excuses, for limitations. Those who hold wisdom see what using these energies brings forth, and it is not light; for light is not born of darkness. Light is born, oftentimes, from a mere ember, from a spark, a spark that becomes a flame; and, when there is light, there is no darkness. The solitary flame, from single candle, can often light-up a room. And when the flame is protected, by a chimney of crystal, or glass, the light is intensified and magnified; and, from the facets, of the crystal or the glass, there shines color, it sparkles, and creates an amazing light!

“You are the candle! You are the candle, and The Holy Spirit is the flame; and that flame is to keep burning; and when you stand with Me, and when you hear with Me, your flame is protected, as if, there was a magnificent crystal chimney placed around you, and all the light you create, emanates, from you, into the world; and your presence is unforgettable, undeniable!

“Do not be tempted, to let your flame be extinguished, by the winds that are raging through the world. Your flame will be protected, within the chimney of God’s love, and light, and peace; and from within. you will shine, and glow, and let the word go, out into the world, ‘See my light, it is the light of God.’ For those who carry this light, and let it shine, there is only the use of it, and the use of the energies of love, and peace, of balance, and harmony; there is using that which is in the presence of God. There, within the presence of God, is born wisdom! Be the holder of wisdom. Be the candle whose flame will not be extinguished. Be the light, unto the world of man, and you will be at peace, because you will be holding the hand, of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Be The Miracle, You Are Meant To Be

“I AM with you. I celebrate a new day with you. For those of you who know, every day is a gift; every day is an opportunity: to grow; to move along the path; to see, what you are meant to see; and, to do, what you are meant to do.

“There will be distractions; there will be temptations; but, if you stay connected with Our Father, with God, you will know where to go, and you will know what to do; and, you will have the wisdom, within you, to bless those: who discourage you, who tempt you, who distract you, for no other action would be fitting of a child of God. Bless all things you pass: individuals, institutions, places, because these are the milestones, these are the markers, of your lifetime, upon Earth.

“I AM with you. Your journey has already begun, but it is never too late to stop, and rededicate this mission, regain your balance, reconnect with God, and head-off in the direction you were meant to take. Soon, you will be coming Home; but for this time, you are upon Earth, make the best of it, it is your journey. Be the miracle, you are. Deliver the miracle, you are meant to deliver!

“When I walked upon the Earth, I stayed connected with Heaven. Heaven was My sacred compass. I knew that there would be great distraction, and temptation in the world created by man. How could it be any other way; for, man had turned from The Garden, and walked away? And in the walking, there was distance, every single step of the way, and it did not take long before isolation was felt. The presence of isolation was staggering, and cold. It is interesting, that there was always resurrection from this isolation; but it required one to turn, and walk away from the world created by man, and head back to The Garden!

“If you think about walking down a country road, going in one direction, with your purpose, and your intention, set, it might take some convincing for you to turn, completely, one hundred and eighty degrees, and go in the opposite direction. This would be more than a life-changing move. This is forsaking one way, and choosing another. But for those of you who are awakened, and know, this is even more important, it is necessary for you to grow in your spiritual life. And to do so, you will need to turn a deaf ear to the clamoring of the world, and maintain your connection with Home Base, because your mission is far more important than what is happening in the world around you. Do not be fooled by the importance, or better said, what appears to be important. Do not be fooled by those who believe they are more important, or their cause is more important, or their ways are more important; for, if you are upon the Earth today, then God is with you to show you The Way, you are to walk!

“Once you have established your personal relationship with God, or better said, once you have reconnected with God, then, you are ready to move-out into the world, and perform miracles! If you hear The Whisper, within you, to go to visit an old friend you have not seen in decades, go, and go swiftly. That is not something that you are accustomed to doing, dropping everything, and running-off in one direction, because of a whisper; but, this is The Way, it is meant to be! Listen! Go where this whisper sends you, because what will happen, when you arrive, will be a miracle! Your friend might be sitting alone, feeling dejected, being rejected, suffering from disease, injury, or isolation, praying for a sign, asking for help, and your appearance at the door is nothing less, and nothing more, than a miracle. It is a miracle for your old friend. You have delivered the answer to a prayer; and, but for being connected to God, you would never be there; but there you are! Do not underestimate your ability to deliver a miracle, by listening to The Whisper, by living The Whisper!

“A miracle is an answer to a prayer. A miracle is healing, and cleansing, and being made whole. A miracle can be small; a miracle can be grand; but when you come to know, that a miracle can flow, from your hand, by following The Whisper of God, you are filled with confidence, and strength, and courage. If you hear The Whisper, indicating, and directing, that you should gather food, and clothing, and put it in a basket, and deliver it to a specific place, do not hesitate. Do not hesitate! Take the basket, and place it on the doorstep. It is an answer to a prayer, and in following direction, you have left there a miracle from God, through you!

“Spend some time today, asking for the wisdom to understand miracles, in their purest form. Miracles are an answer for a need; therefore, if you fulfill that need, you have fulfilled the miracle of God. Re-think miracles. If you are given the opportunity to feed many, when you were preparing to feed a few, do not hesitate, because I promise you, by the time the table is set, and those who have gathered sit down, you will find there is food aplenty to pass around; and, it is done through faith, and trust; and, using the ingredients of faith and trust, another miracle flows through you.

“Do these things in peace.

“It is time to rise-up, and be who you are. If you say you are a child of God, then rise-up, and be a child of God. Verily, I say unto you, every child of God is a miracle maker, every child of God can perform miracles, when there is need. Stay connected to God. Be quiet, and still, so you will hear The Whisper. Then, of your own freewill, choose to follow, and go, and deliver, and be the miracle, you are meant to be!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Many Will Recite The Words, Few Will Know The Way

“I AM with you; and, you believe, because within you, you hold the key, and have the ability, to accept, that I AM with you! The heart must be touched to open; the soul must be held to sing; and the spirit must know the truth, so it will soar, and fly, and be filled with eternal life, in the knowing; for, within The Knowing, there is freedom, and eternal life!

“When I walked upon the Earth, I gathered those around Me, as directed, as guided. There were signs, that is for sure, confirming, directing me to touch this one, or call to that one; and as I called, they came; because deep within their being, they recognized the tone. My call, seemed familiar, even though they did not know Me, at the time, they knew Me, for all time; and that knowing, broke down the barriers, and they moved with Me.

“When it came time for Me to return Home, when My work was done, when the new laws were delivered, I realized, they would be lost, without Me. They were willing, they were eager, they were hungry, and thirsty for the truth; and as it was given to them, they were as sponges from the sea, soaking it up. I could not leave them, without full confidence, that they would be fed, the truth, from Heaven; so, they might grow, and mature, in the light of God. And when I did ask for help, and counsel for them, it was given!

“Today I confirm again to you My brothers and sisters, this Wisdom from Heaven, was not sent, only, to those whom I knew in a personal way; this Divine Counselor, is with you, too! You do not have to wander, wondering which way to go, or what to say, or how this fits with that; all you have to do, is sit, and be quiet! The Creator God, your Creator, knows you from the inside, knows when you are ready for more, and that more that is delivered to you, is precisely what you need: at that minute, at that hour, in that day.

“You have been given the ability to grow, and mature, in the light of God, and the wisdom of God, the Creator of All Things, is yours, as you open, and you are ready to hold the truth, to be the light, to show The Way!

“Living in this way requires so much more than reading the lines of a book, repeating the lines of the book, or repeating the entire book; for it is possible to say the words, yet not know, completely, their meaning, their power, or their glory. You can read a book over, and over; but, until you sit with the author of the book, and listen to the meaning from the lips and the heart of the one who wrote the book, you cannot know the book.

“I tell you, The Creator God, The Author of the Divine Plan, which holds, within it, the story of man, is willing to share eternal wisdom to any who are open. When you sit, with The Author, of All That Is, you will come to ‘see and know,’ in a different way. You will never truly understand the meaning, held within the pages of a book, until you know The Author, until its meaning has been revealed to you.

“Many will recite the words, few will know The Way!”

Jesus Teaches On:
How To Create The Perfect Day

“I AM with you. I AM with you, as you begin another day. My presence will grow stronger and stronger, if you will open, and accept the possibility that this is so, that there is a chance, somewhere in eternity, that it is not only possible, but probable. When you find, you are able to do this, it is as if you have cracked the door to your inner-being, opened it, just a bit, enough to let a stream of light flow-in, and with the acceptance of the possibility, comes the ray of reality, that it is!

“How you begin a day is most meaningful, it carries the creative power. Your thoughts, about the day to come, season it, with seeds of hope and trust and faith, and yes, with glory, if you prepare to begin the day, telling a story, of God with you. And this, My brothers and sisters, requires, faith!

“No day is a day deserving of fear, or doubt, or loathing! Every day is worthy of the story it is intended to tell; and, at the end, if done correctly, it is a story of doing it well, no matter what the situation.

“Some of you might be facing this new day, with great celebration on the agenda. Some of you might be beginning this day looking at: a marriage; an engagement; a new baby; a great birthday; graduation; all celebration, marking, your lifetime upon Earth. Others of you might be, beginning this day, looking-out over uncharted seas, not knowing which way you will go, unsure of the path set before you, because it is not a day which seems to hold celebration in any way, but a day which, you believe, will be challenging. Ah, My brothers and sisters, when these days come, they are your golden opportunity! They will tell a story of adventure. They will tell a story of a mission accomplished. They will tell a story of what seemed to be insurmountable odds, falling, in the light of faith.

“No matter what is ahead of you this day, it certainly does not deserve to be sprinkled with seeds of doubt or fear or frustration. It is pure. The hand has not yet written the story, the heart has not yet known the story, and you have not yet created the story of this day.

“Therefore, at the beginning of every day, bow your head, and pray! Pray for all, that you need. Do not limit your prayer to that which you know, to that which you fear, or dread, so. Open your prayer, and ask to be given that which you need to complete the mission; and it will come, as surely as the spring rains.

“Remember, you are the creator of this day! You are the co-creator child of God! Set your intention, before you begin. Alter your thoughts, in such a way, that you will create ‘the perfect day,’ a day worthy, to be in the eternal procession, of your time upon Earth!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Do Not Be Swayed By What Others Are Doing, Or Saying, Follow The Way, Of The Peacemaker

“I AM with you. I AM so willing: to guide you, to share with you, to show you The Way; I approach, and you either open your arms, or turn and walk away. For those of you who can see with the eyes of your soul, you not only feel Me, you experience a glimmer, a vision, and it appears, as if a figure is walking out of a desert, or out of a misty morning, or out of a cloudy night; temporarily, I AM within your sight, and you shutter with delight; and there is no fear, only love, between us!

“Shake the dust of fear: from your feet, from your hands, from your head, from your thoughts, from your words; for, your words, which hold fear, are an outward sign that your heart is not at peace. Shake doubt: from your feet, from your hands, from your head, from your thoughts, and from your words; for words holding doubt are an outward sign that your heart is not at peace. For those who are at peace, for those who know peace, there is no fear, there is no doubt, there is strength, and confidence, and faith!

“All those, who live upon Earth for a while, experience some type of turmoil, or upheaval, to varying degrees; but I touch you today, in a special way, encouraging you to establish peace, within your being, first! It is not necessary to go to seminars, to take courses, or to read books, on how to accomplish this. What is necessary is to: sit quietly, and ask that you be filled with the wisdom of peace; breathe deeply; send from you words of chaos, and confusion; refuse to eat of the venom of hatred, and anger.

“For those of you who are able to establish peace within, peace within is the environment, is the atmosphere, in which you live. It makes it easier to turn your head, from angry voices, and live within your sacred garden of peace; for eventually, the turmoil, the upheaval, the angry voices, will fade away, and with their fading, comes the light, of a new day.

“The energy of anger is exhausting. You cannot be angry for very long without falling victim to all the side effects this energy produces. You cannot live in fear, very long, without falling to the side effects, of the energy this produces. But you can live forever in your sacred garden of peace, breathing deeply, moving slowly, knowing Earth, in a special way; for those who walk upon the Earth in peace: see the daisy, hidden amongst the weeds; hear the gentle movement, of a mountain stream; embrace, the splashing waters, as the waves of the ocean kiss the beach; run their fingers through the sands, of time, and come to realize that this life, upon Earth, is a special gift. The ones who carry peace, and wisdom, realize that this treasure is not to be thrown away.

“Look for those who are at peace, especially when you find that turmoil, and upheaval, is moving over the land, beginning to cover the Earth; for, you will find the peacekeepers, in all places, and those places they are keeping at peace, will be your sanctuary, where grace, and blessings, abound, in copious amounts. There will roll a tide of abundance, all around the peacekeepers, those who have the wisdom to be still, and quiet, so they might hear The Whisper. And, they will hear The Whisper over the angry den, over the riotous crowds, and they will, truly, know peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
You Hold The Power Of Creation, Within, Your Thoughts

“I AM with you. I AM with you, to the degree you open the door, and welcome Me. I can be with you in the slightest ray, of light. I can be with you, fully and completely. And even when you do not open the door, to greet Me, I AM with you, a whisper away; because, it is important. At the very second, one of you says, ‘I believe,’ there must be a response to fill you, with joy, a sensation you will remember, a touch which will prompt you, to seek for more, and open the door, to a dimension, you know.

“Each of you began your earthly journey, by saying ‘Goodbye,’ to the Dimension of Perfection, for a while, so that you might explore, that, which Earth, holds, for you to know.

“At the present time, it is almost impossible for you to explore the gardens of Earth, without finding yourself in the cities, in the world, created by man. It is easy to understand the difference; a child would recognize the difference. The pavements of the city feel different, when your feet touch them, than do: the grass-carpeted meadows of the countryside, the sandy beaches, the rocks of the mountains, the sands of the desert. But no matter where you are right now, no matter what your experience, or particular situation is at the time, you began your journey from Home Base, and Home Base will welcome you, when you return.

“If you can accept, this message, then open the door a bit more, so that you might understand, better, what you can do while you are there, upon Earth. Every second of the day you make a decision, you choose: you choose to think one way, or the other; you choose to speak softly, and lovingly; or to be loud, and cruel; you choose to be of assistance, with deeds of kindness; or to go your own way, doing only that which you wish to do for yourself. You make choices, and the choices you make, make, a difference! The world is either a better place, or a lesser place; and it all depends on what you are thinking, saying, and doing! It all begins in your thoughts. Every decision you make springs forth from your thoughts. Your thoughts are the creative center. Therefore, what you do, and what you say, is a reflection of what you are thinking; so, the world knows you, by what you say, and do!

“I would like to for you to imagine, just for a moment, that everyone, within your city limits, or township, or community, spent one hour of the day, creating thoughts: of beauty; of light; of love and peace; of kindness, and compassion; of healing; of forgiving; of charity.

“Even when you are just imagining this happening, you feel better, because in the imagining, that is where your thought is going. You have been given the ability, and the power, by your Creator God, to create!

“Those who awaken, to the realization of the power, within, begin to explore, and begin to open the door, to the possibility of miracles as they had never done before; and within the realization, and by opening the door, they see the light and discover more.

“You hold reality in your hand. You hold reality within your thoughts, so the first step to peace is mastering your thoughts! Let your thoughts, create, a day: worthy, peaceful, loving, gentle, and kind!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Love Yourself, Love, One Another

“I AM with you. I AM truly, with you; and I would walk from ocean to ocean, from desert to desert: to be with you; to remind you, of the sacred journey you are taking, to whisper its purpose; to support you, on the adventure of your lifetime upon Earth. It is a holy piece, of your eternal life; it is ‘the present!’

“You have already begun the journey into this new year. Many of you, have already encountered challenges; and made it through, and find you are lighter, with much more to do ahead of you. Some of you have yet to meet your challenge; but I can assure you, I will be right there with you; and we will make it through, together. Each challenge is an opportunity to exercise, and practice, that which you believe, that which you know. And every time you do it, you grow, you get stronger, courage fills you, confidence shines from you. So, do not hang your head in the challenge. Lift your head, in the survival of the challenge. That which seemed, or appeared, to bring you down, one day, becomes the next rung on the ladder, toward completion, and accomplishment.

“As you make this journey, be kind to yourself! Do not berate, or belittle, yourself! You are a child of God, and you have a mission to accomplish. Therefore, be kind, and understanding, be compassionate; and most of all, be forgiving, of yourself. Once you learn to do this, it will be easier, to be kind, and understanding, and loving, to all who are traveling with you; for some will be very close to you, others will be far from you; but it is important to support your fellow travelers, those who are on the journey, as well.

“The Word has already been delivered, so that all upon Earth ‘know,’ what God expects of you; and at this time, and in this place, at this portion of your journey, it is important for you to ‘love one another!’.

“Love one another!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The First Step Into The New Year

“I AM with you. I AM with you: as you peer into today; as you stand at the threshold; as you open the door; as you cross-over into a new time; as you gaze down the path, which bears no footprints; as you study the horizon; as you pray for guidance; as you find the courage welling-up within you, to place your foot upon the path, and mark it, with the first step! This is a time of excitement!

“You have crossed-over the threshold of many years, the beginning seems familiar; yet, the adventure ahead is unknown. Not one year you have experienced in your lifetime has been exactly the same. Each year has brought you challenges, and opportunities, disguised in many different ways; yet year after year, you have reached the end, then waked-up to find yourself at the threshold of a new year, again.

“So, here we go; the door is open; your foot is on the path; it is vital for you to set an intention, and use it as a compass; it is also vital to use every hour: efficiently; sacredly; so that each step leads to another, and then another, and then another. When you have intention and purpose, you understand why you are walking, sitting, sleeping, waking.

“As you create this year, the year that is set before you, unmarked, create: tranquility, harmony, and balance. Create a day when you can open your arms to all, and say, ‘Come, I will sit with you for a while.’ Create a day when you exclude none, and include all, in your prayers of light. Use the power of God to create, perfection, in a world that is marked by imperfection; for, as you create the perfect day, others notice, and ultimately say, ‘It is possible!’ Your intention and courage, and strength found in the power of God, will encourage others to do the same.

“Establish peace, and light, and love wherever you go, wherever you live, and invite others to come into your garden, and begin, again, to live in harmony, and balance, and tranquility!

“We are on the path now, we have left the threshold behind, we are walking into the new day, of a new year, and all along The Way you will find, I AM with you!”
