

THE QUIET PLACE

The Command

"This is my command: Love each other." ... Jesus ... John 15:17

The Promise

*"If anyone loves me, he will obey my teaching.
My Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him." ... Jesus ... John 14:23*

Holding these words in our hearts, we opened the door to the everyday Presence of Jesus, walking with us ... teaching us ... The Way.

And, onto the mountain,
there came the words
...as promised...

Jesus Teaches On:

Be At Peace, Know The Power Of A Peaceful Presence

“I AM with you! I can be heard, and felt, and known, by any but those who will open their hearts to experience My presence in their everyday lives, know life upon Earth in a different way, in a magnificent and glorious way; for, every day begins anew! Every day brings a promise! Every day holds possibilities; and the excitement of all of it is you have the opportunity to take that which comes to you, and create something, something new, something that has not been experienced before. Do not give-up, or relinquish, the opportunity to create, anew; and this means having the faith, and the courage, not to run from that which comes to you, but to turn and face it, and open your arms, as if you know, the power that is you, as if you know, there is creative work to do! Do not let the days of your life slip by, without seizing the opportunity to create, to create as only you, can create; for, there is much to do!

“Most of you hearing these words or reading these words are in the midst of a time on Earth which gives you the opportunity to reconnect, in memory of My birth, upon the Earth; and, during this same time, there is: preparation of the closing, the ending of a year; and, the opening, the beginning of a year. But it has become the practice, of those living in the world created by man, to experience this time in a rather chaotic fashion. There is much expectation, there is much preparation, and the preparation very rarely has to do with prayer and meditation and peace, and more to do: with frantic searching for gifts, and wrapping gifts, and attending parties, decorating, traveling, all leading to one day, which seems to explode in its presentation, and then is over. And as the dust settles, within somewhere you begin to wonder, ‘Is that all it is?’ I can assure you it is more, much more. There is more to explore, but it is done within.

“The worldly way of preparing for Christmas can be: exhausting, tiring, wear you down, and fill you with anything but a sacred spirit of peace; and, just as you begin to recover somewhat, from the frantic days before Christmas, celebrations for the new year begin; and, they too can be exhausting, leaving you empty, within.

“You can always tell the importance someone places, on a particular person, or an event, by the way they prepare for it. I ask you to begin to view these special times of the year, which come to you, in a more quiet way, in a thoughtful, mindful way; because, every day is just as sacred as Christmas Day! And I can say this, because Christmas is set forth to be a celebration, a commemoration, a day in memory of My birth upon the Earth, but I can assure you, I would choose for you to celebrate it in a different way, but I would also choose for you to celebrate every day, assigning every day, the sacred meaning it holds!

“I was not born upon the Earth, the way anyone expected. At the very beginning, I was rejected by the world, no one would take us in. There was no room for Me. I was born on the ‘outer-edges,’ not well received; and this was not the arrival most had envisioned, or expected, but it was important it be done this way, quietly, outside, in a place that was sacred and sweet, untainted, by the ways of the world. Everything about My conception and birth, was miraculous, a gift of the realm of Spirit. And to make it all happen, required that I be surrounded with those who could see the angels, dream the angels, know the angels, and follow, as they were directed; but it was quiet. It was all done in a sacred way. This message coming to you today, is to prompt you, in a most gentle way, to take the journey within today, and restore peace, within your inner-landscape.

“Peace is such a beautiful word, no matter what the language, the words used to say ‘peace,’ are beautiful, and they carry the energy of peace. Therefore, say often, ‘Peace be with you.’ You can give no better gift than ‘peace.’ ‘Peace be with you.’ Set aside the ways of the world, set aside all your expecting, and longing, and hoping, and be still. Prepare for the coming of a new year, quietly. Let the new year come quietly. Treat it as a sacred beginning to the continuation of your journey, upon the Earth. Prepare yourself for the coming year, by establishing peace within; so that come the first day of the new year you can stand-up, and know, you are walking into the unknown, carrying ‘the power of a peaceful presence, that is you!’”

Jesus Teaches On:

Do Not Be Afraid, Live Your Destiny

“I AM with you! Let us celebrate, together, that I AM with you, and while we are celebrating our communication, our communion, let us also celebrate eternal life, living forever, in the glory of God. What an amazing gift! What an amazing gift this is, to be given eternal life. Therefore, let us celebrate, our communion within the eternal life, which has been given to us by God!

“Every person upon Earth right now, has a destiny to fulfill. The destiny is written within. Your soul knows your destiny, your spirit knows your destiny, and your heart beats with yearning, to fulfill your destiny. Some of you might question, by saying, ‘Well, what is my destiny?’ Some of you might have an idea; but hesitate to say it. No matter where you are, whether you know it, you think (you know) it, or you are not sure of it at all, I will assure you of it all. Each of you has a destiny to fulfill, and each of you carries all of the gifts, necessary, to fulfill the destiny you have been given. To know it more clearly, all that is required is to sit quietly, and ask The Holy Spirit to guide you to this knowledge; and, when you hear and know and understand that which is written upon your spirit, upon your heart, and carried by your soul, then you will have wisdom, and understanding. Once you know your destiny, then it is time to watch for the signs, listen for The Voice within which will guide you, all along The Way. Come the day that you embrace your destiny it will be important to remember, many around you, many very close to you, some loved by you, and some who love you will not understand your journey, your mission, your destiny. Be gentle in your response to these rejections, because it is your destiny. It is important for you to understand, it is important for you to follow, but others around you, no matter how much they love you or you love them, will not be able to understand, what you are trying to do, where you are intending to go. The only way others around you will understand your destiny is to see you live your destiny. That is the only way they will know it, because these things are within you, and how you show them, how you live your destiny, is the only way the world will see.

“Look for your courage, and strength, and guidance from within, and then follow it; and, as you follow, the guidance from within, with every step you take along The Way, you will be fulfilling your destiny. And then those who did not comprehend, or understand, what you were saying at all, will begin to see, because your destiny will be unfolding before their eyes. When they see it, they will begin to know it. Be willing to live what is within you. Do not hesitate to live what is within you; because, by your living, according to the guidance of The Holy Spirit coming from within, others too see and know, and it is a powerful way to learn. You can read every day, you can listen to speakers every day; but, until you see it, unfolding before you, you have an idea, you have a glimmer of what it might be; but, when you see it, there is no denying it. And when you see a destiny, unfolding before your eyes, lived by another, it is the encouragement you need. Others see, and are encouraged, by your destiny being fulfilled; and, as you live it, others are more likely to be, accepting and embracing their destiny, as well.

“Do not be afraid to take that which is yours, and follow it through, as you make your way back Home. As I was destined to bring the great messages, and the New Covenant, to Earth, you too, are destined, to leave your mark upon the Earth, at a certain time, for a certain season, and return Home. Your destiny is not of shadow and darkness. Your destiny is of the light. Find your courage and strength, find your guidance, from within, and then rise-up and begin, to live the destiny so others might see it unfolding, as you continue along The Way!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Saying Yes To Do God's Will Is The Beginning

“I AM with you! As sure as the day passes into night, and night passes into day, I AM with you! The form of communication we use to contact each other is advanced; yet, it is the most simple form, the wires connect with desire, and the hearts speak as one. Fuel your desire to draw nearer to God, open your heart to receive the love of God, and the light of God will follow you, and be with you, and within you, wherever you go. You will walk in the world, and experience the world; yet, you will be enlightened, from within; and, because of this illumination, you will move: free of doubt; sure, of who you are; confident, in the ways of God!

“So often in the passed years, when we reach this time of year, I speak to you of the occurrences surrounding My birth upon the Earth. I do so, because it is the perfect time to share what was really going-on, what was happening, beyond the historical dates and places, but more so in the hearts, and written on the faces of those who were taking part to make sure that I was born, that the prophecies would be fulfilled.

“If you are hearing these words, or reading these words, you have probably lived enough years to realize that saying, ‘Yes,’ to The Will of God does not guarantee that all things will be perfect for you, or more so than perfect, will look like, you thought they would look like, will unfold, like you hoped they would unfold. No. Saying, ‘Yes,’ to The Will of God often means that: you will meet resistance; sometimes, those around you, will turn from you; sometimes those around, you will gossip or speak about the things you are doing; sometimes you will have to go to great lengths to complete the task given to you. Saying, ‘Yes,’ to The Will of God prepares you, for that which is to come. It does not isolate you from what is happening; it shows you The Way in the midst of what is happening, because you have chosen to take the role of ‘an active participant,’ in the continuation of creation; and, when you say, ‘Yes,’ your role becomes less general, and more specific. You are now not one of the people in the crowd-scene, you are one, of the main characters: given words to speak, things to do, and places to go. When My earthly mother said, ‘Yes,’ she did not spend the rest of her life in easy fashion. When Joseph proclaimed that his intention was to take Mary, and accept the baby as his own, this goodness of his heart did not guarantee an easy life for him. Saying, ‘Yes,’ threw open the door to the fulfillment of the prophecies; but, saying, ‘Yes,’ was just the beginning. There was more to do, much more to do. But, saying, ‘Yes,’ opened the communications between Heaven and Earth, in such a profound way, that signs and visions were a part of the normal day. That was the change! They were living in a different way. Saying, ‘Yes,’ guaranteed the fulfillment of the prophecies, through them!

“So, I speak to you today to encourage you. Once you say, ‘Yes,’ to God, do not permit temptations to distract you, from that which you are intended to do. Do not think, because certain situations occur, that you have chosen the wrong way, because: you will experience Earth; you will experience tears and laughter; you will experience resistance, rejection, difficult times; and sometimes you will begin to feel alone, until you remember, and recall, you have something important to do. The Will of God has been handed to you, and you have accepted. The responsibility is with you; but, so too, are choirs of angels, surrounding you, directing you, The Voice of God whispering to you: 'This is The Way;' 'Go over here;' 'Rise-up and move to a different place;' 'This person, who comes to you today, will be one bringing you the truth.' This is the type of message that you will receive. This is the type of guidance you will be given. Saying, 'Yes,' will not protect you from the chaos of the world, it will prepare you to 'Master,' all that the world presents to you, so that you might complete your destiny, and return Home!"

Jesus Teaches On:

Say Yes, In Faith, Rise-up And Follow The Still, Small Voice, Within

“I AM with you! For those of you who are willing to accept this truth, and move through the day, making use of the gifts you have been given, you will find that The Still Small Voice within will lead you places you have never been before; and, you will see the glory all around you, as you have never seen it before! And as you walk along The Way, heeding The Voice within, watching for the signs, and following, you will see new horizons. You will see the sun set from many different places. Sometimes, these different places are exactly where you are, you are just given the wisdom of different perspectives from which to see, the new horizon, or the setting of the sun. It is possible to experience all of creation from exactly where you are, as long as you are willing to rise-up, and follow, that Still, Small Voice, within you!

“It (is) has come to that time of year, (where) when many of you are making preparations for My birthday celebration, a commemoration, remembering that I passed through a portal, the body of My mother Mary, and moved onto the Earth, to walk, as a human being, a human being on the outside, the Spirit of God held, tenderly, and surely within. And so, I would like to remind you of something, on this day, in the season of Advent. I have said it before, but I will pare-it-down, so there are few words, with a powerful message.

“There were hundreds of prophecies made about My coming to Earth to show The Way. There were many who heeded the prophecies, and waited, for The One promised who would come, and show The Way. There was one young woman, who said ‘Yes,’ in response to a vision, an apparition, an angelic presence with her, who asked the question. And Mary said ‘Yes.’

“In the face of ridicule, Joseph too said, ‘Yes,’ after a dream vision, prompting him to take the woman into his home; as this event was flowing, from the hand of God:

- That a group of men who had learning, who had studied, who had watched the skies, and knew the predictions, left the comfort of their home, and traveled many miles, because they were led to deliver gifts to The One who was coming to show The Way; and so, they did.
- That a young couple, waiting for their first child, would travel, far, on a difficult road, to observe the law of man, to be counted, was an occurrence that made sure, that the Child was born, exactly, where the prophecy had predicted.
- That a group of shepherds, on a hillside, all saw the apparition of angels, descending upon the Earth, to make the announcement of The Birth. And, they all said, ‘Let us go,’ and so they did. They left their sheep in the fields, in the hills, unguarded, and went, because The Birth was the most important thing to them.
- That the Child was born exactly as had been told. And, the shepherds came, and the wise men came, to see The Child born in a stable.

“A dream vision predicted that there would be disaster, unless Joseph did arise from sleep and take the woman, and the Child, into Egypt, just as foretold. And when it was time, the Child was carried out of Egypt, just as foretold.

“I leave you with these few thoughts, with these memories, and these words. It is often the (case that the) most inconvenient things happen at the most inconvenient times, in the most inconvenient way. And these inconvenient occurrences prompt thoughts of dismay, cries of anguish and frustration, when all the while, they are sent to show The Way, to make a change. And they call upon each of you, to rise-up, and follow The Still, Small Voice within, prompting you to do something that you would have considered impossible before. And in the commitment, in the saying, ‘Yes,’ there come the greatest gifts of all: fortitude, and strength, and courage, and bravery beyond what you have known.

“When you say, ‘Yes,’ you will have all you need, and the deeds you do, in this time of grace, will lead you Home!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Prepare: To Meet Your Destiny, To Hear God

“I AM with you! My presence with you, is not a mystery, it is fulfillment of a promise, a statement made thousands of years ago. I AM with you! Heaven is with you! Heaven is within you! For many, it is possible to experience Heaven upon Earth, for Heaven is near to thee.

“Do not permit, certain theories of intellectuals, who will lead you this way or that way, sharing with you, what they have learned, and how they have achieved, their confidence, in their intellectual ability (to distract you). These thoughts and theories can crumble, when presented with a new set of thoughts and theories; and, on and on it goes, building sandcastles, which fall as a new tide comes up onto the beach, and takes it away. The words I say to you, are not sandcastles, which can be torn down by the rising of a tide. The words I say to you are eternal, and eternally true, and they will come to each of you, at the appropriate time. Therefore, take that which is given to you, and apply it to you, your way, your course. Directions come to each one of you, and the direction, when it comes to you, is perfect for you! I AM with you!

“You can say that My journey upon the Earth, began, with an angelic apparition, and a teenage girl, willing to say, ‘yes.’ The angelic vision, the apparition, was set in place, thousands and thousands of years before it happened; it was an act of God. The affirmative response, coming from the lips of a teenage girl: came from her heart; came from belief; came from ‘knowing,’ the apparition before her, was angelic; came from a desire, to do, that which she was meant to do. Therefore, without hesitation, this young girl, or this teenager, said without pause, ‘Let it be done unto me, according to Thy will.’ And the door was open, and My journey upon the Earth began. Even before you could see Me, The Way was set before Me. My portal was the body of a teenage girl. Her destiny was set, through her belief, and accepting that which she was told!

“Each and every one of you, hearing My words, or reading My words today, is given the same opportunity. Perhaps it has already come to you; perhaps it is only a year or two away; but no matter when it comes, no matter what day it comes, you can be assured, the doorway to your destiny: will appear; it will come with signs, it will come with visions and apparitions, sometimes in your dreams, sometimes waking; but there is no doubt, it will come to you!

“The question remains, until it is answered. What will you do? Will you let the distractions, of the world created by man, lead you from the doorway of your destiny? Will you get so caught-up with the ways of the world that you cannot hear, or see the signs, that you turn your face from the vision of God, and wander into the world created by man?

“When you see the signs listen! When you hear the Whisper be still! There will be a soul recognition; and it will be especially strong, if you make a decision to begin preparing yourself! Prepare yourself for the signs. Prepare yourself for the visions. Prepare yourself to be ready to rise-up and follow.

“Each of you has a destiny, and each destiny is majestic and noble. Prepare yourself, for the signs from Heaven. The signs might come on the wings of a bird, the song of a stream, the strains of music, it might come from a voice of others, it could come from your heart. You cannot count the ways, but you can set the course to be prepared, to read the signs, and hear The Whisper. The ways of preparation are: to be more focused on God; to be kind and loving; to be understanding and compassionate; to be gentle. And in these tender ways, you prepare yourself, to see the unseen, and hear The Voice of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Begin Today, Live, That Which You “Know”

“I AM with you! I AM with you, as close as your hands are to your arms, as close as those you love. I AM with you! There is so much going on in the world today, which is unsettling, that I AM with you to bring you peace. I AM with you so that you can feel comfort from within; and, feel that comfort, so securely, that it is as if you are being wrapped in a blanket of love. I AM with you. I AM with you to guide you so that you might surely know The Way. I AM with you in the event you might stumble one day. I AM with you to encourage you to rise-up, and continue along The Way

“There are some cultures, upon the Earth, that ‘live,’ that which they believe, more than they speak the words. In these cultures of which I speak, they very rarely have towering buildings to make a statement of belief. Their gathering places are humble, perhaps even under a tree. They find no need to show what they believe in stone, and wood, and glass, or steel. They show what they believe by what they think, and say, and do. It is living acknowledgment, of the ways of God, bringing them onto the Earth: with every breath, with every morsel of food or drink, with every touch.

“At the current time upon the Earth, in the country wherein you reside, there has been a period of the celebration, of Thanksgiving, outwardly saying we are thankful, for that which we have been given. And this Thanksgiving celebration usually has to do with remembering harvest times, bringing-in the food. It has to do with thanksgiving: for family and friends, for warm shelter, for remembering Thanksgivings past, and consecrating the Thanksgiving present, the day they are celebrating. But as all celebrations must end, or have a certain season or period, Thanksgiving soon flows into yesterday, and most of you move into the period of preparing to celebrate My birth, upon the Earth. (There are) It is a number of days wherein great preparation is made for one day. There is a lot of shopping and gathering, a lot of communication with notes and cards or telephone calls. As a rule, it tends to be a happy time, for most. It is a time when hearts are tender, and eager to love! So, for this reason, I suggest the following, because it will be easier to do, during a time most are recognizing, as the time to love, and most are in good spirits, making merry. Instead of reading further, or finding new information, or researching a topic, that you feel needs further pondering, stop what you are doing, and begin practicing what you know. Begin to live the words you know, because I tell you this, when you are living, love, just the action, just the participation, in the love of God, brings you to a place of deeper understanding of the love of God! At that point you will realize, that there is no need to read about the love of God, it is within you; and, all you had to do was to move, the residue, and let it flow from you!

“Acting upon that which you know, leads you to where you should be, along The Way. Some of you, might be, putting-off the continuation of the journey along The Way, by gathering more, and more, and more information; but, there comes a time: when you must set aside the books, fold-up the directions, pack away the maps, and head-out on the journey, making a decision every day, based on what you already know, to be the living word of God! Do not be distracted, by those who let their intelligence rule: by speaking, and talking, and reciting, or even composing and writing, new ways to look at the theory of God, and how the children of God upon the Earth should be doing, or could be doing, this or that or the other. Resist that temptation, for a while, and live it: be the light; be compassion; be understanding, that all your brothers and sisters are on the path, returning Home, because the truth is the minute you are born, you begin the journey back Home; and, each journey is meant to be glorious, recorded-in The Corridors, of All Time!

“There is a place upon a shelf for the book of each child of God. You are writing your book: by your thoughts, they are there; you are continuing the writing with your words, you will find all of them in that book; and, you decorate the pages, and complete the cover, with your deeds; for, there is not one thought, or one word, or one deed, which is not recorded in the book, of you!

“Set your intention, today, to rise-up and follow The Way, by living what you know!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Embrace The Message, Love One Another

“I AM with you! I AM with you and it is real! You have access to Me, any time you choose. When you call, be it a whisper, or a cry for help, I AM with you, and I will show you The Way!

“You have been given all the guidance, all the direction, you need. And the guidance and the direction you have been given, will lead you to a place, a spiritual home, wherein you will be further nurtured, and sustained, and filled with truth and light, so that you might truly, know The Way, accomplish greatness!

“Before I came to walk upon the Earth, there was a group of people, who had been led out of bondage, who had wandered, who had searched, who were set apart, and often felt they were set upon, not only by other individuals, but governments, laws and regulations. They felt displaced, misplaced, and so they kept to themselves, waiting for the promise, for The One who would deliver them, from the ways of the world. They waited for one who would come, and correct all injustice, and make everything right; but slowly, that turned to a desire, to have a Messiah, that would come out of the clouds, and lay to waste all who had persecuted them, or made their life difficult in any way. They were looking for a champion, with a great army, who would crush their offenders, and raise-them-up to take the seat of power. You can imagine their disappointment when I proclaimed to be The One sent from God; and, rather than form a great army, to take over their world, My direction was to ‘turn the other cheek.’ Their thoughts roamed wildly in their heads, ‘We have turned the other cheek, for hundreds of years.’ I said: ‘feed the hungry, and give drink to the thirsty, and clothe the naked.’ And their thoughts again would roam, ‘We do this; we take care of our own.’ And, I added, ‘not just your own, but all people.’ I spoke to them about not being so concerned about removing a speck from another’s eye, when they could not see clearly, with a post, a huge piece of timber, stuck, or lodged, in their own eyes. These things they were not willing to hear.

“Those I did reach, were hungry to hear, that a Messiah had come, and was telling them clearly, that they could everything I could do! This brought them comfort. While one group of people demanded more and more of the miraculous healings, creating wine out of water, and such; it became clear, that no matter how grand a miracle, performed intended to bring glory to God, there would be more requests, and more requests, for bigger and grander things; but, they still would not embrace the truth; and, the truth was simple; but, it required them to humble themselves, be still and quiet, and begin to create love, within their beings once again.

“I tell you it is not enough to love those who reside under your roof. The direction ‘to love,’ encompasses those who might be difficult to love, those who might have insulted you in some way, but the refusal to do so is an indication that the ego is still in control whispering, ‘They are taking advantage of you,’ ‘they feel they are better than you.’ Or, it could be as simple as, you wish to appear better than they are, smarter than they are. The ego is tricky; but, once you set aside 'self,' and make it your intention to do the will of God, loving the difficult becomes easy. Being the deliverer of light, and miraculous healing, becomes a part of who you are. You are the light, you are the love of God. And, where the love of God resides, and where the light of God can be seen, there is peace, comfort, you are satisfied with that which you have, because that which you have, within you, is: The Mystery of God; The Presence of God; The Love of God! You can do no better, than to know the ways of God!

“Today, find your peace, in the ways of God! Resist the temptation to wander, or wonder, and embrace the message, delivered over two thousand years ago. ‘Love one another!’ Love is the answer! Love is The Way!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Advance In Retreat

“I AM with you! A new day is dawning. It is a golden opportunity. It is a chance to leave your mark, to create the perfect day. Do not shake your head, do not run-away from the opportunity to create a perfect day, when it comes to you. Do not believe it is impossible to do; for, in accepting this belief, you have already set the course, which will deny the creation of a perfect day. So, without hesitation say, I do, I do believe it is possible! and, in the saying of, I do, it is done, by you!

“Most of you are caught-up in a very busy life-style. You do not run the agenda of your day, so much as the day runs you. You go from this to that to the next thing, sometimes acting more in an automatic fashion, than using much thought, about how you would like to proceed, where you would really like to go, what you would really like to do, to achieve an outcome that is just perfect for you. These things seem to get lost, in the hours of a busy day; it seems to be set in stone, with no way out.

“When you prepare to take a three-day hike, you carry your gear with you, usually in a backpack. Somewhere towards to the end of the first day, the enthusiasm wanes as you make your way, possibly up a steep incline, or covering rocky terrain, and you begin to grow weary. When you sit down to rest, you do not keep your backpack, with all the gear, strapped to your body; for if you do so, it is impossible to sleep, to relax. No, the first thing you do is to remove the burden of the gear you are carrying, and then begin to relax, stretching, sitting by a fire possibly, preparing to get your rest for the evening, so you can rise-up, and begin the hike once again, in good form, in good shape.

“When you prepare to go into, let us say, a workweek, you might be unaware, that you are carrying a backpack, or many backpacks, with you everywhere you go, because unless you were trained as a child, to sit-down, periodically, and forgive and bless and release, past occurrences that were upsetting or troubling, embarrassing, or frustrating, in any way, you are carrying those things with you, into a new day. As you move through the years, that which could have been easily set aside, at one time, has now become a heavier burden. There are times when you are able to disguise, those burdens you are carrying, by piling other things atop them; but, they do not go away, unless you address, what needs to be addressed; and, the easiest way to assure that you go into this in a productive manner, is to stop what you are doing, set yourself aside, and quiet your mind, your thoughts, your everyday pattern.

“Your forward progress is most often revealed in retreat! Think enough of your spiritual life, to set the time aside: for review; to be rejuvenated: to retreat! It is often the case, that you do not realize how tired you have become until you stop; and, once you are stopped, and your mind and your body is still, you begin to realize the burdens you carry as real. Thoughts come to you about a certain person, or a certain incident, and it is in this ‘revelation,’ that you are led, to the acts that will free you! In the addressing of the issue, and the forgiving of the matter, in the releasing of the energy, you are free of the burden! And once, it is done, another might come, a thought of a different person, a different time, a different situation; and, the process begins again: acknowledging, accepting, forgiving, releasing, and blessing! And, there it is, another burden, set aside! You free yourself of all the gear, of many years, as you sit quietly in retreat!

“When I walked upon the Earth, over two thousand years ago now, I retreated: over and over and over again: so that I would be fresh and new; so that I could sit with Our Father, and review, the course, the path; so that I might know The Way, and know it clearly; so that when others saw Me, I did not appear beaten-down, exhausted, and tired, but My energy announced that I was on a mission, for God, and I was ready, and capable, and able! I was to be ‘the example, of what could be accomplished, as you walk upon the Earth.’ I will not say it cannot be done, when you are tired and exhausted; but I will most surely say, that it is much easier to make your journey, to live the life you are meant to live, when you are not tired and exhausted!

“So, I encourage you today, if you have not done so (to) get your calendar, mark the days (to retreat), and set them firmly, in pen, not pencil! Begin the act of freeing yourself of all the burdens you carry, day-in, and day-out! Begin the course, that will lead you: to freedom, to a new way of living, to complete your journey, to realize the goal; and, this course will be set, in retreat!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Deliver Blankets of God's Unconditional Love

“I AM with you! Open your heart. Open your arms. I send you My love, and as you are open, you receive it, and it moves into you, and you smile, because you know, you have just taken part in an exchange, a giving and a receiving, and it is sweet, and needs, or requires, no words! Love can pour from Me to you, and as long as there are no barriers, or walls, or defense of any kind, you feel it, and the less impediments placed between us, the stronger you feel the love, flowing toward you, into you, and through you; and, it is possible for you to send this love, I give to you, from you, out into the world; in fact, it is possible for you to be God-like in your sharing of this love, I give unto you, by letting it flow, by letting it go, from you: without hesitation; without designating a receiver; by letting it be unconditional love, flowing from thee!

“It is possible for you to feel love in a room, no words required, you just feel the love moving, and without physical touch you can feel the embrace of love. In fact, it can be one of the most beautiful experiences you can have upon Earth. Walking into a room, filled with love, is like being wrapped in something warm, and soft, and tender. In this wrapping, in this warmth and tenderness, it is possible to release the tension in your shoulders and neck, be less rigid, and relax into the embrace of love. It is possible on Earth, as it is in Heaven. It requires willing participants to set this magnificent, tender love flowing.

“Throughout time, Earth has experienced turbulence, and wars, and chaos and confusion, famine, destruction, devastation; but, until recent time(s), what was happening on the other-side of the world was not felt by those half-way around the world; in fact, they did not even know it was happening. And without knowing that something was happening on the other-side of the world, it did not impact them personally, at least for a while, until the news spread; but, not too many years ago, the spreading of news was slow; and, oftentimes by the time the news reached those half-way around the world, the situation was altered already. That which was breaking news, on one side of the world, was over and done.

“This ability to know, everything, can have an impact upon you personally. You can turn-on a television, or a computer, or read a paper, and know: that a child is trapped in a well in Africa; that an elderly person has been robbed and beaten in Germany; that a number of things have happened all over the world, that tend to crush your heart and spirit; and, each story brings more sadness, and worry, about what is happening in the world. But I must tell you, that some of this stress and worry is created in the way things are repeated or told. The story about the child in the well might be slightly different, in its impact upon you, if the story contained the fact(s) that numerous people, from different villages, had come bearing foods, and blankets, and waters, (and) were taking care of the family whose child was in the well, and were staying-up, all through the night, sending help, rescuing a child. This would make it different, wouldn't it? It puts a different twist in the story, doesn't it? True, something has happened, but look at the valiant effort, by all those around, to right the situation, to gather those involved in that warm, tender, soft blanket of love. And the same could be said about an elderly person, who had been beaten and robbed. Would the story have a different impact upon you, if at the same time, it was reported that neighbors from all around, and family members: took care of the elderly person; brought food for the family; took care of the situation, righted the wrong, made everything as it was; comforted the person; and prayed together for a good outcome for all; if you knew there was such an outpouring, wrapping the person in this blanket, this warm, tender blanket of love, that would have a different impact on you, wouldn't it?

“When you hear, or know, or see something going on around you, let it be your intention to be delivering warm, tender blankets of love. Do not lock your door. Do not close your eyes. If the family down the street is having financial difficulties, there is something you can do, and that something begins by creating, in your thoughts and prayers, a beautiful vignette for them. See them all healthy; see them all happy; see them walking through this trial, coming-out the other-side victorious, and better for it! Create this in your thoughts. That is the first step. Pray in a positive way! Do not pray by lamenting in sorrow. Pray by lifting-it-up to a new level of light; and then, whatever you can do, whatever you have to share, share, without asking what the need is, because The Holy Spirit will guide you to know what you are to do. Then, when you know, do not hesitate at all, go, and deliver that warm, tender blanket of love, because you will know love better in the giving!

“This week do not be stressed, or worried, or frustrated, or even angry about what is happening in the world around you! Hear it, and know it, lift-it-up in light, and create a scenario from which lessons can be learned! See, what is not reported! Create a situation, where those who are around the occurrence act, in the light and the love of God, because, that is what is happening. There are people of faith, all over the world, who rise-up, and go where love is needed, even if it is just next-door, even if it is the room down the hall in your own home. You all have access to that warm, tender blanket of love! Use it, often! Wrap yourself in it, when necessary; but, do not let it lie dormant, within you.”

The Kingdom Of God Is With You, Create Your Sanctuary Of Peace

“I AM with you! For those of you who believe, this is a joyful occasion, an answer to a prayer; I AM there; I AM with you! I would ask you today to let your actions send forth a resounding song of belief, and knowing, that I AM with you; for, if you walk into the world created by man, in such a way, that it is obvious that you believe I AM with you: there will be nothing to stop you, nothing to hurt you, no confrontation will stop the love flowing into and through you!

“So, I say, ‘Come, let us go together into this day! Walk, and talk, and dance and sing, showing you believe that I AM with you!’

“In the quiet of morning prayer, it is easier: to recognize My presence; to find faith, bubbling-up (with) inside of you; flowing over, as (a) joy, unrestrained and unconfined; it feels comfortable; it is serene, and tranquil; it is a place you do not wish to leave behind. You do not have to leave it behind, I AM with you! I AM with you through the entire day; but in the morning, when you stop to pray, you are actually gathering everything together, like packing-up a briefcase, to take with you. You are gathering-up your memories, of Me; and how I have been there, for you, many times before. You are gathering-up your faith, that I will always be with you, even into tomorrow. You are gathering-up, all that you need to sustain you, during the day. You are packing-up your comfortable quiet place, to take it with you, into the day!

“As you make your way through each day, occasionally you will encounter an individual, who is a fountain of peace, in a world of chaos. When you find such a person, linger a while, within the realm of their sanctuary. Pay attention to the words they say, how they move.

“The world created by man will often be torn apart with chaos and confusion, hatred, anger, volatile arguments, perhaps wars. In such times, you will be called to be a sanctuary, to find peace within your being, and therein rest, and take refuge, until all the turmoil has passed-over.

“Take notice, in the world you are living-in today, the news you hear will usually be about disruption; but, look around you, and you will notice groups of people, or perhaps one or two at a time, separating themselves from the confusion, making their way: into the deserts, or the meadows, or the mountains, or the shores, separating from the disruptive energies, cultivating colonies of calm, peace, places of prayer, reflection, and meditation. If you begin to notice this, you will soon find that there is not only one, or two, or three, there are many, many places being born, resurrected, found, created, celebrated. These are the places which have a piece of The Kingdom of God upon Earth; and they call to you, and therein you find comfort, because in such places the environment is just right, for you, to go within, and find your peace, so that as you leave, you take your piece/peace, fully resurrected, knowing: who you are, knowing where you are going, knowing what you are to do. This is faith, and it will set you apart in many ways, so that you are truly 'in the world, but not of the world,' so that you taste the tart sweetness of the fall apple, and it is good.

“You are in the world to experience Earth and all its wonder. You are walking upon the Earth as a connector between Heaven and Earth. Reestablish your connection with God! Be childlike, in your connection with God! Be amazed at the beauty, created by God! This day establish your sanctuary, within: and you will find peace; and, within your peace, your joy will grow, because you 'know,' who you are! You are a child of God! Sing-out children of Earth, and let the song roll, over the mountains, and into the seas!

“I am a child of God! I am upon the Earth, for a short time; but I will revel in its delights, and I will honor all things created by God! My joy is unconfined, and unrestricted, and I dance in the light, of a new day!’

“Rise-up children of God, and let us go forth as brothers and sisters, for I AM with you! Let us go forth to welcome the new day! Let us go forth to build sanctuaries of faith, and trust, and love, and charity! Let us go forth, and bring The Kingdom of God onto the Earth, this day; for, it resides within each of us!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Ask Spirit, And Remember To Focus On The Goal

“I AM with you! I AM with you, to remind you, that there is always, guidance and assistance, comfort and light, prepared to stream toward you, to rest around you, to lift-you-up, and carry you, day and night. I AM with you to remind you of these things.

“When you are ready, there will come a time, when you can turn to no one, except to be still, and ask for help; and, the help will come from The Dimension of Perfection, from those who have assumed the position of responsibility to help guide you, and remind you of a goal, of something which you desire to accomplish, so that it does not get lost in confusion and chaos.

“I AM with you. I will whisper the answers to your questions, and I will show you The Way!

“There is much conflict in the world created by man, and it is easy to be pulled into the energies of conflict, even when your goal is to help others, because soon the goal is lost when ego enters the project, and it becomes a fight: to see whose idea is best, whose position is right, whose position is wrong. Back away, far enough from the conflict, so that you might begin to see the source of the conflict, because very rarely is one person, or one particular group of people, all in error, and the other side of the conflict, all in the right, or light. If you can allow yourself to see one thing, that stands-out as good and productive from each side of the confrontation, you will begin to grow in wisdom. Solution often lies in finding the many ways the participants in the conflict can be on common ground; and, it is strange, because, most often, the conflict began, regarding a goal that was good for all, and would have brought them all to common ground.

“So, I tell you a story to carry with you into the week...

“Use your imagination, and travel to a country that is divided on how to accomplish something. Now, the goal is good. The goal is that all the people of this particular country will have food: no child will go hungry or thirsty, that food will be available for all, that there will be a quality of life that will be outstanding. The goal to setting this high quality of life in this country is to begin with feeding all the people, so they are healthy and happy and strong. But soon the goal of ‘food for all,’ is lost in the squabbles of ‘whose idea is best,’ on how to accomplish this goal. For years this argument rages, and the people are forced to choose sides. Whose idea, about how to feed all the people is best? And the goal seems to disappear, and it becomes a fight, a competition. Whose idea on how to accomplish this is best? And so, the argument rages, the sides are chosen, and there you are.

“But on the other side of the country, there is a small group of people who had the wisdom to stand-back from the conflict, and take a look; and, after they looked, and after they prayed, and after they were quiet, they began to unravel the conflict, they found the goal, crumpled and crushed, beneath the feet of the competitors. And so, this small group of people began to hand-out seeds, instructions and guidance on how to prepare a garden; and soon, there were others coming: coming and asking for seeds; coming and asking for guidance on how to plant a garden; and soon, there were many: working, and weeding, and watering; and, the gardens were growing and overflowing, and people were healthy and happy, and no one was without food, because the request for the seeds was always answered, not only with seeds, but all you would need to know to plant the garden. There was even help, if that was needed.

“And so, while one side of the country was gripped in conflict about how to achieve the noble goal of food for all, the other side of the country was sitting down to a dinner table, enjoying the fruits of their labors, remembering the goal.

“I would like you to take this story into the week with you, and remind you, do not lose sight of the goal; do not permit ego to trample the nobility of the goal!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Do Not Worry, Create In The Light, And For The Glory Of God

“I AM with you! Yes, it is true, I AM with you. I speak to you as easily, as one calling, from many countries away; and, you have the ability to hear Me, just as you would pick-up a telephone, and say, ‘Hello,’ and hear the voice of one you love, from many, many miles away.

“I AM with you! Speak to Me. Speak to Me with your heart; for, I know what is written upon your heart. I know the trials, I know the challenges, which come to you; but, in the knowing of these things, I also know, that nothing comes to you, that you are not well equipped to master. It is your opportunity and honor, all at the same time. I know, if it is with you, you can do it; if it has come to you, it is yours to master.

“Do not be worried. Do not let your heart be filled with hurt. Do not be discouraged. Do not let the weight, of the world, weigh you down. Do not let the words, of the world, bother your peace, disturb your comfort.

“When you are worried, there is chaos within you, there is a rumbling, and things are unsettled. It stirs the peace, and it is difficult to rest; and so, I say unto you, do not be worried! Push the worry aside and sit quietly with God. In the presence of God all things melt away; for, worry cannot stand in the presence of God, for in the presence of God there is no worry, there is that present piece of eternity that is precious, and holy, and sacred.

“It is very easy to slip into the place, where the things of the world, require attention; and, many times during the day, it falls to you to pay attention to that which you are doing, to that which you are called to accomplish; but, even in the completing of a task, there is a way to carry the peace of God with you; and, as you carry the peace of God with you, while you are accomplishing the task, that which you are doing is blessed, with the presence of God.

“Think upon this. If you work, if you create, if you accomplish, while you are holding the presence of God with you first, that which you accomplish is good, and filled with the light of God. This is the goal: to be in the world, but not of the world; to be in the world, and accomplish wonderful things, but to let that which you accomplish be done in the light of God; and slowly, in this manner, Earth and Heaven begin to flow together! Do not be concerned if everyone else is doing this. Do not look around, and demand that everyone else be doing this. Focus on what you are doing, and soon you will be doing this. And in this quiet way, Heaven and Earth move closer and closer together each day, because of what one child of God is doing, in a sacred way!

“Do not be worried. Do not be concerned. Do not hold hatred or anger upon your heart. Rise-up and walk into each day, with great anticipation, and joy, and excitement; and, let it be your intention to create whatever is yours to create, in the light, and for the glory, of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Focus On Your Path, The Way God Is Guiding You

“I AM with you! Believe it. Be still, and you can feel Me with you; for I AM with you to speak to you and walk with you. You have the ability to receive help, reaching through the veil, into another dimension, with your prayer, your reflection, your meditation. And once you reach through the veil with this call of invitation: answers come; decisions are made; and, The Way is made clear for you. Believe, because it is true!

“Once you establish conversation, communication, reaching through the veil, with your questions, or joyful delight, no matter what your position might be, continue to reach through the veil, and speak.

“If you maintain this connection, if you can maintain your connection with God, you will never lose your way! You might stumble, here or there; you might get distracted, and wander off course; but, when you are attempting to maintain a connection with God, you will be pulled-back to center, you will stay the course, and you will make your way over the Earth in peace.

“One of the quickest ways to lose this connection, this focus on where you are to go, is to ‘follow the temptation,’ to pay attention to what others are doing, especially in cases where you believe others are wrong! These rings of judgment; and, it is so. When you are watching what others do and say, or don’t do, or don’t say, you are not watching where you are going. Soon you either find yourself: following along in their path; or, stumbling over an obstacle, that you would have clearly seen in your own path, had you not been so absorbed in what others are doing. Pay attention to where you are going!

“If one day you find yourself fortunate enough to find someone who wants to walk your path with you, then rejoice! At that point, you have another who will support you, and encourage, that the focus stays on the path ahead of you. So, now it is the two of you. If you are not looking all around this way and that, you see the obstacles clearly, and together move them aside, and continue, on your way.

“Do not be distracted by a temptation into judgment of others, for you should be occupied with your own path. This is The Way to live upon Earth. This is The Way to have a good night’s sleep. This is The Way to drink from a cup that is sweet, at the end of the day. Encourage others to walk their own path. Do not tell them which way to go, or what to do. Simply repeat, ‘God will tell you! Be still, and listen, and go your own way.’ Because, by saying this, you are showing: confidence, in the hand of God; trust, in that ‘what will be, will be;’ faith, that each participant will make it through, reach the goal.

“Every time you are tempted to pay attention to what others are doing or to speak-ill of what they are doing, remember this, and pray for it yourself. When you are tempted to judge another, lift that name up to God! Do not pray, that God do for them what you think should be done for them; simply lift their name up; 'I bless you, in the light of God!' In this way: you are silently supporting; you are blessing them, rather than cursing them; you are doing something good, in the light of God. At the end of the day, you will not sit and ponder the words you have said, you will sit, and be in thanksgiving, for the words you prayed!

“Bless, and forgive, and release all tendencies to judge. Walk your path, alone or with another. Keep your eyes focused, on where you are being led, by The Holy Spirit within you.

“What a world it would be, if each inhabitant of Earth would focus on their path, would be still, and listen for the guidance from God, and then rise-up and follow! The paths would be aflame with desire, and Earth would be a light in the sky! Pay attention to where you are going. Rise-up and focus on The Way.”

Jesus Teaches On:

On Love, Kindness, And Creating Peace, On Earth

“I AM with you! I AM with you. Do not let doubt, creep into your thoughts, because then you will push it away, and Me along with it; it, is believing that I AM with you. You believe in technology, you believe in science, you believe in what you can see. Oh, My brothers and sisters, one day you will understand you have it backwards! All that you can see will fade away. All that you can see will go to dust; but, that which you cannot see, lives forever, including your spirit. You look in the mirror and see your body, and think that is you, and it is not. The real you is behind the eyes you see, in the mirror. I AM with you. I AM with you; believe it; for, the day will come, when you will need to believe it; therefore, practice believing!

“Today, I would like to say just a few words to you, which will help you. You cannot go very far, in your daily journey, until you encounter a few people; and, sometimes, people will talk about how nice it would be to live in peace. Often times, they talk about a scenario of peace, and what needs to be done to do this or that. They create committees on peace. They create rallies, where people march in the streets, waving banners, saying, and calling for peace to come now. This is all a waste of time. It is all a waste of energy. You cannot ‘create peace,’ by marching in the streets, demanding that everyone else: do what you do, and say what you say, and think how you think.

“The only way peace will come to Earth, is for you to love one another! Why do you think, that I was sent to Earth to deliver that message, over two thousand years ago? It is not given the importance, and the respect, due that one statement. Love one another! You make-up songs about it, you write books and stories about it. You teach your children to be kind and loving to other people; but, your children soon look and see what you are doing, and then they too, give it little importance, little respect.

“Until you can love one another, there is no need to go forward. You can memorize the entire Bible; you can memorize all the books speaking about the glorious power and love of God; you can go-out, and: take meals to those who need to be fed, take clothing to those who need to be clothes; but, if you do not have love in your heart, all of the things you do, are tainted, with judgment.

“This week use your energy, and time, to correct any (negative) thoughts you might have, replacing them with loving thoughts. You will know the signs, watch for them. If you are tempted to anger, understand, that no one can make you angry; that is something ‘you decide to do,’ on your own. You must ‘choose,’ to be angry; and, once you choose anger, then you create anger, and it is yours. But the responsibility for the anger is not with others, it is within yourself. You must choose love, over anger.

“Now, you can take any other negative energy, and replace anger, with anything else, and it is the same. The day you realize that you are ‘the creator of your own reality,’ will be the day, when you are most eager to be loving, and kind! That is what you need to spread! That is what you need to go-out and do! The world will recognize 'the sign, in you,' they will know you, by your love!

“If someone assails you, or insults you, bless them; unless you want to be in their energy stew. This is the lesson for this week, and you might think it trite, and simple; but, when you begin to think about it, you see that it is not so simple; because if it could be done easily, the world would be filled with loving people! Take a look around, and see, how many 'loving people,' do you encounter each day? Now, it is easy to love those who are nice to you. It is easy to love family members. It is easy to love good friends; but, that was not the direction, the direction was to 'love one another,' with no qualifications, loving your enemy just as much as you love your family, and friends. When this is done, the world will know peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Our Father Sent The Holy Spirit To Guide You

“I AM with you! Most often, you feel My presence, or hear Me, when you are quiet, and still. It is not impossible to hear Me through noise, through chatter and clatter, and the clashing of wills; but it is easier to hear Me, and feel My presence, when you grow still! There is always a place, the time is always the present, and the calling is constant, to come sit with Me: for it is in this, hour of prayer, this time of reflection, that you are led into a deeper friendship, knowing, with Me; for it is in this time, when we are together, that wisdom is passed to you, so that as you move through your day, you will know exactly what to do.

“When I walked upon the Earth, more than two thousand years ago now, as you know, I gathered a group of people to be around Me, to watch My daily actions, to hear Me speak; and those I gathered around Me: watched, and listened, and learned, and grew in the ways of God. There was a new movement, afoot, there was a new message being delivered to those of Earth, and the message was ‘love!’ This message was radical; and, those hearing it were astonished! In fact, it was so radical, that only those ‘ready to bear what I had to say,’ came forth and followed Me, for the time was right for them. And it was a sign unto them that, if the words I spoke touched their hearts, settled within their spirit, and felt right, they were the new appointed ones, the ones chosen to lead a wave of love into the new time.

“And the wave did grow, and those following Me, rode upon that wave, and grew in confidence, and courage, and strength. And as they watched, the healings, they were told, to go out and heal, they were told to go out and feed the hungry, and give drink to the thirsty, they were sent out to do, what most thought would be impossible; yet, they somehow found the inner-strength, courage, faith, and belief, to go out and do it. Therefore, it was done. We were a group following the new command! There was support within the group; there was courage and faith and trust, strength, within the group; but, at the end of My time upon Earth, that courage began to crack a bit; and when I returned Home, those who had found courage and support, together, began to doubt, and to cry, and to hide, and to worry, until Our Father, sent The Holy Spirit upon them, to resurrect their strength and courage, to find support from within. It was a blessing; because as The Wind roared around them, and The Spirit was revived within them, they stood-up. They stood-up, and stayed-up, from the support they received from within.

“God did not just send The Holy Spirit to resurrect the fallen, and those weeping in doubt, at that time. God, Our Father, sent The Holy Spirit, so that you, too, will have support, as you make your way through every day! This is the importance of finding time, during the course of the day, to take yourself to a quiet place, and be still: so that you can ask the questions, and know which way you are to go: so that you might not make your decisions, based on the clamoring of the crowd, but on the still, small Voice within you, which does not need to be loud. It is The Whisper from within. It is the gentle prompting. It is the sacred calling, saying, ‘Come, walk this way!’

“As you make your way through this day and into a new week, do so with confidence, ‘knowing,’ that your support is within you, that within you is a guide book of wisdom, and it will not fail you. Go forth this day, walk The Way, and believe that The Holy Spirit will guide you!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Pray, and Create The Best Day

“I AM with you. Yes, I AM with you! You have another day. A new day is dawning upon the Earth. It is an opportunity some do not have; so, make the best of it. Be the best of it. Do not stand, or sit, or sleep, waiting for someone to make your day. Be proactive, rise-up, go-out, and make the day, for others. Be the call, they have been waiting to receive. Be the hand they have been waiting to take. Be the love they feel they have been denied. Be kindness, compassion, and understanding. Be all of it. Be open to it. Go-out, and make this day, the best day it can be, because, it will be, exactly, what you create it to be. Do not lose sight of the power you have been given, by The Creator of All Things. No matter what is beyond the threshold of this new day, you can make it, the best day!

“For those of you who are familiar with prayer, with taking the time each day to sit with God, to be still for a while, to feel the presence of God, you know how it feels to be enfolded in love! And, many times, that feeling, of being enfolded in love, carries you through the difficult challenges of the day, holds you in such a place of peace, that you address the issues of the day one at a time, until you are done, still feeling the pieces of love, from Father to son, or daughter!

“You know how good it feels; but, sometimes it is forgotten, that you too, can be the provider, of this feeling, of love! There are so many in need of: a safe harbor, a sanctuary of peace, an ear to listen with compassion, a gentle whisper, inviting, saying, ‘Come, sit with me.’

“It is good to receive love, especially the kind of love you feel, when you are in prayer, reflection, meditation! It is extraordinary, when you can be the provider of this energy of love, the energy of creation; for, when you are being kind and understanding and loving, there is great creation happening! The energies are compelling, healing. Take the time to deliver to others that, which God has given to you! Do not hold-back, because you feel you do not have the time in your busy day: to stop and give a call, to write a note, to drive a mile or two. Do not let what appears to be inconvenient stop you, from delivering the love of God to others. It will be the best gift they receive the entire day. In fact, you can change the course of their entire day, with just a few minutes of kindness.

“Let all things go. Release all bad feelings. Let there be resolve, within you, that from this day forward: you will deliver love; you will deliver kindness; you will be understanding and compassionate for others. This is a gift that, when given to others is received by the giver, over and over again, because that which you give, is always returned to you, in one form, or another!

“Let this day be a day of peace. Create, this day to be a day of peace. Cast all agitation and anxiety from you; and focus on peace. Resist the temptation to read articles, or watch interviews, which are less than peaceful. Let all those things go from you. Often times, they are set to agitate you and to move you one way or the other. My suggestion for you today is to stand in the light of God, and feel the love of God, and let it flow from you, to others, without hesitation, without reservation! Be an open invitation, for all others to come and sit quietly, in the love you are creating!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Sit With God To Begin Your Day, Deliver The Love Of God, As You Create Your Day

“I AM with you! I AM with you, as you make your way, through each, and every day. What an experience! What an amazing life! You are upon Earth! Do not waste one minute! Do not take things for granted. I understand it might be easy to do, when your plate seems filled with responsibilities, and work. There might even be the temptation to focus on these responsibilities and work, to such a degree, that you cannot see the beauty surrounding thee, cannot take the time to hold a hand, to kiss a cheek, to extol the magnificence of a tree, to celebrate the song of a river, or a stream, or a sea. Do not let these things escape thee.

“What is happening right now is a piece of eternity. It is your experience; so, what will you create from your experience? Be still a while, and decide, how this day will unfold for you, what you intend to create, with that, which you think, and say, and do!

“There is no better way to begin the new day than taking the time to sit in quiet, and pray, reflect, connect with God; for God is your Eternal Parent, and there is much you can learn by sitting quietly, and listening, to what God will say to you; but, in order to do this, you must make the space, take the time, and the initiative. It will often be easy to say, ‘I do not have the time, I do not have the space. My day is so busy, I feel as if I am about to run a race.’ It is especially on days which seem overwhelming, that you should begin, by sitting quietly, and listening, to what God will say to you.

“In this time of communion with God, you will find you are preparing for a day. And, this time spent with God will prepare you to create a better day! You will probably ask God, ‘What should I do today?’ And I will tell you, in almost every situation, God will say, ‘My child, deliver My love, to all you encounter, today.’ And then, since there seems no other appropriate response, you will say, ‘I will do that today, God. I will deliver your love today.’ And so, as you rise-up, and get ready to go out into the world, you find that the first thing you have done is to have a verbal agreement, with The Creator of All Things, that you will deliver love, to the world, and all it brings to you.

“When you begin your day, in this way, it alters your perspective. You are less likely to be irritable, out-of-sorts, grumpy, because before you did anything, you had an encounter, with God, and the direction was clear, it came as a whisper within your ear. ‘Deliver My love today!’ When those words are the first words you hear, it makes it clear, what you are to do. Without hearing those words, or taking that time to sit with God, you begin your day in a hurry, in a flurry of thoughts, pulling you here and there and everywhere. You are agitated before you begin, and any temptation to frustration is easier to ensnare you, to hold you, to set your day, going in that direction.

“During the course of any day, it is likely that you might run into individuals who are: a bit contrary, a bit contentious, a bit challenging. This is possible; but, God has set your course already. Deliver love! Resist 'the temptation,' to join-in the contrariness, the contentiousness, the challenging of this, that, and everything else, and remember the guidance, 'Deliver My love, to the world today!'

"The very minute you 'react,' to contrariness, contentiousness, or a challenging attitude, you are jumping into that bowl, into that pool, into that energy, and there is no good outcome. But if you 'take to heart,' what God did ask of you, at the start of the day, you will stand in the midst of whatever others say, and smile, asking, 'Did you see the beauty of the sunrise?' 'Did you hear the majesty of the storm last night?' And simple questions like that, might stop the flurry, might take hold, all the while, you are delivering God's love, refusing the temptation, standing in the light. This might seem a rather dramatic presentation of what you might encounter during the day; however, it is good to practice, it is good to know what to say, in the event you encounter contrariness, contentiousness, or challenging attitudes. If you are prepared, the answers will flow freely. But because you took the time to begin your day with God, you are better equipped: to deliver love, to reject reaction, to be the bringer of light!

"I suggest that you try this approach to this day! This day is just beginning. You can create it, in any way. You can form it to be a beautiful lesson, an encounter upon Earth, an experience of your lifetime. You can make it simple, or you can make it extravagant, exquisite, sublime.

"You are the creator, of your day! Welcome it! Sit with God, then rise-up, and make your way over the Earth, delivering the love of God, to every individual you meet, and every encounter that comes your way! Go out and deliver the love of God today!"

Jesus Teaches On:
Be The Light, And The Love, Of God

“I AM with you! What a joy it is to be with you, to be a part of each pursuit and to watch; to watch you smile, to hear you laugh, to know your ways. For those of you who believe in this trans-dimensional communication, often referred to as prayer, be bold in your belief! Reach-out, and take My hand; for, I too have walked the paths of Earth. I know the ways of Earth. I know the ways of the world, created by man. I know the secret of how to combine these ways, so that you know them, you live them for a while, but you season them highly, and sweetly, and delicately, with the ways of God, to create a lifetime upon Earth, that is just perfect, for who you are. Do not give-up who you are. Celebrate who you are, for you are a child of God!

“The topic of ‘being in the world, but not of the world,’ has been addressed, before. We speak of it often, when we sit together. How can you manage to do this, when God’s Ways say do this? And, so on, and so forth. But, I tell you, if you strip-it-down to its most simple form, The Way to do it is to take the presence of God with you, wherever you go! Do your work, but do it in such a way, that it brings the glory of God to every day, and to those around you. It is not necessary for you to preach, or to teach, being ‘the living word,’ accomplishes much more; for, when you are preaching, or teaching, it is possible for others to ‘turn a deaf ear,’ to that which they do not wish to hear. But, when you are working, or playing, and leading your life, with the light of God shining through you, in every way, it is impossible for those around you to not see, The Word, living, in thee!

“A picture is worth a thousand words. You can see something, but to describe it requires much effort; and sometimes, in the description, you can select a word that perhaps does not quite fit. But in the seeing, of The Living Word, it all works together, and each and every individual sees, by what you are doing, and in The Way you are doing it, exactly what they can bear. It is much the same as when I chose parables to speak, because in this way mysteries were hidden in every layer of the parable, and those who were listening, took what they could bear, at the time, took what they could learn at the time, and it was just perfect, for them.

“So, I ask you today, set your intention to go out into the world, and do it in such a way, that you are ‘in the world, but not of the world;’ you are doing what you need to do to sustain and maintain your life upon Earth, but it is seasoned with the love, and the light, of God! This will bring you joy, and true happiness. This will bring you wisdom. Go-out into the world, and be the light, and be the love, of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Let Creation Unfold In Celebration

“I AM with you! Celebrate this day! If you find you have risen-up, not so eager to move, one way or the other; or, if you have risen-up, eager to go running-out into the world; no matter what state you find you are experiencing, you can still celebrate, that you have a day. You can celebrate in your own way: you can celebrate in quiet; you can celebrate in song; you can celebrate in movement and motion; you can celebrate in stillness. Let the form of celebration, be born, within you. No matter where you are, no matter who you are, no matter what you do, celebrate, in the way, that is perfect for you!

“Every day is sacred. Every day is uniquely a piece, of eternity; and, when you awaken to this truth, you realize the importance of every day, the importance of the eternal flow, and the importance of what you do during each unique day, and how it impacts, eternity! Therefore, the early hours of the day are important, they are sacred, they are the time during which you set the course of your day. you make an intention, and then you head-out, along The Way.

“Do not attempt to tell others how they should celebrate the day. Do not be dissuaded by others, in how you intend to celebrate the unfolding of a new day. The perfect day is complete when all participants celebrate the day, sing of its sacredness, dance of its uniqueness, each, in their own way!

“I would like to give you something to think about the coming week; and, it does have to do, with celebrating, working, whatever you are doing, in a way that is uniquely your own. Children show us this, the importance of this, when they find a page out of a book, and they take their crayons, and they color, and they make the picture in the book their own, by the application of the colors they choose. The ‘end result,’ usually finds its way to the door of a refrigerator, or other place of prominence in the home, celebrating, that, which the child has created, in a way all their own.

“During the coming week you will see many individuals: working, and playing, taking part in activity, taking part in resting, reading, watching, eating, preparing; and, you will find that, during the course of the week, you might be tempted, into criticism, judgment of others, in how they do this, or that; but, it would be good to tempter your criticism, and your judgment, with the knowing, that they are doing the best they can, with that which they have been given. Do not criticize, others, for doing good works, just because they do not do it, the way you would do it. Do not criticize others, for the way they heal the sick, give food to the hungry, and drink to the thirsty, because you do not know them, because their ways are foreign to you. When God touches the heart, of one who is willing, do not impede the good they will do, because you do not know them, or their ways. Look at the fruit as it falls from the tree, and you will know!

“See the world covered with pieces of paper, and crayons galore, for the purpose of creation; and, every individual, making a selection, choosing the colors they would like to use, and creating a canvas that comes from within them, with colors tender or sweet or bright and bold.

“Today, is a unique piece of eternity, and you are each unique pieces of God’s great creation. Let the creation unfold, and behold, the creation of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Remember, You Are A Child Of God

“I AM with you. There is a joy when friends and family see each other after a long time of absence. They quickly catch-up on anything they have missed, and move-on together, forging a deeper, stronger, more loving relationship, knowing each other better, with every exchange. And this, is how it is, with you, and with Me. When you have not called upon Me for a while, when you have turned away, for whatever reason, there always comes the day, when we are back together, the season of reuniting; and, we cover bases, talk about things that have happened in the interim; and, the more time we spend together, the deeper our relationship, the more understanding, the more comprehensive. We are eternally connected. We are one.

“Today, I bring a reminder, something to help you make it through this coming week: with confidence; in comfort, joyfully continuing your journey upon the Earth; knowing who you are, what you are doing; having a better idea of your true worth, and value; you are a child of God, first, and foremost, and forever!

“Do not become ensnared by the trappings of the world, created by man; for, there are so many ways to distract you from the joy of living a good, and simple life upon the Earth. ‘Success,’ is something that most desire to achieve; but, how the world sees success, and how God sees success, oftentimes are two different pictures. The world will tell you that you are successful, when: you are making a lot of money; driving very expensive vehicles; traveling; living in a large house; important, when you are important. You are important. You are important: without money, without a big car, without a large dwelling place, without clothing, jewelry, or any other material object. You are important, in the eyes of God! In the eyes of God all you need do is to let the love of God flow through you to others, and be at peace! That is it! There is no yardstick for how much you make, or your own. The only measuring stick, that can possibly exist in the relationship between you and God, is how much love and light, you are willing to embrace and let flow from you, onto the Earth, freely. When you go about your day, knowing this, and feeling this way, you have ‘confidence,’ in anything you are asked to do, because the importance God has assigned to you, wraps you, in light.

“The trickery of the ways of the world can be exhausting, because those who are willing to step on the ladder, and begin climbing, soon find that, for some reason: there is never enough money; somebody else always has a bigger or better or faster car; you are not living in the most expensive house, in your city, or state, or country; there is always a piece of jewelry evading your purchase, going to someone else. It is endless. It is very similar to riding on a merry-go-round, with all the participants, reaching for the gold ring, and rarely grasping it, holding it, making it your own. There is never enough to satisfy; there is always more to do, and more to get, and more to have. But this is not the way it is, when you are living in the light of God. You begin every day ‘knowing,’ who you are. You begin every day praying for guidance to know where to go, what to say, how to live, basically; and, the answers are always clear, simple, complete in a few words. ‘Love, one another!’ ‘Be kind!’

“Doing these things do not leave you empty, because in the process you are filled with the love of God. Everything you touch, shines with the light of God, because you are a child of God, and there is nothing more important. Take this message into the week with you. Remember who you are. You are important enough to have God’s attention, and love! There is nothing else, you need!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Resist The Temptation To Gossip

“I AM with you. I AM with you today to encourage you, in every way, to celebrate: that you exist, that you live, that you can breathe, that you can move from one place to the other, that you have the opportunity to create! Celebrate these things; you are taking part in creation! Today, create a day of perfection! The opportunity is yours.

“Today, I wish to address an issue simply, and concisely...

“Resist ‘the temptation to gossip,’ to speak ill of another!

“You might be surprised at the challenge this represents, as you move through the day. It seems easy to say, ‘Okay, I will do that. I will not speak ill of another today;’ but, in short time you will bump into your first temptation, when you see a friend, or a family member, or even an acquaintance, and the first thing they do is throw-out a temptation to you, when they begin, sharing with you, what they term ‘a secret,’ about another person. What do you do?

“There it is, the temptation to speak ill of another. But if you set your course at the beginning of the day, and with determination say, ‘I will pick-up this challenge, and I will carry it through the day,’ by the end of the day you will be surprised at how many opportunities presented themselves for you to speak ill of another. It is an exercise, a practice, that will serve you well. And, (with) each temptation you pass by, resisting it well, you make the world a better place.

“Do not speak ill of another! Always add to the conversation, something that is uplifting, happy, pleasant, kind, compassionate and understanding. And when you are alone, resist the temptation to create ‘seeds of gossip,’ within your thoughts. See it for what it is, and turn your thoughts, just as you were able to turn the conversation with another.

“Turn your thoughts to good, to happy, to kind, to understanding. This practice will lead you to a place, of satisfaction! You will find, it becomes easier and easier, not to take part in gossip, and not to create the seeds of gossip in your thoughts.

“Focus your thoughts, and your words, on kindness, and you will be the winner, because your energy will be altered, in a most delightful way. Resist ‘the temptation to gossip,’ today!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Together In The Garden

“I AM with you. I Am with you to begin this day. I will be with you all through the day. I will be with you as you say, goodbye to the day, and welcome the rest of night. This is all possible because: you believe in Me; you know Me; you found Me; you recognized Me when I found you, alone; you took My hand; you followed Me; you sat with Me, and talked with Me; you know Me!

“Many of you, hearing these words, or reading these words, know Me; or, at the very least, are interested in: Me; My life upon the Earth; the miracles reported, that I did do, and statements I made, such as, ‘You can do everything I AM doing, and even greater things.’ This statement in particular seems to puzzle many of you; yet, for those of you who believe in Me, know what I said is true; yet, you find it difficult to believe that you too can do, all that I did do, while upon the Earth!

“It is interesting to feel the energy and the love, feel the life force, flowing through each of you; for you are so different, yet so alike. Some of you, know Me, completely outside of any type of religious teaching; but, you know Me, you speak of Me, you are trying to understand and comprehend My teachings, My ways. Some of you know Me, because, as a child, you were taught, by family, or friends, or teachers, by Sunday School classes, and sermons. Some of you know Me, because I found you; and, recognizing Me in that instant, knew exactly what to do, you reached-out, and took My hand; and now, I walk with you. It does not matter how you met Me, how you know Me, where you are in your understanding of Me. Today, I invite each of you, no matter where you are, no matter what you are doing, to come, and walk in the garden with Me!

“This invitation is not frivolous. Each individual meets their time, the time of revelation and miracles; and, I tell you this day is your time! But in order to see the miracle, and embrace the revelation, you must stop what you are doing, set-down the ways of the world, and come walk with Me in the garden, that is Earth. Disconnect yourself from any connection the world might have with you. Disconnect yourself from any hold the world might have upon you. Say goodbye to friends, and neighbors, and family, letting them know you will return in an hour, or two, and come with Me. Walk with Me into the garden. Go where you will not be distracted: and, we will amble down a country lane; we will ramble over country-sides; we will sit by a stream; we will touch a tree, and breathe-in the beautiful scent of flowers; we will watch the birds flying, the squirrels playing, the butterflies, the insects; we will run our fingers through the soil of Earth; and, in this sacred peace, in this cathedral, created by God, we will walk, and talk. You will speak and I will listen; you will sing, and I will sing along; and, when you dance, I too will dance with you; and, we will do this all day long; and, you will ask the questions, and I will answer you; and, when the hours have passed, and our day is through, you will walk back, amongst your family, your friends. You will rejoin the world again; but you will never be the same, because of our time together, in the garden!

“This is not an invitation that begins today and ends today. This is an open invitation for every day. And the more you find you can set aside some time to walk with Me, the more peaceful you will be, because: as you ask, revelation will come; as you open your eyes, the miracles will be apparent, and you will see them. Come, begin today. Come walk with Me, and talk with Me; come speak with Me, and sing with Me; come dance with Me, and be joyful with Me; for, your time upon the Earth is fleeting, and I AM waiting.”

Jesus Teaches On:
Be Mindful, Of What You Create Today

“I AM with you! You know Me. You know Me, not as any other person knows Me. You, know Me, and I know you!

I AM with you, as the aroma of a sweet flower. You cannot see this magnificent, sweet scent; but you can breathe it in, and know it is good. I AM with you as a gentle breeze. You cannot see the breeze; but you can feel it, toss(el) your hair and touch your skin; and you know the breeze!

At some point, you will come to know, more fully, the power of the unseen! While you are upon the Earth, you see the result, you begin to know, you actually begin to see that which cannot be seen!

“Today, I would like to share, a few thoughts, or better put, a few creations, with you! It is possible to do good deeds, to create good things, while incorporating a few negative things in the process; and while, on the outside, it might appear good, and all right, when the truth is there is a component, within the creation, that is not all right.

“Resist the temptation to create, in anger. Resist the temptation to create in grief, and sorrow. Resist the temptation to create in worry and concern and anxiety. Resist the temptation to create, with manipulation, and control. Create, for the purpose, of bringing more of the heavenly dimension onto the Earth! Create as God would create! Let your creations, your thoughts, be filled with light!

“It is not necessary to point-out, all that is ‘bad,’ with a situation: all that is unsettling, all that is out of balance, because it is obvious! Your pointing it out, only gives it more weight. Every time you say something is bad, or out-of-balance, it is even (‘more bad,’) ‘more, out of balance.’ Resist the temptation to repeat the obvious; and, set about creating, in your thoughts, the perfect way!

“The saying, ‘Be in the world, but not of the world,’ is exactly what you should do. You are upon the Earth to be upon the Earth; but, you can be upon the Earth, in ‘a state of light, and love, and peace!’ It is possible to be in a room filled with confusion, no one knowing which way to go, or which way to turn, and not be a part of the confusion; but that begins in your thoughts. If you find yourself in such a room, filled with confusion, if your thoughts first go to, declaring all individuals in the room ‘confused,’ not knowing where they are going, not knowing what they are doing, you are adding to the confusion; and, you are being slowly pulled into that state of confusion. But if you walk into a room, filled with confusion, maintaining your connection with Home Base, with God, you walk into the room, and your presence announces, ‘peace is with you.’ You move slowly. You speak precisely. You are not harried in any way, because you are not confused. God is not confused! You are present; but, you are present, with the glory of God! And, you can apply this situation.

“Walk into a room filled with angry people. If your thoughts immediately go to how angry they are, how ugly the scene has become, pointing your finger, in every direction, then you are magnifying the anger. You are soon pulled into the anger. You have become part of the anger, the magnifying part of the anger. But if you walk into that room, fully connected with your Creator, intending to be ‘a presence of peace,’ then you deliver peace to a room filled with anger!

“You do not have to choose ‘anger.’ You do not have to choose confusion. You can be ‘in,’ such rooms, but not ‘of,’ the condition of the room. It is your freewill choice to choose that which you are creating!

“It is often not easy to deliver the light. It is often not easy to deliver love. This I know. These things I say to you, I know. It is the great value of having lived upon the Earth. You cannot tell Me, I do not know. I do; but, I also know the power of God that each of you have access to. Plug into this powerful Source of light, and love.

“Resist the temptation to point-out the obvious, and just stand in the presence of God, because the presence of God is mighty: and it will calm the angry seas, it will heal the sick, it will feed the hungry, it will clothe the naked. All these things can be done through the power of God! But all these things, and the doing of all these things, begin in your thoughts.

“The power of God is either set free to roll over the Earth, or held, restricted, confined, by your thoughts! Use this day to practice! Catch yourself, before you say something created, using the negative energies of anger, frustration, manipulation, worry, concern, or anxiety. Create using the light! Rise-up, and deliver, the powerful presence of peace! Be mindful of what you create today!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Power Of The Present

“I AM with you. I AM with you as the rain falls. I AM with you as the sun shines. I AM with you as night enfolds you. I AM with you, as a new day dawns. For those of you who believe, that it is possible, for you to hear Me, I AM with you, in a very special way, because you hear Me, without the clouds of doubt. You hear Me, and embrace the words, because they feel right, because you recognize My vibration. I reach-out and touch you. The trans-dimensional communication is sweet, and comforting.

“Today, hear Me, on the powerful position in which you find yourself, right now. No matter, what time it is where you are, you are ‘in the present piece of eternity.’ Each second, which comes to you, holds that position. It is always the present... the present... the present. You can say it, as the ticking of an old fashion clock, ‘The present.’

“Honor, the present position in which you find yourself. Even if you took only thirty seconds of your time, to click-off each second, by pronouncing, ‘The present,’ you would find, after such repetition, and acknowledgment: that the present was growing in importance; the present was occupying your thought; the present was being created by you. The present!

“Once you acknowledge the power of the present, you begin to see that, from this seat of power: you can visit the past, and you can take every scenario of your past, and bless it with the wisdom of the present. There is great advantage to blessing the scenarios of the past, with the power of the present wisdom. This is different: from dwelling in the past, from mourning the past, from being angered or tormented by the past. This is using the power of the present to constructively modify the past. ‘How can this be done?’ you might ask; and, I will tell you. Let us take one scenario, and it does not matter which one, because each of you will have a different place you wish to go; but, one scenario will pop-up, and you will see it. It does not matter whether you are ‘the champion,’ or ‘an aggressor,’ or ‘an attacker.’ It does not matter what role you play in the scenario; but, you look at it, from the present seat of power, and pay attention to what is happening, without getting involved in the energies. Look at it, take a look at it. What lesson is held within that scenario? If you pay attention long enough, you will see every scenario, as a lesson; and then the work begins to forgive, all the actors in that portion of the play, that is your lifetime upon the Earth. See the roles, see the actors, understand it is past, mark it, as a valuable lesson, forgive it, release it, and let it go. Therefore, it stays as it always is, in the past; but, it is now marked as a lesson; and, all who visit that lesson, will see it so, will learn something, from the scenario. This is the power of the present, while not dwelling in the past, you can mark the past, and bless it, using wisdom, and understanding, and compassion, using your power to bless, and release, clearing your past!

“From the seat of the present power, you can also prepare for the future. So many ‘worry,’ about the future, ‘What will the future hold, what will happen?’ You create, the future as you live in the present. What are you doing in the present? Many things that you create in the present will follow you into the future; therefore, see your present as the seat, the control room, the place of power. Create, create forgiveness for that which was in the past, which needs forgiving; and, create love, and light, in the present, which will illuminate the future. The future is set by freewill choices made by you, and all others around you. It is fluid, it moves, just as creation continues, creation continues into the future; but, the future, is created, by you, and all those around you.

“Do not throw-away your present! Understand the power of where you are, and use the power, for light. You have been given a gift. The gift is yours. It will not be taken from you. You are, always, in the present. Eternity is composed of the present. To feel the power of the present, close your eyes, breathe deeply, and repeat, silently, ‘The present... the present... the present....’”

Jesus Teaches On:
Do Not Sit In Misery

“I AM with you! And I share with you, that I love, being with you! There seems to be a mystery for you, regarding, how, I can speak to hundreds, and thousands, and millions, responding at the same time, in a way that seems uniquely suited, for each individual. And I acknowledge it can seem a mystery, unsolved for a while; but, there will come a day: when you will see it; when the clouds roll away, and it is clear; when the scales are peeled from your eyes, and you see, without boundaries, or limitations; and then, carried on your breath, will be the words, ‘I understand. That which I could only believe in faith, I now see, and understand!’”

“Many of you, hearing My words, or reading My words, desire to help others. You wish to make the world a better place by helping others. So, today I give you some advice, some direction, that will assist you, to reach the goal, and to truly help others...

“Resist ‘the temptation,’ to take-on another’s anguish, as your own; instead, choose, to let the hope which dwells within your being, to well-up, and overflow onto another, giving ‘the gift of hope!’

“Resist the temptation to take-on, as your own, another’s darkness. Choose instead, to go within, and bring forth the light, that is within you, and let that light illuminate another!

“Resist the temptation to take-on another’s fear. Choose instead to go within, and, bring forth the strength and courage that dwells there, and magnify it in such a way, that it flows-out, and onto another!

“Resist the temptation to take-on another’s anger. Choose instead to go within, and find the love, that doth dwell there, and let it spring forth, and caress another!

“This is how you help. This is how you guide and lead, support and encourage others; for, the temptation is often to sit in the misery of another; and be with them, in that way; but if you do, there are two, sitting in misery, rather than one.

“Therefore: give love, and light; give hope, give courage, give strength. Do not sit in the darkness. Do not dwell in the anguish. Do not get lost in another’s fear or anger. For if you do, there will be: two, in anguish; two, in darkness; two, in fear; and, two, in anger.

“To follow this guidance through, there is one thing that you must do. You must keep yourself in a state of light! You must stay connected with The Dimension of Perfection, which you know as Heaven. In this Way, you will be the bringer of: hope, and light, and strength, and courage; you will be the bringer of love.

“Therefore, take not, upon you, the turmoil of others, free them, with your peace, and truth!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Spiritual Device Within

“I AM with you. It is thrilling, and exciting, to realize that communication between the dimensions is not only possible, but something you can do; in fact, it is something you are doing. It is amazing. Without any device, whatsoever, you can call, you can knock on the door, you gain entrance, you have access to The Dimension of Perfection, where many wait: to speak with you, to encourage you, to guide you, all during your lifetime upon Earth. For those who do not believe this is possible, it is not possible, at all; but for those: who trust, who believe it is possible, it is an every day occurrence, sacred communion, sweet secrets shared back and forth, support offered, and accepted; all these things leading to a life filled with joy, and happiness, and confidence.

“Let us revisit a topic, something addressed just weeks ago; but still, a reminder is necessary. You have the ability to receive help, assistance, guidance, and direction for all aspects of your life. When it is put in such simple language, it seems miraculous, that such aid is readily available for you; but, it is. It does require one thing, first of all, that you believe and trust in the guidance and assistance, you are going to receive, that you follow, follow in such a way, that you reach your goal, and at the end of every day say, ‘Thank you.’ So, I remind you of something that might assist you. Your new technology, upon the Earth, has provided you with many things that assist you, during your day; and, I want to address, specifically, this new technology, this device, that has to do with transportation, with guiding you from one direction to the other.

“Before you use such, help, it is necessary for you to understand how to operate the device. Let us say you want to reach a destination across town. It is considered more normal, these days, as you say on Earth, to go to your car, to enter an address, and set everything in motion. It does require that you trust the guidance you are going to receive from this device in your car. It does require that you resist the temptation to turn-off onto a path you have traveled before, believing, in your thoughts, that that is the right way to go. It takes a bit of faith, to follow the direction, spoken in a voice, imitation, from a device set to lead you to the location of your choice; but, the more you practice, following this guidance, the less you think about it, and the more comfortable it gets; for, this guidance is leading you around accidents, taking you the shortest route, on that particular day; and, you are beginning to arrive, at the locations of your choice, more relaxed, not rushed, not harried, or hurried a bit. This little transportation device, you find, is very helpful. It gets you where you want to be. It helps you avoid traffic jams, and accidents. It makes your life easier. And, all you have to do is have confidence in the device, and your willingness to follow the direction.

“I believe some of you, hearing these words, or reading these words, know exactly, where I AM taking you. You have, within you, a heavenly device, which contacts Home, whenever you wish to make that contact. Heaven is waiting for you. When you make it a practice to be still, and quiet, and sit in prayerful communication with God, The Creator of All Things, you have access to all things; and, when you ask, God will answer, and lead you wherever you need to go.

Ask about work decisions, 'What should I do?,' and the answer will come to you. Ask about relationship decisions, and you will be guided, in a loving way. You have access to something you are not using, because possibly, there is a bit of doubt that such help is so readily available; but, it is! If you can place your trust: in a machine, in a device, in a piece of technology, that will get you from one location to another, transfer that trust, that faith, to a higher level. Let it be known, how you feel, and where you would like to go; and then, sit quietly, and see what God has to say, about the most peaceful, and joyful, road you can take, on your way Home.

“Direction will come, guidance will always be there. All you have to do is resist the temptation to take a path away, that you have used before, that is more familiar. You have to be willing to trust; but, if you can place your trust in a piece of technology, surely you can transfer that trust to The Creator of All Things. The more you do it, the more comfortable you will be; and soon, it will be your everyday practice; but, your vehicle will not be a car. Your vehicle will be the body you are using to move over the Earth, in the third dimension; and, your body will soon be comfortable, and your spirit will sing-out with joy; for, in that instant, that moment, that you realize, the reality of that promise, you begin to live, in a way, that is truly, in the world, but not of the world, any longer.”

Jesus Teaches On:
Set Your Self Free, Come And Walk With Me

“I AM with you. And being with you is cause for great celebration, as you embrace My presence; and, in that one sweeping act of acceptance: you are blessed; and The Kingdom, The Dimension of Perfection, which is often called Heaven, is blessed as well. Your faith moves through the veil, and blesses The Kingdom of Heaven, adds to its glory, while you are writing the story, of your journey, upon the Earth!

“In almost every case, some form of education, instruction or training is required, before you set-out, or begin a profession. And it does not matter whether your field is a field wherein the arts are practiced, or science is practiced, theology... it really does not matter... what the field might be; it is necessary: to learn, to study, to grow, to gather information, so that you might move forward. Once you have graduated from all (of) the courses, received your degree, and set-out into the world: you find a job, you find an office, you find a place of employment, or practice. Let us say you studied, and you now can be called a nurse, or a nurse practitioner; and, let us say you studied enough to be a nurse in a specific field: pediatrics, geriatrics. But even though you have focused, for a long time, spent many hours, and emotional energies, on acquiring this title, and position, you are still ‘more than a nurse.’ When you go home, when you go back to your place, whether it be a house, or an apartment, you might garden, you might draw; but, while you are gardening, and are a gardener, at that point, you are more than a gardener. The fact is: you are more than an artist; you are more than a writer; you are more than a daughter, a brother, a friend, a spouse. Whatever you are doing at the time, the chances are that ‘you are something else, as well;’ but, you are always first, and foremost, spirit!

“Spirit is animating your body! The mystical moments, the sacred moments, the blessed moments occur when the spirit is moving in the body: of the nurse, in the gardener, in the artist, in the child, in the mother, in the father, in the sister, and brother, and spouse. No matter how many hats, you might wear, the spirit is there with you.!

“Many, leaving college, higher education, courses preparing you for the way you are choosing to go, leave the institutions of learning, enter a more corporate setting, or at least a business setting, and begin climbing up a ladder to success. But there are few who leave these places of learning, move-out into the world, and are very comfortable allowing The Spirit of God to enter-in, and move them, where they should go; and, while they are climbing, it does not seem to be a ladder, as much as it is an ascension, a journey of enlightenment!

“Use that which you have learned to open the door! Once the door is open, reach-up, and gather more. The more comes from the realm of spirit, and it is all around you; it is there, for the asking. Rise-up each day, and say, ‘Show me The Way. I will go.’ In this Way, you do not become entrapped, you not feel chained to a desk, or an office, or any other place of employment. You feel the wings of flight. You see Earth, and the world created by man, with more delight. You are using what you learned; yet, seeing all things through the eyes of God, through what is possible. What can I do? Where can I go? And the most interesting thing is that, when you are in this position, you find 'you have what you need, you know where to go.' So, you see, you choose; and, it is important to choose wisely. Choose freedom! Choose walking upon the Earth, in a spiritual way! Open your eyes every morning and greet the new day! Let the adventure begin every day, every morning, and continue, because it is yours. Do not be robbed of the journey of this lifetime. Let it be the adventure it is meant to be; and celebrate!

“Do not be chained to the demands of the world. Set yourself free! Come, walk with Me!”

Jesus Teaches On:

You Create Your Own Reality, All Things Are Possible

“I AM with you. I knock upon the door, and those who hear, open the door; and, I AM truly there, with those who open, with those who believe!

“I would like to give you something to think about, and ponder, during the coming week...

“Whatever you seek, whatever you desire, create! Create the environment, you wish to experience, within your being! Once you are full, experiencing your creation, within, it will flow from you, moving-out from you, delivering your creation to all around you!

“Therefore, if you wish to experience life, living upon Earth, within the energies of support, encouragement, understanding, compassion, and love, create these things, and let them flow from you!

“Resist the temptations to create energies wherein you are harsh with yourself or others, wherein you are quick to mock, retaliate, put-down, shame, criticize, or condemn. Do not turn your head from one who has stumbled, lend them your hand. Do not walk away from one who has fallen, encourage the rising-up, support the effort to continue, and cheer-on to victory, those bearing the mark of the journey, for there is great nobility in the rising-up. Harsh criticism beats down the weary. Words and actions which hold support and encouragement, build-up! Remember when you are choosing words and actions with the intention of supporting others, to do the same for yourself. Words of support, encouragement, understanding, compassion and love create an environment wherein all things are possible! Words which mock, belittle, or criticize others, create an environment wherein very little, if anything, is possible.

“Think about this example... You own a large canoe, a canoe large enough to hold a crew of twelve, including yourself. You are challenged to move your canoe down the river, as quickly as possible, and given the opportunity to choose your crew. Looking-up, you see several people coming toward you, and recognize some of the faces, ‘knowing,’ they are: strong, quick, and able-bodied; however, you notice that they are arguing amongst themselves, about who is the strongest, the quickest, and most able-bodied, who is right, and who is wrong. There is pushing, and showing, and jeering amongst them. Then, your attention is drawn to a group of individuals, all seemingly eager to join your crew, filled with excitement, asking for the opportunity to crew with you. What do you do? How do you pick? I encourage you to pick from the eager ones, the ones asking for the opportunity to work with you, asking for the chance to row, as a crew. Pick the individuals eager, and willing to be part of a team, and then encourage, and support their efforts, as you make your way down the river, in record time. Create an environment of support, and encouragement, and the results will be ‘success!’

“Do not accept any situation as hopeless, for there is always a way, there is always The Way, and The Way is filled with miracles, accomplished through support, encouragement, understanding, compassion, and love. Create these things, and your path will be filled with light, will be filled with miracles. Create these things within yourself and send them forth to fill the Earth with energies which make all things possible. When the situation is lacking, create that which is lacking. When the situation seems impossible, create that which makes it possible. Gather those around you, who are eager, and fill them with support, encouraging their journey, adding words, and actions, of compassion and understanding, whenever necessary, celebrating every step forward, every accomplishment. By choosing words and actions of support and encouragement, for yourself and others, your journey upon the Earth will be made as One, you will be writing the story, leaving your mark, and showing The Way. Choose to build-up, rather than choosing to tear-down. Move forward, as a team, as a unit, as One, all the while telling your story, and giving the glory to God. In this way you will find all things are possible!"

Jesus Teaches On:
Create, For Eternity, Today

“I AM with you. I AM truly with you. For those who are open, and willing, to embrace the realm of the unseen, you know I AM with you. You feel My presence. There is no question. Doubt has been pushed far from you, in this regard, because meeting after meeting, has intensified the understanding, and the knowing, that it is possible for Me to be with you; for, you are no longer held within the confines, of the seen. You move back and forth, and understand that the seen and the unseen, exist, together.

“Let us revisit ‘the creation, of eternal wealth,’ because it is true that there is a limit to what you can do in regard to amassing: cars, and furniture and jewelry, homes and boats, and currency, the things created in the world of man. For, as hard as you work, and as long, and as far as you look, this amassing of wealth, many times, relies on other people, institutions, businesses, corporations, governments. You can gather money, currency, but you must rely on someone paying you for something, some investment turning-out, and whether a government is willing to print the money on which you place so much faith. You can purchase houses, constructed by others or possibly yourself. You can amass clothing and jewelry, and a stable of vehicles; but, I tell you, you cannot bring these material things with you, when you pass back through the veil, and come Home.

“Very few people, very few individual beings, at the point of departing Earth and returning Home, spend any time wishing they had one more car, or a particular jacket, or more money in the bank. They often, many times, pray, that they had one more hour to show a kindness, to repay a debt, to forgive. I can assure you that you will have what you need with regard to clothing, housing, and food; for, what you need, is always far less than what you believe it to be, materially speaking. Today, I AM here to encourage you to begin, in earnest, creating, that which you can bring Home with you, that which is not limited, and has no boundaries whatsoever.

“You cannot see love and forgiveness and kindness and compassion; but you see the result, of the creation of these energies. These energies are not considered currency, in any way, in the material world; but I tell you this, they are the current, that drives the flow, in The Dimension of Perfection.

“You have the ability to create; therefore, begin today: create love, without limitation, create love, knowing, that you are creating, an energy that you can take back through the veil with you. Not only can you take it back through the veil with you as you are returning Home, but you can leave the energy with those you love as well. These unseen powerful energies are not limited, are not confined to one dimension or the other; but, reach through the veils, and touch all beings of all time! Therefore, begin to ‘create, for eternity.’ Do not spend your time amassing what will evaporate, or what will be taken from you, or has to be left behind.

“Today, with intention, and purpose, create kindness! With every thought, every word, every act, create kindness. Create compassion. Create the energy of understanding, of charity. Create ‘the unseen.’ This is what it means to ‘store-up your treasures.’ Stack them high, because they will not be left behind: like a car, or a dish, or a house. The energy will come with you; but as it is created within you, and goes out from you, it continues to live forever! Do not pass-up the opportunity to create something which lives forever in eternity!

“As you practice this creation you will find you are: happier; more content; more filled, rich, in ‘the knowing,’ of what you are doing! Let joy be unconfined. Let the dance you dance upon the Earth, be a dance sublime! Create, and show the world, you and your creation, are divine. Create for eternity, today!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Way Of Peace

“I AM with you. It is a beautiful experience to speak with you, to hear your voice, or know your heart, to recognize your song, to see you dance over the Earth, ‘knowing,’ it won’t be long, until you are called Home. Celebrate your Earth experience; for, it is meant to be a sacred experience, one during which you come to know the majesty, of the creation of God, in a special, and unique way: you touch the trees, you see their leaves move in the breeze; you inhale the aroma, the scent, of a flower; you eat, a tender, delicious peach, picked as fruit of a tree; you taste the grapes, from the vines; you run your hands through the waters in the streams and the oceans, and the seas, and you feel, the touch, of this cool, cold water, upon your skin. These, and many things you experience only, while you are upon Earth. Since it is sacred, treat it as such! Act, as if you know, what you are doing!

“The message I wish to bring to you today is so important, that I will use as few words as possible, to deliver it, so you might hold it close to you, and ponder it, in prayer and meditation, during the coming week.

“Most of you hearing these words or reading these words long for peace. You grow weary of fighting and arguments, between people, between families, between friends, between states and countries. It gets tiresome. You wish it would end. You wish, and pray, that one country would lay down its arms, and cease the fighting. You wish the killing would stop. You see the disasters looming, and you pray it will not come, as they are threatening to come; war is an oppressive, dark, energy, and you can feel it oftentimes.

“Having set the stage with saying that, I ask you to consider this. How can you expect countries to lay down their arms, and families, and friends, and individuals cease to argue, and fight, if you hold within you, things that are unforgiven?

“Peace does not begin amongst nations. Peace springs forth from within each individual. Each of you is a seed of peace; and peace between countries, peace between nations, peace between states, and any type of government municipality, will never take place until the individuals within these regions are at peace within themselves.

“Resist the temptation to rant and rave, to march, to protest, to call-out, to cry-out in indignation: that this country or that country must do this, or that, or the other; that this person or that person must do this, or that, or the other.

“To bring about peace, take yourself to a quiet place, let every breath you take, begin as a prayer, and take the journey within your being to see if there is anger, or frustration, or despair, to be found there, and begin your peacekeeping work, within yourself! If you wish to establish peace, forgive all things, forgive all people. Begin to see each individual as a child of God: some lost, some on a glorious adventure, some difficult, some very pleasant to be around; but, no matter who you see, or where you see them, each individual has the potential of bringing forth the blossom of peace, because you each are the seeds of peace! Spend your time this week forgiving all things, in earnest; and then, move-out, and celebrate the peace within you! That is the road to peace! That is The Way, of peace!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Be The Living Word of God

“I AM with you. I speak to you. I whisper; I beckon; I touch you, with the energy of My Spirit; all this to remind you, that it is Spirit that animates the flesh; and, without Spirit to animate, and fill the flesh with life, the flesh, the body, could not move. Do not get this confused; do not get it backwards; understand what moves your body, because I tell you this, The Spirit of Light will fill your body with life, and it will renew, and rejuvenate, and you will be Love, walking! Do not let your body become a home to the spirit of darkness and shadow; for, this darkness and shadow will invade your body, and fill your thoughts, with ideas of revenge or retaliation, bitterness, arrogance, judgment. Pay attention to your Spirit. Your body will fall away, your Spirit lives, forever!

“One can read on how to create the perfect garden, the most productive garden, and learn many things. You can learn which seeds to plant, what type of soil to mix, whether the garden needs water, or drainage, the addition of lime, or minerals, or sand, whether it should be full sun, or a bit of shade. You can learn all of these things by reading, from a good book, which teaches you gardening; but, until you step-out and begin to clear, and weed, and dig, and plant, there is no harvest, nothing. You are filled with words, but you have not put the words to practical use; therefore, there is no harvest. You can read a recipe and learn how to make bread: the consistency of the dough; how it feels; how many times it should be kneaded; how long it should rise; where you should set it to rise; how long it should bake; the oven temperature. All of these things you can find-out in a good book, giving you direction on how to make bread; but, until you step-out and use this information, no one eats the bread. There is no bread. You have just read different ways to make the bread. You can purchase blueprints, or draw them up yourself, and study, and learn: how to lay a good foundation, and build a sturdy structure; what wood will serve best; what materials would be best; how to do this and that and the other; but until you actually begin to build, it is only information. You have put it to no practical use at all. Until you build, there is no dwelling.

“Transfer what I just said, to your spiritual life, to the reading of scripture, to the quoting of verses.

“I brought new teachings, and I spoke The Word, and the new teachings were simple, so as not to be confused. In fact, the new teaching left no room for being confused. Love one another! There were no sub-directions on when, or how, or whom to love. The direction was simple. Love one another. Turn the other cheek. This too can get no simpler in direction. I did not set-out a series of statements, saying when you could refuse to turn the other cheek. It was turn the other cheek. Make peace with the one who wants to take you to court. Again, there were no limitations, or boundaries upon this. It is make peace with the one who wants to take you to court. Another direction was, do not go in to a place of worship, until you have settled the issues, the arguments with your brother. Again, very clear direction. This way of living brings you peace. Oh, it might be good for another to hear you say, 'I am sorry;' but, it is far better for you!

“All these things, these energies rumbling around within you, need to be addressed, in a quiet, peaceful way. All the people, and the issues, and the situations, which need forgiving, are still within you. When you walk around holding a grudge about something, you are literally 'holding,' a grudge. You are carrying it with you; and, even when it is between you and another person, and only one issue, it is still heavy; it is something you are carrying; and, you need to free yourself of it.

“Do not be resentful. Do not hold a grudge. Do not judge what others are doing, or not doing. If you must review, review within yourself. Each individual is a reflection, of their thoughts; it does not take you very long to know the heart of another, if you listen carefully to what they say, if you watch carefully to what they do. You see, being the living word, can apply, to living words of anger, or hatred, or frustration, as well as being the living words of God, which have to do with light and love and peace. Therefore, the question is, what words are you living?

“Today review! Begin to understand the words rumbling around within you. Weed-out the negative, the thoughts of shadow and darkness. Cast from you the anvils of animosity, and hatred, and greed. Clear yourself, and free yourself, of all grudges or frustration. And once you sweep your house clean, fill it with light! You are the only one who can choose: what you think; what you harbor within; what you create, from a seed, a thought. You have been given clear, concise, direction. Now, My brothers and sisters, I encourage you, I urge you to go-out, and create, and be The Living Word of God. Be first to forgive, be first to laugh, be eager to love; and, your life will be lived in The Garden, as it was meant to be!”

Jesus Teaches On:

This Is The Way To Spiritual Freedom

“I AM with you. It is a joyful time, when you respond: to My whisper, to My presence, to My love, to My respect for you, and all that you are experiencing, during your lifetime upon the Earth; for, if you are upon the Earth now, you have a mission, there is something for you to do. Therefore, I respect you for your courage, and your bravery, to step-out into the world, and say with clarity, and conviction, ‘I am a child of God!’

“Most of you hearing these words or reading these words, believe that freedom is vital to a good life; for, no one wants to be held prisoner; everyone wants to know freedom. Freedom is so important, that there are those willing to give their lives, in support of the concept, of freedom. Freedom means, different things to different people: you can go where you want to; work where you want to; worship where you want to; you can say, what you want to say; you can be, who you wish to be. This, to many of you, represents freedom. And within a state of freedom, there is no fear that you will be cast into prison, for exercising your freedom of choice.

“But there is another freedom, spiritual freedom. You cannot truly be free, no matter where you are, if you harbor within you: the spirit of unforgiveness; the spirit of anger; the spirit of shame; the spirit of guilt. There is no freedom, for those who carry the shadowy dark energies, created within, themselves, or others. This journey into freedom, is done, within. The tools are forgiveness and love! You need no other tools to conquer the demons, which set about to make you prisoner; because, they will throw you into the dungeon of shame, they will throw you into the prison of hate, and they will bring turmoil, and chaos, to your life. But they cannot plunder you, they cannot destroy you, when you stand-up, and say, ‘Do not tempt a child of God this way. I will forgive today. I will love today. I will choose to do this, because it is The Way; and, I will continue to forgive and love until there is not one remnant: of anger, or shame, or guilt, or greed, or any of the shadowy, dark energies.’ This is The Way to freedom! You might be able to live, wherever you want to; but, if you are spiritually plagued, then you are truly not free; you are a prisoner of the dark entities which haunt you.

“If freedom be your goal, then let it begin within you!

“Forgiveness is not something you do once, and move on your way; forgiveness is something you do every day; and so I shall give you a measuring stick, something to do, something that will give you a sign to let you know what needs to be done: so, you are free inside, and out; so that you can sing, and dance, and know who you are. Whenever a thought comes your way, a thought of a person, a group of people, an institution, whatever it be, and there is not complete joy, and a willingness to bless, then you have some work to do; and that is okay, set about it. Let your choice be to bless, rather than to curse; and this means yourself, as well. Bless yourself, do not curse yourself. Bless yourself!

“Many of you know the words to say. Many of you will say quickly, ‘I know I am a child of God.’ But most of you, do not act as if you know, you are a child of God, with complete confidence, with every utterance, showing you know, you are a child of God. So, I say to you today, be ye perfect, as Our Father in Heaven is perfect. Do not make excuses for this. Do not say, ‘I cannot be perfect, because I am human.’ For I remind you, that you are created in the image of God; and God is spirit, God is love; therefore, you are spirit, and you are love! Do not live in denial. Do not set your comfort, in the cushions, of excuse.

“Rise-up, and set your course, as a child of God, knowing The Way, showing The Way, forgiving and loving, every minute, of every day. That, My brothers and sisters, is freedom!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Spirit Of God Doth Dwell, With Man

“I AM with you. Do not doubt this is possible; for, I tell you, held within the grain of faith, as small as a piece of sand, all things are possible! I reach-out and touch you; and, in faith, knowing I AM with you: you feel the presence; you feel the touch; your worries, and sadness, and grief, your doubt, are lifted from you, and they fly away; leaving you, filled, with the light of God! I AM with you, so you will know! I AM with you!

“Prophecies were set in place so that, when The Messiah, walked, upon the Earth, announcing, the time, had come, those who were willing to open their hearts and their ears, would see, fulfillment, playing-out, playing-out right in front of them; and, this fulfillment would fill them, with hope, that the time had come, and it had come within their lives upon the Earth, to witness, that which had been promised! And so, there was fulfillment; and so, there were miracles; oh, the miracles did abound; wherever God sent Me, to whomever God sent Me, I did go; so, the glory, might remain with God!

“The new teachings, sent from the heavenly kingdom, were different, were meant to ride with, and hold safe, all who recognized, the prophecies had been fulfilled, and it was now time.

“Every teaching can be rolled-up in one direction, love one another; for, you will do no harm to the one you love; and, when you are loving God, and loving one another, there can be room for no more. Set your sights on love.

“It seemed too easy. There did not seem to be enough rules or regulations, to satisfy The Creator of All Things, in this new teaching. There were murmurs, and mumbles, ‘How can this be pleasing to God? It is not extraordinary, it is ordinary. It does not seem sublime, or divine, in any way. There must be more. Love one another.’ These were the things said. And soon, the demon of doubt was weaving, and sealing, and closing-off the hearts, that might have heard; but doubt kept them from hearing, and knowing. Yet, there were others who heard the message of love, and responded, and danced, and did sing; and I showed them, I showed them The Way! And, I gathered those around Me, before I did complete My mission; and, did repeat the instructions, because where love abounds, miracles exist.

“You walk upon the Earth, living in a world created by man, and just this alone is enough to tempt you, to tempt your thoughts into doubt. Knowing this, The Creator of All Things set into place the perfect plan, that The Holy Spirit would be with each man, and woman, and child, so it would be possible for each one to know The Way! And this is true today! Even in what appears to be your darkest hour, you hold, within you, the eternal power, of The Holy Spirit of God! And, if you will listen, and follow, you will walk out of the shadow, into the light; for, you are not upon the Earth to build an empire of wealth, and prestige, for yourself; you are upon the Earth to reestablish The Garden, and give the glory to God; and: work the miracles; touch the lonely; bring kindness and compassion to those in sorrow; lift the veil of grief, with a smile, and understanding; to deliver what is missing, what is lacking; and, this is done, with the gift of love!

“Listen to the gift you have been given within. And then, enlist the gift you have been given within, to give the gift of love to others! There is no greater gift. There is nothing you can do, that will be any greater, than loving one another! And when you feel you cannot do this any longer, that it is impossible one another, be still, and call upon Me, and we will walk together, and talk together, and the voice you hear falling on your ear, will be My voice, and we will share conversation, right there, as you are in The Garden of Earth! And I will fill you, and hold you, and confirm that which you are hearing, from within your being, from The Holy Spirit of God! And it will be so sweet, that we will wish to be together, in that Way, forever; held within the truth, held within The Divine Plan, that The Spirit of God, doth dwell, with man!”

Jesus Teaches On:
You Continue Creation, Today

“I AM with you. You hear The Whisper, from within; I AM with you! What an experience to know I AM with you, to feel a presence you cannot see with the human eye; but you know, and know well, with your eternal heart, and soul; with your eternal eye, you have seen Me, and you know Me. Today, I prompt you, and encourage you, to rise-up, and experience Earth, and all her glory, for you waited a long time, to make the journey; so, as you are living upon Earth, write your story. Every minute of the day is new! No one has ever experienced the hour that is yet to come to you, it is new. You are on a frontier. You are continuing the creation of God; and, every breath you take is new! All that is before you is new! I encourage you, rise-up, and do, that which you are meant to do!

“If you are hearing these words, or reading these words, you have experienced birth, your own birth upon Earth. You left a solitary chamber; when it was time, and you knew, you left the safety, left the comfort, left all you knew, to make the journey down a passageway, where you could see a light, calling you to come; and, you pushed your way through that passage, and out, into the light. You had made it, an earthling, a baby. What an adventure you have taken; and now, you are upon Earth!

“The temptation will be to become embroiled in the ways of the world, to make your mark, in the world; but today, I encourage you to be still, and quiet, because there is another way. Begin your quiet time, by giving honor, through that which you passed, for every mother upon Earth is a portal, a doorway, to the opportunity, to continue the creation of God. Think about what I just said... you have arrived upon the Earth to continue the creation of God. God created The Garden; and, The Garden was immense, and filled with things that would grow upon Earth, an experiment, look, and see!

“Now there is a great call. Heaven and Earth are working together to encourage those, abiding on Earth for a while, to get back to the work of cleaning-up The Garden, and begin living, as you were meant to live!

“Your time upon Earth will go quickly, and it is brief; but, you have been given enough time to complete your mission, before you return Home. Take care of the energy around you! Create love! Actively participate in forgiveness, which will begin to bring balance to the energies of: anger, and hatred, greed, frustration, sadness, sorrow, shame, and guilt. Forgiveness will bring all of these things into balance; and, give you the ability to see, what one being can do, when the purpose is to create as God would create; for you have been given the opportunity, the honor, and the responsibility to continue creation!

“So today, alter your perspective, just, slightly, so that you can see the gift your life upon Earth is! Be thankful for your eternal life; be grateful for your human life; and, show your gratitude.

In thanksgiving, begin to clean-up. Use your time to create as God would create. You are the continuing breath, the hand, and the heart of creation.

“The canvas is blank. Ahead of you this new day is yet uncharted. Sail onto the sea of tomorrow, and continue creation, today!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Fulfil Your Mission, Show The Way

“I AM with you; it is so! The Divine Plan was never meant to let you go, wandering in darkness. There is a way, and once it is embraced, you know The Way, because it is within you! Leading a beautiful, holy life, upon the Earth, is already set in place within you; therefore, do not be distracted by the ways of the world. This is the perfect place to say, today, that you are meant to be in the world for a while, but not of the Earth. You are a child of God; you are spirit, first!

“If you set your intention, to follow The Way, it shall be done! The world is filled with distractions; but, one must not lose sight of the goal. And a good question to ask yourself, every day, is, ‘What can I take with me, when it is time for me to go, Home?’ If you must make a list, write it down. ‘When your hour has come, when your time upon the Earth is done, what will you take with you?’

“That question will help you keep all things in perspective when the distractions of the world created by man hound you every day. The world will teach you: that you must, acquire, material things, to be happy; that you must acquire money, cars, jewelry, clothing, so that your children have the best of everything; and pretty soon you buy (in to) that temptation, you become a piece of the distraction, and you do not even notice, that in the pursuit of the worldly ways, you have lost your way; and, you turn around, and what you have amassed, is not suitable, or it is impossible, to take with you, when you go Home. And the worldly solution seems to be that you can leave all these possessions, to those, for whom you have worked hard to gather these things together. What are you giving them? What you leaving them? What is their inheritance? Often, most, of the time, it cannot be taken with them when they depart. It is as if you are passing-down clutter, distractions ‘of matter.’ All these things are drawing you away, from that which you are to fulfill upon the Earth; and so, we have arrived at the meat, of what I want to say to you today.

“Most of you remember, statements, written down, that I said as I walked upon the ground of Earth; and, one that might have shocked many, at the time, was, ‘You can do everything I AM doing.’ And I meant it. I meant it! But to do what I did, and what I AM doing, requires: that you not lose sight of the goal; that you not be distracted, from your journey, from your mission; because, as I came to accomplish The Divine Plan, surprising as it might seem to you at the time, you too, are upon the Earth, to fulfill The Divine Plan!

“I fulfilled every prophecy of The Old Testament! This was a piece of My destiny. As the people of God were gathered and protected, the prophecies came; and, they looked for the prophecies to be fulfilled; and, I was sent to fulfil. I was sent to show The Way, to mop-up the muck and mire, created by distractions; and set the children of God on The Way that was right, and holy, and pure, and simple.

“Our Creator, Father, did not set Me upon the Earth alone. Every step I took, every breath I took, God was with Me, guiding Me, so that I would know where to go, what to do, what to say, guided to the point that I could walk through a town, and pass by many, to heal one, to make one whole. I did not stop, unless I was guided to stop. I did not rise-up and go, unless God said it was so. I fulfilled My destiny, and in-so-doing brought all of us Home! But My brothers and sisters, you too, are meant too fulfil your destiny; and, to make sure that you could not get lost, you have The Holy Spirit within you, to guide you, to show you The Way. And while all about you is different, and many say to you, ‘No, no, that is not profitable, do not do that, do not go there,’ you hear The Whisper, from within; and, when you follow The Whisper, from within, from The Holy Spirit of God: you walk in peace; you accomplish your goal; and in the process you are gathering spiritual gold and silver and treasures that you can bring Home with you! Every kindness, you show, during your lifetime, that is within your spirit, and you can bring that bag Home. Every time you love one, whom the world tells you is unlovable, that love fills your spirit, and you can bring it Home. You can bring that bag of love Home. You can bring Home the unseen treasure, that you have amassed upon the Earth; and, before you take your final breath, you can bless those you love, with that treasure, as well. It is unseen, you can magnify it anytime you want. You can bring the pieces of love, and compassion, and understanding with you, into The Kingdom of God; for The Kingdom of God is with you!

“Do not be distracted so that you lose your way, and lose sight of the goal; for, as I was sent to Earth to fulfil, to complete, and to show The Way, My brothers and sisters, if you will accept it today, you were sent to fulfil your mission, and to show The Way!

“Go forth this day, and create an environment of love, all around you! Do not hesitate to touch the untouchable, to love the unlovable! Do not stop, giving: feed the hungry; and give drink to the thirsty; and, let your heart overflow, fulfilling your destiny as a child of God walking upon the Earth; and, I will greet you, as you make your way Home!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Unseen Device Of Eternity

“I AM with you. Actually I AM with you, all the time! Perhaps you cannot comprehend this, now. More than likely, it is something you must take on faith; and, when your faith is strong, and unshaken, you believe, because it seems the most natural thing to do. I AM with you! When you are sending communication in prayer, calling for help, I AM there with you! And you are receiving answers to your prayers, every one of them. Many of you think, that might be possible. Many of you hope, that might be possible; and, many of you, know, it is possible! Sometimes, in answer to your prayer, you hear The Whisper, and know I AM there; but sometimes you hear the answer: in a fragrance, or a scent, or an aroma that drifts your way, and brings a smile to your face, because you realize, it is the answer, you have the answer. Sometimes, you receive the answer to your prayer, in a memory, or a feeling, that wraps you, holds you, and completely delivers to you, the answer you were seeking. Frequently, you hear your answer, in the form of knowing. You just know it, to be true. I AM with you!

“The history of man upon Earth is very interesting, vastly interesting, one invention after another, leaping forward, taking you to places you were not able to go, before some inventor created; and, it was done, it was born, and it became used by human beings to change the course of their everyday life, in some way.

“There was a time, in the history of mankind upon Earth, when you had to write a letter, which could have taken months to get from one place to the other. You understood clearly, how the movement of your hand, and the instrument you held, marked the blank paper, with ink, or pencil. You would address the envelope, put a stamp on it, and put it in the mailbox; and it would be physically carried, by another human being, to the destination. When it reached the destination, it would be opened and read, and there would be communication, from far away. Then there came telephones, and you could actually speak into a telephone, and your voice could be carried, half-way around the world, all the way around the world; and, you could hear, and it made the distance, shrink somewhat, because you could hear the voice, of the one, with whom you wished to speak.

“Memories were kept in a different way, as well, when there was invented a camera, something that would mark an occasion, with a photograph. It seemed magical, to take a picture, and save that occasion forever, for others to look at, and see, and possibly feel the energy, of that memory. There was even a camera that would, instantly, give you the picture, a Polaroid; it was even more amazing, as you could watch the picture appear, before your eyes, like a vision.

“And time advanced, and so did the scientific experiences. New inventions were created. And it appears now days, that you carry something rather small, almost the size of a very thin wallet, or a very little date book; and this device permits you to speak with another half-way around the world, and you can see their face; you can read a book, you can watch a movie; you can hear a lecture; you can even be told how to get from one point to another; and in the directing, also receive information about an accident that would hinder your progress; and, from the device, you learn that, if you go a certain way, you will avoid traffic; direction to get you from one point to another, complete. If you do not know the answer to something, it is possible to 'ask,' this simple device you carry around, and it will give you the answer. And if the device is lost, or broken, you hear the lament, quickly spoken, 'I do not know what I am going to do. I have lost it. I do not know where to go. How will I call this person, or that person?' You have put your faith in the device, and it is broken, or lost, and so are you, temporarily.

"Take just a second or two to understand the faith, you have put into a device, that you hold in your hand.

"Now, be willing to take some time to sit quietly, and reestablish a connection, with The Heavenly Dimension, which will serve you far better than the device you hold in your hand. It requires no device. It requires faith; but, no matter what time, or day, if you ask a question, and you are adept at connecting with Home, the answer will come, and it will come in a form, specifically designed for you. This connection with Heaven, which is within you, will tell you where to go, how to get there, how to avoid the pitfalls, the roadblocks, the accidents. It will answer questions when you do not know the answer. It will give you guidance and lead you Home!

"I would like you to spend some time this week, thinking, about the faith, and trust, you place in a device, which can be broken, or lost; or, become totally useless, if it is not supported. Think of those words, because it is the same in the unseen world. You must establish your connection, with The Heavenly Dimension; and then, as if you have the most powerful device in all of the world, you can talk with God, you can talk with Me, you can receive direction from The Holy Spirit; and, our answers coming to you will not cease. But, you must practice, you must know how to use your ability to call Home.

"Your ability to call Home is 'the unseen device, of eternity,' and it will not let you down. It will not take you in the wrong direction. It will always be with you. It cannot be lost, unless you choose not to use it. It cannot be broken, unless you choose to break the connection. It will lead you, and guide you, as you make your way through the world created by man, walking all The Way, taking the hand of God!"

Jesus Teaches On:
Know Your Mission, Pick-up Your Cross, And Follow Me

“I AM with you. Do not be distracted by doubt; just sit for a while, be still and quiet, and your heart will know, I AM with you! No matter what you face today, you do not face it, alone; I AM with you. Once you are confident, in the words that I speak, you will rise-up, and walk into the day, complete, in the knowing, that I AM with you!

“I understand, how easy it is to be distracted from the course of a normal day. In the modern course of the normal day, one phone call, can distract you, from what you intended to do, one accident, can throw you off-course. There are a number of ways that you can be distracted from the course of your day.

“You can also be distracted, by the course of your day, from your spiritual path. This happens frequently, when you place more importance, on: what you are to do; and where you are to go; and how you are to look; what you are to drive; where you are to be seen, or not seen; this type, of attitude, pulls you further and further away, from your spiritual path, every day.

“If you are upon the Earth, you are upon the Earth for a reason. You left The Dimension of Perfection, you left your eternal Home, to travel to Earth for a reason, for a mission; but that mission can be forgotten, once you begin to put great energy, into acquiring, the things of the world: making more money, buying a bigger house, more and more clothing, cars, boats, jewelry. Pretty soon, the mission, which is of prime importance, is covered-up and lost, in the minutia of the world; and, once this is done, you are lost in chaos, and confusion. But thousands of years ago, I set a course. No matter how lost, or confused, you are, it is possible for you to find your way!

“The exact words I spoke vary slightly. It is written, that I said, ‘You must deny yourself, pick-up your cross, and follow Me.’ Some say, the words I said were, ‘You must die of self, pick-up your cross, and follow Me.’ But the exact wording is not important, it is the meaning... I wish to explain to you today...

“Written on your heart by the hand of God is the mission, you are intended to play-out. Written on your heart is the blueprint, the map, of what you are to do!

“You know; but often you do not follow through, because no one is encouraging you. They offer this distraction and say: ‘You cannot make a living that way.’ ‘Do this, there is more money in it.’ ‘Come, go here. Do not go there. Your fortune will be lost.’ These words are ‘of the world.’ Your mission is written on your heart, and you know it. Even if you begin to know it only step by step by step, it is your mission, it is your journey, it is your purpose; it is what you came to do; and, you came to do it, not to amass money for you, you came to Earth for the glory of God!

“Knowing this; and knowing the confusion that reigns upon the Earth in many ways, I said clearly, that you must deny your ego, you must push all that aside, basically die of self; and then, set your course to complete your mission. The words I used in that regard was (were), ‘Pick-up your cross, and follow Me’; but, certainly, I was not saying that you will be nailed to a cross. It was very symbolic. That cross was My mission. Your mission might have to do with bringing the glory of God into the workplace, bringing the glory of God into your home, bringing the glory of God into your thoughts, and your words, and your deeds, every single day. The only way you will know what your mission is, is to be willing to set your ego aside, to deny yourself, and follow Me. Your mission will unfold, as you are willing to be bold, and go, in search, of the dream.

“I have heard it said, that when you say, ‘I wish to do the will of God,’ you are putting yourself into slavery. Why don’t you do your will, some will argue; but this is what I say, to that. Number one, you are on a mission. Anything that tries to push you off-course, is a distraction to the mission, so keep your focus on the mission. There are many, who are willing, to put their lives on the line, for the good of their country. They are willing to serve their country, for the good of the country, for the safety of the country. There are many who are willing to serve their church, their community, their family, their friends, for the good of their community, their church, their family, and their friends. This is ‘in-service,’ for the highest good of all! So why would you question, anyone’s desire, to be ‘in-service,’ to God. This should not seem out of place.

“Your mission, when done with a complete, and full heart, will bring glory to God, because it will not ring of ego, it will not be something you are doing to build a bigger house, or buy a bigger car. It will be doing something far more important. It will be showing The Way!

“My guidance, over two thousand years ago, to deny yourself, or to die of self, pick-up your cross and follow Me, is the same today! Go to your heart and find your mission. Set your course, and let your face feel The Wind, as you move-out, to accomplish that, which you were sent to do. Follow Me.

“Your days will be of glory, and all who know you, will tell the story, of what you did with your time upon Earth, once you have returned Home. Returning Home is part of the mission; you are not destined to live on Earth forever; your destiny is to live eternally, in The Kingdom of God!

“Know your heart! Know your mission! Deny yourself. Pick-up your cross and follow Me!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Golden Opportunities Come, So Let It Be Done

“I AM with you. And for those of you who will reach-out, and take My hand, life is changed, because you understand, and have faith, in the knowing, that I AM truly with you! By way of The Spirit, I can remain with those who hear My stories, and hear My call, and choose to follow Me, as I show The Way. You can follow Me, just as those who followed Me thousands of years ago. As I called to them and they came, I call to you; and, those who choose to hear, and to answer the call, they follow Me too. In this spiritual way, I AM still calling, any who will come to Me: to hear the words; to find peace; to walk upon the Earth, in a divine way.

“Today My words will be brief, because the message is important...

“During your lifetime upon the Earth: you will be tapped on the shoulder; you will be stirred, from within; you will hear the still, small Voice; or you will ‘know,’ what it is you are to do! These tappings, and stirrings, and whispers, and knowings, will come to you many times. Sometimes you will be able to push them aside, shake-them-off, and move through your ordinary day; but there will come other times, when there is nothing you can do, or say, which will change the situation, in any way, because you realize, from the core of your being: the tapping is for you; the stirring is moving you; the whisper cannot be denied; and, you find that courage, from deep inside, to follow!

“These opportunities are golden; these opportunities will add to your spiritual strength; these opportunities will lift you to another place, a new way of living, living with grace!

“When you are asked to do something, which appears to be totally out of the realm of: sometimes, possibility; sometimes, the comfort zone; sometimes, doing something that is totally out of character for you; these are doorways to the mystical, to the miracles, which are all around you!

“I speak to you today, to encourage you in every way. Set yourself aside each day, so that you can be still, and listen! Most days you will find that, that which you receive is a message from God, or Me, or The Holy Spirit, or your guardian angel, something to let you know we are there, we are there with you, in Spirit. Sometimes it will be an answer to a question, sometimes it will be a gift of increased faith; but there will be times, when you will be given direction, which will lead you into accomplishing something that will change your life, and the lives of those around you! Today I AM letting you ‘know,’ that these times are more important, than you will ever know!

“Accepting the responsibility, and saying, ‘Yes,’ is The Way to begin! And once you begin, following the course which leads to miracles, you will be eager, for the opportunity to show itself again. You will find the wisdom, the courage and the strength you need, when you need it. This is The Promise: You will have all you need; and, I add, you will have all you need to finish that which you were given to accomplish. Let it be done, stand-up in the sun, and let it be done!”

Jesus Teaches On:
It All Begins With A Thought

“I AM with you. Why am I with you? I AM with you, so that you might make your way, over the face of the Earth, with more confidence, having the courage and the strength, to turn from darkness and shadow, and remain in the light. I AM with you, so you might have the courage to do what you are meant to do, knowing it is your destiny, and seizing the opportunity, with enthusiasm, and often outright joy, to make your mark, and follow Me Home!

“It all begins with a thought!

“Many of you say this, you repeat it easily, you talk about the importance, of what you are thinking, and the following progression of that, would be, that you are creating with every thought, creating darkness or shadow, or light and glory. The words come easily; but today, I AM speaking to you, to encourage you to move into the place where you believe this teaching fully, so completely, that you guard your thoughts, as you would take care of your loved ones.

“Every thought you have moves from you, into the world around you; and has the ability to make the world a better place, or a darker place, or a shadowy place.

“Be vigilant. What is living in your head, in your thoughts? It all begins with a thought!

“Murder, begins with a thought. Hatred, begins with a thought. Robbery, begins with a thought. Adultery begins with a thought. The list goes on, and on; but, the list for glorious, wonderful creation goes on, and on, too; and, it all begins within you; and, it is powerful!

“When you have one, or more, willing to create within their thoughts: love, understanding, compassion, generosity, kindness, forgiveness, you have changed a piece of the world in which you live, at the present time; and when there are those willing to maintain their thoughts, in such a way, they make a difference every day, because vast amounts of love, and light and peace and charity and forgiveness, all these things are streaming from them.

“This is how you bless the Earth and bless the people of the Earth. It shows, when you are willing to do this, that you care about God's creation, that it does not matter, who is around you, what country they are from, whether they are man, or woman, child, or elderly, you are blessing them within your thoughts, and these thoughts move from you, and have the ability to bump into others who are touched by a thought created by you. It is in this way that you will soon see how powerful you are; and, begin to understand your role as a child of God upon Earth.

“When you walk into a room, which is filled with animosity, for whatever reason, you can alter that reigning energy, simply by thinking, and creating, thoughts of forgiveness, thoughts of permitting God's love to flow through you into that room. And as you move through that room, you will begin to notice the energy is changing; and, it is changing because of what you are thinking.

Where are your thoughts?

“This week, guard your thoughts. Do not permit access to your thoughts, do not give your thoughts to the thieves, who will come in the night, and rob you of your glory; for, given the opportunity, darkness, and shadow will move-in, take over, and give you every excuse, necessary, to keep you interested in thoughts of darkness. Do not be fooled.

“Be wise! Be vigilant, because it all begins with a thought!

“Hold your tongue, and do not speak, revealing your thoughts, until your thoughts are filled with the glory of God!

“Bless the Earth! Take care of your thoughts, and you will live in peace no matter what is happening around you.

“Be vigilant! It all begins, with a thought!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Go Forth In Life, Eternal Life

“I AM with you. I live, and as I live, you too live. We live together. I did rise, so that all who followed Me and heard My words, would see, and know, and proclaim, from every mountain and every desert, I live! It is not a game of words; it is not a game of swords; it is life, eternal life; and once you accept the teaching of eternal life, you are never the same. Fear, goes out the backdoor. Fear cannot stand, in the face of the truth, that life, your life, is eternal; so why would you be afraid? The same holds true for worry, frustration, anger, misery. Anything that keeps you from shining, with the glory of God, is trickery, denying you, that which is yours! I showed you! I did not say, I can do these things, but you cannot; I said, I can do these things, and so can you!

“Do not buy-in to ‘the excuse,’ by saying, ‘I am only human.’ From this day forward, reject that teaching, of the world created by man; and sing-out, about the perfection that God created within you! Go forth this day, and live, as I live; and be ye perfect, as our Father in Heaven is perfect. Be ye perfect, oh lights of God, brothers and sisters! Go forth, and live! Go forth, and love! Go forth in life, eternal life!”

Jesus Teaches On:
You Are God's Family, Love One Another

“I AM with you. It is a source of joy: to be with you, to cross through dimensions, to touch, to feel; and in that way, come to know, that eternal life is real! Do not get caught-up, in the failing of the body. You live forever! What you are experiencing right now, is a temporary piece, of an unending lifetime. When you leave the Earth, you do not melt away, you flow into eternity, there to stay, an eternal being, created by God!

“Do not put much faith, or gather all meaning, from the world created by man, because one day they will be throwing a parade in your honor, celebrating something you have accomplished, and the next, turning their heads from you, seeking something, or someone else, for which to throw the parade, or the accolade of the day; for it is possible to swiftly rise to a place of adulation, and then plummet, into a pit of despair. This is what happens: when you place all your trust, and faith, and confidence in those around you; when you live, so that they might see your importance. It is as if you must prove yourself every day, just so they will not turn their heads, or walk away. Well My brothers and sisters, I will tell you this, the unconditional love, given freely to you by The Creator of all things, will never change! You are loved, you have been loved, and you will continue to be loved. There are choirs of angels singing, just because of you. You are an important piece, of The Eternal Picture, The Great Plan, The Divine Plan; and your importance is not of the world, it is eternal. You are a child of God! You are of the family of God. You are of the nation of God. You are of the realm of God. You were given life in The Dimension of Perfection; therefore, the source, and the core being, of you, is perfect, just as you are! You do not have to climb a mountain, or swim an ocean, to gain the love of God; it is yours; all you have to do is open, and accept it; for, with the love, came the gift of Freewill. Do as you will; but the Well of God is sweet. Draw-in this love, and live, eternally, in the light of God!

“When I was with you upon Earth, I was told to deliver some messages, which would change the course, of the children of God upon Earth. The messages were vital to changing the course, alter the direction, straighten the path. At that time, there was a lot of isolation. You were put in a box, and there you would stay: this is who you are; these are your people; do not go away. That box over there, is a box for other people. You were put in compartments; but this was not the plan of God, this was a theory of man. And so the way you dressed, and the way you talked, and even that which you ate, set you apart from others. It is very easy, not to care so much, about someone you do not associate with. They are over there, you are over here. It was into this arrangement, that I delivered a message of ‘love one another,’ clearly stating that: it is easy to love your family; it is easy to love those close to you; it is easy to love the one next door to you, because you are community. Anyone can do that, without prompting most of the time; but, I was saying, ‘love one another.’ I did not say, love one another, but not that one over there. I did not say, love one another, but withhold your love from those people over there. The direction was clear, the words were few, so it could not be missed, ‘love one another.’

“God’s love, flows freely, to all creation! God’s love, flows freely to God’s family, to God’s creation. You love, or care for, or at least have feelings for, members of your family. What I AM saying, or what I was saying then, and continue to say now is, it is all God’s family! It is important for you to love!

“God’s family does not have lines of color, or language, or body shape or size. God’s love flows freely. You cannot say, we are all one, we are a body, without stopping to recognize this. The message was delivered, so that you might adjust your perspective, and open more completely, and fully, to the love of God that flows freely to you, and all created.

“Be willing to open your arms to one: who looks different, whose dress is not like yours, whose food is not like yours, whose language is not like yours. Simply, set it in your heart, that is the start; because, once it is settled in your heart, your hand will go-out, as a welcoming gesture; and you will not find a stranger, you will find a family member; and, you will begin to know The Ways of God. The Ways of God are love!

“The greatest part about the story of creation is that creation has never stopped! Creation continues, and it continues in you! The story of creation continues in every thought you have, every word you say, in every deed you do! The creation story continues, as the loose fiber of the cloak of Earth is drawn closer, where you recognize the family, the body, the creation of God. Until you begin to see creation this way, you cannot understand your value, your worth.

“Place your faith, and trust, in the love of God! The parade is thrown for you every day. There is excitement, there is love; and, it will not turn away. When the last piece of confetti falls, and the celebration seems to ebb away, in the world created by man, the celebration continues in The Dimension of Perfection, because it flows, eternally, from the hand of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Rebuild Your Foundation

“I AM with you. I AM with you, and so, are the ways, of Heaven. The ways of God are open to you, so that you might seek the truth, and know The Way. These things are not hidden from you; but many who are not interested, because they do not see them, do not seek them. However, those who feel the presence, without seeing them, do seek beyond the seen; and, unto them is delivered the wisdom of the unseen!

“Every day, those of Earth, make judgments, without knowing all the truth; and, from the judgments made lacking pieces of the truth, other judgments are placed, set down as rules, obligations; and soon, when rules and laws and obligations are set in this fashion, the source judgment fails, and crumbles in the light of new truth; and, you must begin again. To have all things stand, atop the other, you must have a strong foundation, a foundation set in truth, a foundation necessary to hold that which is yet to be.

“If you have ever driven by a construction site, the same route, traveling to work, or some other destination, daily, you see, the beginnings, and follow the building; but you will notice that, as the foundation is set into place, holes are dug into the ground, they are level, there is measurement, there is great care, setting-out, the foundation; for the foundation must be exact, and true, and strong; and all good materials must be set into this foundation. If it appears that there is something lacking, or that which is used, might be inferior, to what is required, then you must undo, at that point, and reset the foundation, making sure it is the best quality, making sure everything is right, correct, and good. The workers must have the intention of doing their best work; and those overseeing the work must watch and be vigilant; and, once the foundation is complete, all the shovels, and the hoes, and the equipment is gathered-up, and the workers, the foundations experts, leave; their work is done. The foundation is now set, to hold the building, as it was conceived by the architect, to be constructed by the builders. And so, you watch the building rise, one floor at a time, pleasing to the eye, reaching-up into the sky, each floor, set in place, by those willing to work, under the guiding eye, of the foreman, or the one who is watching over the construction.

“It is very difficult to build anything, atop, inferior foundation. And this My brothers and sisters, is the same, as attempting to live a good lifetime, a lifetime which is fulfilling, with little, or no foundation, or the foundation that has been set in part truth. A building will not stand atop a foundation which is crumbling. It is not too late to reset your foundation; and if you feel there is something lacking, or something that might be of inferior quality, or just a component that is not there, do not be reluctant to start anew! It is surprising, you might think, that this is what I AM telling you; but it is true.

“Begin with a new foundation! Dig deep! Go into your inner-being and begin the excavation. Move the debris; whatever you find, which would not make a strong, and healthy foundation, dig-it-out, put it on the stack of rubble over to the side. Do not let inferior material be the source of your foundation! You are in a place, in a position, where you can construct your foundation anew. Let it begin with you! Let it begin, within you. Go today, start, dig, find what is not useful, or not superior, and put it on the stack, to be pushed away, to be thrown away. Clean-out the area for the foundation; and then begin to build your foundation. Do not build your foundation on former judgments, or thoughts, or conceptions, or things of the past, which seem to bear shadows, or some darkness. Begin to lay your foundation, of all the things that are good, the things that hold truth, eternal truth, and set it straight! Let your foundation be of love, and light, and peace, and charity! Let no animosity sink into your foundation! Let no bias, or hatred, be caught-up in your foundation! Do not plant preconceived notions, which might hold some truth. Let your foundation, be good!

“Spend some time this week, deciding how your foundation will look, how your foundation will be stronger. Do not hesitate to cast to the side, judgments, which you believe were made with truth, but do not hold the light of God! Let this week, be a week of building a new foundation, from which your new life will rise-up: strong; beautiful; reaching into the heavens; calling, by its very existence, those to come and see what the light of God has risen-up in the new day! This week, rebuild, your foundation!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Embrace Eternal Life, And Love One Another

“I AM with you. Do not be surprised, that I AM with you. Do not be alarmed, or concerned, that you hear Me. I AM with you. It is the truth; and, it is further witness and testimony regarding eternal life; for, when I did lay down My body, and move into My eternal body, My light body, the body that serves Me through all time, I did show Myself to you, and say unto those gathered, ‘See! Do not be afraid! You live for eternity.’

“These things that pass between us now: your prayer, My answer, My presence with you, with your feeling it, and acknowledging it, just continues the testimony, and the witness, of eternal life. I AM not dead; I AM living! Therefore, understand this, for the message is important, it is vital, that you embrace eternal life; for, in this Way, in this embracing of eternal life, you will begin to live, as you have never experienced life on Earth before, because you have seen through the door, heard through the veil, and comprehend; and finally, will avail yourself of the joy, of understanding, and knowing, eternal life!

“LOVE ONE ANOTHER! How many times do you hear this? Love one another. How many times have you read it? How firmly is it set within you, that that is the new command of the new time, ‘Love one another.’ How many times do you put this teaching into action? How often do you practice, and then, can say, that you truly do, honor God in this way, that you pick-up the banner, and truly can say, that you are practicing, love one another?

“It is almost impossible to do, if you restrict yourself, to the ways, and the rules of the world created by man, because from every tongue, and every hand of those around you, you will find an excuse, for not loving this one, or that one, or the other one; and, it would be easy to do; for you will have a litany of things, excuses, to use, for not loving them. Whatever they did to you, whatever they said to you, whatever they did not do unto you, you will list them, as the reason, for not loving them. And this is understandable, when you are working in the energies, and the ways, of the world; however, when you surrender, and walk into The Kingdom of God, as you are living on Earth, and feel, the power of God in you, it is actually impossible, not to let love flow through you to all others, because that source of love is coming from God, The Creator of All Things.

“Offer your hand, and your respect, and your kindness, to king and pauper, alike. Do not be kinder to the king. Do not be kinder to the pauper. Let kindness be balanced within you. Give it often, as it is a gift, which wraps you, in comfort. It is pleasant to receive kindness. It is a gift sent from God, through another human being; therefore, practice kindness. Do not respect the king, any more than you respect the pauper; and, do not show the pauper more respect, than you would the king. Keep your respect in balance; and, let the love and the light and the wisdom of God flow through you, so that all you think, and say, and do, reflects that you honor every individual.

“I AM sure there are many of you who already are questioning that which I have told you this morning; but, there are also many of you, who are using the light, and the wisdom, and the love of God to comprehend, fully and totally, what I AM saying unto you; for, in that state is the only way, that you can claim respect, as God respects you, and pass it on to others, in all you say, and do. It is the only way that you can claim love, as it comes from God to you, and then pass it on, to others. Take that which God lets flow unto you. Hold it within you, so that you are blessed, and then let it flow through; for it is a gift from God, passing through you, touched by your blessing, which is added to it, too.

“While it is quite easy to read words such as these, you will find, that the only way it is easy to follow words, such as these, is to slip-on the cape of humility, and stand in the light of God; and, in that light, what will pass to you from the hand of God, will lift-you-up, and radiance, will fill the cloak of the humble, and you will rise-up. You will rise in a level of consciousness, regarding how you should approach others, while you walk upon the Earth; and, in this way, you will begin to know the ways of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Way, Out Of Chaos Into Perfection

“I AM with you. What a joy, it is, to be with you! What a joy, it is, that there are those of you who will reach-out and acknowledge My presence! Even when you cannot see Me, you know Me, what a joy it is! And no matter, what you are taught by the ways of the world, you believe, you believe you hear Me, and know Me; and you trust in the words, and The Way, which leads you every day, into: gentle confidence, mighty courage, and the faith to say, ‘I believe.’

“You do not have to look far to see chaos, and confusion; for, it is all around you; and perhaps, this day, you might find, it is within you. Fear not. Do not be afraid to say, ‘I feel this chaos, and confusion in me.’ Do not be afraid to say that; for if, it is within you, the first-step to free yourself, is to acknowledge the presence of chaos, and confusion; and then set about freeing yourself. It is so prevalent now, upon Earth, because of: the temptations, and the snares, and the trappings of the ways of the world, the world created, by human beings. The things you are taught, by the ways of the world, change, if you will notice. One day it will be good to do this, another day it will be good to do that. One day, ‘This will kill you.’ One day, ‘That will kill you.’ It seems to change, and to be an underlying component of chaos, and confusion. It seems no one knows, or can agree on what is right, and what is wrong, down to everyday matters such as: what to eat, and what to wear, and what to drive, and where to live; how to work, where to work, what to be, what to do. It all changes, and this is a sign unto you. If it is changing every day, it will lead you into confusion, and soon chaos will dwell within you, because, no one seems to be able to tell you, exactly, what, is good, for you.

“It is easy to fall into this trap, into this pit, when you desire to please, to please other people, to do the right thing, to be in good-standing in the community in which you find yourself; but, when you set your course to please, you will quickly find that you can please this one while displeasing that one. It seems, after some trial and error along this course, that you cannot please everyone, and you stumble, and fall, and go deeper into chaos, and confusion; and it seems as if you know nothing at all.

“The ways of the world can be very harsh. As an example, I will tell you, that I had a relative, that most of you know, or read about, as John the Baptist; and, there were many who would speak of him, and say, denigrating him in a way, ‘He doesn’t wear the right clothing, he wears hardly anything at all;’ ‘He will not eat the right foods;’ ‘He does not drink from a glass of wine, he will reject it;’ ‘He is socially unacceptable.’ And the same mouths would pronounce of Me, that I did sit, with those who were unworthy, that I did sup, with those who are unworthy, that I did drink the wine, and party with the bridegroom. These same mouths could find fault, with anything, that was done, one day changing from the other, continuing that way; pills of confusion, best not to swallow.

“My whisper, My call to you, My prompting and urging to you today, is to close your ears to worldly ways, and listen, for The Whisper from God; for I will tell you, that it is the plan, that you should be perfect; and the only way that you will walk the road, and path, of perfection, to ultimately reach the goal, is to be taught by God! You can see clearly the ways of the world will not lead you to perfection, the perfection that will bring rest, and peace to your soul; but, it is attainable! When each of the children of Earth are taught by God, God will speak the words that speak to you; and those words will bring forth a spark, from the core of your being; and within the core of your being, the remembrance shall spring to life; and you will hear the words, you need to hear, to lead you out-of-strife, out of chaos, and confusion, and set your firmly on the path of life! And as you hear The Whisper, and heed the call, every day, you walk, knowing, perfection will be yours!

“Do not hesitate to say, ‘I am going to be taught by God;’ do not hesitate to say, ‘I hear The Whisper of God;’ and, do not hesitate to say, ‘I am going to walk, The Way of God;’ because, this is how you are led into perfection, this is the plan. Each child cannot, and will not, go the way the other is meant to go; but each child will rise-up, and go The Way they are meant to go, because The Whisper touches their soul, and they recognize, and know, they are ‘of God!’

“Listen, for The Whisper! It will lead you out of chaos. Rising-up in the light will illuminate The Way. You were created to be perfect, as God is perfect! Perfection lies, in The Way of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Do Your Part, And Be At Peace

“I AM with you. You are beginning another day. Do not permit ‘the temptations,’ to walk-in, and sway-you, from seeing and acknowledging the glory, of another day. It is a gift so often overlooked, in the list of things for which to be thankful; but it is the greatest gift you will be given, now, in the present, today; it is a new day. Yesterday is done. Now, in this present time, under the rising sun, you are given a gift, the opportunity, to do, that, which you wish to do. No one will take this from you. It is yours. The day is yours. What will you create? What will you do? Set your intention and follow-through. From the rising of the sun, until the day is done, make it a day, of great importance, for you.

“Close your eyes for just a moment, and picture this. You see, on paper, a drawing. The drawing is of a magnificent building, beautiful in every way, using stone, and glass, and wood here and there, to reach-up into the sky. It is a glorious building. You see it, as it is drawn, a blueprint to what is to be; and as you are watching, and looking, at this building, the paper is rolled-up into a tube, put into a sleeve, and handed to another person. The next thing you see, with your eyes closed, is a big lot, a piece of property, vast in size, with a number of workers, moving here and there, digging a hole, a very big hole, excavating would be better at (describing) what they are doing.

“You can stop, the picture, from rolling there; for I will take it up. You saw the plan. Oh, it was a divine plan, this building yet standing; and the plan was folded-up and put in the hands of someone else to bring to fruition. And slowly, each worker, doing their part, adds bits, and pieces, to a building that begins in a hole, and ends a magnificent, completed, edifice, that began on the drawing board. Now, each worker does their part, but they do not know, how it will end-up. The worker, digging the hole, might not understand what the electrician will be doing; and, the electrician might not understand what the plumber is doing; and, the person, who installs the glass, might not understand what the one that is going to put the roof on is doing; but that does not matter. The only important thing is for each person to focus on what they are doing; and that is the only way, the building, will be erected: all parts, and pieces, corrected, made just right, so the building stands upright, tight, and perfect.

“Doing their part, each worker, at some point, had to trust the architect, the one who drew the plan, the one who created the idea; and, as they trust the architect’s hand, in each minute situation, every angle of the building, their trust, and their belief, that the architect knew, what was best for the building, gave them confidence, and faith, to complete their part, and then watch the building rise. When you do your work, such as this, there is a confidence, you go-in, do that which are meant to do, to the best of your ability, and then your part is through. Some can even watch the building rise, while others move-on to something else, another project. They might never even see, the finished building. When you do your part: you are not worried; you are not concerned; you are not anxious; for these energies are actually a waste of energy. Do your part.

Do what you are meant to do, and in confidence 'know,' you have done that which were sent to do, and let it go.

"I was sent to walk upon the Earth to do a mission, which I did. It might be difficult for you to imagine, that you were sent to walk upon the Earth to complete a mission, a mission designed expressly for you; but it is true. If I were the only one, who could do certain things, I would say, 'Watch Me do this, but you cannot do it.' 'Stand in awe of Me, for doing this, because you cannot do it.' I did not say this. I said, 'I have come to show you how to do it, and I pray you do it, because your life upon Earth will be easier.'

"Forget, retaliation! Mark that there was a time that it was necessary for someone to say, 'an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth,' but that time has passed, that is no longer The Way. My message, spoken very clearly, would guide you to set aside the ways of retaliation. I brought a message of love. It is that simple. Do not try to confuse the issue. Love one another!

"God, Our Father, is 'The Great Architect.' And the hand of God moved, over the blueprint, and created The Divine Plan. It is already a plan. The end is already drawn and guaranteed. All pieces, and parts, of The Plan, will move, and adjust, and correct, and modify, as it goes along; but the beginning and end are set. It will be divine, because it is created to be divine, and you are blessed to have been given the opportunity to be a piece, and a part, of The Divine Plan! That is enough right there, to know you are a piece, and a part, of The Divine Plan; and, in knowing that there should come peace, confidence. Do not be worried, or anxious, or concerned. Take the stones you have been given, and set them, straight, one on top of the another, and do your part. Do not be looking right or left to see if others are doing their part. Do your part. Trust, that The Architect, knew exactly what was to be done, and chose wisely, those to do it.

"As you walk into this day, make it your intention, to concentrate on the perfection of The Divine Plan, to have faith, so that you might have confidence, for when you are dealing with confidence, you can go about your day, unaffected by what is happening all around you. Do not be distracted, because distraction will bring you feelings of chaos, and confusion. Focus on your part. Make sure you have no feelings of retaliation, make sure you are creating love within your being, and let these things show. As you move through the day, in this way, you will find confidence, and contentment, grow; and they grow into the peace of one who knows, they are doing their part, they are doing what they are meant to do. Be at peace. I AM with you!"

Jesus Teaches On:

Do Not Be Dismayed At What You Consider You Lack, Celebrate That Which You Have

“I AM with you. . . As day begins, with the rising of the sun, I AM with you! As the day ends, with the setting of the sun, I AM with you! As the moon reigns in the sky above, during the night, I AM with you! As the canopy of stars, twinkle, with radiant light, I AM with you! You will be tempted many times, to doubt My presence; but I can assure you, I AM with you.

“It is possible to walk through a swarm of insects, and not even know they were there, until the light hit them, in such a way, and made you aware of their presence. I AM with you! There are many things, all around you, hidden from your view; still, they are with you, too!

“Do not be dismayed at, what you consider, a lack of what you need! Before you take the trip, the journey, into depression, and you become disillusioned, with the life you are leading, be still. What do you need? What do you think you are lacking? Look closely, at what you have; and set your intention to make the best of what you have! As you work with what you have, it seems to grow; and when you have gratitude upon your heart, for that which you have, that which you have, seems to take-on a more brilliant hue, than ever before.

“If you have one pair of socks, be thankful for that pair of socks! Repeat it over, and over again, and let that be your prayer to Our Heavenly Father. ‘Thank you, God, that I have a pair of socks.’ When you say it with intention, it becomes real, and you find you are thankful, for that pair of socks; and, that occupies your thoughts, more, than your request, before the thanksgiving set-in. Utilize what you have, and be thankful and grateful, for that which you have been given. Pray for the wisdom to use that which you have been given. Pray for the wisdom to be where you are to be.

“Some of you, are praying for a new job. You are tired, you are weary of your old job. You want a new job, with a big office; or perhaps no office at all, longing to be outside. You want better compensation for your work, and all types of benefits. These are your ‘thoughts;’ these are your prayers; this is your goal. But, before you let this occupy your prayers, and your thoughts, take-a-look at what you do have. What about the job you do have? Apply all that you ‘want,’ to your present condition. Be happy with your job. Bring joy to your job. Be content with your job. Make those around you, feel comfortable, at your place of work, by smiling, being kind, and courteous, and understanding. In other words, improve your lot, where you are, and be thankful for your job! You will find, in time, that your gratitude, your sincere gratitude, for the job you have, will move into the work that you turn-out; and the work that you turn-out will reflect ‘a thanksgiving,’ for what you have; and, that which you have will grow; and it will be better than that which you would have prayed-for, before you did know this feeling of gratitude for what you have.

“Some of you are praying for a wife, or a husband, or a boyfriend, or a girlfriend, a spouse, a partner. Take-a-look around you. Take-a-look at those around you, and begin to practice speaking, and acting, and loving, as if they had walked out of a dream, an answer to your prayer, because they have, or they would not be there. Change your perspective, and your attitude. Treat those around you, as you long to be treated yourself; and do not hold back! Soon, loving others will provide you the love you once thought you did lack. You resurrected the love, with your thoughts, and words, and deeds.

“Be thankful for that which you have! Work, with intention and purpose: to use that which you have, and use it well; to love that which you have, and love it well; and to be thankful, for that which you have. The good parent ‘knows,’ what the child needs, and provides what the child needs, always saving a treat, for the end!”

Jesus Teaches On:

Walk The Way, Live Life, As It Is Meant To Be

“I AM with you. And it is beautiful to watch you experience the opportunity, and the gift, of living life for a while, upon the Earth. You have been created, and upon your creation, you were anointed to live forever. Because you were created, you are, you will always be; and for this precious piece, this present eternity, you are upon the Earth, as it was meant to be; and you are not on the Earth accidentally, you are on the Earth, for a purpose!

“If you make it your intention to seek to live a spiritual life, then do so with enthusiasm. Do not be dissuaded by those who will say to you that it is impossible to do, or that they liked you better, before you awakened, and knew. Refuse to be dissuaded, by the words of man, so that you can follow The Whisper, the still small voice within you, leading you over the land, over the seas, and up, into the high mountains, to experience the beauty of Earth, as it was meant to be.

“Do not trick yourself into believing, that, just because you are doing great good, that your thoughts are of good, light, love, peace, that your words are kind, and compassionate, and understanding, and your deeds follow these words, that you will be loved by everyone, because this is not the case. For those choosing to walk The Way, the spiritual path every day, they find that they are considered foreign, different, alien, out-of-place, they do not fit-in.

“Do you want to fit-in? Where do you want to fit-in? How do you want to fit-in?

“Close your eyes, and picture for a while, if you will, a child who has fallen on the sidewalk, a tumble from a skateboard, or a crash from a bicycle. Do you walk by thinking to yourself, they should not have been riding on the sidewalk in the first place? Or do you go sit on the curb with them, and let them know, it is going to be okay, offer to walk them home, touch them with words of kindness, not reprimand. Can you see yourself fitting in to that picture?

“What about the pictures of people, who seem and appear to be almost untouchable: the homeless, the dirty, the hungry, the needy, the sick, the diseased? Do you walk past these, as well? Or, do you stop, and embrace, and somehow, see the face, the face of God, in each being? Do you fit-in to that picture?

“It is very easy to discover where you fit-in. If you try to force the piece of eternity that is you, into the wrong picture, you can crack open the picture already pieced together, or you can make your piece very uncomfortable. For this reason, alone, you know when you are in the wrong picture. You know where you fit-in. You know where you are supposed to be.

“Choosing to walk The Way, and live the ways of the heavenly kingdom, The Dimension of Perfection, is often not ‘in favor,’ does not fit-in to the ways of the world; but it fits for you, as that is what you are meant to do. You are not sent to Earth to bring the ways of the world, back, Home. You are sent to Earth to bring the blessings, and the grace, and the light of Home, onto the Earth, into the world, changing the world, with your light!

“If you have chosen to seek The Way, to walk a spiritual life, then today I give you My hand, and I make this promise, you will never feel alone! Find the courage to rise-up, and bring the light of Home, into the world of man. Do not expect accolades, from the world of man. Expect peace, from the hand of God!”

Jesus Teaches On:
Answer The Call, Which Is Meant For You

“I AM with you. Feel My presence; know, I AM with you. Believe that I will guide you, encouraging you, to make the daily decisions, from a place of confidence.

“When I walked upon the Earth, I was with many people. Some of the people I encountered, I called to them, inviting them, to rise-up, and follow Me; and this invitation, always carried with it an action, on their part, which meant, they must leave all that they knew behind, and follow Me into a new day, making their way, trusting the word of God!

“There were a few, that heard this call, and most of them did rise-up, and follow; because it was their destiny, and down, deep down, within their being they recognized it, and could not hide from it in peace; therefore, the decision was made, so that they truly might know, the peace within them, the peace that comes with answering a call, that you know is yours.

“Most of the people, I encountered, when I was living, upon the Earth, I touched with a message of love, and forgiveness, charity, hope, so that they might stay, where they were, delivering The Kingdom of God, every day, to those around them; and their adventure was just as shining, as important, as those who did rise-up, leave family, friends, possessions behind, and follow Me, because they, too, were delivering the new word, the new message, the new command. They were delivering it to those around them, embracing it first, letting it unfold within them, nourishing it, and feeding it to those who would watch and listen, and see, The Way it was meant to be.

“Sometimes you are called to rise-up and go, go-out, and deliver a message of love, carrying light into darkness filled with hatred, and anger; and, sometimes you are called to raise-up your thoughts, and your words, and your deeds, in such a way, that you are the living word of love, and, you nurture those around you so that they might be raised-up in the garden of love, and be well-prepared to go-out into the world, carrying this message every day!

“Only you, know, the call you are meant to answer, because it is written on your heart. Do not stumble, to try, to answer a call meant for another. Listen patiently, wait vigilantly; and with an open heart, answer the call, which is meant for you. The call, The Whisper: might say, ‘Rise-up, and go;’ might say, ‘Raise-up your thoughts, and stay.’ But no matter, which you are meant to do, it is important for you to know, that I AM calling you, to fulfil your destiny, not the destiny of those around you, or those you might know, the destiny that is waiting for you, and you alone.”

Jesus Teaches On:

Love One Another; Practice Being Kind And Being Humble

“I AM with you. I AM with you, in the most perfect Way. I know what is on your heart, I know what you wish to say; therefore, there is no clumsy communication between us; there is sweet communion, hearts touching, we are One.

“‘Love one another!’ This is the new command, ‘Love one another.’ And even for those, who, sincerely try to love, all they encounter, this new command, seems to be present for a while, then slip away, even for those who are trying. When you set your intention to love one another, it does make it easier! It makes your steps along The Way surer, less likely that you will stray. There is ‘a practice,’ which does make it easier; and, for those of you who are willing to ‘give it a try,’ I will step-out, and say, ‘If you do, you will succeed; you will make it through!’

“Set your intention to love one another. That is the purpose, that is the goal; and then the next thing you do is to set your intention, to be kind! That might sound a bit simplistic; but, it will work, even for those who are the most challenging, the most difficult to love, even those. You will find it easier, to be kind; and, with practice, you will find, that you can be kind, to the most challenging, the most difficult. It takes practice!

“When you find that being kind is coming easier, and easier, move into the action of being humble, setting aside the desire to talk about all the things that you have done, or do, or will do; and choose to lift-others-up. Be humble of self. Be quick to praise others; for it is in this way that they see what they are doing, or better put, what God is doing through them that is good. And their focus soon comes on the good that is accomplished; and, you begin to raise-up a garden, all around you, simply, by being kind, humble, and eager to praise others, noticing it and pointing-out all that God is doing through them, lifting-them-up, and showing The Way!

“Soon, you will find that being kind, works, in the most difficult of situations: that car that pulls-out, right in front of you, and then slows down, is no longer cursed, but blessed, and the kinder you, slows down a bit, and lets that car go first. It is these every day temptations that can lead you astray; so, begin to practice kindness, today. Being kind, and humble, will lead you to a place, surprisingly, rather quickly, where you recognize love! What is love? And somewhere within you, the light comes on, and you realize: love was in the act of kindness; love was in raising another up; love was in letting the car go first; and, all this will spring forth, from your willingness to practice being kind.

“If you will practice being kind, and humble, and eager to praise others, and all that flows from them, you will find in a matter of days, that you are coming closer to understanding all the ways that love is flowing from you to those, who you used to find most difficult to love. Set your intention to ‘love one another,’ and then begin the ‘practice,’ which will lead you there. ‘Be kind; and be humble!’”

Jesus Teaches On:
That Which You Seek, You Carry Within

“I AM with you. Reach-out, and walk with Me. Sit with Me, and let us rest, together. While the world might be in chaos and confusion, while there might be a great upheaval, disturbing all you find familiar, here, together, we will find peace; and, we will sit in quiet, and a great knowing will fill you with promise, and you will find you are growing, in a garden, a garden of ‘knowing,’ who you are, and what you are to do.

“If you find yourself caught-up in confusion, confusion moving into chaos sometimes, do not be ‘tempted,’ to be tossed and turned, going from this place to that, asking, ‘What am I to do? Where am I to go?’ No. Sit quietly, for in the silence, you will know; for it can be no other way, as the hand of God has written the directions to what the course of your lifetime will be, or is meant to be, upon Earth. They are on your heart, they are in your soul. These directions, this guidance, is hidden from view, from those around you, so that only you will know, the right way to go, what to say; and the day you find the confidence to sit quietly, then rise-up, and go, as the map within you, does tell you so, your life will change upon the Earth. You will be able to sail, over a sea of confusion, knowing your destiny, following the sun, and the moon, and the stars.

“The world can present many distractions, some of them well-intended. Family members, friends, institutions and organizations, will all seem to hold the answers, and will be ready to tell you, what they think you should do, when the reality is the answer is inside of you; and that which you are led to do, is not what others might be trying to tell you; but, for those who find that answer within, and, also unearth the determination, and the confidence, to begin, they continue their journey, just like they did begin, filled with enthusiasm for how each day might end! Sometimes, the distraction is what you are supposed to have, or own, or wear, or eat, or drink, or what parties should be in your circle, who should be ignored, who should be distained, who should be loved, and who should remain: in your group, your contact, your community. Listen to The Whisper, within you begin, and it will guide you safely to shore.

“Most of you confused, right now, about your course of action, only need to go back some years, to remember, to recall, that there was a time when you seemed to know, exactly what you were to do. It is important not to get caught-up with what you were to do ten, or twelve, years ago; for the directions come, in steps, steps with a purpose, leading you, in such a way, that no matter what free-will choices are made, all around you, you will still end-up, where you are meant to end-up. The Divine Plan is much like a river: flowing freely, constant, proceeding toward the destination of the sea, the oceans vast and majestic; flowing passed the banks, and through the cities, and out into the countryside, with determination, never stopping, or pausing the flow, but moving without distraction, as if the river knows exactly where it is to go; observing all that is going-on, on this bank, and that bank, in this city, and so on, but not distracted from its own destination. See that river in you! Enjoy all there is, as the view changes, day-by-day, week-by-week; but knowing your destination is to return Home, mission complete.

“The Divine Plan is not rigid, it is sweet. It has a place for every majestic mountain, every mighty sea, every peaceful brook, and every blossom on the smallest flower. Minute-by-minute, hour-by-hour, they each unfold, and complete their destiny, because they too hold the secret, the guide, the map within.

“Today, be as the river, flowing sweetly, watching the view, but not distracted, moving ahead to complete your destiny; and then, come Home.”

Jesus Teaches On:
Play Your Part, And Be Not Afraid

“I AM with you. What an exciting day this will be, especially if you will rise-up, take My hand and follow Me; for I will lead you to exactly where you are meant to be; and I will encourage you, to play the role, that is your destiny, that is you, right now, as you are. Do not diminish your role, by looking all around, and watching what others say and do, thinking they are in such a better position than you; for this is not true. You are the only one destined to play the role that is you!

“There are many of you, who enjoy a ‘good read,’ to sit in a comfortable chair, with a cup of tea, and read a book; and there are just as many of you who enjoy going to a movie, watching a story unfold before you on the big screen; or perhaps, going to a play, seeing, a script, come to life, and the roles played by characters, that possibly, you know, especially if the play is in your own home town. There might be others of you who enjoy finding a bench, and watching people as they walk by.

“If you stop for a minute, and review what was just said, you will notice that each of these pass-times, is an atmosphere, in which you are watching, or reading, or observing others. I would like to encourage you today, to rise-up, and come with Me! Walk with Me, into this day, and I will point-out, all along The Way, every opportunity that comes to you, that offers you a chance: to be the hero, to be the benefactor, to be the comforter, to be, ‘anything you wish to be!’

“Your lifetime is unfolding as a book, or a movie, or a play; and there are many characters in it, many locations; but, none of them are cast in the starring role. In your lifetime, you, have the starring role! There is no director who is going to hand you a script and say, ‘Read those words. I insist that you play the role this way.’ That is not going to happen, you have been given free-will, free-rein you might say, over your role, and how you wish to play your role. If some of you give this a bit of thought, you might say, ‘I like the role I play; but I can make it better, every day.’ There might be some of you who will say, ‘This is not turning-out, exactly the way, I would like to see my role, unfold.’ You can make a change mid-chapter, mid-page, mid-sentence! If your character has been a bit off, alter the course. Whatever you do, is yours to do. You cannot go back, and rewrite chapter one; but you can create an environment, and an atmosphere, in which your character comes out of chapter one, and into two, and three, and four, growing, learning, maturing, gaining wisdom, mastering the gifts of love, and compassion and understanding. Do not lose sight of the importance of every hour, of every day in your lifetime.

“Do not diminish your role. Play it! Bring it to center stage, and grow with it! Do not be afraid to play the part you are destined to play. There is no set way for you to do it, it is yours; and you will figure it out. I AM with you! The Holy Spirit is guiding you, that is your Director! There are many ways to continue your role; and it is all up to you. You can do it quietly; you can do it singing; you can do it sitting under a tree; or walking next to a brook. The role is yours.

What will you do with it? This is the greatest adventure. It is the greatest adventure, and it is your opportunity!

“God has whispered, ‘It is time, be not afraid;’ I AM with you, and I call to you, ‘Come, walk with Me, and be not afraid;’ and the wings of The Holy Spirit lift-you-up, and you hear a chorus, ‘Be not afraid!’”

Jesus Teaches On:
The Promise, The Great Adventure

“I AM with you. You are about to begin a new year; and I AM with you. This new year will bring change, and growth. It will bring opportunity; and as you move through the year, you will cross-over many thresholds, onto new plateaus you will go; and, as the year ends, you will not be the same, as you are now, as it begins. So ready yourself for the adventure of this year, and do not take each day lightly. Embrace each day, acknowledging the importance of each day, and that which it will bring to you. Prepare yourself, for we are off! The great adventure, continues!

“When a child is born, the infant is held close, fed by the parents, nurtured by the parents, clothed, and bathed, and kept warm by the parents. And, as with every birth, there comes growth, change, maturity in so many ways; and, soon this child, once held in arms, is crawling, and walking, and feeding itself, growing, changing and maturing.

“The child who begins to walk, does so, with confidence, knowing the parent is close-by, reaching-up to take a hand, when feeling slightly off-balance, returning to out-stretched arms, when something does not seem right. And as the parents continue to nurture, and feed, and support, this child, now walking, the child grows in confidence, in courage and strength, propelled by the guidance of the parents, the source, of their confidence. Under the loving eyes of a good parent, a child will grow, and confidence, and courage, and strength will be a constant companion, because of that, which has been given, by the parents.

“No matter how old the child gets, the hand of the parent is always out-stretched, the arms of the parent always open, safe sanctuary, from any storm, or threat. I speak these words, because each of you, hearing My words, or reading My words today, can associate, and understand, these words, in your life. You have either experienced it, or watched it unfold before you, the guidance of the parents, the support, the love, and the courage, and the strength, which come from that support, and love, all contributing to a confident, adult.

“My brothers, and sisters, that is exactly what happens to the spirit baby, to the child of spirit that you are, first, and foremost. You are a child of flesh, but for a short time; but you did spring forth, from God. God is your Eternal Parent; and as your spirit grows, and matures, your Eternal Parent is close-by, watching over you, providing safe harbor, open arms and outstretched hands. You find your courage, to do the most incredible things, from your Eternal Parent. Therein, you also find confidence. For those of you who accept, and believe, there is nothing that can stop you, from whatever you are to achieve; for God has sent you forth, and sent you forth well prepared. Now, you stand at the beginning of a new year, and all that will come with this new year, will add to your confidence and strength and growth and maturity; and, with every step you take, the hand of God will guide you; and, every step you take will be enfolded with the love of God.

“Begin this year, with a new intention, to walk with God! The door is open. The year is set before you. Let us walk it together! It is time, and you are ready!”
